

A TERRIFIED MILL WORKER CAPTURED AND SENT AWAY

East Liverpool Contributes an Exciting Chapter to the Wellsville Strike.

JOHN MATTHEWS SPOTTED

Driven to Close Quarters, Seized By Union Potters and Put On a Car.

OTHER MEN'S EXPERIENCES

Were Almost Equally Thrilling. More Men Are at Work in the Wellsville Mill Today — End Thought to Be Near.

It was a busy season for the supporters of the Wellsville Amalgamated men last night. At least four of the parties who have been working at the mill will have reason to remember their experience for some time to come.

About 6:30 John Matthews, who went out with the strikers at the beginning, but who afterward went to work, arrived in the city on a street car and alighted in the Diamond. In a very few minutes he was recognized by a number of potters and several small boys were put on the track of the man to see that he did not get lost. There was no need of this precaution, however, as Matthews was very well known in the city—also his record—and before he had been here half an hour at least 100 potters knew of his presence.

Matthews arrived at the corner of Sixth and Washington at about 7 o'clock, and quite a crowd had assembled to keep him in tow. He noticed the attention he was attracting and started down Sixth to Good & Johnston's barber shop. The man entered and seated himself behind a stairway where he could not be seen from the street. Immediately a crowd collected upon the outside and several of the foremost informed the proprietor he had a "scab" in his shop. Mr. Good, who runs the first chair, paid little attention to the talk at the time, but when the crowd increased until about 200 men and boys had collected outside the door, he went over to the man and inquired what the trouble was. Matthews was so confused and frightened that he caught up a fan, and without answering began fanning himself furiously.

At this juncture W. B. Moore, an old mill worker, who for many years worked in the Pittsburgh district, happened along and after inquiry as to what the trouble was, went into the shop and had no difficulty in identifying the man.

Moore had good reason for remembering, as Matthews was well known in Pittsburgh 12 years ago when he was one of a number of men who replaced the strikers at the Jones & Laughlin plant, in whose employ Moore was at that time. Matthews explained that he had quit the mill and would not go back, but the crowd was determined to get him out of town and he finally emerged from the shop after attempting to induce the barbers to dye his moustache and permit him to leave by the back door. He was seized by a number of men and marched down Washington street to the corner of Fourth, where he was put on board a westbound car and taken to Wellsville. Fully 200 men and boys followed the non-union man and his escort down the street, and it was with difficulty that the men in charge of Matthews put him on the car.

About 40 of the local men accompanied the strike breaker to Amalgamated headquarters at Wellsville. The man was badly frightened and promised to give in his notice today. He stated he would not work longer than tonight, and upon that promise was permitted to go home.

Matthews was to quitwork at the mill as soon as his turn was through this afternoon, but at headquarters this morning it was rumored that he would not join the association, as it was supposed he would last evening.

Matthews is an old man, having been employed in the various mills of the country for many years. He has been a non-unionist for a long time, and his wife stated when seen this morning that she did not believe he would ever join the Amalgamated. She gave as her reason for this belief that her husband had gone out with the men at St. Louis many years ago and that it had been a losing fight. They had lost the strike and the Matthews had been deprived of their property. The husband laid their loss at the door of the union and would have nothing to do with it.

A son of John Matthews, who is also working, came to town last night to call on a lady friend, but owing to the fact that the feeling was still strong and the boys had spotted him the young man left town shortly after his arrival.

It seems the feeling against the Wellsville non-unionists did not subside until near morning, as up to the time of the departure of the midnight train a large crowd of Liverpool people were still looking for strike breakers.

A young man named Sweeney, who refused to strike, came here last evening with an employee of the Wellsville railroad shops. They were not known until near train time, but there was a crowd of about 50 people assembled to see them off. The Liverpool crowd was demonstrative, and Sweeney, evidently fearing trouble, went into the train as soon as it arrived, leaving his companion on the platform. Several of the ring leaders of the mob mistook the railroader for Sweeney and was about to do him up when he explained who he was. It was too late to get hold of the right man then, and he returned to Wellsville. It is safe to say he will not return—at least while the strike lasts.

Sweeney, it is reported, spent the night in the Wellsville railroad shops.

John A. Mackaye, a correspondent covering the Wellsville strike for a Pittsburgh paper, had an amusing experience, and had it not been for a local newspaper man, might have fared badly at the hands of the East Liverpool crowd. Mackaye had been in this city all the evening and concluded to return to Wellsville on train No. 41. He made some inquiries as to the location of the Pennsylvania passenger station. The correspondent does not look like a mill worker, but the crowd did not consider this fact, and at once took it for granted that he was going to work at the mill. They followed him to the depot and the crowd was bent upon doing him up when a local reporter approached and engaged in conversation with him. This resulted in explanations being made which exonerated the newspaper man and spoiled a good story for the big dailies.

A large crowd of strikers was about the headquarters of the Amalgamated lodge rooms at Wellsville this morning, and it was evident the strikers were expecting to hear some important news from the officials of the association who are now at Pittsburgh attending the joint conference of the officials of the association and those of the Sheet Steel company.

Although there was a picket guard on duty all night there was not one new capture made. Indeed matters are becoming monotonous, to use the expression of one of the strikers seen at headquarters today.

Several members were taken into the association Monday afternoon, but beside these three members were lost, they having returned to work at the mill. The names of these men, as given out by President Harry Culp, of the Wellsville lodge, are William Donnett, Arthur Murdock and William Dunlap. Besides these men, it has been said by the management of the mill, that four other men started to work Monday. Their names were given as John Smith, Samuel Herbaugh and Fred Ash. The name of one could not be learned. This makes a total of seven men reported as having gone to work at the mill Monday, or enough to put on another mill. However true this may be there are just the same number of mills working today as yesterday.

Edward Bunting, who lost his position at the mill before the great strike was declared, became a member of the Amalgamated Association Monday, as did Lemuel Shaffer, another mill worker. He has been out of the city for several weeks and just returned to Wellsville yesterday.

A secret meeting of the association is to be held at the headquarters of the lodge tomorrow afternoon when the details for the field day to be observed at Rock Springs park next Saturday will be completed. There is some other business to transact, but the nature of it is not made public.

Everything is quiet at the strikers' camp on the West Virginia side of the

(Continued on Fifth Page.)

OBSTACLES MET CAUSING DELAY

Street Cars Not Likely to Run to Smith's Ferry This Season.

THERE IS DISAGREEMENT

Between a Land Owner and the Railway Company Which Has Not Yet Been Adjusted—Calcutta Line Extension Is Also Deferred.

Many obstacles have been in the way of the East Liverpool Street railway company during the past few weeks, and the company has not been able to rush through its improvements as fast as desired. Such was the purport of the statement made by Road Superintendent Thomas Reed this morning.

When work on the extension of the road to Smith's Ferry was begun it was supposed that it would be completed within a few months, and that cars would be running to the Pennsylvania town by fall. From present indications this will not be the case, and it is likely that no cars will be operated on that extension until next summer. It appears that Frank Allabaugh, who owns a tract of land along the route selected by the company, cannot come to terms with the officers of the road for the sale of the right of way, and according to Mr. Reed's statement the company is not likely to build the extension further than Mr. Allabaugh's land this summer unless some agreement is reached soon.

On Calcutta road, or Grandview extension of this road, there is more trouble. The rails have been laid to a point near the watering trough a short distance from the new park, but the company is unable to erect its trolley poles on account of the wires of the Columbiana County Telephone company being in the way. Erection of the trolley poles at this time would cause serious trouble to the telephone company. Conferences have been held between the officials of the two companies recently, and the changing of the telephone poles may be commenced soon. Had the telephone poles been removed this week the street railway company would have run cars to the park next Sunday.

Contractor McLaughlin is to commence work this week making the fill about the abutments of the new bridge which is to span Dry Run in the East End near the old loop. It will require several weeks to complete this work.

Visiting a Former Chum.

Daniel Ingram, ex-lieutenant of police at Wheeling, is in the city. He is the guest of James Larkins, who was formerly a member of the Wheeling police force. Mr. Ingram is a man of gigantic stature and during the time he served as an officer of the law made an enviable record for himself. He is one of the most popular men in Wheeling and has many friends and acquaintances in this city.

Marriage Licenses.

Lisbon, July 30.—(Special)—Marriage licenses have been issued to David Jenkins and Lena Daum. Lisbon; William T. Guth and Ella M. Johnson, East Liverpool; Edward Weingart, Salem, and Emma Haddi, Homeworth.

STRIKE CONFERENCE IS YET VOID OF RESULTS

Pittsburg, July 30.—(Special)—The strike conference is in progress, but it is evident that the hopefulness of an outcome satisfactory to the Amalgamated men is waning.

At 2 o'clock the general executive board of the Amalgamated had held two sessions to discuss the propositions looking toward a settlement.

Members would not talk, but from the gloomy looks on the faces of all parties present at recess, it seems apparent that the offers of the trust are considered unsatisfactory.

Two former presidents of the Amalgamated, M. M. Garland and Joseph Bishop, were called into the meeting.

The impression is that the proposition is that scales be signed for all mills that were union before the strike and for some that were organized after it began. All plants are to be technically open hereafter.

The company is to have the right to place non-union men in any plant and keep them there.

In addition to the plants covered by the expired scale it is to be signed for the following: W. DeWees Wood, of McKeesport; Painter, Lindsay & McCutcheon and Clark mills, of Pittsburg, and Monessen plant of the American Steel Hoop company.

The question of the Wellsville sheet plant and the Monessen tin plate plant, being directly covered by the scale, is to be settled by the conference.

The Amalgamated Association is to have the privilege of organizing the men in any of the plants.

MUST ANSWER TO GRAND JURY

Mrs. Robert Waters Bound Over to Court on a Peace Charge.

MADE NUMEROUS THREATS

Which Caused Mrs. Emma Smith to Swear Her Life Against the Woman—Tried Before Justice McLane And Pleaded Guilty.

Mrs. Robert Waters was arrested last evening by Constable Miller and taken before Justice McLane to answer to charges filed against her by Mrs. Emma Smith. The plaintiff alleged that Mrs. Waters had threatened to strike her with a shovel handle and that she was afraid her life was in danger. The affidavit was filed for a peace warrant, but when the defendant was placed on trial she denied the charges made by Mrs. Smith.

The women are neighbors, and according to the story told to the magistrate by both Mr. and Mrs. Smith the Waters woman has been making life a burden to them. It is alleged she has threatened on several occasions to do violence to Mrs. Smith, which led up to the filing of the action against her.

Owing to the absence of witnesses the trial was postponed until 8 o'clock this morning. The justice allowed the defendant to return to her home on her promise to be on hand at the time set for the trial. She wanted to file charges last night against Mrs. Smith for conducting a disorderly house, but Squire McLane informed her she would have to wait until the case against her was disposed of.

After a protracted delay in serving subpoenas on witnesses, and after the most of them had been brought into court, Mrs. Waters changed her plea from not guilty to that of guilty. She was placed under bond of $50 for her appearance before the grand jury and given until 5 o'clock this evening to obtain the necessary security. The justice warned the woman that if she was found guilty of committing another breach of the peace she would be immediately taken to the Lisbon jail.

Some time later Mrs. Waters went to Justice McCarron's office and attempted to file a charge against Mrs. Smith of keeping a disorderly house, but as she was unable to put up security for the costs in the case, her complaint was not listened to.

ON ANOTHER RAMPAGE

Mrs. Robert Waters Again Threatens the Life of Mrs. Emma Smith.

Frank Smith, husband of the woman who was the plaintiff in the action against Mrs. Robert Waters, who was bound over to court in Justice McLane's court this morning and placed under bond to keep the peace, called at the justice's office this afternoon and stated that Mrs. Waters had again threatened to kill Mrs. Smith this afternoon.

He stated that his wife had not ventured out of the house since her return from the trial, because of the threat made by the Waters woman that she would kill her on sight. Mr.

MUTILATED AND BURNED BY FILIPINO INSURGENTS

Waters asked permission of Justice McLane to take his wife away from the city. He was given liberty to do so, but if she is not gone by 5 o'clock Constable Miller will take her to the Lisbon jail.

Sued for a Lumber Bill.

Lisbon, July 30.—(Special)—T. J. Kerr and J. M. Kerr, of East Liverpool, have brought suit against John H. Mattox for $412.44, claimed to be due for lumber.

CROWDS FROM SALEM

IN POSSESSION OF ROCK SPRINGS PARK TODAY.

The Merchants' And Elks' Picnic a Successful And Enjoyable Affair.

Two special trains which came by way of Alliance arrived this forenoon, bringing about 2,100 people who came to attend the outing at Rock Springs park given by the merchants and Elks of Salem. Although the crowd is not as large as was expected, it is enough to be a merry one, and all the visitors appear to be enjoying themselves.

On the excursion trains were over 1,500 people from Salem, and delegations from East Palestine, Columbiana, Leetonia, Lisbon, Sebring, Kensington and Alliance, brought the crowd up to the number stated. Most of the visitors repaired to the park at once on their arrival, though several hundred visited in East Liverpool during a portion of the day.

The ball game between the Salem and East Liverpool barbers this afternoon is the only athletic event scheduled for the day. Committees of Elks have charge of the pavilion and the various amusement features. Dancing will afford enjoyment to a large number, both day and evening. The last train will leave town at 11 p. m., city time.

The outing is open to the public and East Liverpool people are invited to attend both afternoon and evening.

DRUNKEN MAN'S ACT

DOFENSELESS WOMAN'S HOUSE. HOLD EFFECTS SMASHED.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sheets Accuses "Crip" Cain of Committing the Cowardly Deed.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sheets, who lives in Dewdrop alley, was a visitor at police court this morning. Her mission was for the purpose of filing charges against "Crip" Cain, who, she alleges, while on a spree last night, called at her home and created a disturbance.

The woman stated that, aside from abusing her, the man broke up her furniture, and before he ceased his work of destruction had ruined everything of value she possessed. At different times, it is alleged by the officers, Cain has been accused of imposing on the Sheets woman, but no complaint has ever been made by her against him.

As the woman did not have sufficient money to secure the costs of the case she was unable to get law. She left the mayor's office expecting to return this afternoon, and it is likely Cain's arrest will follow this evening.

BOYS FINED

Acting Mayor McLane Disposes of the Cases of the Juvenile Piffers.

John Wines, William Lease, Emmitt Newman and Harry Gamble, the boys who were arrested yesterday morning by Chief Thompson, charged with stealing brass from the old electric light plant, were arraigned before Acting Mayor McLane last evening.

The charge against the boys was changed to malicious destruction of property, as it was not the desire of the owner of the property to have the youngsters prosecuted to an unreasonable extent. All pleaded guilty to the charge, but claimed they did not know that any value was attached to the metal they were looking for.

A fine of $2 and costs was imposed on each of the lads. Gamble, who is known by the sobriquet of "Charger," is said to be an unruly boy, and he was committed to the workhouse. His father paid his fine and he was released with his companions.

Acting Mayor McLane gave the boys some fatherly advice, which they promised to profit by.

Arthur Burrows' Body Said to Have Been Thus Disposed of.

AFTER HE WAS KILLED

His Companions Hid His Body and the Rebels Found and Destroyed It.

SAVAGE BARBARITY DISPLAYED

John Hughes, a Returned Soldier, Discredits the Report That the Body of the East Liverpool Soldier Will or Can Be Sent Home.

A story told of John Hughes, who has just returned from the Philippines, where he served with Company L, Forty-seventh U. S. volunteer infantry, discredits the statement made in a letter received in this city recently from the captain of Company M, of the same regiment, in which Corporal Arthur Burrows served previous to his death.

It will be recalled that the communication from Burrows' commanding officer stated that the young man's body had been recovered and would be sent home immediately. Since that time nothing has been heard as to the disposition of the corpse.

According to Mr. Hughes, young Burrows was killed in an engagement during a 15 days' march, in which a detachment of his regiment participated. After the battle his body was picked up along with that of a colored sergeant of the Ninth United States cavalry, and both were carried back in the direction of the camp until nightfall, when they were placed in a crevice between two large rocks until the following morning, when it was the intention to recover and bury them.

With a pack pony several of Burrows' comrades returned to the spot where his body had been left, but found that both his body and that of the negro were missing. An immediate search was begun with the result that two insurgents were captured. Both were covered with blood and it was at once suspected they had mutilated the bodies of the two dead soldiers.

Both denied knowing what their captors desired to learn, but later when they were strung up to a tree with ropes about their necks until the life had been almost choked out of them they agreed to furnish the information asked.

To an interpreter the rebels related a most horrifying account of what had been done with the missing bodies. Soon after the had been laid away between the rocks by the men who first recovered them a party of insurgents, including the two captives, discovered the corpses and took them to the headquarters of the rebel general. There the heads of each were severed and placed on poles, after which a heatherish demonstration was held while the bodies were being burned.

Mr. Hughes states that the stories told by the rebels were after corroborated and he is certain there is no possibility of Burrows' body ever being recovered. He places no credence in the assurance of the young man's captain that it has been found, but says it is possible another body may be sent here as that of Hughes. He claims this has been often done, at times when relatives of a dead soldier became urgent in their demands that the body be sent to them.

Though not with the detachment which accompanied Burrows at the time of his death, Mr. Hughes claims to have secured his information from those who were with the young man, and that it is reliable.

TOOK POISON

Salem Wife Attempted Suicide After a Dispute With Her Mother.

Salem, July 30.—(Special)—Mrs. Harry Zimmerman, wife of a young employe of the Silver Manufacturing company, is alleged to have swallowed ammonia with suicidal intent on Sunday. She is now out of danger.

A difference of opinion with her mother over the sort of liquid refreshments to be served at a Sunday dinner is said to have caused her to take the poison.

A TERRIFIED MILL WORKER CAPTURED AND SENT AWAY

East Liverpool Contributes an Exciting Chapter to the Wellsville Strike.

JOHN MATTHEWS SPOTTED

Driven to Close Quarters, Seized By Union Potters and Put On a Car.

OTHER MEN'S EXPERIENCES

Were Almost Equally Thrilling. More Men Are at Work in the Wellsville Mill Today — End Thought to Be Near.

It was a busy season for the supporters of the Wellsville Amalgamated men last night. At least four of the parties who have been working at the mill will have reason to remember their experience for some time to come.

About 6:30 John Matthews, who went out with the strikers at the beginning, but who afterward went to work, arrived in the city on a street car and alighted in the Diamond. In a very few minutes he was recognized by a number of potters and several small boys were put on the track of the man to see that he did not get lost. There was no need of this precaution, however, as Matthews was very well known in the city—also his record—and before he had been here half an hour at least 100 potters knew of his presence.

Matthews arrived at the corner of Sixth and Washington at about 7 o'clock, and quite a crowd had assembled to keep him in tow. He noticed the attention he was attracting and started down Sixth to Good & Johnston's barber shop. The man entered and seated himself behind a stairway where he could not be seen from the street. Immediately a crowd collected upon the outside and several of the foremost informed the proprietor he had a "scab" in his shop. Mr. Good, who runs the first chair, paid little attention to the talk at the time, but when the crowd increased until about 200 men and boys had collected outside the door, he went over to the man and inquired what the trouble was. Matthews was so confused and frightened that he caught up a fan, and without answering began fanning himself furiously.

At this juncture W. B. Moore, an old mill worker, who for many years worked in the Pittsburg district, happened along and after inquiry as to what the trouble was, went into the shop and had no difficulty in identifying the man.

Moore had good reason for remembering, as Matthews was well known in Pittsburg 12 years ago when he was one of a number of men who replaced the strikers at the Jones & Laughlin plant, in whose employ Moore was at that time. Matthews explained that he had quit the mill and would not go back, but the crowd was determined to get him out of town and he finally emerged from the shop after attempting to induce the barbers to dye his moustache and permit him to leave by the back door. He was seized by a number of men and marched down Washington street to the corner of Fourth, where he was put on board a westbound car and taken to Wellsville. Fully 200 men and boys followed the non-union man and his escort down the street, and it was with difficulty that the men in charge of Matthews put him on the car.

About 40 of the local men accompanied the strike breaker to Amalgamated headquarters at Wellsville. The man was badly frightened and promised to give in his notice today. He stated he would not work longer than tonight, and upon that promise was permitted to go home.

Matthews was to quit work at the mill as soon as his turn was through this afternoon, but at headquarters this morning it was rumored that he would not join the association, as it was supposed he would last evening.

Matthews is an old man, having been employed in the various mills of the country for many years. He has been a non-unionist for a long time, and his wife stated when seen this morning that she did not believe he would ever join the Amalgamated. She gave as her reason for this belief that her husband had gone out with the men at St. Louis many years ago and that it had been a losing fight. They had lost the strike and the Matthews had been deprived of their property. The husband laid their loss at the door of the union and would have nothing to do with it.

A son of John Matthews, who is also working, came to town last night to call on a lady friend, but owing to the fact that the feeling was still strong and the boys had spotted him the young man left town shortly after his arrival.

It seems the feeling against the Wellsville non-unionists did not subside until near morning, as up to the time of the departure of the midnight train a large crowd of Liverpool people were still looking for strike breakers.

A young man named Sweeney, who refused to strike, came here last evening with an employee of the Wellsville railroad shops. They were not known until near train time, but there was a crowd of about 50 people assembled to see them off. The Liverpool crowd was demonstrative, and Sweeney, evidently fearing trouble, went into the train as soon as it arrived, leaving his companion on the platform. Several of the ring leaders of the mob mistook the railroader for Sweeney and was about to do him up when he explained who he was. It was too late to get hold of the right man then, and he returned to Wellsville. It is safe to say he will not return—at least while the strike lasts.

Sweeney, it is reported, spent the night in the Wellsville railroad shops.

John A. Mackaye, a correspondent covering the Wellsville strike for a Pittsburg paper, had an amusing experience, and had it not been for a local newspaper man, might have fared badly at the hands of the East Liverpool crowd. Mackaye had been in this city all the evening and concluded to return to Wellsville on train No. 41. He made some inquiries as to the location of the Pennsylvania passenger station. The correspondent does not look like a mill worker, but the crowd did not consider this fact, and at once took it for granted that he was going to work at the mill. They followed him to the depot and the crowd was bent upon doing him up when a local reporter approached and engaged in conversation with him. This resulted in explanations being made which exonerated the newspaper man and spoiled a good story for the big dailies.

A large crowd of strikers was about the headquarters of the Amalgamated lodge rooms at Wellsville this morning, and it was evident the strikers were expecting to hear some important news from the officials of the association who are now at Pittsburg attending the joint conference of the officials of the association and those of the Sheet Steel company.

Although there was a picket guard on duty all night there was not one new capture made. Indeed matters are becoming monotonous, to use the expression of one of the strikers seen at headquarters today.

Several members were taken into the association Monday afternoon, but beside these three members were lost, they having returned to work at the mill. The names of these men, as given out by President Harry Culp, of the Wellsville lodge, are William Donnett, Arthur Murdock and William Dunlap. Besides these men, it has been said by the management of the mill, that four other men started to work Monday. Their names were given as John Smith, Samuel Herbaugh and Fred Ash. The name of one could not be learned. This makes a total of seven men reported as having gone to work at the mill Monday, or enough to put on another mill. However true this may be, there are just the same number of mills working today as yesterday.

Edward Bunting, who lost his position at the mill before the great strike was declared, became a member of the Amalgamated Association Monday, as did Lemuel Shaffer, another mill worker. He has been out of the city for several weeks and just returned to Wellsville yesterday.

A secret meeting of the association is to be held at the headquarters of the lodge tomorrow afternoon when the details for the field day to be observed at Rock Springs park next Saturday will be completed. There is some other business to transact, but the nature of it is not made public.

Everything is quiet at the strikers' camp on the West Virginia side of the

(Continued on Fifth Page.)

OBSTACLES MET CAUSING DELAY

Street Cars Not Likely to Run to Smith's Ferry This Season.

THERE IS DISAGREEMENT

Between a Land Owner And the Railway Company Which Has Not Yet Been Adjusted—Calcutta Line Extension Is Also Deferred.

Many obstacles have been in the way of the East Liverpool Street railway company during the past few weeks, and the company has not been able to rush through its improvements as fast as desired. Such was the purport of the statement made by Road Superintendent Thomas Reed this morning.

When work on the extension of the road to Smith's Ferry was begun it was supposed that it would be completed within a few months, and that cars would be running to the Pennsylvania town by fall. From present indications this will not be the case, and it is likely that no cars will be operated on that extension until next summer. It appears that Frank Allabaugh, who owns a tract of land along the route selected by the company, cannot come to terms with the officers of the road for the sale of the right of way, and according to Mr. Reed's statement the company is not likely to build the extension further than Mr. Allabaugh's land this summer unless some agreement is reached soon.

On Calcutta road, or Grandview extension of this road, there is more trouble. The rails have been laid to a point near the watering trough a short distance from the new park, but the company is unable to erect its trolley poles on account of the wires of the Columbiana County Telephone company being in the way. Erection of the trolley poles at this time would cause serious trouble to the telephone company. Conferences have been held between the officials of the two companies recently, and the changing of the telephone poles may be commenced soon. Had the telephone poles been removed this week the street railway company would have run cars to the park next Sunday.

Contractor McLaughlin is to commence work this week making the fill about the abutments of the new bridge which is to span Dry Run in the East End near the old loop. It will require several weeks to complete this work.

Visiting a Former Chum.

Daniel Ingram, ex-lieutenant of police at Wheeling, is in the city. He is the guest of James Larkins, who was formerly a member of the Wheeling police force. Mr. Ingram is a man of gigantic stature and during the time he served as an officer of the law made an enviable record for himself. He is one of the most popular men in Wheeling and has many friends and acquaintances in this city.

Marriage Licenses.

Lisbon, July 30.—(Special)—Marriage licenses have been issued to David Jenkins and Lena Daum, Lisbon; William T. Guth and Ella M. Johnson, East Liverpool; Edward Weingart, Salem, and Emma Haddi, Homeworth.

STRIKE CONFERENCE IS YET VOID OF RESULTS

Pittsburg, July 30.—(Special)—The strike conference is in progress, but it is evident that the hopefulness of an outcome satisfactory to the Amalgamated men is waning.

At 2 o'clock the general executive board of the Amalgamated had held two sessions to discuss the propositions looking toward a settlement.

Members would not talk, but from the gloomy looks on the faces of all parties present at recess, it seems apparent that the offers of the trust are considered unsatisfactory.

Two former presidents of the Amalgamated, M. M. Garland and Joseph Bishop, were called into the meeting.

The impression is that the proposition is that scales be signed for all mills that were union before the strike and for some that were organized after it began. All plants are to be technically open hereafter.

The company is to have the right to place non-union men in any plant and keep them there.

In addition to the plants covered by the expired scale it is to be signed for the following: W. DeWees Wood, of McKeesport; Painter, Lindsay & McCutcheon and Clark mills, of Pittsburg, and Monessen plant of the American Steel Hoop company.

The question of the Wellsville sheet plant and the Monessen tin plate plant, being directly covered by the scale, is to be settled by the conference.

The Amalgamated Association is to have the privilege of organizing the men in any of the plants.

MUST ANSWER TO GRAND JURY

Mrs. Robert Waters Bound Over to Court on a Peace Charge.

MADE NUMEROUS THREATS

Which Caused Mrs. Emma Smith to Swear Her Life Against the Woman—Tried Before Justice McLane And Pleaded Guilty.

Mrs. Robert Waters was arrested last evening by Constable Miller and taken before Justice McLane to answer to charges filed against her by Mrs. Emma Smith. The plaintiff alleged that Mrs. Waters had threatened to strike her with a shovel handle and that she was afraid her life was in danger. The affidavit was filed for a peace warrant, but when the defendant was placed on trial she denied the charges made by Mrs. Smith.

The women are neighbors, and according to the story told to the magistrate by both Mr. and Mrs. Smith the Waters woman has been making life a burden to them. It is alleged she has threatened on several occasions to do violence to Mrs. Smith, which led up to the filing of the action against her.

Owing to the absence of witnesses the trial was postponed until 8 o'clock this morning. The justice allowed the defendant to return to her home on her promise to be on hand at the time set for the trial. She wanted to file charges last night against Mrs. Smith for conducting a disorderly house, but "Squire McLane informed her she would have to wait until the case against her was disposed of.

After a protracted delay in serving subpoenas on witnesses, and after the most of them had been brought into court, Mrs. Waters changed her plea from not guilty to that of guilty. She was placed under bond of $50 for her appearance before the grand jury and given until 5 o'clock this evening to obtain the necessary security. The justice warned the woman that if she was found guilty of committing another breach of the peace she would be immediately taken to the Lisbon jail.

Some time later Mrs. Waters went to Justice McCarron's office and attempted to file a charge against Mrs. Smith of keeping a disorderly house, but as she was unable to put up security for the costs in the case, her complaint was not listened to.

ON ANOTHER RAMPAGE

Mrs. Robert Waters Again Threatens the Life of Mrs. Emma Smith.

Frank Smith, husband of the woman who was the plaintiff in the action against Mrs. Robert Waters, who was bound over to court in Justice McLane's court this morning and placed under bond to keep the peace, called at the justice's office this afternoon and stated that Mrs. Waters had again threatened to kill Mrs. Smith this afternoon.

He stated that his wife had not ventured out of the house since her return from the trial, because of the threat made by the Waters woman that she would kill her on sight. Mr.

MUTILATED AND BURNED BY FILIPINO INSURGENTS

Waters asked permission of Justice McLane to take his wife away from the city. He was given liberty to do so, but if she is not gone by 5 o'clock Constable Miller will take her to the Lisbon jail.

Sued for a Lumber Bill.

Lisbon, July 30.—(Special)—T. J. Kerr and J. M. Kerr, of East Liverpool, have brought suit against John H. Mattox for $412.44, claimed to be due for lumber.

CROWDS FROM SALEM

IN POSSESSION OF ROCK SPRINGS PARK TODAY.

The Merchants' And Elks' Picnic a Successful And Enjoyable Affair.

Two special trains which came by way of Alliance arrived this forenoon, bringing about 2,100 people who came to attend the outing at Rock Springs park given by the merchants and Elks of Salem. Although the crowd is not as large as was expected, it is enough to be a merry one, and all the visitors appear to be enjoying themselves.

On the excursion trains were over 1,500 people from Salem, and delegations from East Palestine, Columbiana, Leetonia, Lisbon, Sebring, Kensington and Alliance, brought the crowd up to the number stated. Most of the visitors repaired to the park at once on their arrival, though several hundred visited in East Liverpool during a portion of the day.

The ball game between the Salem and East Liverpool barbers this afternoon is the only athletic event scheduled for the day. Committees of Elks have charge of the pavilion and the various amusement features. Dancing will afford enjoyment to a large number, both day and evening. The last train will leave town at 11 p. m., city time.

The outing is open to the public and East Liverpool people are invited to attend both afternoon and evening.

DRUNKEN MAN'S ACT

DEFENSELESS WOMAN'S HOUSEHOLD EFFECTS SMASHED.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sheets Accuses "Crip" Cain of Committing the Cowardly Deed.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sheets, who lives in Dewdrop alley, was a visitor at police court this morning. Her mission was for the purpose of filing charges against "Crip" Cain, who, she alleges, while on a spree last night, called at her home and created a disturbance.

The woman stated that, aside from abusing her, the man broke up her furniture, and before he ceased his work of destruction had ruined everything of value she possessed. At different times, it is alleged by the officers, Cain has been accused of imposing on the Sheets woman, but no complaint has ever been made by her against him.

As the woman did not have sufficient money to secure the costs of the case she was unable to get law. She left the mayor's office expecting to return this afternoon, and it is likely Cain's arrest will follow this evening.

BOYS FINED

Acting Mayor McLane Disposes of the Cases of the Juvenile Pilferers.

John Wines, William Lease, Emmitt Newman and Harry Gamble, the boys who were arrested yesterday morning by Chief Thompson, charged with stealing brass from the old electric light plant, were arraigned before Acting Mayor McLane last evening.

The charge against the boys was changed to malicious destruction of property, as it was not the desire of the owner of the property to have the youngsters prosecuted to an unreasonable extent. All pleaded guilty to the charge, but claimed they did not know that any value was attached to the metal they were looking for.

A fine of $2 and costs was imposed on each of the lads. Gamble, who is known by the sobriquet of "Charger," is said to be an unruly boy, and he was committed to the workhouse. His father paid his fine and he was released with his companions.

Acting Mayor McLane gave the boys some fatherly advice, which they promised to profit by.

Arthur Burrows' Body Said to Have Been Thus Disposed of.

AFTER HE WAS KILLED

His Companions Hid His Body and the Rebels Found and Destroyed It.

SAVAGE BARBARITY DISPLAYED

John Hughes, a Returned Soldier, Discredits the Report That the Body of the East Liverpool Soldier Will or Can Be Sent Home.

A story told of John Hughes, who has just returned from the Philippines, where he served with Company L, Forty-seventh U. S. volunteer infantry, discredits the statement made in a letter received in this city recently from the captain of Company M, of the same regiment, in which Corporal Arthur Burrows served previous to his death.

It will be recalled that the communication from Burrows' commanding officer stated that the young man's body had been recovered and would be sent home immediately. Since that time nothing has been heard as to the disposition of the corpse.

According to Mr. Hughes, young Burrows was killed in an engagement during a 15 days' march, in which a detachment of his regiment participated. After the battle his body was picked up along with that of a colored sergeant of the Ninth United States cavalry, and both were carried back in the direction of the camp until nightfall, when they were placed in a crevice between two large rocks until the following morning, when it was the intention to recover and bury them.

With a pack pony several of Burrows' comrades returned to the spot where his body had been left, but found that both his body and that of the negro were missing. An immediate search was begun with the result that two insurgents were captured. Both were covered with blood and it was at once suspected they had mutilated the bodies of the two dead soldiers.

Both denied knowing what their captors desired to learn, but later when they were strung up to a tree with ropes about their necks until the life had been almost choked out of them they agreed to furnish the information asked.

To an interpreter the rebels related a most horrifying account of what had been done with the missing bodies. Soon after they had been laid away between the rocks by the men who first recovered them a party of insurgents, including the two captives, discovered the corpses and took them to the headquarters of the rebel general. There the heads of each were severed and placed on poles, after which a heathenish demonstration was held while the bodies were being burned.

Mr. Hughes states that the stories told by the rebels were after corroboration and he is certain there is no possibility of Burrows' body ever being recovered. He places no credence in the assurance of the young man's captain that it has been found, but says it is possible another body may be sent here as that of Hughes. He claims this has been often done, at times when relatives of a dead soldier became urgent in their demands that the body be sent to them.

Though not with the detachment which accompanied Burrows at the time of his death, Mr. Hughes claims to have secured his information from those who were with the young man, and that it is reliable.

TOOK POISON

Salem Wife Attempted Suicide After a Dispute With Her Mother.

Salem, July 30.—(Special)—Mrs. Harry Zimmerman, wife of a young employe of the Silver Manufacturing company, is alleged to have swallowed ammonia with suicidal intent on Sunday. She is now out of danger.

A difference of opinion with her mother over the sort of liquid refreshments to be served at a Sunday dinner is said to have caused her to take the poison.

EAST END

HOME FROM THE WAR

Charles Goodballet Expected to Be Back From the Philippines in October.

Conrad Goodballet, a stonemason, residing in the Klondike district, has received a letter from his brother, Charles Goodballet, who is serving in the army in the Philippine islands, in which he states that his time of enlistment will expire next month and that he expects to return to his home in the East End not later than October 1.

Mr. Goodballet states in his letter that he will bring a number of game chickens from the Orient upon his return.

Quarrying Building Stone.

The stone being used for the foundations for the various buildings being erected by the Laughlin China company is being secured from the quarry on the property above Pennsylvania avenue, formerly owned by C. A. Smith. This stone was purchased by Alex. Chaffin and John Schmelzenbach soon after the land was placed on the market.

Child Lost a Finger.

Dr. W. E. Mowen on Monday afternoon amputated one of the fingers of the hand of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. James Robinet. The child had its hand injured several days ago by having it caught by a falling door at the new school house in the East End.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Mrs. Walter E. Mowen and Ted Mowen will leave Tuesday evening for Steubenville, where they will remain several days visiting relatives.

This morning guard rails were placed between the tracks of the street railway line crossing the trestle at a point east of Ralston crossing.

Workmen have commenced excavating for a new residence to be erected on Mulberry street by Henry Nelinger. The foundation will be started next week.

The social given in Mechanics' hall in the East End last evening by the Junior Endeavor Society of the Second Presbyterian church was a success in every detail. It was originally proposed to give a lawn fete, but the rain interfered with this plan.

CAUGHT BIG FISH

Col. Chew Returns From the Ohio Wilds With a Great Story.

Wheeling, July 30.—Col. Matthew Chew has arrived home from a sojourn at the camp of the Central Fishing club on the Muskingum river above Marietta. Among the members of the club are Ben Wikie, James Steadman and a number of other well known East Wheeling men. Col. Chew has been somewhat depressed by the cares of high official life recently, but a short stay with the Muskingum fishermen seems to have given him new strength and courage to take up the burdens of life again.

He made the statement that one day last week the members of the club caught 167 fish, the largest of which weighed 27 pounds. As Col. Chew is a gentleman of high reputation for veracity, as for many other graces of character, there are few who will doubt the fish story.

PUBLICLY MARRIED

Grant Taylor, a Murdered Man, Figured in a Fourth of July Celebration.

Steubenville, July 30.—The shooting tragedy at King's Mines, near Cambridge, recalls to people here the public marriage on July 4, 1896, of Grant Taylor, the murdered man, and Mary Witherall, of Brilliant. It was at the opening of Pleasant Heights Driving Park by the Knights of Pythias, and 5,000 people saw the marriage and wished the couple happiness. Because they were publicly married they were presented with a handsome bedroom suite.

Appointed a Receiver.

Wooster, July 30.—G. A. McDonald has been appointed receiver for the West Lebanon Coal company on petition of Daniel Hanna, president of the company, and George Young, of Cleveland. They do not want to buy the company, but to prevent J. A. Beidler, one of the officials, from injuring the prospects of the company by his actions.

Girl's Fight With a Burglar.

Warren, July 30.—A lone burglar entered the residence of the Misses Hall yesterday morning, and secured a large amount of jewelry. Miss Mary Hall fought the intruder with a feather bolster, but he escaped with the jewel drawer under his arm.

GIRL'S STRANGE STORY

SPEECHLESS AND DEAF FROM BURGLARS' TREATMENT.

Says They Held Her Mouth Open And Ran a Needle Down Her Throat.

Steubenville, July 30.—One of the most peculiar cases of robbery ever before the police department came to light Saturday evening, and it has puzzled the police, physicians and entire community, and the mystery remains unsolved.

It occurred at the home of Dr. A. M. Blackburn, 417 North Fifth street, about 1 o'clock Saturday morning and since then Miss Sarah Blackburn has been confined to her bed, her speech entirely gone, and partly paralyzed and partly deaf. For what motive robbers could have carried on such nefarious action utterly devoid of human treatment is not made clear.

Friday night Miss Blackburn had been to Altamont at a private gathering and returned home at 11:45 o'clock. On entering the house her father, who sleeps downstairs, asked if she got home all right, and she answered yes, bidding him good night and going on into the house. What followed then is told in a written statement of the young woman who is speechless and deaf from her treatment by the burglars. She says she retired and went to sleep. Then she heard voices in her room, and opened her eyes to see two masked men, one of either side of her bed.

"When I raised up," she says, "one man hit me a blow on the head, knocking me back in bed. Then one held my mouth open and head thrown back while the other one jabbed a large pointed needle down my throat almost six inches in length, and that hurt me so badly I couldn't make any kind of a noise. They pulled the needle out of my throat and I kind of turned on my side when one (the largest man) hit me in the back up between the shoulders, which hurt very badly. Then they started to the bureau and started rummaging. I heard the rattling of my friendship bracelet and tried to raise in bed, when they threw my hair brush at me. I suppose to make me lie down. I took the brush and pounded on the side of the bed with it. Then they swore at me and said with oaths that I supposed I had ruined their plans, but that I would not be able to speak for a week anyway. I hit harder against the bed and they by that time were on the roof, and I raised up and tried to see where they would go and they both leaped over the side and were gone when father got upstairs to me."

OWNED BY THE B. & O.

President Loree Inspecting Lorain & Wheeling And Other Recently Acquired Properties.

Wheeling, July 30.—President Loree and a dozen other high officials of the Baltimore & Ohio, arrived last night on a special train making an inspection of all recently acquired properties. President Loree announced that on August 1 the Cleveland Lorain & Wheeling, Ohio River Short Line and eight small roads in West Virginia will be taken over and cease to exist except as divisions of the Baltimore & Ohio.

All rolling stock will bear Baltimore & Ohio lettering. Bids have been asked for double tracking the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling from Wheeling to Cleveland. It will be a short line for all traffic, including West Virginia coal, between Ohio valley and Lake points.

A Medical Student's Property.

Beaver Falls, July 30.—Coroner White investigated the mystery of the skeleton found in a culvert by some boys and discovered that it belonged to John Gilliland, a young doctor, who had got the body at the medical college and had placed it in the culvert until what flesh was still left on it had rotted away, when he intended to wire and place it in his office.

War on Beer Picnics.

Akron, July 30.—Sheriff F. S. Kelley has declared war on the German societies and others who have been selling beer at Sunday picnics throughout Summit county. Trouble is anticipated for the sheriff and his deputies next Sunday if they try to enforce the order.

A Postmaster Writes:

"I wish to add my testimonial to the genuine merit of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I have tried many remedies, but have found your Syrup Pepsin superior to all other laxatives and stomach medicines. My wife and I both use it and know it does all that you claim for it."

"Yours sincerely, C. O. KINNE."

"Alma, Kas., Dec. 22, 1900."

Sold by W. & W. Pharmacy.

28-1mo

News Review "Wants" bring quick results.

It Takes a Remedy of Uncommon Merit to Draw the Unqualified Praise of a Successful Practicing Physician.

Dr. J. W. Bates of Corfu, N. Y., states: "A most remarkable case has come under my hands of late and has fully convinced me of the wonderful power of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills over diseases of the nerves."

"A young lady who was treated for over two years for epilepsy by two doctors was given up to die. I found that her sickness was not epilepsy, but nervous troubles, due to menstrual derangements, and prescribed four of Dr. Chase's Nerve Pills a day, after meals and at bed-time. Since that time she has not had a single bad spell. Her health has rapidly improved, she has gained about fifteen pounds in weight, and I do not hesitate to state that Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills have saved her life and restored her to health."

See that the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase are on every box. Price 50 cents a box.—Six boxes for $2.50. Manufactured by the Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold in East Liverpool by Charles T. Larkins.

GREYNA GREEN

Couples By the Score Flock to Youngstown to Be Married.

Youngstown, July 30.—It was announced today that when the Junior Order of American Mechanics hold its annual picnic here next Saturday, 20 couples will come from Verona, Pa., to be married.

This city has long been the Greyna Green of western Pennsylvania, but never before has there been such a wholesale marrying scheduled. At Verona the mothers are afraid to mention the matter to their daughters or to inquire whether they will be among the couples. They are afraid they might put such an idea into their heads.

In Youngstown, the hackmen are preparing for the greatest day they have ever known. It is a habit with some Youngstown ministers and justices to divide their fees with hackmen who bring them business. The ministers will hurry back from their vacations to get a slice of the business.

BOARD OF HEALTH QUILTS

Sebring Officials Say They Have Received No Support From Council.

Sebring, July 30.—The entire board of health at Sebring, composed of Messrs. Robert Finley, Lon Fash, S. A. Crouse, W. K. Buxton, H. J. McMaster and C. J. Blumensteil, resigned in a body.

The reason assigned by the board for this act, is that they have received no support from council, although they have incurred necessary expense in the exercise of their duties to the amount of over $150.

FRENCH REUNION.

A Notable Gathering Was Held on Saturday.

Salem, July 30.—The annual reunion of the French family was held Saturday at Tolerton's grove, with the usual large attendance. Members of the family from Salem, Alliance, Lisbon, Atwater and other neighboring towns were present. A program of addresses, recitations, etc., was carried out.

The officers selected for next year were: Ellwood French, of Atwater, president; Louis G. French, vice president; Clarkson French, treasurer; Mrs. Emma French, secretary. The next reunion will probably be held here.

Colored Miner Killed.

Wellsburg, July 30.—William Anderson, a colored coal miner, was struck by the Panhandle railroad train about one mile below here and instantly killed. The scene of the accident is near the Carmichael coal works, Anderson, who is about 40 years of age, had been drinking during the day.

PULPIT AND PEW.

Smithfield, Va., claims the oldest church in the country. It is St. Luke's, erected in 1632 and restored in 1894. Cincinnati is a stronghold of Presbyterianism. Sixty-four churches are included in its presbytery, 28 of these being within the limits of the city.

Dr. Josiah Oldfield, author of a new book on "The Death Penalty," says that he wrote to all the bishops of the Church of England for their opinions on the subject and not one of them favored the abolition of capital punishment.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made from medicinal herbs. Sold by all Druggists, 75c per bottle. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Try a News Review want ad.

Not Only Odds

and ends of the Stock but our entire Stock of Lace Curtains are included in this sale at 25 per cent Discount.

Dont make a mistake by missing it.

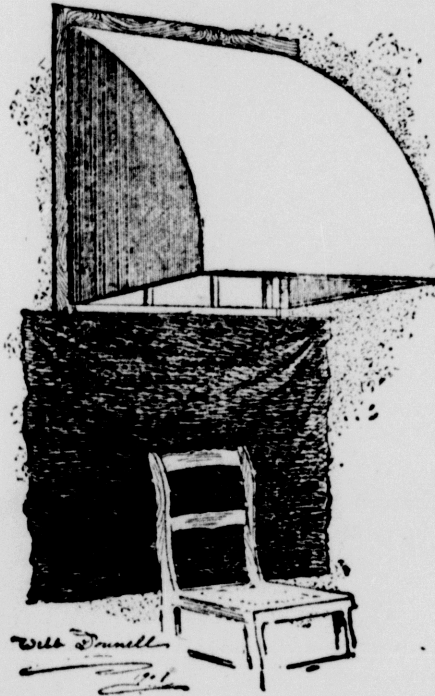

HARD'S "THE BIG STORE"

THE FIRST CAMERA

SOME TROUBLES OF THE AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHER.

Taking Portraits at Home—Arrangement For Lighting a Sitter In an Ordinary Room—An Easy Method of Making a Dark Room.

One of the most interesting features of amateur photography is the taking of portraits. This work is of two kinds—the out of door snap shot portraiture that is often very successful, so far as the "likeness" goes, but always lacks the fine balancing of light and shade.

ARRANGEMENT FOR LIGHTING A SITTER, and the artistic finish of a portrait that is taken where the amount and the direction of the light can be controlled. For the majority of amateurs the light that comes from the ordinary house window must be utilized.

The trouble encountered here is that a north window in a dwelling house admits too small an amount of light, while the direct sunlight of a south window is as bad as are out of door conditions. The strong light of a sunny window may be made to serve the purpose of the portrait taker.

A dark cloth is pinned across the lower sash, before which the sitter is placed, either back to the curtain or with the side of the body toward it, according to location of the camera. In front of the upper sash of the window is constructed a hood. The framework of this is of strips of wood put together in the form shown in the illustration. The curved pieces can be made of barrel hoops.

This framework is made to hang up on hooks against the window casing. It is covered with white cloth to reflect the light down upon the sitter. Over this is put a cover of black cloth, that the light may not come through and strike the lens of the camera.

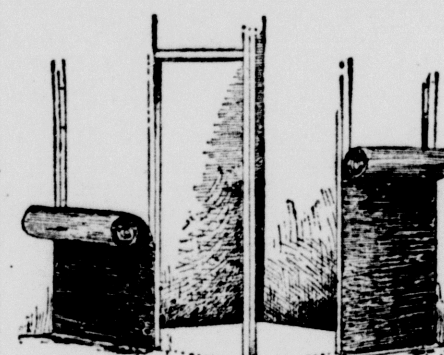

White and black paper will answer as well as cloth. The camera must be placed high enough on the tripod or the hood be brought down low enough so that no light from the upper sash may fall upon the camera lens. If the camera is placed directly in front of the window, the cloth covering the lower sash will form the background of the portrait. If the sitter sits with his side toward the window, a background should be hung from the side of the hood, coming down behind the sitter.

If at any time the light is too strong, a square of white muslin can be pinned across the base of the hood above the head of the sitter. This will diffuse the light somewhat and temper it. With these suggestions the amateur ought to be able by experimenting to reach a successful method of portrait taking in his own home. Some experimenting is necessary, since in no two houses are the conditions of light and windows exactly the same.

The want of a suitable dark room robs amateur photography of a great deal of its pleasure. A dark room big enough for all necessary purposes can easily be constructed in the corner of a stable, shed or unfinished chamber after the plan shown in the accompanying cut.

Mark off a square in the corner of the space to be utilized and set up five strips of 2 by 3 inch lumber in the manner shown. Put a "header" across between two strips for a doorway and cover all the rest of the wall space with black tarred paper, tacking it on as shown in the illustration, lapping the second piece over the edge of the first. For a door make a frame out of strips of board, putting a brace from the inner corner at the bottom to the outer corner at the top, to keep it from sagging, and cover the frame with the tarred paper. Hinge one side to an upright strip and tack on small strips inside so there will be no cracks left about the edges of the door when it is closed. Put up a broad shelf about two sides of the dark room, with a few smaller shelves above to hold chemicals, plates, paper and trays, and the dark room is complete.—Webb Donnell in Household.

AN EASILY MADE DARK ROOM.

Gospel Truth.

It may be hard to save your tin, But there is this about it: It's easier to live within Your income than without it. —Philadelphia Press.

Good Reason.

"I wonder why the Puffups have stopped inviting us to their dinner." "I suppose it was because we always went."—Chicago Post.

Broiled.

In quest of sleep my eyes I shut, But fierce discomforts thrill, I bought it for a mattress, but It seems more like a grill. —Washington Star.

Quite Different.

She (indignantly)—But you had no business to kiss me. "Oh, but it wasn't business; it was pleasure."—Life.

Botanical.

Let other folks go far to find Broad fields of blossoms, red and sweet, But I'm in clover—to my mind— Here on this porch—at Daphne's Feet. —Detroit Free Press.

Concerning Liars.

"This is the age of invention." "Yes, and the age of inventions about inventions."—Chicago Post.

BURNS & McQUILKIN, LIVERY AND UNDERTAKING.

262 West Market Street. Both Phones 10

Penmanship Actual Business Bookkeeping Shorthand and Typewriting

are successfully taught at the Ohio Valley Business College,

East Liverpool, Ohio.

$10 Round Trip—Via Pennsylvania Lines—16 Days Limit.

On June 30th, July 5th, 18th, August 1st, 5th, 29th and September 12th, $10. Round trip tickets will be sold from East Liverpool to Atlantic City, Cape May and other prominent Seaside Resorts, good returning sixteen days including date of purchase. Trains leave 8:56 a. m., 11:21 a. m., 3:06 p. m., and 5:40 p. m., central time at Pittsburg Union Station with trains hauling Pullman Sleeping Cars through to Atlantic City without change. For particulars address Adam Hill, Ticket Agent, East Liverpool.

AN ADVERTISEMENT placed in the NEWS REVIEW brings the best results.

THE FIRST NATIONAL....

BANK

OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO.

President—David Boyce. Vice President—J. M. Kelly. Cashier—N. G. Macrum. Asst. Cashier—Thos. H. Fisher.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

David Boyce, J. M. Kelly, B. C. Simms, W. L. Thompson; O. C. Vodrey, Jas. N. Vodrey, Jno. C. Thompson.

CAPITAL - - $100,000 SURPLUS - - $100,000

General Banking Business.

Invites Business and Personal Accounts SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT. 193 Washington Street.

Can and Can't

Where there is a job to be done secure the services of a

Plumber

who will do that job successfully. One that will overcome any and all difficulties and use the best material. Don't employ a firm that can't do skillfully everything pertaining to its line. If you desire satisfactory work employ

ARBUTHNOT BROS.,

Practical Plumbers, Corner Broadway and Fifth St.

THE CRITERION DINING ROOM

having been removed to No. 176 Washington street, postoffice building, we are prepared to serve our patrons better and quicker than ever. The best Meal in the city for the money.

W. E. LYTLE

Banquets and Suppers a Specialty.

Our Record.

Twenty years of Unbroken Success.

Stronger and Better than Ever.

The Potters National Bank.

Mason Jars

Extra Gums and Lids. Stone Jars and Crocks of all kinds at

Edwin Oppelts,

Both Phones 134. No. 160 Fifth Street.

EAST END

HOME FROM THE WAR

Charles Goodballet Expects to Be Back From the Philippines in October.

Conrad Goodballet, a stonemason, residing in the Klondike district, has received a letter from his brother, Charles Goodballet, who is serving in the army in the Philippine islands, in which he states that his time of enlistment will expire next month and that he expects to return to his home in the East End not later than October 1.

Mr. Goodballet states in his letter that he will bring a number of game chickens from the Orient upon his return.

Quarrying Building Stone.

The stone being used for the foundations for the various buildings being erected by the Laughlin China company is being secured from the quarry on the property above Pennsylvania avenue, formerly owned by C. A. Smith. This stone was purchased by Alex. Chaffin and John Schmelzenbach soon after the land was placed on the market.

Child Lost a Finger.

Dr. W. E. Mowen on Monday afternoon amputated one of the fingers of the hand of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. James Robinet. The child had its hand injured several days ago by having it caught by a falling door at the new school house in the East End.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Mrs. Walter E. Mowen and Ted Mowen will leave Tuesday evening for Steubenville, where they will remain several days visiting relatives.

This morning guard rails were placed between the tracks of the street railway line crossing the trestle at a point east of Ralston crossing.

Workmen have commenced excavating for a new residence to be erected on Mulberry street by Henry Nelinger. The foundation will be started next week.

The social given in Mechanics' hall in the East End last evening by the Junior Endeavor Society of the Second Presbyterian church was a success in every detail. It was originally proposed to give a lawn fete, but the rain interfered with this plan.

CAUGHT BIG FISH

Col. Chew Returns From the Ohio Wilds With a Great Story.

Wheeling, July 30.—Col. Matthew Chew has arrived home from a sojourn at the camp of the Central Fishing club on the Muskingum river above Marietta. Among the members of the club are Ben Wilkie, James Steadman and a number of other well known East Wheeling men. Col. Chew has been somewhat depressed by the cares of high official life recently, but a short stay with the Muskingum fishermen seems to have given him new strength and courage to take up the burdens of life again.

He made the statement that one day last week the members of the club caught 167 fish, the largest of which weighed 27 pounds. As Col. Chew is a gentleman of high reputation for veracity, as for many other graces of character, there are few who will doubt the fish story.

PUBLICLY MARRIED

Grant Taylor, a Murdered Man, Figured in a Fourth of July Celebration.

Steubenville, July 30.—The shooting tragedy at King's Mines, near Cambridge, recalls to people here the public marriage on July 4, 1896, of Grant Taylor, the murdered man, and Mary Witherall, of Brilliant. It was at the opening of Pleasant Heights Driving Park by the Knights of Pythias, and 5,000 people saw the marriage and wished the couple happiness. Because they were publicly married they were presented with a handsome bedroom suite.

Appointed a Receiver.

Wooster, July 30.—G. A. McDonald has been appointed receiver for the West Lebanon Coal company on petition of Daniel Hanna, president of the company, and George Young, of Cleveland. They do not want to buy the company, but to prevent J. A. Beldler, one of the officials, from injuring the prospects of the company by his actions.

Girl's Fight With a Burglar.

Warren, July 30.—A lone burglar entered the residence of the Misses Hall yesterday morning, and secured a large amount of jewelry. Miss Mary Hall fought the intruder with a feather bolster, but he escaped with the jewel drawer under his arm.

GIRL'S STRANGE STORY

SPEECHLESS AND DEAF FROM BURGLARS' TREATMENT.

Says They Held Her Mouth Open And Ran a Needle Down Her Throat.

Steubenville, July 30.—One of the most peculiar cases of robbery ever before the police department came to light Saturday evening, and it has puzzled the police, physicians and entire community, and the mystery remains unsolved.

It occurred at the home of Dr. A. M. Blackburn, 417 North Fifth street, about 1 o'clock Saturday morning and since then Miss Sarah Blackburn has been confined to her bed, her speech entirely gone, and partly paralyzed and partly deaf. For what motive robbers could have carried on such nefarious action utterly devoid of human treatment is not made clear.

Friday night Miss Blackburn had been to Altamont at a private gathering and returned home at 11:45 o'clock. On entering the house her father, who sleeps downstairs, asked if she got home all right, and she answered yes, bidding him good night and going on into the house. What followed then is told in a written statement of the young woman who is speechless and deaf from her treatment by the burglars. She says she retired and went to sleep. Then she heard voices in her room, and opened her eyes to see two masked men, one of either side of her bed.

"When I raised up," she says, "one man hit me a blow on the head, knocking me back in bed. Then one held my mouth open and head thrown back while the other one jabbed a large pointed needle down my throat almost six inches in length, and that hurt me so badly I couldn't make any kind of a noise. They pulled the needle out of my throat and I kind of turned on my side when one (the largest man) hit me in the back up between the shoulders, which hurt very badly. Then they started to the bureau and started rummaging. I heard the rattling of my friendship bracelet and tried to raise in bed, when they threw my hair brush at me, I suppose to make me lie down. I took the brush and pounded on the side of the bed with it. Then they swore at me and said with oaths that I supposed I had ruined their plans, but that I would not be able to speak for a week anyway. I hit harder against the bed and they by that time were on the roof, and I raised up and tried to see where they would go and they both leaped over the side and were gone when father got upstairs to me."

OWNED BY THE B. & O.

President Loree Inspecting Lorain & Wheeling And Other Recently Acquired Properties.

Wheeling, July 30.—President Loree and a dozen other high officials of the Baltimore & Ohio, arrived last night on a special train making an inspection of all recently acquired properties. President Loree announced that on August 1 the Cleveland Lorain & Wheeling, Ohio River Short Line and eight small roads in West Virginia will be taken over and cease to exist except as divisions of the Baltimore & Ohio.

All rolling stock will bear Baltimore & Ohio lettering. Bids have been asked for double tracking the Cleveland Lorain & Wheeling from Wheeling to Cleveland. It will be a short line for all traffic, including West Virginia coal, between Ohio valley and Lake points.

A Medical Student's Property.

Beaver Falls, July 30.—Coroner White investigated the mystery of the skeleton found in a culvert by some boys and discovered that it belonged to John Gilliland, a young doctor, who had got the body at the medical college and had placed it in the culvert until what flesh was still left on it had rotted away, when he intended to wire and place it in his office.

War on Beer Picnics.

Akron, July 30.—Sheriff F. S. Kelley has declared war on the German societies and others who have been selling beer at Sunday picnics throughout Summit county. Trouble is anticipated for the sheriff and his deputies next Sunday if they try to enforce the order.

A Postmaster Writes:

"I wish to add my testimonial to the genuine merit of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I have tried many remedies, but have found your Syrup Pepsin superior to all other laxatives and stomach medicines. My wife and I both use it and know it does all that you claim for it.

"Yours sincerely, C. O. KINNE.
"Alma, Kas., Dec. 22, 1900."
Sold by W. & W. Pharmacy.

28-1mo

News Review "Wants" bring quick results.

It Takes a Remedy of Uncommon Merit to Draw the Unqualified Praise of a Successful Practicing Physician.

Dr. J. W. Bates of Corfu, N. Y., states: "A most remarkable case has come under my hands of late and has fully convinced me of the wonderful power of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills over diseases of the nerves."

"A young lady who was treated for over two years for epilepsy by two doctors was given up to die. I found that her sickness was not epilepsy, but nervous troubles, due to menstrual derangements, and prescribed four of Dr. Chase's Nerve Pills a day, after meals and at bed time. Since that time she has not had a single bad spell. Her health has rapidly improved, she has gained about fifteen pounds in weight, and I do not hesitate to state that Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills have saved her life and restored her to health."

See that the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase are on every box. Price 50 cents a box.—Six boxes for $2.50. Manufactured by the Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.
Sold in East Liverpool by Charles T. Larkins.

GREYNA GREEN

Couples By the Score Flock to Youngstown to Be Married.

Youngstown, July 30.—It was announced today that when the Junior Order of American Mechanics hold its annual picnic here next Saturday, 20 couples will come from Verona, Pa., to be married.

This city has long been the Greytna Green of western Pennsylvania, but never before has there been such a wholesale marrying scheduled. At Verona the mothers are afraid to mention the matter to their daughters or to inquire whether they will be among the couples. They are afraid they might put such an idea into their heads.

In Youngstown, the hackmen are preparing for the greatest day they have ever known. It is a habit with some Youngstown ministers and justices to divide their fees with hackmen who bring them business. The ministers will hurry back from their vacations to get a slice of the business.

BOARD OF HEALTH QUILTS

Sebring Officials Say They Have Received No Support From Council.

Sebring, July 30.—The entire board of health at Sebring, composed of Messrs. Robert Finley, Lon Fash, S. A. Crouse, W. K. Buxton, H. J. McMaster and C. J. Blummensteil, resigned in a body.

The reason assigned by the board for this act, is that they have received no support from council, although they have incurred necessary expense in the exercise of their duties to the amount of over $150.

FRENCH REUNION.

A Notable Gathering Was Held on Saturday.

Salem, July 30.—The annual reunion of the French family was held Saturday at Tolerton's grove, with the usual large attendance. Members of the family from Salem, Alliance, Lisbon, Atwater and other neighboring towns were present. A program of addresses, recitations, etc., was carried out.

The officers selected for next year were: Ellwood French, of Atwater, president; Louis G. French, vice president; Clarkson French, treasurer; Mrs. Emma French, secretary. The next reunion will probably be held here.

Colored Miner Killed.

Wellsburg, July 30.—William Anderson, a colored coal miner, was struck by the Panhandle railroad train about one mile below here and instantly killed. The scene of the accident is near the Carmichael coal works, Anderson, who is about 40 years of age, had been drinking during the day.

PULPIT AND PEW.

Smithfield, Va., claims the oldest church in the country. It is St. Luke's, erected in 1632 and restored in 1894.

Cincinnati is a stronghold of Presbyterianism. Sixty-four churches are included in its presbytery, 28 of these being within the limits of the city.

Dr. Josiah Oldfield, author of a new book on "The Death Penalty," says that he wrote to all the bishops of the Church of England for their opinions on the subject and not one of them favored the abolition of capital punishment.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, O. contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying genuine, it is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by all druggists, 75c. per bottle. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Try a News Review want ad.

Not Only Odds

and ends of the Stock but our entire Stock of Lace Curtains are included in this sale at 25 per cent Discount.

Dont make a mistake by missing it.

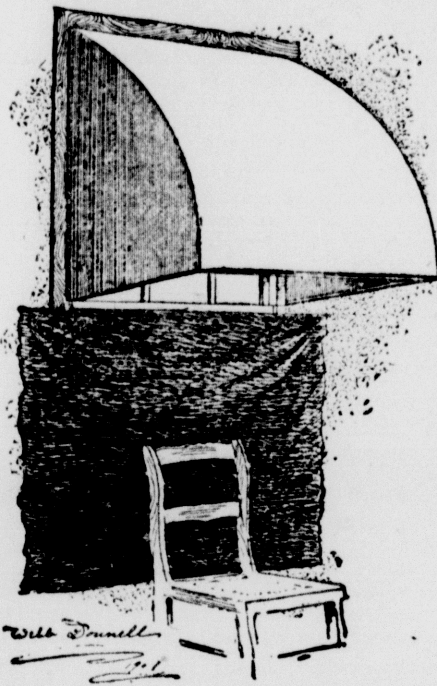

HARD'S
"THE BIG STORE"

THE FIRST CAMERA

SOME TROUBLES OF THE AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHER.

Taking Portraits at Home—Arrangement For Lighting a Sitter in an Ordinary Room—An Easy Method of Making a Dark Room.

One of the most interesting features of amateur photography is the taking of portraits. This work is of two kinds—the out of door snap shot portraiture that is often very successful, so far as the "likeness" goes, but always lacks the fine balancing of light and shade,

ARRANGEMENT FOR LIGHTING A SITTER, and the artistic finish of a portrait that is taken where the amount and the direction of the light can be controlled.

For the majority of amateurs the light that comes from the ordinary house window must be utilized.

The trouble encountered here is that a north window in a dwelling house admits too small an amount of light, while the direct sunlight of a south window is as bad as are out of door conditions. The strong light of a sunny window may be made to serve the purpose of the portrait taker.

A dark cloth is pinned across the lower sash, before which the sitter is placed, either back to the curtain or with the side of the body toward it, according to location of the camera. In front of the upper sash of the window is constructed a hood. The framework of this is of strips of wood put together in the form shown in the illustration. The curved pieces can be made of barrel hoops.

This framework is made to hang up on books against the window casing. It is covered with white cloth to reflect the light down upon the sitter. Over this is put a cover of black cloth, that the light may not come through and strike the lens of the camera.

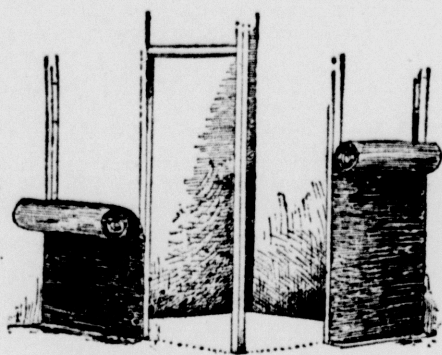

White and black paper will answer as well as cloth. The camera must be placed high enough on the tripod or the hood be brought down low enough so that no light from the upper sash may fall upon the camera lens. If the camera is placed directly in front of the window, the cloth covering the lower sash will form the background of the portrait. If the sitter sits with his side toward the window, a background should be hung from the side of the hood, coming down behind the sitter.

If at any time the light is too strong, a square of white muslin can be pinned across the base of the hood above the head of the sitter. This will diffuse the light somewhat and temper it. With these suggestions the amateur ought to be able by experimenting to reach a successful method of portrait taking in his own home. Some experimenting is necessary, since in no two houses are the conditions of light and windows exactly the same.

The want of a suitable dark room robs amateur photography of a great deal of its pleasure. A dark room big enough for all necessary purposes can easily be constructed in the corner of a stable, shed or unfinished chamber after the plan shown in the accompanying cut.

Mark off a square in the corner of the space to be utilized and set up five strips of 2 by 3 inch lumber in the manner shown. Put a "header" across between two strips for a doorway and cover all the rest of the wall space with black tarred paper, tacking it on as shown in the illustration, lapping the second piece over the edge of the first. For a door make a frame out of strips of board, putting a brace from the inner corner at the bottom to the outer corner at the top, to keep it from sagging, and cover the frame with the tarred paper. Hinge one side to an upright strip and tack on small strips inside so there will be no cracks left about the edges of the door when it is closed. Put up a broad shelf about two sides of the dark room, with a few smaller shelves above to hold chemicals, plates, paper and trays, and the dark room is complete.—Webb Donnell in Household.

AN EASILY MADE DARK ROOM.

Gospel Truth.

It may be hard to save your tin, But there is this about it: It's easier to live within Your income than without it. —Philadelphia Press.

Good Reason.

"I wonder why the Puffins have stopped inviting us to their dinner." "I suppose it was because we always went."—Chicago Post.

Broiled.

In quest of sleep my eyes I shut, But fierce discomforts thrill. I bought it for a mattress, but It seems more like a grill. —Washington Star.

Quite Different.

She (indignantly)—But you had no business to kiss me. "Oh, but it wasn't business; it was pleasure."—Life.

Botanical.

Let other folks go far to find Broad fields of blossoms, red and sweet, But I'm in clover—to my mind— Here on this porch—at Daphne's feet. —Detroit Free Press.

Concerning Liars.

"This is the age of invention." "Yes, and the age of inventions about inventions."—Chicago Post.

BURNS & McQUILKIN,
LIVERY AND UNDERTAKING.

262 West Market Street. Both Phones 10

Penmanship
Actual Business
Bookkeeping
Shorthand and Typewriting

are successfully taught at the

Ohio Valley Business College,

East Liverpool, Ohio.

$10 Round Trip—Via Pennsylv-vania Lines—16 Days Limit.

On June 30th, July 5th, 18th, August 1st, 5th, 20th and September 12th, $10 Round trip tickets will be sold from East Liverpool to Atlantic City, Cape May and other prominent Seaside Resorts, good returning sixteen days including date of purchase. Trains leave 3:55 a. m., 11:21 a. m., 3:06 p. m., and 5:40 p. m., central time at Pittsburg Union Station with trains hauling Pullman Sleeping Cars through to Atlantic City without change. For particulars address Adam Hill, Ticket Agent, East Liverpool.

W-4th-s-317
AN ADVERTISEMENT placed in the NEWS REVIEW brings the best results.

THE FIRST NATIONAL....

BANK

OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO.

President—David Boyce.
Vice President—J. M. Kelly.
Cashier—N. G. Macrum.
Asst. Cashier—Thos. H. Fisher.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

David Boyce, W. L. Thompson;
J. M. Kelly, O. C. Vodrey;
B. C. Simms, Jno. C. Thompson
Jas. N. Vodrey.

CAPITAL - - $100,000
SURPLUS - - $100,000

General Banking Business.

Invites Business and Personal Accounts
SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT,
193 Washington Street.

Can and Can't

Where there is a job to be done secure the services of a

Plumber

who will do that job successfully. One that will overcome any and all difficulties and use the best material. Don't employ a firm that can't do skillfully everything pertaining to its line. If you desire satisfactory work employ

ARBUTHNOT BROS.,
Practical Plumbers,
Corner Broadway and Fifth St.

THE CRITERION DINING ROOM

having been removed to No. 176 Washington street, postoffice building, we are prepared to serve our patrons better and quicker than ever. The best Meal in the city for the money.

W. E. LYTLE

Banquets and Suppers a Specialty.

Our Record.

Twenty years of Unbroken
Success.

Stronger and Better than Ever.

The Potters
National Bank.

Mason Jars

Extra Gums and Lids.
Stone Jars and Crocks
of all kinds at

Edwin Oppelts,

Both Phones 134.
No. 160 Fifth Street.

CONFERENCE TODAY.

Representatives of Amalgamated and Manufacturers to Confer.

3 SCALES MUST BE SETTLED.

Executive Committee's Decisions Said to Be Final With the Workers. Much Speculation as to Who Would Represent the Steel People.

Pittsburg, July 30.—Three new wage scales may have to be formulated by the manufacturers and the Amalgamated association before the present steel workers' strike is possible of a settlement. The declaration of a strike on the part of President Shaffer, which called out from the mills all the union men in the employ of the American Tin Plate company, the American Steel Hoop company and the American Sheet Steel company, abrogated the wage agreement that existed before the strike was declared. With the last two companies the scale for the present year had never been signed. It was practically agreed to, but the dispute over the unionizing of the mills of these companies brought about the abandonment of the agreement. With the tin plate company the wage scale had been signed for the year ending July 1, 1902, and this also ended with the strike.

Another Wage Conference Probable.

For the reason stated the conference to end the present strike will result in wage conferences being held over again in each case where the companies interested are affected. It is thought that this matter will be taken up between the manufacturers and the Amalgamated association immediately after the decision is arrived at to end the strike, providing, of course, that this decision is reached. No difficulty is expected in reaching a wage agreement between the companies and the Amalgamated association when the time comes, though President Shaffer declined to discuss this matter last night.

With the tin plate wage scale the formal adoption of the scale that was abrogated will be all that is necessary. It was intimated, however, that when the settlement was reached the company might not be so willing to grant all that was secured at the first conference. With the American Sheet Steel company the demand made by the Amalgamated association at the time the negotiations were broken off was for re-establishment of the scale for the year just passed, and if this agreement is still in view, it is thought that there will be little disposition to combat it on the part of the company. The American Steel Hoop company will be obliged to reach an agreement entirely new and some time may be required before it is settled satisfactorily to the two sides interested in the controversy.

Committee's Decision Final.

The meeting of the general executive committee of the Amalgamated association this morning will have to deal with the terms of the wage matter, as well as with the vital point regarding the scope of the Amalgamated association in the mills of these companies. This general executive committee of the workers' organization is composed of the three national officers, President Shaffer, Secretary, Treasurer John Williams and Assistant M. F. Tighe, also Ben L. Williams, editor of The Amalgamated Journal; the three national trustees and nine vice presidents or leaders of the nine sub-districts of the organization. This makes a committee of 16 in all. As an organization the committee is known as the court of last resort by the Amalgamated men. The decision reached by the members is final, and under the articles of the constitution of the organization the members agree to abide by it.

Much curiosity was manifested yesterday as to the personality of the men who would confer as the committee for the manufacturers. It was impossible to gain any information from the manufacturers regarding this point, and the Amalgamated officials declared that they were in ignorance of the plans of the United States Steel corporation. Every one of the Amalgamated men put the proviso in their remarks that they might meet with the manufacturers providing the settlement of the strike was agreed to at their meeting today. By this it is inferred that the members of the executive committee were still in an uncertain frame of mind regarding the outcome of the meeting this morning. The utmost silence was being preserved by the Amalgamated men on this subject, and President Shaffer said last night that his lips were sealed by positive agreement until the matter was settled. He declared that under the conditions existing he could not talk to any one on any matter affecting the United States Steel corporation or the strike as it at present exists. He even refused to talk upon the latest reports of the strike in the outlying districts, and said that all this was covered by the agreement made by him.

Speculation as to Representation.

None of the manufacturers' representatives who met with the Amalgamated association at the last conference had arrived from New York, as far as made public last night. Veryl Preston, former president of the American Steel Hoop company, and I. W. Jenks, general manager of that company, were in Pittsburg, but could not be found last night. No word had been received from Vice President Warner Arms, of the American Tin Plate company, regarding a probable visit to Pittsburg by him. The identity of the conferees was a mystery to the Amalgamated men, according to their own statements.

Considerable interest was taken in Amalgamated headquarters yesterday afternoon over the statement of Rev.

J. H. Diehl, pastor of the Hyde Park Lutheran church. Mr. Diehl was present at a meeting of the Lutheran Ministerial association, in Allegheny, and in discussing the threatened attempt on the part of the American Sheet Steel company to start the Hyde Park mill with non-union men, said that it would put back the work of his church there for at least three years. Mr. Diehl said that his church had felt the effects of the strike keenly, and if non-union men were brought to the town it would take three years or more to get the congregation back to its present standing. Rev. E. S. Dickey, pastor of the Lutheran church at New Kensington, spoke in a similar strain. Both pastors earnestly hoped that the strike would be settled without delay.

WOULD GRATIFY LONG.

If Allen Would Be Returned to Navy Department.

Washington, July 30.—Secretary Long will leave here Thursday for his annual vacation, the major portion of which will be spent at his home at Hingham, Mass. He probably will return to Washington during the early part of September, prior to the date when the Schley court of inquiry meets. Assistant Secretary Hackett, who has been spending several weeks at his country home in New Castle, N. H., will return to the city Wednesday and will act as secretary. Mr. Hackett is expected to retire from the department early in September. His successor has not yet been selected.

OUTBREAKS OF BOXERS.

Notorious Chinaman Appointed to a Lucrative Position.

Shanghai, July 30.—The North China Daily News announces that there has been a recurrence of outbreaks by the Boxers in the province of Shan Tung in consequence of the success of the allied villagers in Chi Li province against the troops of Li Hung Chang.

The notorious Yung Lu (who was imperial treasurer, and later generalissimo of the northern army) has been appointed to the lucrative post of controller general of the revenue board.

ELLIS GLENN JURY

WAS STILL OUT YESTERDAY.

Parkersburg, July 30.—The jury in the Ellis Glenn case was still out yesterday. The 12 men were brought into court Monday morning, after spending Sunday in custody of the jailer, and resumed their deliberation. About noon Monday they asked for instructions and about 3 o'clock notified the court of their failure to reach an agreement. The court gave them additional instructions and sent them back to the jury room, and about 4:30 o'clock they again notified the court that they could not agree. They were then excused till today. It is understood that they stand 10 for acquittal and 2 for conviction.

FORTY ARRESTS MADE

IN A SUNDAY RAID.

Pittsburg, July 30.—Police Magistrate S. F. Kerr disposed of the 49 cases resulting from Sunday's raid on the old Columbus Turner hall at No. 4616 Penn avenue. Thirty-five of the men arrested testified that they had paid for beer, although they did not belong to the club. Thirty-two of them paid fines of $3 and three were sent to jail for five days. The other five men were held for court under $2,000 bail each on charges of selling liquor without a license and on Sunday. They could not furnish bail.

DIVIDEND OF 1,000 PER CENT ASSERTED DECLARED.

New York, July 30.—It became known in the financial district that an enormous extra dividend, said to have been equal to 1,000 per cent, or $5,000,000, had been declared upon the $500,000 of old capital stock of the First National bank, which last week increased its capital to $10,000,000.

Successful Experiment of Balloon.

Paris, July 30.—M. Santos Dumont made another successful experiment with a dirigible balloon, sailing it from St. Cloud to the long champs race course, around which he steered the balloon, and ascended and descended, occupying about 20 minutes of time. Though asked to make an attempt to go around the Eiffel tower, the aeronaut declined, saying his motor was not yet working as well as he wanted.

Negroes Killed by Boiler Explosion.

Georgetown, S. C., July 30.—A boiler in the sawmill of the Winyan Lumber company exploded, almost totally wrecking the plant, killing three negroes and seriously injuring several others. A schooner lying at the wharf was damaged.

Judge John T. Sneed Dead.

Memphis, July 30.—Judge John T. Sneed died, aged 82. He was an officer in the Mexican war, brigadier general in the provisional army of Tennessee, after the secession of the state, and after the war served on the Tennessee supreme bench.

Ohio Man Appointed.

Washington, July 29.—Wendell W. Mischler, of Ohio, has been appointed stenographer to Secretary Root, to succeed Frederick D. Squires, resigned. Mr. Mischler has been discharging the duties of the place under detail for some months.

Sharkey and Jeffries May Fight.

Boston, July 30.—Tom Sharkey accepted an offer to meet James J. Jeffries before the San Francisco Athletic club in September. The details of the match will now be speedily ratified.

Ohio Postoffices Consolidating.

Washington, July 30.—The postoffice at Blake Mills, O., will be consolidated with the New Philadelphia, O., postoffice, Sept. 1.

MAY ACT FOR BOERS.

Stated That Holland's Premier Will Try to Secure Intervention.

HORRIBLE TALE OF ABUSE.

Former Pastor of a Church in Pretoria Makes Serious Charges—Boer Reconciliators Said to Be Dying in Great Numbers.

Washington, July 30.—Boer sympathizers in Washington are said to now regard it as certain that European intervention will take place at an early date to end the Boer-English conflict. C. W. Van Der Hooght, of this city, who is the personal friend of President Kruger, and who also is the confidential agent of the Boer leaders here, is a warm personal friend of Dr. Kuypers, the newly elected premier of Holland, who has been selected by the queen to form the new ministry.

Mr. Van Der Hooght states that Dr. Kuypers, who is known to be one of the foremost Boer sympathizers in Holland, will positively bring the influence of that country to bear in the interest of European intervention. The reason that the Dutch government did not long ago act in the matter is because Dr. Kuypers's predecessor, the former premier, was opposed to intervention.

In the recent elections in Holland the main issue which Dr. Kuypers's party made in the campaign against the government party was that Holland could have stopped the war if the premier had taken steps for intervention. Holland, it is said, will now take the initiative, and Germany and France will follow suit. The idea of the intervention of the United States in the Boer-British trouble is no longer relied upon by those posted on Boer affairs in this country.

Holland, France, Germany and Russia probably will form the intervening powers at the start, asking that the matter be referred to The Hague tribunal.

Chicago, July 30.—"The horror of the situation in the Boer reconcentration camps of South Africa is appalling. Men, women and children are dying at a rate that would mean the extermination of the Boer race in nine years. The people are crowded up in unsanitary quarters, where they are unable to secure sufficient food or clothing, with disease making terrible ravages among them."

Thus was the situation depicted last night at the Christian Reformed church by Rev. Herman D. Van Brockhuizen, late pastor of the leading Dutch Reformed church at Pretoria. He has come to the United States to raise money to alleviate the sufferings of his countrymen who are huddled together in refugee camps.

Must Not Talk on Naval Controversy.

Washington, July 30.—Secretary Long issued the following general order: "All persons in the naval service are strictly enjoined to refrain from any public statement concerning the subject matter of the court of inquiry requested by Rear Admiral W. S. Schley. John D. Long, Secretary."

SOME NEWS IN BRIEF.

O. C. Stewart fell 45 feet from a cupola at Zanesville, O., and was killed.

In a fight among negroes near Clearfield, Pa., one man was killed and three were wounded.

The people of Latrobe, Pa., are much excited over the disappearance of John D. Clark, and the general belief is that he has been murdered.

James Prather, a wealthy farmer living near Titusville, Pa., was perhaps fatally burned in a fire which destroyed his barns.

A carriage containing W. G. Matson and family was struck by an Erie train at Old Forge, O. A 2-year-old boy was killed and other members of the family were fatally hurt.

A dispatch from Cape Town says: Boers are scattered throughout the upper districts of Cape Colony. Some are within a few miles of Indwe. Others are around Jamestown and between Molteno and Burgersdorp.

A cable from Manila states that the case of Lieutenant Preston Brown, of the Second infantry, charged with murdering a native near Biazonon, is finished. In the course of the proceedings it was proved that the native was killed while trying to escape and the acquittal of Lieutenant Brown is expected.

Andrew C. Robertson, chairman of the Allegheny county Republican committee, has formally announced himself as a candidate for congress in the new Thirty-second, or South Side, district. Circular letters were received by party workers throughout the district. It is understood the letters were sent to members of the county committee, ward, borough, district and vigilance committees.

The visit of Ambassador Choate to Holland, it is stated by authority, was not under instructions from the state department and has no connection with public or political business.

A London paper printed a story to the effect that Mr. Choate had gone to Holland on the invitation of Mr. Kruger, who had asked him to act as mediator between the British and the Boers.

Gustave Behring, who claims to be a son of the late George M. Pullman, and who was arrested Friday for writing defamatory postal cards to Mrs. Frank O. Lowden, was compelled to go to jail in lieu of $500 bail. He was held to the federal grand jury by United States Commissioner Foote at Chicago. The prosecuting witness, Mrs. Lowden, who is a daughter of the former palace car magnate, was not present at the hearing. The defendant said he did not remember having written the postal cards.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

Homer Deible, aged 12, was drowned at Youngstown.

The Wheeling carnival did not pay and its promoters are $750 out.

O. Stewart fell 45 feet from a cupola at Zanesville and was killed.

Thomas King, a young man of Glen-coe, W. Va., cut his throat with a razor and died.

The potato crop in certain sections of the Ohio valley is pronounced almost a total failure.

The Culler family reunion will be held at the home of A. C. Roller, near Columbiana, Aug. 10.

Mrs. Reeder, mother of Eden Reeder, of Hanoverton, fell from a porch and seriously injured herself.

The plant of the American Glass Specialty company, at Monaca, was destroyed by fire. The loss will be $20,000.

Rivermen predict a long dry spell and say it is not likely there will be a coal shipment out of Pittsburg for some time.

A. C. Gorsuch, editor of the Navarre News, is dead, after a lingering illness. He was 45 years old and leaves a wife and two children.

Mrs. Joseph Dennis, of New Cumberland, fell and sprained an ankle and wrist very seriously. Owing to her advanced age she will be under a doctor's care for some time.

W. C. Morgan, of East Rochester, has been elected principal of the Hanoverton schools and Miss Catherine Ruble, of Damascus, will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Ray.

At Mansfield Mrs. Eliza A. Norris has applied for a divorce from Amos D. Norris, a very wealthy farmer. She says he claims to be a wizard with peculiar and awful power.

J. P. White has completed the work of moving the residence of Crawford Young, at Costonia, 100 yards further up the hill, out of reach of high water. The house was moved without breaking a single pane of glass.

J. C. Provice, a C. and M. railroad brakeman, had his legs cut off by a passenger train. While waiting on the train he fell asleep on the track. He may recover. His home is at Ava, O.

Henry Gasmire, of Wellsburg, is making preparations to have Buffalo and Cross creeks in Washington county, Pa., stocked with wide-mouthed black bass from the government fisheries.

Railway Deeds and Mortgages.

Springfield, O., July 30.—Two deeds and two mortgages were filed here by the Detroit Southern Railway company, one deed for $2,000,000 and mortgage for $4,500,000, being the purchase price of the first mortgage holders for the Ohio Southern and the second deed being for $5,000,000 and mortgage for $10,000,000, being the purchase price of the Detroit Southern railway.

NATIONAL GAMES SATURDAY.

Boston, 5; New York, 4; Chicago, 3; Cincinnati, 2; Pittsburg, 8; St. Louis, 9; Brooklyn, 7; Philadelphia, 6.

National Standing.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Pittsburg	49	32	.605
Philadelphia	45	34	.569
St. Louis	48	37	.565
Brooklyn	43	38	.531
Boston	37	40	.481
New York	34	39	.466
Cincinnati	32	47	.405
Chicago	33	54	.379

American Games Yesterday.

Cleveland-Philadelphia, rain. Boston, 4; Chicago, 1. Milwaukee, 9; Washington, 1. Baltimore, 10; Detroit, 5.

American Standing.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Chicago	54	28	.659
Boston	47	30	.619
Baltimore	42	32	.568
Detroit	45	36	.555
Washington	33	39	.458
Philadelphia	32	42	.432
Cleveland	30	48	.385
Milwaukee	29	55	.345

Western Games Yesterday.

Columbus, 8; Marion, 1. Dayton, 6; Toledo, 3. Grand Rapids, 9; Wheeling, 9. Fort Wayne, 7; Muncie, 2.

Western Standing.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Grand Rapids	49	39	.557
Muncie	48	39	.552
Dayton	44	37	.543
Toledo	42	39	.519
Wheeling	42	40	.512
Fort Wayne	46	46	.500
Marion	38	46	.452
Columbus	23	56	.291

A Severe Attack of Diarrhoea Cured.

People are fast learning that there is but one remedy that can always be depended upon to cure diarrhoea. In speaking of this remedy, E. F. Glover, a merchant of Evergreen, Va., says: "Last summer one of my customers who was a fireman on the Norfolk & Western railway, had so severe an attack of diarrhoea that he had to leave his work. He had employed several physicians and got no relief. I sold him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and a day or two after he reported to me that he was entirely cured. I have no hesitation in guaranteeing this remedy and I have never yet had a bottle returned." For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, druggist.

A QUAIN CEMETERY

WHERE OVER 100 OF THE COUNTRY'S EARLY LEGISLATORS SLEEP.

Burial Sites in Suburbs of Washington That Were Set Apart For the Free Interment of Congressmen Dying Away From Home.

On the eastern outskirts of Washington, where the city, straggling over the commons and vacant squares, halts at the edge of the marshes of the Anacostia river, stands the old Congressional cemetery, with its eight-score cenotaphs, memorials of departed statesmen. Years ago the tide of population surged westward and northward, overrunning the salubrious highlands of those sections and establishing its burial grounds in the new regions. But this little city of the dead was left alone in the deserted quarter, with the jail, the almshouse and the workhouse for neighbors.

In it are 160 cenotaphs to dead congressmen, stretching in monotonous rows through the cemetery, all of them, with two exceptions, of a uniform shape and size, and erected at government expense to the memory of the government's dead representatives. Some of the stones mark the actual burying place of the deceased statesmen, but others, like those commemorative of Henry Clay, John Quincy Adams, Thaddeus Stevens and others, merely stand in honor of those distinguished names. Since 1876 the practice of erecting cenotaphs, begun in 1793, has been abandoned.

When the cemetery was established in 1808, its projectors thought it would be a successful idea to secure the interment in the new cemetery of congressmen who passed away while serving their country in the then malarial climate of Washington and that it would give this mortuary site distinction above ordinary burying grounds.

So 400 burial sites were set apart for the free interment of congressmen dying away from home, and the place was named the Congressional cemetery. In those days it was impossible to transport a body long distances without great expense and trouble, and the purchasing of burial lots was expensive, so the privilege thus extended was readily accepted. The funerals were conducted with imposing ceremonies, and the departed solons were laid away with pomp and circumstance in the spaces specially allotted and set apart for them.

As methods of transportation improved, however, with the years, and the families of the deceased found opportunity to take the bodies home for interment, the practice fell into disuse, and ultimately a law was enacted providing that a cenotaph should be erected in the cemetery to every congressman who died in the harness, and for a number of years this custom was followed, so that many of the monuments merely stand in memory of the congressmen without actually marking the burial sites.

In 1876 a law was enacted providing that no cenotaph should be erected unless interment was made in the cemetery, and there has not been a burial of a congressman in the plot since that year.

The cenotaphs are plain blocks of masonry, covered with cement to withstand the ravages of the elements. Each is inscribed with the name of the dead man, the state he represented in the house or senate and the date of his death. Some of the inscriptions are now illegible, but the oldest one decipherable is on a cenotaph in memory of Andrew P. Butler, a senator from the state of South Carolina, who died in 1796. As stated, all the cenotaphs are of uniform size and shape, except in two instances. One is a marble monument to Elbridge Gerry of Massachusetts, at one time vice president of the United States and famous in Revolutionary history. It is a pyramid shaped pile of marble about twice the height of the other cenotaphs, surmounted by an urn containing a representation of an undying flame. The other is a monument to George Clinton of New York, also vice president of the United States and active in the war of 1812.

Among the cenotaphs is one to Pushmataha, a Choctaw chief, who, the inscription states, died of croup in the sixtieth year of his age while visiting Washington in 1824. Beneath this inscription is the statement that the red chieftain in his last breath desired the big guns to be fired over him. He had the salute he desired.

It might be economy if the government were content nowadays merely to honor the departed congressmen with a cenotaph, for the 160 memorials probably did not cost as much as half a dozen modern funerals of defunct statesmen. Congressional funerals now are elaborate affairs. There must be a junket with every ceremony. The body is transported to the home of the deceased in a special car, accompanied by one or two Pullmans, containing a more or less sorrowing congressional escort, with a well stocked commissary, of course. There are carriages and flowers and mourning and a display of white sashes quite imposing.

Then some day special services are held in the house and senate, and the family of the deceased is present to hear him eulogized and endowed with more virtues than ever they dreamed in his lifetime that he possessed. The eulogies are afterward printed in morocco covered volumes and distributed among the friends and constituents, after which congress, deeming that it has performed its duty, dries its eyes and proceeds again to business.—Washington Letter in Los Angeles Times.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin cures Stomach Troubles. Sold by W. & W. Pharmacy. 28-110.

PLENTY OF PROOF

From People You Know—From East Liverpool Citizens.

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced in the face of evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of East Liverpool—of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it: Mr. P. J. Green, veterinary surgeon, says: "When attending a sick horse belonging to Mr. G. H. Gardiner, of 168 Jackson street, he remarked to me that the horse seemed to be in pain. I replied that I was the sicker of the two, as I could at that time scarcely straighten up with my back from lameness, weakness and severe pains. He asked me what my symptoms were and I explained to him that I had suffered for a number of years from my kidneys, that I had attacks at times when nothing helped me, and it was agony to get around, but that I could not endure idleness. The secretions from the kidneys were very high colored and acidulous; that I had spells of dizziness when I could see black specks floating before my eyes and felt generally broken up. He looked up and said he had the very thing I needed to cure me in his house—Doan's Kidney Pills. He went into the house and brought me eight pills. I took them with me and I used them two at a dose. The effect was astonishing. I felt it almost at once, and went to the W. & W. pharmacy and bought a box and took them. The encouragement held out to me by the first eight pills was not mythical, as by their continued use the improvement continued, and I consider no expression of praise too strong for Doan's Kidney Pills. In short, they are ne plus ultra."

Sold for 50 cents a box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn Company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

INTEREST ON YOUR MONEY.

The Columbiana County Building and Loan Co. will, for a short time issue paid up stock paying the highest rate of interest to be had anywhere.

The Columbiana County Building & Loan Co. Cor. 5th and Market St.

"BEST LIKED WHEN BEST KNOWN" WHAT?

The D. & C., The Coast Line to Mackinac

Spend your outing on the Great Lakes visiting Picturesque Mackinac, the hub of the inland seas, where cool breezes blow and black bass bite. Send 2c for illustrated pamphlet. Address

A. A. SCHANTZ, G. P. A., DETROIT, MICH.

AN EASTERN TRIP

On Excursion Tickets over Pennsylvania Lines.

Excursion tickets to New York may be obtained at principal ticket offices of the Pennsylvania Lines, good going and returning over the Pennsylvania Lines—or going via Pennsylvania Lines and returning via the other direct lines from New York, including the routes via Buffalo with privilege of stopping over at that point to take in the Pan-American Exposition and Niagara Falls, or returning via Washington, D. C., with stop-over at that point. Full information will be furnished in reply to inquiries addressed to Ticket Agents of the Pennsylvania Lines. B-n-w-1-td.

VISIT WINONA LAKE.

An Attractive Summer Haven for Recreation, Entertainment.

Winona Lake, Ind., on the Pennsylvania Lines, is an attractive summer haven for persons who desire to combine devotion, entertainment and instruction with rest and recreation. This resort is the site of Winona Assembly and Summer School, and is annually visited by many persons who are strengthened in mind by the excellent facilities for educational work, and inspired by the beautiful scenery. The season for which Winona Lake is famous, the season of 1901 will open May 15th. Commencing on that date excursion tickets with fifteen-day limit will be on sale via Pennsylvania Lines. They may be obtained during May, June, July and August. The sale of season excursion tickets will also begin May 15th and continue daily until September 10th. Excursion tickets will be good returning until September 17th.

Full information about the attractions at "Beautiful Winona," the Assembly and Summer School, etc., will be cheerfully furnished all who address Mr. S. C. DICKY, Secretary, Winona Lake, Ind. Inquiries about excursion rates, time of trains, etc., should be addressed to Passenger and Ticket Agents of the Pennsylvania Lines, or to F. VAN DUSEN, Chief Assistant General Passenger Agent, Pittsburg, Pa. B-n-w-324.

FARES TO BUFFALO</

CONFERENCE TODAY.

Representatives of Amalgamated and Manufacturers to Confer.

3 SCALES MUST BE SETTLED.

Executive Committee's Decisions Said to Be Final With the Workers. Much Speculation as to Who Would Represent the Steel People.

Pittsburg, July 30.—Three new wage scales may have to be formulated by the manufacturers and the Amalgamated association before the present steel workers' strike is possible of a settlement. The declaration of a strike on the part of President Shaffer, which called out from the mills all the union men in the employ of the American Tin Plate company, the American Steel Hoop company and the American Sheet Steel company, abrogated the wage agreement that existed before the strike was declared. With the last two companies the scale for the present year had never been signed. It was practically agreed to, but the dispute over the unionizing of the mills of these companies brought about the abandonment of the agreement. With the tin plate company the wage scale had been signed for the year ending July 1, 1902, and this also ended with the strike.

Another Wage Conference Probable.

For the reason stated the conference to end the present strike will result in wage conferences being held over again in each case where the companies interested are affected. It is thought that this matter will be taken up between the manufacturers and the Amalgamated association immediately after the decision is arrived at to end the strike, providing, of course, that this decision is reached. No difficulty is expected in reaching a wage agreement between the companies and the Amalgamated association when the time comes, though President Shaffer declined to discuss this matter last night.

With the tin plate wage scale the formal adoption of the scale that was abrogated will be all that is necessary. It was intimated, however, that when the settlement was reached the company might not be so willing to grant all that was secured at the first conference. When the American Sheet Steel company the demand made by the Amalgamated association at the time the negotiations were broken off was for re-establishment of the scale for the year just passed, and if this agreement is still in view, it is thought that there will be little disposition to combat it on the part of the company. The American Steel Hoop company will be obliged to reach an agreement entirely new and some time may be required before it is settled satisfactorily to the two sides interested in the controversy.

Committee's Decision Final.

The meeting of the general executive committee of the Amalgamated association this morning will have to deal with the terms of the wage matter, as well as with the vital point regarding the scope of the Amalgamated association in the mills of these companies. This general executive committee of the workers' organization is composed of the three national officers, President Shaffer, Secretary, Treasurer John Williams and Assistant M. F. Tighe, also Ben I. Williams, editor of The Amalgamated Journal; the three national trustees and nine vice presidents or leaders of the nine sub-districts of the organization. This makes a committee of 16 in all. As an organization the committee is known as the court of last resort by the Amalgamated men. The decision reached by the members is final, and under the articles of the constitution of the organization the members agree to abide by it.

Much curiosity was manifested yesterday as to the personality of the men who would confer as the committee for the manufacturers. It was impossible to gain any information from the manufacturers regarding this point, and the Amalgamated officials declared that they were in ignorance of the plans of the United States Steel corporation. Every one of the Amalgamated men put the proviso in their remarks that they might meet with the manufacturers providing the settlement of the strike was agreed to at their meeting today. By this it is inferred that the members of the executive committee were still in an uncertain frame of mind regarding the outcome of the meeting this morning. The utmost silence was being preserved by the Amalgamated men on this subject, and President Shaffer said last night that his lips were sealed by positive agreement until the matter was settled. He declared that under the conditions existing he could not talk to any one on any matter affecting the United States Steel corporation or the strike as it presently exists. He even refused to talk upon the latest reports of the strike in the outlying districts, and said that all this was covered by the agreement made by him.

Speculation as to Representation.

None of the manufacturers' representatives who met with the Amalgamated association at the last conference had arrived from New York, as far as made public, last night. Veryl Preston, former president of the American Steel Hoop company, and I. W. Jenks, general manager of that company, were in Pittsburg, but could not be found last night. No word had been received from Vice President Warner Arms of the American Tin Plate company, regarding a probable visit to Pittsburg by him. The identity of the conferees was a mystery to the Amalgamated men, according to their own statements.

Considerable interest was taken in Amalgamated headquarters yesterday afternoon over the statement of Rev.

J. H. Diehl, pastor of the Hyde Park Lutheran church. Mr. Diehl was present at a meeting of the Lutheran Ministerial association, in Allegheny, and in discussing the threatened attempt on the part of the American Sheet Steel company to start the Hyde Park mill with non-union men, said that it would put back the work of his church there for at least three years. Mr. Diehl said that his church had felt the effects of the strike keenly, and if non-union men were brought to the town it would take three years or more to get the congregation back to its present standing. Rev. E. S. Dickey, pastor of the Lutheran church at New Kensington, spoke in a similar strain. Both pastors earnestly hoped that the strike would be settled without delay.

WOULD GRATIFY LONG,

If Allen Would Be Returned to Navy Department.

Washington, July 30.—Secretary Long will leave here Thursday for his annual vacation, the major portion of which will be spent at his home at Hingham, Mass. He probably will return to Washington during the early part of September, prior to the date when the Schley court of inquiry meets. Assistant Secretary Hackett, who has been spending several weeks at his country home in New Castle, N. H., will return to the city Wednesday and will act as secretary. Mr. Hackett is expected to retire from the department early in September. His successor has not yet been selected.

Secretary Long would be gratified to have Governor Allen resume his duties as assistant secretary, which he relinquished when he went to Porto Rico, and it seems probable that this may follow.

OUTBREAKS OF BOXERS.

Notorious Chinaman Appointed to a Lucrative Position.

Shanghai, July 30.—The North China Daily News announces that there has been a recrudescence of outbreaks by the Boxers in the province of Shan Tung in consequence of the success of the allied villagers in Chi Li province against the troops of Li Hung Chang.

The notorious Yung Lu (who was imperial treasurer, and later generalissimo of the northern army) has been appointed to the lucrative post of controller general of the revenue board.

ELLIS GLENN JURY

WAS STILL OUT YESTERDAY.

Parkersburg, July 30.—The jury in the Ellis Glenn case was still out yesterday. The 12 men were brought into court Monday morning, after spending Sunday in custody of the jailer, and resumed their deliberation. About noon Monday they asked for instructions and about 3 o'clock notified the court of their failure to reach an agreement. The court gave them additional instructions and sent them back to the jury room, and about 4:30 o'clock they again notified the court that they could not agree. They were then excused till today. It is understood that they stand 10 for acquittal and 2 for conviction.

FORTY ARRESTS MADE

IN A SUNDAY RAID.

Pittsburg, July 30.—Police Magistrate S. F. Kerr disposed of the 40 cases resulting from Sunday's raid on the old Columbus Turner hall at No. 4616 Penn avenue. Thirty-five of the men arrested testified that they had paid for beer, although they did not belong to the club. Thirty-two of them paid fines of $3 and three were sent to jail for five days. The other five men were held for court under $2,000 bail each on charges of selling liquor without a license and on Sunday. They could not furnish bail.

DIVIDEND OF 1,000 PER CENT ASSERTED DECLARED.

New York, July 30.—It became known in the financial district that an enormous extra dividend, said to have been equal to 1,000 per cent, or $5,000,000, had been declared upon the $500,000 of old capital stock of the First National bank, which last week increased its capital to $10,000,000.

Successful Experiment of Balloon.

Paris, July 30.—M. Santos Dumont made another successful experiment with a dirigible balloon, sailing it from St. Cloud to the long champs race course, around which he steered the balloon, and ascended and descended, occupying about 20 minutes of time. Though asked to make an attempt to go around the Eiffel tower, the aeronaut declined, saying his motor was not yet working as well as he wanted.

Negroes Killed by Boiler Explosion.

Georgetown, S. C., July 29.—A boiler in the sawmill of the Winway Lumber company exploded, almost totally wrecking the plant, killing three negroes and seriously injuring several others. A schooner lying at the wharf was damaged.

Judge John T. Sneed Dead.

Memphis, July 30.—Judge John T. Sneed died, aged 82. He was an officer in the Mexican war, brigadier general in the provisional army of Tennessee, after the secession of the state, and after the war served on the Tennessee supreme bench.

Ohio Man Appointed.

Washington, July 29.—Wendell W. Mischler, of Ohio, has been appointed stenographer to Secretary Root, to succeed Frederick D. Squires, resigned. Mr. Mischler has been discharging the duties of the place under detail for some months.

Sharkey and Jeffries May Fight.

Boston, July 30.—Tom Sharkey accepted an offer to meet James J. Jeffries before the San Francisco Athletic club in September. The details of the match will now be speedily ratified.

Ohio Postoffices Consolidating.

Washington, July 30.—The postoffice at Blake Mills, O., will be consolidated with the New Philadelphia, O., postoffice, Sept. 1.

MAY ACT FOR BOERS.

Stated That Holland's Premier Will Try to Secure Intervention.

HORRIBLE TALE OF ABUSE.

Former Pastor of a Church in Pretoria Makes Serious Charges—Boer Reconcentrados Said to Be Dying in Great Numbers.

Washington, July 30.—Boer sympathizers in Washington are said to now regard it as certain that European intervention will take place at an early date to end the Boer-English conflict. C. W. Van Der Hooght, of this city, who is the personal friend of President Kruger, and who also is the confidential agent of the Boer leaders here, is a warm personal friend of Dr. Kuyper, the newly elected premier of Holland, who has been selected by the queen to form the new ministry.

Mr. Van Der Hooght states that Dr. Kuyper, who is known to be one of the foremost Boer sympathizers in Holland, will positively bring the influence of that country to bear in the interest of European intervention. The reason that the Dutch government did not long ago act in the matter is because Dr. Kuyper's predecessor, the former premier, was opposed to intervention.

In the recent elections in Holland the main issue which Dr. Kuyper's party made in the campaign against the government party was that Holland could have stopped the war if the premier had taken steps for intervention. Holland, it is said, will now take the initiative, and Germany and France will follow suit. The idea of the intervention of the United States in the Boer-British trouble is no longer relied upon by those posted on Boer affairs in this country.

Holland, France, Germany and Russia probably will form the intervening powers at the start, asking that the matter be referred to The Hague tribunal.

Chicago, July 30.—"The horror of the situation in the Boer reconcentration camps of South Africa is appalling. Men, women and children are dying at a rate that would mean the extermination of the Boer race in nine years. The people are cooped up in unsanitary quarters, where they are unable to secure sufficient food or clothing, with disease making terrible ravages among them."

Thus was the situation depicted last night at the Christian Reformed church by Rev. Herman D. Van Broekhuizen, late pastor of the leading Dutch Reformed church at Pretoria. He has come to the United States to raise money to alleviate the sufferings of his countrymen who are huddled together in refugee camps.

Must Not Talk on Naval Controversy.

Washington, July 30.—Secretary Long issued the following general order: "All persons in the naval service are strictly enjoined to refrain from any public statement concerning the subject matter of the court of inquiry requested by Rear Admiral W. S. Schley, John D. Long, Secretary."

SOME NEWS IN BRIEF.

O. C. Stewart fell 45 feet from a cupola at Zanesville, O., and was killed.

In a fight among negroes near Clearfield, Pa., one man was killed and three were wounded.

The people of Latrobe, Pa., are much excited over the disappearance of John D. Clark, and the general belief is that he has been murdered.

James Prather, a wealthy farmer living near Titusville, Pa., was perhaps fatally burned in a fire which destroyed his barns.

A carriage containing W. G. Matson and family was struck by an Erie train at Old Forge, O. A 2-year-old boy was killed and other members of the family were fatally hurt.

A dispatch from Cape Town says: Boers are scattered throughout the upper districts of Cape Colony. Some are within a few miles of Indwe. Others are around Jamestown and between Molteno and Burgersdorp.

A cable from Manila states that the case of Lieutenant Preston Brown, of the Second infantry, charged with murdering a native near Binaogonan, is finished. In the course of the proceedings it was proved that the native was killed while trying to escape, and the acquittal of Lieutenant Brown is expected.

Andrew C. Robertson, chairman of the Allegheny county Republican committee, has formally announced himself as a candidate for congress in the new Thirty-second, or South Side, district. Circular letters were received by party workers throughout the district. It is understood the letters were sent to members of the county committee, ward, borough, district and vigilance committees.

The visit of Ambassador Choate to Holland, it is stated by authority, was not under instructions from the state department and has no connection with public or political business. A London paper printed a story to the effect that Mr. Choate had gone to Holland on the invitation of Mr. Kruger, who had asked him to act as mediator between the British and the Boers.

Gustave Behring, who claims to be a son of the late George M. Pullman, and who was arrested Friday for writing defamatory postal cards to Mrs. Frank O. Lowden, was compelled to go to jail in lieu of $500 bail. He was held to the federal grand jury by United States Commissioner Foote at Chicago. The prosecuting witness, Mrs. Lowden, who is a daughter of the former palace car magnate, was not present at the hearing. The defendant said he did not remember having written the postal cards.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

Homer Deible, aged 12, was drowned at Youngstown.

The Wheeling carnival did not pay and its promoters are $750 out.

O. Stewart fell 45 feet from a cupola at Zanesville and was killed.

Thomas King, a young man of Glen-coe, W. Va., cut his throat with a razor and died.

The potato crop in certain sections of the Ohio valley is pronounced almost a total failure.

The Culler family reunion will be held at the home of A. C. Roller, near Columbiana, Aug. 10.

Mrs. Reeder, mother of Eden Reeder, of Hanoverton, fell from a porch and seriously injured herself.

The plant of the American Glass Specialty company, at Monaca, was destroyed by fire. The loss will be $20,000.

Rivermen predict a long dry spell and say it is not likely there will be a coal shipment out of Pittsburg for some time.

A. C. Gorsuch, editor of the Navarre News, is dead, after a lingering illness. He was 49 years old and leaves a wife and two children.

Mrs. Joseph Dennis, of New Cumberland, fell and sprained an ankle and wrist very seriously. Owing to her advanced age she will be under a doctor's care for some time.

W. C. Morgan, of East Rochester, has been elected principal of the Hanoverton schools and Miss Catherine Ruble, of Damascus, will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Ray.

At Mansfield Mrs. Eliza A. Norris has applied for a divorce from Amos D. Norris, a very wealthy farmer. She says he claims to be a wizard with peculiar and awful power.

J. P. White has completed the work of moving the residence of Crawford Young, at Costonia, 100 yards further up the hill, out of reach of high water. The house was moved without breaking a single pane of glass.

J. C. Provice, a C. and M. railroad brakeman, had his legs cut off by a passenger train. While waiting on the train he fell asleep on the track. He may recover. His home is at Ava, O.

Henry Gasmiere, of Wellsburg, is making preparations to have Buffalo and Cross creeks in Washington county, Pa., stocked with wide-mouthed black bass from the government fisheries.

Railway Deeds and Mortgages.

Springfield, O., July 30.—Two deeds and two mortgages were filed here by the Detroit Southern Railway company, one deed for $2,000,000 and mortgage for $4,500,000, being the purchase price of the first mortgage holders for the Ohio Southern and the second deed being for $5,000,000 and mortgage for $10,000,000, being the purchase price of the Detroit Southern railway.

NATIONAL GAMES SATURDAY.

Boston, 5; New York, 4.
Chicago, 3; Cincinnati, 2.
Pittsburg, 8; St. Louis, 9.
Brooklyn, 7; Philadelphia, 6.

National Standing.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Pittsburg	49	32	.605
Philadelphia	45	34	.570
St. Louis	48	37	.565
Brooklyn	43	38	.531
Boston	37	40	.481
New York	34	39	.466
Cincinnati	32	47	.405
Chicago	33	54	.379

American Games Yesterday.

Cleveland-Philadelphia, rain.
Boston, 4; Chicago, 1.
Milwaukee, 9; Washington, 1.
Baltimore, 10; Detroit, 5.

American Standing.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Chicago	54	23	.699
Boston	47	30	.610
Baltimore	42	32	.569
Detroit	45	36	.556
Washington	33	39	.458
Philadelphia	32	42	.432
Cleveland	30	48	.385
Milwaukee	29	55	.345

Western Games Yesterday.

Columbus, 8; Marion, 1.
Dayton, 6; Toledo, 3.
Grand Rapids, 9; Wheeling, 9.
Fort Wayne, 7; Muncie, 2.

Western Standing.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Grand Rapids	49	39	.557
Muncie	48	39	.552
Dayton	44	37	.543
Toledo	42	39	.519
Wheeling	42	40	.512
Fort Wayne	46	46	.500
Marion	38	46	.452
Columbus	23	56	.291

A Severe Attack of Diarrhoea Cured.

People are fast learning that there is but one remedy that can always be depended upon to cure diarrhoea. In speaking of this remedy, E. F. Glover, a merchant of Evergreen, Va., says: "Last summer one of my customers who was a fireman on the Norfolk & Western railway, had so severe an attack of diarrhoea that he had to leave his work. He had employed several physicians and got no relief. I sold him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and a day or two after he reported to me that he was entirely cured. I have no hesitation in guaranteeing this remedy and I have never yet had a bottle returned." For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, druggist.

A QUAIN CEMETERY

WHERE OVER 100 OF THE COUNTRY'S EARLY LEGISLATORS SLEEP.

Burial Sites in Suburbs of Washington That Were Set Apart For the Free Interment of Congressmen Dying Away From Home.

On the eastern outskirts of Washington, where the city, straggling over the commons and vacant squares, halts at the edge of the marshes of the Anacostia river, stands the old Congressional cemetery, with its eight-score cenotaphs, memorials of departed statesmen. Years ago the tide of population surged westward and northward, overrunning the salubrious highlands of those sections and establishing its burial grounds in the new regions. But this little city of the dead was left alone in the deserted quarter, with the jail, the almshouse and the workhouse for neighbors.

In it are 100 cenotaphs to dead congressmen, stretching in monotonous rows through the cemetery, all of them, with two exceptions, of a uniform shape and size, and erected at government expense to the memory of the government's dead representatives. Some of the stones mark the actual burying place of the defunct statesmen, but others, like those commemorative of Henry Clay, John Quincy Adams, Thaddeus Stevens and others, merely stand in honor of those distinguished names. Since 1876 the practice of erecting cenotaphs, begun in 1796, has been abandoned.

When the cemetery was established in 1808, its projectors thought it would be a successful idea to secure the interment in the new cemetery of congressmen who passed away while serving their country in the then malarial climate of Washington and that it would give this mortuary site distinction above ordinary burying grounds.

So 100 burial sites were set apart for the free interment of congressmen dying away from home, and the place was named the Congressional cemetery. In those days it was impossible to transport a body long distances without great expense and trouble, and the purchasing of burial lots was expensive, so the privilege thus extended was readily accepted. The funerals were conducted with imposing ceremonies, and the departed solons were laid away with pomp and circumstance in the spaces specially allotted and set apart for them.

As methods of transportation improved, however, with the years, and the families of the deceased found opportunity to take the bodies home for interment, the practice fell into disuse, and ultimately a law was enacted providing that a cenotaph should be erected in the cemetery to every congressman who died in the harness, and for a number of years this custom was followed, so that many of the monuments merely stand in memory of the congressmen without actually marking the burial sites.

In 1876 a law was enacted providing that no cenotaph should be erected unless interment was made in the cemetery, and there has not been a burial of a congressman in the plot since that year.

The cenotaphs are plain blocks of masonry, covered with cement to withstand the ravages of the elements. Each is inscribed with the name of the dead man, the state he represented in the house or senate and the date of his death. Some of the inscriptions are now illegible, but the oldest one decipherable is on a cenotaph in memory of Andrew P. Butler, a senator from the state of South Carolina, who died in 1796. As stated, all the cenotaphs are of uniform size and shape, except in two instances. One is a marble monument to Elbridge Gerry of Massachusetts, at one time vice president of the United States and famous in Revolutionary history. It is a pyramid shaped pile of marble about twice the height of the other cenotaphs, surmounted by an urn containing a representation of an undying flame. The other is a monument to George Clinton of New York, also vice president of the United States and active in the war of 1812.

Among the cenotaphs is one to Pushmataha, a Choctaw chief, who, the inscription states, died of croup in the sixtieth year of his age while visiting Washington in 1824. Beneath this inscription is the statement that the red chieftain in his last breath desired the big guns to be fired over him. He had the salute he desired.

It might be economy if the government were content nowadays merely to honor the departed congressmen with a cenotaph, for the 100 memorials probably did not cost as much as half a dozen modern funerals of defunct statesmen. Congressional funerals now are elaborate affairs. There must be a junket with every ceremony. The body is transported to the home of the deceased in a special car, accompanied by one or two Pullmans, containing a more or less sorrowing congressional escort, with a well stocked commissary, of course. There are carriages and flowers and mourning and a display of white sashes quite imposing.

Then some day special services are held in the house and senate, and the family of the deceased is present to hear him eulogized and endowed with more virtues than ever they dreamed in his lifetime that he possessed. The eulogies are afterward printed in morocco covered volumes and distributed among the friends and constituents, after which congress, deeming that it has performed its duty, dries its eyes and proceeds again to business.—Washington Letter in Los Angeles Times.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin cures Stomach Troubles. Sold by W. & W. Pharmacy. 28-1mo

PLENTY OF PROOF

From People You Know—From East Liverpool Citizens.

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced in the face of evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of East Liverpool—of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it: Mr. P. J. Green, veterinary surgeon, says: "When attending a sick horse belonging to Mr. G. H. Gardiner, of 168 Jackson street, he remarked to me that the horse seemed to be in pain. I replied that I was the sicker of the two, as I could at that time scarcely straighten up with my back from lameness, weakness and severe pains. He asked me what my symptoms were and I explained to him that I had suffered for a number of years from my kidneys, that I had attacks at times when nothing helped me, and it was agony to get around, but that I could not endure idleness. The secretions from the kidneys were very high colored and acidulous; that I had spells of dizziness when I could see black specks floating before my eyes and felt generally broken up. He looked up and said he had the very thing I needed to cure me in his house—Doan's Kidney Pills. He went into the house and brought me eight pills. I took them with me and I used them two at a dose. The effect was astonishing. I felt it almost at once, and went to the W. & W. pharmacy and bought a box and took them. The encouragement held out to me by the first eight pills was not mythical, as by their continued use the improvement continued, and I consider no expression of praise too strong for Doan's Kidney Pills. In short, they are no plus ultra."

Sold for 50 cents a box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn Company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

INTEREST ON YOUR MONEY.

The Columbiana County Building and Loan Co. will, for a short time issue paid up stock paying the highest rate of interest to be had anywhere.

The Columbiana County Building & Loan Co. Cor. 5th and Market St.

"BEST LIKED WHEN BEST KNOWN" WHAT?

The D. & C., The Coast Line to Mackinac

Spend your outing on the Great Lakes visiting Picturesque Mackinac, the hub of the inland seas, where cool breezes blow and black bass bite. Send 2c for illustrated pamphlet. Address

A. A. SCHANTZ, G. P. A., DETROIT, MICH.

AN EASTERN TRIP

On Excursion Ticket over Pennsylvania Lines.

Excursion tickets to New York may be obtained at principal ticket offices of the Pennsylvania Lines, good going and returning over the Pennsylvania Lines or going via Pennsylvania Lines and returning via the other direct lines from New York, including the routes via Buffalo with privilege of stopping over at Buffalo, taking the Pan-American Exposition and Niagara Falls, or returning via Washington, D. C., with stop-over at that point. Full information will be furnished in reply to inquiries addressed to Ticket Agents of the Pennsylvania Lines. B-m-w-f-t-d.

VISIT WINONA LAKE.

An Attractive Summer Haven for Res Recreation, Entertainment.

Winona Lake, Ind., on the Pennsylvania Lines, is an attractive summer haven for persons who desire to combine devotion, entertainment and recreation with rest and recreation. This resort is the site of Winona Assembly and Summer School, and is annually visited by many persons who are strongly attracted by the excellent facilities for educational work, and invigorated in body by the health-giving influences for which Winona Lake is famous.

The season of 1901 will open May 15th. Commencing on that date excursion tickets with fifteen-day limit will be on sale via Pennsylvania Lines. They may be obtained during May, June, July and August. The sale of season excursion tickets will also begin May 15th and continue daily until September 10th. Excursion tickets will be good returning until September 17th.

Full information about the attractions at "Beautiful Winona" its Assembly and Summer School, etc., will be cheerfully furnished all who address Mr. Sol. C. Dickey, Secretary, Winona Lake, Ind. Inquiries about excursion rates, time of trains, etc., should be addressed to Ticket

The News Review
Published Daily Except Sunday by
THE EAST LIVERPOOL PUBLISHING COMPANY
LOUIS H. BRUSH, Manager.

The News Review, Daily, established 1884.
By mail, one year, $5.00; six months, $3.00;
three months, $1.75; by carrier, $5.00; ten
cents per week.

The Saturday Review, Weekly, established
1879. By mail, one year, $1.00 in advance;
six months, 50 cents; three months, 25
cents.

Official Papers of the city of East Liverpool
and Columbiana County.

OFFICE 196 WASHINGTON STREET.

Bell Telephone.

Business Office.....No. 122
Editorial Room.....No. 122

Columbiana County Telephone.

Business Office.....No. 12
Editorial Room.....No. 34

ALLIED PRINTING
TRADES UNION COUNCIL
E. L. LIVERPOOL

TUESDAY, JULY 30, 1901.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR STATE OFFICERS:
Governor—GEORGE K. NASH.
Lieutenant Governor—CARL NIPPERT.
Judge of Supreme Court—JAMES L. PRICE.
Attorney General—JOHN M. SHEETS.
Clerk of Supreme Court—LAWSON E. EM-
ERSON.
State Treasurer—ISAAC E. CAMERON.
Member Board of Public Works—W. G.
JOHNSON.

COUNTY AND DISTRICT.
Common Pleas Judge—H. W. HARTER.
State Senator—FRANK B. ARCHER.
State Senator—CHARLES C. CONNELL.
Representative—SAMUEL BUELL.
Representative—D. W. CRIST.
Sheriff—SAMUEL D. NORAGON.
Auditor—J. F. ADAMS.
Treasurer—W. A. THOMPSON.
Commissioner—EDEN REEDER.
Infirmary Director—G. W. ARMSTRONG.

SUBSCRIBERS WHO ARE GOING AWAY FOR THE SUMMER MONTHS CAN HAVE THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW SENT TO THEM BY NOTIFYING THIS OFFICE OF THEIR OUT-OF-TOWN ADDRESS, EITHER BY TELEPHONE OR POSTAL CARD, FOR 10 CENTS A WEEK. CHANGE OF ADDRESS MAY BE MADE AS OFTEN AS DESIRED. WHEN A CHANGE IS ORDERED BOTH THE OLD AS WELL AS THE NEW ADDRESS SHOULD BE GIVEN.

DISEASE-BREEDING SPOTS.
The air will carry disease germs for long distances. Unless science is mistaken and the germ theory a lie, there are disease-breeding spots without number right in the heart of East Liverpool. One needs only to pass along the streets and get a whiff of the open garbage barrels that stand exposed in the hot sun, their contents festering and sending forth the foulest odors, to be convinced that there is wholesale disregard in this city of the commonest and most easily observed sanitary precautions. And the garbage barrels by no means breed all the disagreeable effluvia. There are heaps of refuse and there are stagnant pools within short distances of dwellings—nuisances which ought to be abated and which are almost sure to cause disease and death if they are not abated. And yet we have a board of health and health officers. What are they doing? Now is the proper time to exert themselves, if they ever intend to fulfill the duties of the offices which they hold.

FOREST RESERVES.
Secretary of Agriculture Wilson is an enthusiast on the subject of forestry. It would be well for the country if we had more like him. Mr. Wilson has been making a study of climatic conditions and has become convinced, along with other observers, that, unless immediate steps are taken for the reforesting of regions which have been denuded of trees, grave danger is threatened. The secretary has conducted a series of investigations reaching over a period of years. He has made personal visits to many districts and has had valuable assistance from other departments of the government. He is deeply interested in the subject of forest reserves, and is moving with insistent vigor to secure important financial assistance from congress.

In the opinion of the secretary, the question involved is not so much a necessity of securing suitable timber supply for future generations, as the preservation of the natural climate. He points out in his reports that the headwaters of numerous streams, such as the Ohio, Tennessee, Savannah, Yadkin and Roanoke, are to be found in the Appalachian region. By the denuding of the slopes of the mountains the entire character of these streams is being changed, and this change affects the districts through which they flow. There will be a steady deterioration of the lands along these streams if the watersheds of headwaters are not protected.

Mr. Wilson says there are no large settlements in these areas to interfere with the proper handling of the forests, yet the scattered population is sufficiently large to care for them.

Large lumber companies are now invading the region, and the imminent destruction of the most valuable forests is to be feared. The secretary recommends that the areas be purchased in 50,000 and 100,000 acre tracts. He says that some of the lands can be purchased for $1 an acre, and in other instances $5 must be paid; but he thinks the lands may be acquired at an average price of $3 an acre. He contemplates making all government reserves self-supporting. He thinks that enough timber should be taken each year to pay for the cost of preservation. Scattered over all the northern states are tracts which can never be as valuable for any other purpose as for timber-growing. Their reforestation and preservation is a matter of vital interest to present and coming generations. Congress could not serve the public interests better than to heed the secretary's advice and give immediate attention to the matter. The forest reserves which he so strongly urges would be a grandly paying investment.

Welcome, Salem! The metropolis of Columbiana county extends a cordial greeting and trusts that you will come often. We think you will find our summer resort comes up to all expectations; also that East Liverpool improves on better acquaintance.

Secretary Long has issued an order forbidding naval officers to talk about the Sampson-Schley controversy. We are not much in favor of sweeping injunctions, but we can but wish that this one had been issued earlier.

From all indications Wellsville will soon cease to be a center of national interest and public discussion. Singularly enough, Wellsville appears to like the prospect.

OBITUARY.
Asa A. Geer.
Asa A. Geer, one of the oldest residents of Hancock county, W. Va., died at his home back of Conco, this morning aged 93 years. He was one of the first settlers of the county. Old age was the cause of death. The funeral services will be held at his late home Thursday at 12 o'clock. Interment will be made at the Stone church cemetery.

He is survived by three sons and two daughters, E. W., B. A., Marion, Mrs. A. O. Lowary and Mrs. George Moore. He was well known throughout the county, having been poor director for a number of years.

OHIO POLITICS
From the day of the Democratic state convention the belief in an old-time Republican victory has grown stronger, until today the wise prophets declare that it will be the same old story of Democratic defeat, with an emphasized majority for Governor Nash and the entire state ticket. The chief Democratic organ is daily filled with bitter attacks upon the candidate, and in every direction the organization is lining up for one of its old Kilkenny cat contests, that can have but one result—the triumph of the Republicans. The outlook at this early stage of midsummer politics was never better for Ohio Republicans.—Ohio State Journal

It is understood that Hon. E. N. Gunsaulus, who has resigned the position of United States consul at Pernambuco, Brazil, will be given another appointment in the diplomatic service, probably at some post in Canada. Mr. Gunsaulus paid a visit to President McKinley at Canton on the matter, Saturday.

There is considerable friction among the Cleveland Democrats just now as to how the county and legislative ticket shall be nominated, and the Johnson administration appears to be divided against itself, Johnson favoring a county convention, while Charley Salen is pulling for the Crawford county plan.

Mayor Tom Johnson has again announced that he is not a candidate for the United States Senate. The Hon. John R. McLean has, however, so far refrained from making such a declaration. Mr. McLean seems to be handling himself with reasonable self-control.—Marion Star.

Mr. Bryan now realizes that Johnny McLean goldbricked him in Ohio and suspects that Artie Gorman has the plans laid to follow suit in Maryland.—Mansfield News.

Announcement.
TO THE VOTERS OF COLUMBIANA COUNTY:
I take this opportunity of informing you that I am a candidate for the Legislature, to be voted for at the November election. If you are in favor of liberal laws and honest legislation, with charity towards all and animosity to none, I sincerely solicit your vote.
J. C. WALSH,
26 tf East Liverpool, O.

GLEANINGS
of the Day —In and about the—
Local POTTERIES.

Preparations have been in progress for the past week looking to the formation of a local of the Brotherhood that will include the trade known as finishers.

This trade has never before been recognized, in fact no provision had been made for it by the Brotherhood. When the recent convention was in session this subject occupied considerable attention, and was one of the most important actions taken by the body.

The great majority of those engaged at this work are women and girls, and the action taken by the national body to admit their trade to membership was most gratifying.

A large list of charter members has been secured and it is intention of President Hughes to form the local some time next week. It is not known at present what number the new organization will be known by, but this will be looked after when the proper time comes.

The arbitration board did not meet last evening, as had been arranged. When all had assembled it was found one of the manufacturers' representatives was absent, and it was impossible to transact any business.

Another effort will be made to hold a meeting tonight, at which time it is hoped a full representation from both sides will be present. But two meetings have been held so far at which any of the numerous questions have been considered.

There are fewer disputes than was anticipated in the beginning, but of these only one has been disposed of and it is the desire of those having the disputes pending that they be taken up at as early a date as possible.

The stonemasons have completed the foundations of six new kilns for the Laughlin company at plant No. 2 in the East End, and within a short time the stonemasons will commence work. The first part of the foundation of the kilnshed was commenced Monday afternoon, but it will be several weeks before this part of the contract is completed. The cooper shop that stood on the northwest corner of the vacant lot owned by the Laughlin company has been removed to another part of the property to make room for the improvements that have been commenced.

Sylvester Kinsey, for several years employed at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery, has taken a position at the Laughlin No. 2. He is sticking up.

STUDY OF AGRICULTURE.

General Hughes Suggests Experiments by Company Commanders.
General Hughes, commanding the department of the Visayas, Philippine Islands, has issued a general order for the encouragement of agricultural pursuits in his command, says the Washington Star. "Inasmuch as conditions," says he, "warrant the assumption that the troops will enjoy greater permanency in location than formerly the department commander invites attention of company commanders to the fact that excellent vegetables ought to be grown in these islands for at least eight months of the year.

"As those which do well during one portion of the year may be burned by the sun or rotted through excessive wet in another it is advised that experiments from month to month, inquiry of the best local authorities in the vicinity and a persistent effort be made to prepare the data for the comfort of those who may come hereafter should our stay not be sufficiently long for us to reap the benefit of our labors. The subsistence department has a moderate supply of seeds of various kinds, which will be distributed to those making application to the chief commissary of the department."

Preservation of Fresh Fruits.
According to the state department advices, the German consul general at Sydney reports that the agricultural department of Victoria has recently made experiments with reference to the preservation of fresh fruits. Pears and peaches packed in the ordinary boxes for shipment were subjected to the vapors of hydrocyanic gas. The fruits were then taken out of the boxes and separately wrapped in tissue paper. Some of them were again treated with the gas, and the whole lot was placed in a dryroom at a temperature of 40 degrees and kept there for seven weeks. When the fruits were taken out, they were in an excellent state of preservation, especially those that had been treated with the gas a second time. Not only the pears, but the peaches, felt hard to the touch, retained their fresh appearance and showed no decayed spots, as the germs had all been killed by the gas.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

Ed Wyman has returned to Sebring after a visit with his parents.

James Colley spent the day the guest of his family at Salineville.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Boyse are the guests of relatives at Salineville.

Blaine Cochran has accepted a position in the office of the Adams Express company.

Miss Pearl Albright is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Thomas Huston, of Alliance.

Mrs. Charles Fraser, of Pittsburg is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Moon, Fourth street.

Victor Smith, of Florence street, who has been ill for some time with typhoid fever, is improving.

W. West and Joseph Frabell, of Wheeling, were in the city yesterday, the guests of Thomas Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Frost have returned from Pittsburg, where they attended the funeral of Henry E. Porter.

Miss Dora Wilson, of Ravenswood, W. Va., is in the city, the guest of her brother, C. Wilson, Sheridan avenue.

Misses Maude Miller, Rose Glass, Mary and H. E. Weaver left this morning for a visit at Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

Miss Louisa McMillan left this morning for Byesville, O., where she has accepted a position in the glass factory.

Wood Pusey and Arthur Himes left yesterday for Buffalo, where they will spend two weeks at the Pan American Exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Laufenburger returned last evening, after a delightful trip to Canada, Niagara Falls and the Pan-American exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Meredith left yesterday afternoon for New York from which place they will sail tomorrow for an extended trip through Europe.

Elliott Frost left this morning for Bridgeport, Conn., after a week's visit with relatives. He will stop off at Buffalo to visit the Pan-American exposition.

BILL OF THE PLAY.

It is Robert B. Mantell's intention to appear next season as Hamlet.

Richard Mansfield's leading woman next season will be Lettice Fairfax.

Theaters are to be established by the king and queen of Roumania in all the rural communes of their kingdom.

It is probable that "The Belle of New York" will be heard in Mexico soon under the auspices of President Diaz.

In a recent interview Ignace Paderewski said that his new opera "Manru" will be produced in New York next season.

Sarah Bernhardt visited the British house of commons recently and was treated with almost royal honors in the way of deference.

An "Independent" theater, with a stock company, for the purpose of producing American plays is under consideration in Chicago.

It is not true, as some American papers have said, that Miss Alice Nielsen is going to marry Laurence Irving, the actor-author, son of Sir Henry Irving.

Albert Chevalier is now engaged on his autobiography, a book which should contain some attractive reading, in view of his interesting career as an entertainer.

TOWN TOPICS.

If you don't see what you want in St. Paul, ask for it. We have it somewhere.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Mobile is the only city in the south that has a permanent Independence day association.—Mobile Register.

New Orleans displaces Boston as the second export market. Thus does the south get revenge for 1861-6.—Memphis Scimitar.

Speaking now with reference to the New York sneers at the banking methods in vogue in Pennsylvania, what reason is there for the toploftical elevation of the New York nose?—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Not only do they still run horse cars in New York city, but kerosene lamps continue in use there for street lighting. For a great town New York has too many village improvements.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Vacation Needs

Hair Brushes. Soft bristles for thin-haired people; long bristles for thick tresses; tiny white brushes for little curly locks. The price range is wide. We call special attention to our 50c and $1.00 styles.

Combs.—We mention two special kinds—a narrow short tooth comb for men 15c, a heavy, strong back comb for ladies 25c.

Soaps.—Scented or unscented 5c to 50c. Fragrant Odonto—for the teeth 25c. Don't forget a bottle of it before you go; you can't find anything any better.

Soda.—And to start right you should take a drink of our "Soda"—"Ice Cream Soda"—before you go, so you will know where to get the best "Soda" when you return.

BERT ANSLEY'S
Pharmacy

A Truss.
Do you want one or a surgical instrument of any kind? you can't do better than to come to us about it.
Our stock of these goods is complete and of the best. It doesn't pay to experiment with such articles, and we can put you right.
Then our prices are such that you cannot afford to go elsewhere.
Don't forget about Vinol when you feel out of health, we guarantee it will make sick ones well.
LARKINS, THE DRUG MAN.

The Leading Store
Is where you can buy Goods at the right price.
We have a large Stock of new Goods in: Household Utensils, Lamps, Nickel Goods, Granite Ware, Tinware, &c. &c.
New Matting and Window Shades.
Hammocks, Croquet Sets, Books, Notions.
Our Goods are A-1 in quality and low in price.
Try our new Candies at 10c and 20c a lb.
W. A. HILL.
228 Diamond.

ICE CREAM Wholesale and retail.
Get the Best.
Watch for the wagon every evening...
J. B. ROWE,
Washington St.

Dougall's
Dancing Classes.
Every Wednesday.
Rock Springs.
Nowling's Full Orchestra.

ICE ICE ICE
Have the best, let us serve you with Union Manufactured Ice.
Prompt attention to all orders.
The Crockery City Brewing Co.

Hardware
EVEN Hardware will wear out, and when you want to replenish your stock of culinary articles—in Granite Line—Cast Steel or Aluminum Ware—remember to see ADAMS about it.
W. H. Adams
WASHINGTON STREET.

Local, Long Distance.
The Columbiana County Telephone Co.
Is Placing 'Phones at the Following Rates:
Business $24.00
Residence 18.00
Extension Desk Sets 9.00
This includes County Service Connection with all points with the U. S. Toll Lines.
Call on or Address
W. F. CROSSLEY,
General Manager.
Salem, Ohio, or East Liverpool, Ohio.

For a SUMMER CRUISE take the COAST LINE TO MACKINAC
To (Cleveland, Detroit, Toledo, Buffalo) To (Mackinac, Georgian Bay, Potoskey, Chicago, Duluth)
The Greatest Perfection yet attained in Boat Construction.
Four Trips per Week Between Toledo, Detroit & Mackinac.
Every Day and Night Between Toledo, Put-in-Bay, Cleveland, and Buffalo.
Luxurious Equipment, Artistic Furnishings, Decorations and Efficient Service.
Day and Night Service Between DETROIT and CLEVELAND.
Fare $1.50 Each Direction.
Berths $1.00, $1.25. Saturday, $2.25.
Connections are made at Cleveland with Eastern Trains for all points East, South and South-west, and at Detroit for all points North and Northwest. SUNDAY NIGHT TRIPS DURING SEASONS OF NAVIGATION.
Send $1. for Illustrated Pamphlet. Address: A. A. MCNABE, G. P. A., DETROIT, MICH. Detroit & Cleveland May. Co.

The News Review

Published Daily Except Sunday by
THE EAST LIVERPOOL PUBLISHING COMPANY

LOUIS H. BRUSH, Manager.

The News Review, Daily, established 1884.
By mail, one year, $5.00; six months, $3.00;
three months, $1.75; by carrier, $1.00; ten
cents per week.

The Saturday Review, Weekly, established
1879. By mail, one year, $1.00 in advance;
six months, 50 cents; three months, 25
cents.

Official Papers of the city of East Liverpool
and Columbiana County.

OFFICE 196 WASHINGTON STREET.

Call Telephone.

Business Office.....No. 122
Editorial Room.....No. 122

Columbiana County Telephone.

Business Office.....No. 12
Editorial Room.....No. 34

TUESDAY, JULY 30, 1901.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR STATE OFFICERS:

Governor—GEORGE K. NASH.
Lieutenant Governor—CARL NIPPERT.
Attorney General—JAMES L. PRICE.
Clerk of Supreme Court—JOHN M. SHEETS.
Clerk of Supreme Court—LAWSON E. EMERSON.
State Treasurer—ISAAC B. CAMERON.
Member Board of Public Works—W. G. JOHNSON.

COUNTY AND DISTRICT.

Common Pleas Judge—H. W. HARTER.
State Senator—FRANK B. ARCHER.
State Senator—CHARLES C. CONNELL.
Representative—SAMUEL BUELL.
Representative—D. W. CRIST.
Sheriff—SAMUEL D. NORAGON.
Auditor—J. F. ADAMS.
Treasurer—W. A. THOMPSON.
Commissioner—EDEN REEDER.
Infirmary Director—G. W. ARMSTRONG.

SUBSCRIBERS WHO ARE GOING AWAY FOR THE SUMMER MONTHS CAN HAVE THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW SENT TO THEM BY NOTIFYING THIS OFFICE OF THEIR OUT-OF-TOWN ADDRESS, EITHER BY TELEPHONE OR POSTAL CARD, FOR 10 CENTS A WEEK. CHANGE OF ADDRESS MAY BE MADE AS OFTEN AS DESIRED. WHEN A CHANGE IS ORDERED BOTH THE OLD AS WELL AS THE NEW ADDRESS SHOULD BE GIVEN.

DISEASE-BREEDING SPOTS.

The air will carry disease germs for long distances. Unless science is mistaken and the germ theory a lie, there are disease-breeding spots without number right in the heart of East Liverpool. One needs only to pass along the streets and get a whiff of the open garbage barrels that stand exposed in the hot sun, their contents festering and sending forth the foulest odors, to be convinced that there is wholesale disregard in this city of the commonest and most easily observed sanitary precautions. And the garbage barrels by no means breed all the disagreeable effluvia. There are heaps of refuse and there are stagnant pools within short distances of dwellings—nuisances which ought to be abated and which are almost sure to cause disease and death if they are not abated. And yet we have a board of health and health officers. What are they doing? Now is the proper time to exert themselves, if they ever intend to fulfill the duties of the offices which they hold.

FOREST RESERVES.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson is an enthusiast on the subject of forestry. It would be well for the country if we had more like him. Mr. Wilson has been making a study of climatic conditions and has become convinced, along with other observers, that, unless immediate steps are taken for the reforesting of regions which have been denuded of trees, grave danger is threatened. The secretary has conducted a series of investigations reaching over a period of years. He has made personal visits to many districts and has had valuable assistance from other departments of the government. He is deeply interested in the subject of forest reserves, and is moving with insistent vigor to secure important financial assistance from congress.

In the opinion of the secretary, the question involved is not so much a necessity of securing suitable timber supply for future generations, as the preservation of the natural climate. He points out in his reports that the headwaters of numerous streams, such as the Ohio, Tennessee, Savannah, Yadkin and Roanoke, are to be found in the Appalachian region. By the denuding of the slopes of the mountains the entire character of these streams is being changed, and this change affects the districts through which they flow. There will be a steady deterioration of the lands along these streams if the watersheds of headwaters are not protected.

Mr. Wilson says there are no large settlements in these areas to interfere with the proper handling of the forests, yet the scattered population is sufficiently large to care for them.

Large lumber companies are now invading the region, and the imminent destruction of the most valuable forests is to be feared. The secretary recommends that the areas be purchased in 50,000 and 100,000 acre tracts. He says that some of the lands can be purchased for $1 an acre, and in other instances $5 must be paid; but he thinks the lands may be acquired at an average price of $3 an acre. He contemplates making all government reserves self-supporting. He thinks that enough timber should be taken each year to pay for the cost of preservation. Scattered over all the northern states are tracts which can never be as valuable for any other purpose as for timber-growing. Their reforestation and preservation is a matter of vital interest to present and coming generations. Congress could not serve the public interests better than to heed the secretary's advice and give immediate attention to the matter. The forest reserves which he so strongly urges would be a grandly paying investment.

Welcome, Salem! The metropolis of Columbiana county extends a cordial greeting and trusts that you will come often. We think you will find our summer resort comes up to all expectations; also that East Liverpool improves on better acquaintance.

Secretary Long has issued an order forbidding naval officers to talk about the Sampson-Schley controversy. We are not much in favor of sweeping injunctions, but we can but wish that this one had been issued earlier.

From all indications Wellsville will soon cease to be a center of national interest and public discussion. Singularly enough, Wellsville appears to like the prospect.

OBITUARY.

Asa A. Geer.

Asa A. Geer, one of the oldest residents of Hancock county, W. Va., died at his home back of Congo, this morning aged 93 years. He was one of the first settlers of the county. Old age was the cause of death. The funeral services will be held at his late home Thursday at 12 o'clock. Interment will be made at the Stone church cemetery.

He is survived by three sons and two daughters, E. W., B. A., Marion, Mrs. A. O. Lowary and Mrs. George Moore. He was well known throughout the county, having been poor director for a number of years.

OHIO POLITICS

From the day of the Democratic state convention the belief in an old-time Republican victory has grown stronger, until today the wise prophets declare that it will be the same old story of Democratic defeat, with an emphasized majority for Governor Nash and the entire state ticket. The chief Democratic organ is daily filled with bitter attacks upon the candidate, and in every direction the organization is lining up for one of its old Kilkenney cat contests, that can have but one result—the triumph of the Republicans. The outlook at this early stage of midsummer politics was never better for Ohio Republicans.—Ohio State Journal

It is understood that Hon. E. N. Gunsaulus, who has resigned the position of United States consul at Pernambuco, Brazil, will be given another appointment in the diplomatic service, probably at some post in Canada. Mr. Gunsaulus paid a visit to President McKinley at Canton on the matter, Saturday.

There is considerable friction among the Cleveland Democrats just now as to how the county and legislative ticket shall be nominated, and the Johnson administration appears to be divided against itself, Johnson favoring a county convention, while Charley Salen is pulling for the Crawford county plan.

Mayor Tom Johnson has again announced that he is not a candidate for the United States Senate. The Hon. John R. McLean has, however, so far refrained from making such a declaration. Mr. McLean seems to be handling himself with reasonable self-control.—Marion Star.

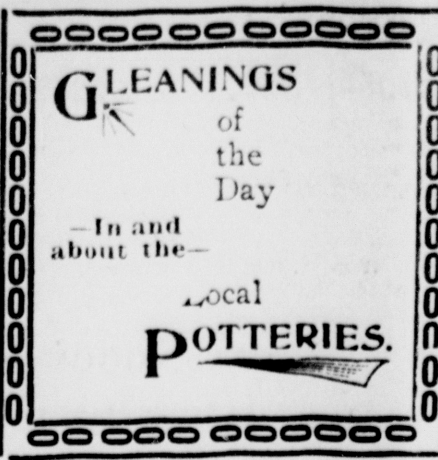

Mr. Bryan now realizes that Johnny McLean goldbricked him in Ohio and suspects that Artie Gorman has the plans laid to follow suit in Maryland.—Mansfield News.

Announcement.

TO THE VOTERS OF COLUMBIANA COUNTY:

I take this opportunity of informing you that I am a candidate for the Legislature, to be voted for at the November election. If you are in favor of liberal laws and honest legislation, with charity towards all and animosity to none, I sincerely solicit your vote.

J. C. WALSH,
East Liverpool, O.

Preparations have been in progress for the past week looking to the formation of a local of the Brotherhood that will include the trade known as finishers.

This trade has never before been recognized, in fact no provision had been made for it by the Brotherhood. When the recent convention was in session this subject occupied considerable attention, and was one of the most important actions taken by the body.

The great majority of those engaged at this work are women and girls, and the action taken by the national body to admit their trade to membership was most gratifying.

A large list of charter members has been secured and it is intention of President Hughes to form the local some time next week. It is not known at present what number the new organization will be known by, but this will be looked after when the proper time comes.

The arbitration board did not meet last evening, as had been arranged. When all had assembled it was found one of the manufacturers' representatives was absent, and it was impossible to transact any business.

Another effort will be made to hold a meeting tonight, at which time it is hoped a full representation from both sides will be present. But two meetings have been held so far at which any of the numerous questions have been considered.

There are fewer disputes than was anticipated in the beginning, but of these only one has been disposed of and it is the desire of those having the disputes pending that they be taken up at as early a date as possible.

The stonemasons have completed the foundations of six new kilns for the Laughlin company at plant No. 2, in the East End, and within a short time the stonemasons will commence work. The first part of the foundation of the kilnshed was commenced Monday afternoon, but it will be several weeks before this part of the contract is completed. The cooper shop that stood on the northwest corner of the vacant lot owned by the Laughlin company has been removed to another part of the property to make room for the improvements that have been commenced.

Sylvester Kinsey, for several years employed at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery, has taken a position at the Laughlin No. 2. He is sticking up.

STUDY OF AGRICULTURE.

General Hughes suggests Experiments by Company Commanders.

General Hughes, commanding the department of the Visayas, Philippine Islands, has issued a general order for the encouragement of agricultural pursuits in his command, says the Washington Star. "Inasmuch as conditions," says he, "warrant the assumption that the troops will enjoy greater permanency in location than formerly the department commander invites attention of company commanders to the fact that excellent vegetables ought to be grown in these islands for at least eight months of the year.

As those which do well during one portion of the year may be burned by the sun or rotted through excessive wet in another it is advised that experiments from month to month, inquiry of the best local authorities in the vicinity and a persistent effort be made to prepare the data for the comfort of those who may come hereafter should our stay not be sufficiently long for us to reap the benefit of our labors. The subsistence department has a moderate supply of seeds of various kinds, which will be distributed to those making application to the chief commissary of the department."

Preservation of Fresh Fruits.

According to the state department advices, the German consul general at Sydney reports that the agricultural department of Victoria has recently made experiments with reference to the preservation of fresh fruits. Pears and peaches packed in the ordinary boxes for shipment were subjected to the vapors of hydrocyanic gas. The fruits were then taken out of the boxes and separately wrapped in tissue paper. Some of them were again treated with the gas, and the whole lot was placed in a dryroom at a temperature of 40 degrees and kept there for seven weeks. When the fruits were taken out, they were in an excellent state of preservation, especially those that had been treated with the gas a second time. Not only the pears, but the peaches, felt hard to the touch, retained their fresh appearance and showed no decayed spots, as the germs had all been killed by the gas.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

Ed Wyman has returned to Sebring after a visit with his parents.

James Colley spent the day the guest of his family at Sallineville.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Boyse are the guests of relatives at Sallineville.

Blaine Cochran has accepted a position in the office of the Adams Express company.

Miss Pearl Albright is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Thomas Huston, of Alliance.

Mrs. Charles Fraser, of Pittsburg is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Moon, Fourth street.

Victor Smith, of Florence street, who has been ill for some time with typhoid fever, is improving.

W. West and Joseph Frabell, of Wheeling, were in the city yesterday, the guests of Thomas Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Frost have returned from Pittsburg, where they attended the funeral of Henry E. Porter.

Miss Dora Wilson, of Ravenswood, W. Va., is in the city, the guest of her brother, C. Wilson, Sheridan avenue.

Misses Maude Miller, Rose Glass, Mary and H. E. Weaver left this morning for a visit at Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

Miss Louisa McMillan left this morning for Byesville, O., where she has accepted a position in the glass factory.

Wood Pusey and Arthur Himes left yesterday for Buffalo, where they will spend two weeks at the Pan American Exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Laufenburger returned last evening, after a delightful trip to Canada, Niagara Falls and the Pan-American exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Meredith left yesterday afternoon for New York from which place they will sail tomorrow for an extended trip through Europe.

Elliott Frost left this morning for Bridgeport, Conn., after a week's visit with relatives. He will stop off at Buffalo to visit the Pan-American exposition.

BILL OF THE PLAY.

It is Robert B. Mantel's intention to appear next season as Hamlet.

Richard Mansfield's leading woman next season will be Lettice Fairfax. Theaters are to be established by the king and queen of Roumania in all the rural communes of their kingdom.

It is probable that "The Belle of New York" will be heard in Mexico soon under the auspices of President Diaz.

In a recent interview Ignace Paderewski said that his new opera "Manru" will be produced in New York next season.

Sarah Bernhardt visited the British house of commons recently and was treated with almost royal honors in the way of deference.

An "independent" theater, with a stock company, for the purpose of producing American plays is under consideration in Chicago.

It is not true, as some American papers have said, that Miss Alice Nielsen is going to marry Laurence Irving, the actor-author, son of Sir Henry Irving.

Albert Chevalier is now engaged on his autobiography, a book which should contain some attractive reading, in view of his interesting career as an entertainer.

TOWN TOPICS.

If you don't see what you want in St. Paul, ask for it. We have it somewhere.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Mobile is the only city in the south that has a permanent Independence day association.—Mobile Register.

New Orleans displaces Boston as the second export market. Thus does the south get revenge for 1861-6.—Memphis Scimitar.

Speaking now with reference to the New York sneers at the banking methods in vogue in Pennsylvania, what reason is there for the topical elevation of the New York nose?—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Not only do they still run horse cars in New York city, but kerosene lamps continue in use there for street lighting. For a great town New York has too many village improvements.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Vacation Needs

Hair Brushes. Soft bristles for thin-haired people; long bristles for thick tresses; tiny white brushes for little curly locks. The price range is wide. We call special attention to our 50c and $1.00 styles.

Combs. We mention two special kinds—a narrow short tooth comb for men 15c, a heavy, strong back comb for ladies 25c.

Soaps. Scented or unscented 5c to 50c. Fragrant Odonto—for the teeth 25c. Don't forget a bottle of it before you go; you can't find anything any better.

Soda. And to start right you should take a drink of our "Soda"—"Ice Cream Soda"—before you go, so you will know where to get the best "Soda" when you return.

BERT ANSLEY'S
Pharmacy

A Truss.

Do you want one or a surgical instrument of any kind? you can't do better than to come to us about it.

Our stock of these goods is complete and of the best. It doesn't pay to experiment with such articles, and we can put you right.

Then our prices are such that you cannot afford to go elsewhere.

Don't forget about Vinol when you feel out of health, we guarantee it will make sick ones well.

LARKINS, THE DRUG MAN.

The Leading Store

Is where you can buy Goods at the right price.

We have a large Stock of new Goods in: Household Utensils, Lamps, Nickel Goods, Granite Ware, Tinware, &c. &c.

New Matting and Window Shades.

Hammocks, Croquet Sets, Books, Notions.

Our Goods are A-1 in quality and low in price.

Try our new Candies at 10c and 20c a lb.

228 Diamond.

W. A. HILL.

ICE CREAM

Wholesale and retail. Get the Best.

Watch for the wagon every evening.

J. B. ROWE,
Washington St.

Dougall's Dancing Classes.

Every Wednesday. Rock Springs.

Nowling's Full Orchestra.

ICE ICE ICE

Have the best, let us serve you with Union Manufactured Ice.

Prompt attention to all orders.

The Crockery City Brewing Co.

Hardware

EVEN Hardware will wear out, and when you want to replenish your stock of culinary articles—in Granite Line—Cast Steel or Aluminum Ware—remember to see ADAMS about it.

W. H. Adams

WASHINGTON STREET.

Local, Long Distance. The Columbiana County Telephone Co.

Is Placing 'Phones at the Following Rates:

Business	$24.00
Residence	18.00
Extension Desk Sets	9.00

This includes County Service Connection with all points with the U. S. Toll Lines.

Call on or Address

W. F. CROSSLEY,
General Manager.

For a SUMMER CRUISE take the COAST LINE TO MACKINAC

To Cleveland Detroit Toledo Buffalo

The Greatest Perfection yet attained in Boat Construction.

Four Trips per Week Between Toledo, Detroit & Mackinac. Fare $1.50 Each Direction. Tickets $1.00, $1.25, $1.50. Connections are made at Cleveland with Earliest Trains for all points East, South and Northwest. SUNDAY NIGHT TRIPS DURING SEASON OF NAVIGATION.

Send $1. for Illustrated Pamphlet. Address: A. A. SCHWARTZ, G. P. A., DETROIT, MICH.

To Mackinac Georgian Bay Potoskey Chicago Duluth

Excursion Equipment, Artistic Furnishings, Decoration and Efficient Service.

Day and Night Service Between DETROIT and CLEVELAND. Fare $1.50 Each Direction. Tickets $1.00, $1.25, $1.50. Connections are made at Cleveland with Earliest Trains for all points East, South and Northwest. SUNDAY NIGHT TRIPS DURING SEASON OF NAVIGATION.

Deloit & Cleveland Nav. Co.

SOUTH SIDE

RETURN ENGAGEMENT

The Harris Quartette Coming Back to Rock Springs Park—Fine Concert Sunday.

The famous Harris quartette, of Pittsburg, pleased a large audience at Rock Springs park Sunday afternoon and evening. The Harris quartette is certainly the finest musical attraction that has appeared in the park this season. They have a great variety of songs, and they were compelled to respond to encores time after time, so well did they please the large audience.

Each member of the quartette is a soloist, and as a quartette they have few equals in the country. Nine selections was the original program, but they were compelled to sing four times that number before the large audience would let them go.

"The Holy City," sung by H. F. Blaney, and the "Sentinel Asleep," by C. F. Harris, took the audience by storm, and each was compelled to answer to several encores. How well they pleased the people are attested by the almost unanimous request for a return engagement which Manager Maxwell has secured for Sunday, August 25.

An Enjoyable Picnic.

The excursion held at Rock Springs park yesterday by Prof. Delbridge, of Wheeling, was attended by about 50 people from that city, and another train, which was run in the evening from Wellsburg, Toronto and New Cumberland, swelled the crowd to 200. They all enjoyed themselves until 10 o'clock when they left for home.

Pastor Hull's Resignation.

Rev. J. D. Hull, who recently resigned as pastor of the Fairview Christian church, writes to deny a published report that he resigned as the result of ill feeling. He says the only vote taken was on the question of rejecting or accepting his resignation. He has been pastor there for five years and is highly esteemed.

Junior Entertainment.

The Junior League of the Chester M. E. church will hold a lawn fete and phonograph entertainment this evening at Mrs. Neville's, opposite the U. P. church, Chester. Admission free.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

An Example.

Hello, Mistuh Busy Bee,
Wuckin' all day long,
Why foh can't you stop like me,
Jes' to sing a song?
Gatherin' up de honey sweet,
Stackin' it in tiers,
Bavin' no' dan you could eat
In a dozen years!

Hello, Mistuh Busy Man,
You is wuss dan him,
'Case he'll sleep de winter's span
In some corner dim.
Bef er you should take a rest;
Pattern after me—
Mistuh Man, foh time so pressed,
An Mistuh Busy Bee.

—Washington Star.

Culture.

"The Rockleights seem to be a very proud family."

"Yes; the girls and their mother nearly die of mortification whenever the old man calls their veranda 'the stoop.'"—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Good Word For Him.

Banks—Dumlegh is not such a dunce as they make him out. He gets off a good thing once in awhile.

Hill—But it isn't original.

Banks—Still it's bright in him to remember it.—Boston Transcript.

Restaurant Tragedy.

Van Bibber ordered a bowl of soup,
And the waiter brought it with a whoop,
But the bowl had an unsuspected crack,
And the soup went down Van Bibber's back.
—Chicago Tribune.

A Willow Reed.

Lydia—Oh, Clarence, dear! If I should fall into the briny ocean, would you save me?

Clarence—I don't know, darling. I never saved anything in my life.—Brooklyn Life.

Prosate Lovemaking.

She—You are so awkward in your lovemaking that sometimes I am suspicious.

He—Of what?

She—That you may be sincere.—Life.

July, the Ruby.

The glowing ruby shall adorn
Those who in July are born;
Then they'll be exempt and free
From love's doubts and anxiety.
—Philadelphia Times.

One Thing Lacking.

"He boasts that he is a self made man."

"It's too bad he didn't take a course in the polishing trade before he stopped work."—Philadelphia Press.

His Usual Fate.

Getthere—Did you ever attend any of Miss Budd's "at homes?"
De Bore (sadly)—No, but I've attended a good many of her not at homes.—New York Weekly.

A Summer Idyl.

Don't you roam,
'Less you got ter.
Stay at home;
'Taint no hotter.
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Our Greatest Sale a Big Success. STAR BARGAIN STORE Our Greatest Sale a Big Success.

Our sale which started Saturday is a greater success than we expected. We are sorry that lots of people could not get accommodated on Saturday afternoon and evening and that we could not give the attention to the trade as we should. Whether you have been in our store on Saturday and yesterday or not come through the week and see how much money you can save by buying your Dry Goods and Furnishings at our store during this great sale. HERE ARE ONLY A FEW EXAMPLES OF WHAT WE ARE DOING DURING THIS SALE.

At $6.50

$12.50 and $15 suits for $6.50.

At $4.50

A lot of $6.98, $7.98 and $8.98 walking skirts, your choice $4.50.

At $12

$16.50 and $18 silk taffeta silk skirts, reduced to $12.

At $3

Your choice of $4.98 and $5.98 colored silk waists for $3.

At 39c

Plain and striped gingham waists, 75c grade for 39c.

At 75c

$1.25 and $1.50 fine waists, the newest styles for 75c. All our white waists at great reduced prices.

At 18c

The finest 25c wash goods for 18c.

At 75c

All our $1.25 dressing sacques and kimono for 75c.

At 7c

A big lot of light percale and gingham, 10c and 12c grades 7c.

At 5c

A big lot of the best 7c and 8c prints for 5c.

At 4c

Linen finish crash, cheap at 7c, for 4c.

At 4c each.

50 dozen large size towels for 4c, worth double.

At 20c

The best 25c huck towels for this sale only 20c.

All our bleached damask at great reduced prices.

At 39c

72 in. unbleached damask, cheap at 50c, for 39c.

Dress Goods

And Silks at Slaughtering Prices.

At 33c

A table full of 50c and 65c dress goods for 33c.

At 50c

46 and 50 inch homespuns and other dress goods sold at $1.00 and $1.25 for 50c.

At 23c

50c black crepon, yours for 23c.

At 43c

60c black taffeta silk for 43c.

Extra Special.

Our entire stock of black and colored dress goods at away down prices.

At $2.50

Your choice of our $4 and $4.50 silk waist patterns for $2.50.

At 1-3 Off.

Our entire stock of foulard silk dress patterns at 1-3 off.

At 25c

15 dozen of the best 39c corset covers for 25c. All our fine gowns and chemise including skirt chemise at great reduced prices.

At 98c

Black mercerized undershirts, worth $1.50, for 98c.

At 5c

50 dozen ladies' 10c vests for 5c.

At 19c

35c ladies' vests for 19c.

At 19c

Men's Balbriggan underwear for 19c.

At 12 1/2 c

Men's fancy socks, worth 19c, for 12 1/2 c.

At 39c

All the best 50c working shirts for 39c.

25 per cent. off.

All our children's colored and white dresses at 25 per cent. off.

At 15c

Your choice of our 50c and 65c flowers for 15c.

New Hot Weather Goods

While we are having our great sale we keep on getting in all the time new desirable goods which you want for this hot weather. We got in a new lot of striped Dress Gingham in blue, ox blood and pink, just what you want for your shirt waist suit. New chambray gingham in all colors, new wash goods, new striped white goods, new walking skirts, new other new things on which we will save you considerable.

While we are having our great sale we keep on getting in all the time new desirable goods which you want for this hot weather. We got in a new lot of striped Dress Gingham in blue, ox blood and pink, just what you want for your shirt waist suit. New chambray gingham in all colors, new wash goods, new striped white goods, new walking skirts, new other new things on which we will save you considerable.

138 and 140 Fifth Street.

STAR BARGAIN STORE.

138 and 140 Fifth Street.

FAMOUS PALMIST AND CLAIRVOYANT

Whose Sensational Work Has Given Him a National Reputation.

WILL REMAIN A FEW DAYS

To Accommodate the Hundreds of People Who Desire to Interview This Famous Young Man—Prof. Hunt Has Traveled in Every Country on the Face of the Globe.

Prof. Francis Hunt, the famous palmist and clairvoyant, whose sensational work has given him a national reputation, has been induced to remain in the city a short time longer. Prof. Hunt is without doubt the greatest clairvoyant in the world. The miracles he has performed in nearly every country on the face of the globe have never been equalled.

Prof. Hunt's ancestors were all powerful and reliable mediums, and the old family name of Hunt is as well known and held as sacred to the believer in the spirit power as the name of Shakespeare is in the realms of literature. Therefore, this wonderful young man has received the rich and golden inheritance and combined knowledge that has been handed down from father to son for generations. He asks no questions, but answers sealed messages in a trance, and before you can utter a solitary word HE TELLS YOUR NAME IN FULL, NAMES OF ENEMIES, friends or rivals; tells whether husband, wife or sweetheart is true or false; tells you how to gain success in love, courtship, marriage, divorce, health, business, law suits, speculation and transactions of all kinds. In fact, no matter what may be your hope, fear or ambition, come to this gifted man and find help.

His parlors at 162 Sixth street are crowded from early morning until late at night by persons anxious to interview this truly famous young man.

A TERRIFIED MILL WORKER

(Continued from First Page.)

Ohio river, opposite the mill. The place is deserted, as far as strike breakers are concerned, the last men to be entertained there having left camp last evening for Steubenville. These men were captured Sunday evening at the street railway loop at Wellsville.

There is to be a meeting of Local Union No. 24, N. B. of O. P., of Wellsville this evening. Reports will be presented by committees who have had some work to do in connection with the steel strike. One of these committees was to look after firms who are alleged to be hostile to the strikers.

Sheriff Samuel Noragon, of Lisbon, was in Wellsville today and to a reporter stated the talk of an injunction being obtained against the strikers was but newspaper talk and there was absolutely nothing in the rumor. He said: "There have been no Pinkerton detectives at the mill, and there will be none, so far as I am able to learn. These men would first have to be sworn in by me, otherwise their acts would be illegal. No persons of this sort has asked to be sworn in."

There was some objection on the part of the Wellsville police last evening on account of the strikers' headquarters, but as the men later confined themselves to the spacious room there was no further kick from the authorities.

Pete Ebaugh, one of the association leaders, has been selected as manager of the picnic which will be given at Rock Springs Saturday.

PEN, CHISEL AND BRUSH.

Everett Shinn, the New York artist, has just completed a large full length portrait of Mark Twain, which is said to be the best ever made of the humorist.

Thomas Ball, the sculptor, painter and author, celebrated the eighty-second anniversary of his birth at his home in South Mountain avenue, Montclair, N. J.

Richard Le Gallienne, the poet and novelist, will probably make this country his permanent home. He said recently that he had grown very fond of it and had seen few lands so full of literary material.

Steinlen, whose cartoons in Gil Blas have made him well known, has joined the staff of L'Assiette au Beurre because it allows him more freedom in the propaganda in favor of poverty, which has become a passion with him.

Eugene Field's first poem, or the original draft of it, was recently discovered in the possession of Edgar White, a court stenographer of Macon, Mo., who was a student with Field at the Mobile State university. The title is "Bucephalus; A Tail," and the date 1871.

Redmond and O'Brien Suspended.

London, July 30.—There was another Irish row in the house of commons, which ended in the suspension of William Redmond, member for East Clare, and Patrick O'Brien, member for Killkenny city.

A Strike Settled.

Joliet, Ill., July 30.—The strike at the Pressed Steel Car works, inaugurated two weeks ago, has been amicably settled. The 200 men return to work on piece scale. They formerly received day wages and the new arrangement will give a slight increase. During the strike the entire plant has been closed.

Public Take Notice.

BARR & SON, contractors and builders, of East End, have been declared unfair firms by local union No. 228, Carpenters and joiners of America. By order of LOCAL UNION 328.

14-11

News Review "Wants" bring quick results.

COLUMBIA WON THE RACE.

Beat the Constitution—Latter's Rig to Be Altered Before She Races Again.

Newport R. I., July 30.—The Columbia defeated the Constitution, boat for boat, in a splendid race by two minutes and 54 seconds and won the $1,000 cup presented by Colonel John Jacob Astor. Her victory was decisive and convincing. The behavior of the Constitution, on the other hand, was disappointing in the extreme, and last evening Mr. Duncan announced that his boat would not take part in further races until her rig had been altered. He declared that the Constitution is not doing herself justice; that she is not going well, and that there is no use in racing her further until she is put in proper shape.

The Constitution will not participate in the Newport yacht racing events of Thursday and Saturday of this week as a competitor of the Independence. The Columbia, however, has been entered for these races and will sail against the Boston boat. The Constitution will go to Bristol at once and have the alterations made. If this change in the plans of the Constitution does not prevent, the next races in which she will start will take place over the Newport course, on Aug. 12 and 14. The regatta will be under the auspices of the New York Yacht club.

In one of these races the cup offered by Sir Thomas Lipton will be sailed for. The regular trial races for the purpose of selecting the defender of the America's cup will be held here on Aug. 31 and Sept. 1 and 3.

It is not easy for the best friend of the Constitution to make plausible excuses for her most palpable defeat. She was beaten fairly and squarely on her merits.

ASK FOR RECEIVER'S REMOVAL.

Reports Made in Cases of Some Debenture Companies in Ohio.

Columbus, O., July 30.—Partial reports were made by the receivers in the Equitable, Ohio and Equitable and the Ohio Debenture companies in the common pleas court here. E. B. Kinkead moved that Receiver Guy B. Jones be removed in the Ohio debenture cases, claiming that he stood in the way of the litigation on due bills. A motion for the removal of D. A. Walker, the other receiver, was not pressed. Mr. Walker then filed a report showing that the officers of the company, E. J. Miller, J. M. Mulford, O. T. D. Barron, W. D. Gilbert and E. C. Morton, had paid their dues on debentures with due bills, but accepted redemption checks and received cash for them. The total available cash reported was $230,119. Investments of $19,642 were reported.

Referee John Morrissey filed a partial report in the Equitable debenture case, showing liabilities of $48,312, with assets of $32,000.

Referee George B. Okey filed a report showing assets of $63,305 for the Ohio and Equitable company.

ANOTHER VICTIM DEAD;

MINERS WERE EXCITED.

Zanesville, O., July 30.—Melvin Shelton, one of the victims of the Kings mines affray Sunday, died yesterday, and last night several hundred miners were gathered at Kings excitedly discussing the situation. Many were for taking the law in their own hands and executing the colored man, Busby, who caused the riot.

LONG MIGHT MODIFY IT,

IF SCHLEY COMPLAINS.

Washington, July 30.—Secretary Long stated that if complaint against the language used in the fifth specification of the precept to the Schley court of inquiry was officially made to him by Admiral Schley he would give the matter consideration and that the language might be modified.

Ohio Democrats Name Officers.

Columbus, O., July 30.—The Democratic state executive committee was completed by the selection of C. F. Gilliam as secretary and W. C. Orr for treasurer. Both are of this city.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Ohio and Western Pennsylvania—Local thunder storms today, with cooler in southern portions. Tomorrow partly cloudy; fresh westerly winds.

West Virginia—Local thunder storms and cooler today. Tomorrow partly cloudy; west to northwest winds.

GOOD GROOMING.

Well Kept Hair in Soft, Loose and Silky Tresses.

Beautiful hair goes far toward making a beautiful face. The disfigurement of scanty, wiry hair is something only the best coiffure can hide. As to this important element in physical beauty The New Idea Magazine says:

Hair varies under different conditions, both physical and mental. Certain physical conditions change the color and the quality of the hair; others cause it to fall. The hair itself may also be diseased. All of these conditions require special treatment. In general, cleanliness and a reasonable amount of care will keep the hair healthy.

Oily hair can be remedied by being washed once in two weeks, while hair with a normal amount of oil should not be washed more than once a month unless one is engaged in dusty work or is traveling constantly. Cinders and dust irritate the scalp, and any slight inflammation is likely to cause the hair to fall.

Some hair is so very dry that washing makes it brittle. Such hair should be given an application of vaseline or an oil dressing of some kind the day before it is washed. It will then be soft and silky. The vaseline should be rubbed on the scalp, getting as little on the hair as possible.

In washing the hair use water quite warm, with a good, pure soap to make a lather. Tar or castile soap is the best. If the hair is oily, a very little ammonia or soda can be used. Wash carefully, rubbing the scalp well, then rinse in two waters. Roll the hair up in a towel for a few minutes to absorb the water, then let down and rub gently—in the sunshine always, if possible, otherwise near a stove or radiator—till dry. When dry, comb out the snarls, a strand at a time, and brush until glossy.

Soda and borax used in the water keep the hair light and fluffy, but also make it brittle; hence they should only be used where there is a preponderance of oil. While vaseline often prevents hair from falling out, it also makes it darker; so the caution to rub it on the scalp and avoid getting it on the hair is especially important to fair haired women.

RUB GENTLY IN THE SUNSHINE.

There are many methods of perfuming the hair, which is much a fad nowadays. The scent can be put in the rinse water or on the hair just before it is dry or a perfumed cap can be worn at night. It is best, however, not to confine the hair at night. Braid it loosely or have it flowing if it does not snarl easily.

Do not use hot irons on the hair if you wish to keep it silky and long. Tight crimping pins are also injurious. If it must be curled, do it up loosely in kids or soft paper. A soft curl is much prettier than crimps.

Do not tie the hair up tight on the head. It not only loosens the roots and is a prolific source of baldness, but it makes impossible that soft, loose, pretty effect which is essential in modern, fashionable hairdressing.

Well kept hair in a healthy condition should be soft and pliable, with a rich silky luster that is the most exquisite frame for any face, old or young.

The handsomest and best local newspaper in Columbiana county is the East Liverpool News Review.

SANITARY REDUCTION CO.

Disposes of all Refuse

Bell Phone 373.

Wall Paper.

July and August are the dull months in Wall Papers, but we have determined this year to make them lively at our "Wall Paper Store," by offering special inducements to the buyer.

We now offer
25,000 Bolts at from 3c to 10c
25,000 " " 10c to 15c
10,000 " " 15c to 50c

All reduced from 10 per cent. to 30 per cent. according to style and quality. Come and see for yourself.

Window Blinds.

All grades, all shades at 10c, 25c, 35c, 50c and 60c. Come and see these blinds.

KINSEY'S Wall Paper Store.

A man with a good solid bank account is always regarded with respect and confidence. No successful business can afford to be without one. We have taken every precaution for the safety of the funds entrusted to us; we are also insured against robbery, and our employees are heavily bonded, thus insuring our depositors absolute security. All transactions with this bank will be held strictly confidential.

Citizens' National Bank

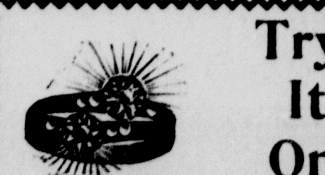

East Liverpool, Ohio.

Do You Eat This Warm Weather?

If so, get your

Fresh Meats

at
W. H. NAGEL'S,
255 W. Market Street. Everything fresh and the best. Telephone 592.

Try It On

AND if it don't fit we have other Rings that will—Our prices on first class goods makes the sale for us—Diamonds, Watches, Silverware, Clocks, anything in the jewelry line—All goods guaranteed as represented. Watch Repairing and Engraving a Specialty.

A. G. HOFMAN,

208 Market St.

SOUTH SIDE

RETURN ENGAGEMENT

The Harris Quartette Coming Back to Rock Springs Park—Fine Concert Sunday.

The famous Harris quartette, of Pittsburgh, pleased a large audience at Rock Springs park Sunday afternoon and evening. The Harris quartette is certainly the finest musical attraction that has appeared in the park this season. They have a great variety of songs, and they were compelled to respond to encores time after time, so well did they please the large audience.

Each member of the quartette is a soloist, and as a quartette they have few equals in the country. Nine selections was the original program, but they were compelled to sing four times that number before the large audience would let them go.

"The Holy City," sung by H. F. Blaney, and the "Sentinel Asleep," by C. F. Harris, took the audience by storm, and each was compelled to answer to several encores. How well they pleased the people are attested by the almost unanimous request for a return engagement which Manager Maxwell has secured for Sunday, August 25.

An Enjoyable Picnic.

The excursion held at Rock Springs park yesterday by Prof. Delbrugge, of Wheeling, was attended by about 50 people from that city, and another train, which was run in the evening from Wellsburg, Toronto and New Cumberland, swelled the crowd to 200. They all enjoyed themselves until 10 o'clock when they left for home.

Pastor Hull's Resignation.

Rev. J. D. Hull, who recently resigned as pastor of the Fairview Christian church, writes to deny a published report that he resigned as the result of ill feeling. He says the only vote taken was on the question of rejecting or accepting his resignation. He has been pastor there for five years and is highly esteemed.

Junior Entertainment.

The Junior League of the Chester M. E. church will hold a lawn fete and phonograph entertainment this evening at Mrs. Neville's, opposite the U. P. church, Chester. Admission free.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

An Example.

Hello, Mistuh Busy Bee,
Wuckin' all day long,
Why foh can't you stop like me,
Jus' to sing a song?
Gatherin' up de honey sweet,
Stackin' it in tier,
Savin' me de you could eat
In a dozen years!

Hello, Mistuh Busy Man,
You is wuss dan him,
'Case he'll sleep de winter's span
In some corner dim,
Efo' er you should take a rest;
Pattern after me,
Mistuh Man, foh time so pressed,
An Mistuh Busy Bee.

—Washington Star.

Culture.

"The Rocksleighs seem to be a very proud family."
"Yes; the girls and their mother nearly die of mortification whenever the old man calls their veranda 'the stoop.'"
—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Good Word For Him.

Banks—Dumleigh is not such a dunce as they make him out. He gets off a good thing once in awhile.
Hill—But it isn't original.
Banks—Still it's bright in him to remember it.—Boston Transcript.

Restaurant Tragedy.

Van Bibber ordered a bowl of soup,
And the waiter brought it with a whoop,
But the bowl had an unsuspected crack,
And the soup went down Van Bibber's back.
—Chicago Tribune.

A Willow Weed.

Lydia—Oh, Clarence, dear! If I should fall into the briny ocean, would you save me?
Clarence—I don't know, darling. I never saved anything in my life.—Brooklyn Life.

Prosate Lovemaking.

She—You are so awkward in your lovemaking that sometimes I am suspicious.
He—Of what?
She—That you may be sincere.—Life.

July, the Ruby.

The glowing ruby shall adorn
Those who in July are born;
Then they'll be exempt and free
From love's doubts and anxiety.
—Philadelphia Times.

One Thing Lacking.

"He boasts that he is a self made man."
"It's too bad he didn't take a course in the polishing trade before he stopped work."—Philadelphia Press.

His Usual Fate.

Getthere—Did you ever attend any of Miss Budd's "at homes"?
De Bore (sadly)—No, but I've attended a good many of her not at homes.—New York Weekly.

A Summer Idyl.

Don't you roam,
'Less you got ter.
Stay at home;
'Taint no hotter.
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Our Greatest Sale a Big Success. STAR BARGAIN STORE Our Greatest Sale a Big Success.

Our sale which started Saturday is a greater success than we expected. We are sorry that lots of people could not get accommodated on Saturday afternoon and evening and that we could not give the attention to the trade as we should. Whether you have been in our store on Saturday and yesterday or not come through the week and see how much money you can save by buying your Dry Goods and Furnishings at our store during this great sale.

HERE ARE ONLY A FEW EXAMPLES OF WHAT WE ARE DOING DURING THIS SALE.

At $6.50
$12.50 and $15 suits for $6.50.

At $4.50
A lot of $6.98, $7.98 and $8.98 walking skirts, your choice $4.50.

At $12
$16.50 and $18 silk taffeta silk skirts, reduced to $12.

At $3
Your choice of $4.98 and $5.98 colored silk waists for $3.

At 39c
Plain and striped gingham waists, 75c grade for 39c.

At 75c
$1.35 and $1.50 fine waists, the newest styles for 75c. All our white waists at great reduced prices.

At 18c
The finest 25c wash goods for 18c.

At 75c

All our $1.25 dressing sacques and kimono for 75c.

At 7c

A big lot of light percale and gingham, 10c and 12c grades 7c.

At 5c

A big lot of the best 7c and 8c prints for 5c.

At 4c

Linen finish crash, cheap at 7c, for 4c.

At 4c each.

50 dozen large size towels for 4c, worth double.

At 20c

The best 25c huck towels for this sale only 20c.

All our bleached damask at great reduced prices.

At 39c

72 in. unbleached damask, cheap at 50c, for 39c.

Dress Goods

And Silks at Slaughtering Prices.

At 33c

A table full of 50c and 65c dress goods for 33c.

At 50c

46 and 50 inch homespun and other dress goods sold at $1.00 and $1.25 for 50c.

At 23c

50c black crepon, yours for 23c.

At 43c

60c black taffeta silk for 43c.

Extra Special.

Our entire stock of black and colored dress goods at away down prices.

At $2.50

Your choice of our $4 and $4.50 silk waist patterns for $2.50.

At 1-3 Off.

Our entire stock of foulard silk dress patterns at 1-3 off.

At 25c

15 dozen of the best 39c corset covers for 25c. All our fine gowns and chemise including skirt chemise at great reduced prices.

At 98c

Black mercerized undershirts, worth $1.50, for 98c.

At 5c

50 dozen ladies' 10c vests for 5c.

At 19c

35c ladies' vests for 19c.

At 19c

Men's Balbriggan underwear for 19c.

At 12 1/2 c

Men's fancy socks, worth 19c, for 12 1/2 c.

At 39c

All the best 50c working shirts for 39c.

25 per cent. off.

All our children's colored and white dresses at 25 per cent. off.

At 15c

Your choice of our 50c and 65c flowers for 15c.

New Hot Weather Goods

wash skirts, 50 pieces of new serpentine laces in white, black and Arabian, new muslin underwear, new white waists, new white velvet and taffeta ribbons and many other new things on which we will save you considerable.

While we are having our great sale we keep on getting in all the time new desirable goods which you want for this hot weather. We got in a new lot of striped Dress Gingham in blue, ox blood and pink, just what you want for your shirt waist suit. New chambray gingham in all colors, new wash goods, new striped white goods, new walking skirts, new black and Arabian, new muslin underwear, new white waists, new white velvet and taffeta ribbons and many other new things on which we will save you considerable.

138 and 140 Fifth Street.

STAR BARGAIN STORE.

138 and 140 Fifth Street.

FAMOUS PALMIST AND CLAIRVOYANT

Whose Sensational Work Has Given Him a National Reputation.

WILL REMAIN A FEW DAYS

To Accommodate the Hundreds of People Who Desire to Interview This Famous Young Man—Prof. Hunt Has Traveled In Every Country on the Face of the Globe.

Prof. Francis Hunt, the famous palmist and clairvoyant, whose sensational work has given him a national reputation, has been induced to remain in the city a short time longer. Prof. Hunt is without doubt the greatest clairvoyant in the world. The miracles he has performed in nearly every country on the face of the globe have never been equalled.

Prof. Hunt's ancestors were all powerful and reliable mediums, and the old family name of Hunt is as well known and held as sacred to the believer in the spirit power as the name of Shakespeare is in the realms of literature. Therefore, this wonderful young man has received the rich and golden inheritance and combined knowledge that has been handed down from father to son for generations. He asks no questions, but answers sealed messages in a trance, and before you can utter a solitary word HE TELLS YOUR NAME IN FULL, names of enemies, friends or rivals; tells whether husband, wife or sweetheart is true or false; tells you how to gain success in love, courtship, marriage, divorce, health, business, law suits, speculation and transactions of all kinds. In fact, no matter what may be your hope, fear or ambition, come to this gifted man and find help.

His parlors at 162 Sixth street are crowded from early morning until late at night by persons anxious to interview this truly famous young man.

38-h.

TO GET ALL THE NEWS

Buy the Evening News Review—List of Those Who Sell it.
Job R. Manley's,
Cor. Sixth and Franklin Streets
Pierce & Cartwright's,
276 Eighth Street.
John H. Peake's,
304 Eighth Street.
Bagley's,
153 Second Street.
Bagley's,
285 East Market Street.
Hotel Lakel,
Second Street.
John Peake's,
Market and Second Streets.
Ryan Bros.,
289 East Market Street.
Wilson's,
Fifth Street.
Rose's Cigar Store,
Washington Street.
Gill's Grocery,
Calcutta Road.
Harrison News Stand,
143 Mulberry St., East End.
C. T. McCutcheon,
Drug Store, Southside.
E. J. Driscoll's Confectionary Store,
West Market Street.
Marshall News Stand,
First St., Chester, W. Va.

If you want facts and not fakes, and a complete record of all the news that happens, read the News Review.

A TERRIFIED MILL WORKER

(Continued from First Page.)

Ohio river, opposite the mill. The place is deserted, as far as strike breakers are concerned, the last men to be entertained there having left camp last evening for Steubenville. These men were captured Sunday evening at the street railway loop at Wellsville.

There is to be a meeting of Local Union No. 24, N. B. of O. P., of Wellsville this evening. Reports will be presented by committees who have had some work to do in connection with the steel strike. One of these committees was to look after firms who are alleged to be hostile to the strikers.

Sheriff Samuel Noragon, of Lisbon, was in Wellsville today and to a reporter stated the talk of an injunction being obtained against the strikers was but newspaper talk and there was absolutely nothing in the rumor. He said: "There have been no Pinkerton detectives at the mill, and there will be none, so far as I am able to learn. These men would first have to be sworn in by me, otherwise their acts would be illegal. No persons of this sort has asked to be sworn in."

There was some objection on the part of the Wellsville police last evening on account of the strikers congregating in front of the strikers' headquarters, but as the men later confined themselves to the spacious room there was no further kick from the authorities.

Pete Ebaugh, one of the association leaders, has been selected as manager of the picnic which will be given at Rock Springs Saturday.

PEN, CHISEL AND BRUSH.

Everett Shinn, the New York artist, has just completed a large full length portrait of Mark Twain, which is said to be the best ever made of the humorist.

Thomas Ball, the sculptor, painter and author, celebrated the eighty-second anniversary of his birth at his home in South Mountain avenue, Montclair, N. J.

Richard Le Gallienne, the poet and novelist, will probably make this country his permanent home. He said recently that he had grown very fond of it and had seen few lands so full of literary material.

Steinlen, whose cartoons in Gil Blas have made him well known, has joined the staff of L'Assiette au Beurre because it allows him more freedom in the propaganda in favor of poverty, which has become a passion with him.

Eugene Field's first poem, or the original draft of it, was recently discovered in the possession of Edgar White, a court stenographer of Macon, Mo., who was a student with Field at the Mobile State university. The title is "Bucephalus; A Tail," and the date 1871.

Redmond and O'Brien Suspended.

London, July 30.—There was another Irish row in the house of commons, which ended in the suspension of William Redmond, member for East Clare, and Patrick O'Brien, member for Killkenny city.

A Strike Settled.

Joliet, Ill., July 30.—The strike at the Pressed Steel Car works, inaugurated two weeks ago, has been amicably settled. The 200 men return to work on piece scale. They formerly received day wages and the new arrangement will give a slight increase. During the strike the entire plant has been closed.

Public Take Notice.

BARR & SON, contractors and builders, of East End, have been declared unfair firms by local union No. 328, Carpenters and joiners of America. By order of LOCAL UNION 328.

14-tf

News Review "Wants" bring quick results.

COLUMBIA WON THE RACE.

Beat the Constitution—Latter's Rig to Be Altered Before She Races Again.

Newport R. I., July 30.—The Columbia defeated the Constitution, boat for boat, in a splendid race by two minutes and 54 seconds and won the $1,000 cup presented by Colonel John Jacob Astor. Her victory was decisive and convincing. The behavior of the Constitution, on the other hand, was disappointing in the extreme, and last evening Mr. Duncan announced that his boat would not take part in further races until her rig had been altered. He declared that the Constitution is not doing herself justice; that she is not going well, and that there is no use in racing her further until she is put in proper shape.

The Constitution will not participate in the Newport yacht racing events of Thursday and Saturday of this week as a competitor of the Independence. The Columbia, however, has been entered for these races and will sail against the Boston boat. The Constitution will go to Bristol at once and have the alterations made. If this change in the plans of the Constitution does not prevent, the next races in which she will start will take place over the Newport course, on Aug. 12 and 14. The regatta will be under the auspices of the New York Yacht club.

In one of these races the cup offered by Sir Thomas Lipton will be sailed for. The regular trial races for the purpose of selecting the defender of the America's cup will be held here on Aug. 31 and Sept. 1 and 3.

It is not easy for the best friend of the Constitution to make plausible excuses for her most palpable defeat. She was beaten fairly and squarely on her merits.

ASK FOR RECEIVER'S REMOVAL.

Reports Made in Cases of Some Debenture Companies in Ohio.

Columbus, O., July 30.—Partial reports were made by the receivers in the Equitable, Ohio and Equitable and the Ohio Debenture companies in the common pleas court here. E. B. Kinkaid moved that Receiver Guy B. Jones be removed in the Ohio debenture cases, claiming that he stood in the way of the litigation on due bills. A motion for the removal of D. A. Walker, the other receiver, was not pressed. Mr. Walker then filed a report showing that the officers of the company, E. J. Miller, J. M. Mulford, O. T. D. Barron, W. D. Gilbert and E. C. Morton, had paid their dues on debentures with due bills, but accepted redemption checks and received cash for them. The total available cash reported was $230,119. Investments of $19,642 were reported.

Referee John Morrissey filed a partial report in the Equitable debenture case, showing liabilities of $48,312, with assets of $33,000.

Referee George B. Okey filed a report showing assets of $63,305 for the Ohio and Equitable company.

ANOTHER VICTIM DEAD;

MINERS WERE EXCITED.
Zanesville, O., July 30.—Melvin Shelton, one of the victims of the Kings mines affray Sunday, died yesterday, and last night several hundred miners were gathered at Kings excitedly discussing the situation. Many were for taking the law in their own hands and executing the colored man, Busby, who caused the riot.

LONG MIGHT MODIFY IT.

IF SCHLEY COMPLAINS.
Washington, July 30.—Secretary Long stated that if complaint against the language used in the fifth specification of the precept to the Schley court of inquiry was officially made to him by Admiral Schley he would give the matter consideration and that the language might be modified.

Ohio Democrats Name Officers.

Columbus, O., July 30.—The Democratic state executive committee was completed by the selection of C. F. Gilliam as secretary and W. C. Orr for treasurer. Both are of this city.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Ohio and Western Pennsylvania—Local thunder storms today, with cooler in southern portions. Tomorrow partly cloudy; fresh westerly winds.

West Virginia—Local thunder storms and cooler today. Tomorrow partly cloudy; west to northwest winds.

GOOD GROOMING.

Well Kept Hair In Soft, Loose and Silky Tresses.

Beautiful hair goes far toward making a beautiful face. The disfigurement of scanty, wiry hair is something only the best coiffure can hide. As to this important element in physical beauty The New Idea Magazine says:

Hair varies under different conditions, both physical and mental. Certain physical conditions change the color and the quality of the hair; others cause it to fall. The hair itself may also be diseased. All of these conditions require special treatment. In general, cleanliness and a reasonable amount of care will keep the hair healthy.

Oily hair can be remedied by being washed once in two weeks, while hair with a normal amount of oil should not be washed more than once a month unless one is engaged in dusty work or is traveling constantly. Cinders and dust irritate the scalp, and any slight inflammation is likely to cause the hair to fall.

Some hair is so very dry that washing makes it brittle. Such hair should be given an application of vasoline or an oil dressing of some kind the day before it is washed. It will then be soft and silky. The vasoline should be rubbed on the scalp, getting as little on the hair as possible.

In washing the hair use water quite warm, with a good, pure soap to make a lather. Tar or castile soap is the best. If the hair is oily, a very little ammonia or soda can be used. Wash carefully, rubbing the scalp well, then rinse in two waters. Roll the hair up in a towel for a few minutes to absorb the water, then let down and rub gently—in the sunshine always, if possible, otherwise near a stove or radiator—till dry. When dry, comb out the snarls, a strand at a time, and brush until glossy.

Soda and borax used in the water keep the hair light and fluffy, but also make it brittle; hence they should only be used where there is a preponderance of oil. While vasoline often prevents hair from falling out, it also makes it darker; so the caution to rub it on the scalp and avoid getting it on the hair is especially important to fair haired women.

RUB GENTLY IN THE SUNSHINE.

There are many methods of perfuming the hair, which is much a fad nowadays. The scent can be put in the rinse water or on the hair just before it is dry or a perfumed cap can be worn at night. It is best, however, not to confine the hair at night. Braid it loosely or have it flowing if it does not snarl easily.

Do not use hot irons on the hair if you wish to keep it silky and long. Tight crimping pins are also injurious. If it must be curled, do it up loosely in kids or soft paper. A soft curl is much prettier than crimps.

Do not tie the hair up tight on the head. It not only loosens the roots and is a prolific source of baldness, but it makes impossible that soft, loose, pretty effect which is essential in modern, fashionable hairdressing.

Well kept hair in a healthy condition should be soft and pliable, with a rich silky luster that is the most exquisite frame for any face, old or young.

The handsomest and best local newspaper in Columbiana county is the East Liverpool News Review.

SANITARY REDUCTION CO.

Disposes of all Refuse

Bell Phone 373.

Wall Paper.

July and August are the dull months in Wall Papers, but we have determined this year to make them lively at our "Wall Paper Store," by offering special inducements to the buyer.

We now offer
25,000 Bolts at from 3c to 10c
25,000 " " 10c to 15c
10,000 " " 15c to 50c

All reduced from 10 per cent. to 30 per cent, according to style and quality. Come and see for yourself.

Window Blinds.

All grades, all shades at 10c, 25c, 35c, 50c and 60c. Come and see these blinds.

KINSEY'S

Wall Paper Store.

A man with a good solid bank account is always regarded with respect and confidence. No successful business can afford to be without one. We have taken every precaution for the safety of the funds entrusted to us; we are also insured against robbery, and our employees are heavily bonded, thus insuring our depositors absolute security. All transactions with this bank will be held strictly confidential.

Citizens' National Bank
East Liverpool, Ohio.

Do You Eat This Warm Weather?

If so, get your

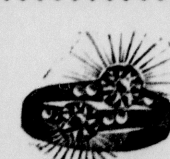

Fresh Meats

at

W. H. NAGEL'S,

255 W. Market Street. Everything fresh and the best. Telephone 592.

Try It On

AND if it don't fit we have other Rings that will—Our prices on first class goods makes the sale for us—Diamonds, Watches, Silverware, Clocks, anything in the jewelry line—All goods guaranteed as represented. Watch Repairing and Engraving a Specialty.

A. G. HOFMAN,

208 Market St.

Ten Years' Trial

The Story of a Soldier's Struggle

By Brigadier General
Charles King

Copyright, 1901, by Charles King

CHAPTER XII.—Continued.

It was useless now for The Sun to hurl denunciation at the governor or at the rifles. The law was supreme. Only the governor could make Langdon an officer, but even the governor could not make him a sergeant. The law gave the appointment of sergeants and corporals to the commanding officer of the company alone, and while Governor X. would not oppose the wishes of so many citizens and voters by granting Langdon a commission neither would he interpose against the wishes of scores of others by demanding, as urged by The Sun and the strikers, the resignation of the insolent officer who had dared to thwart the wishes of a community. The Banner rejoiced and applauded. The Examiner was silent. The Seattle might need that company any moment, and every man with mob law in view and every citizen pledged to law and order knew instantly what it meant that the rifles had failed to fill the vacancies. The lieutenant commanding would figure as head of the company, but its instruction, its discipline, the work of preparation and finally its command in the event of a fight would all devolve upon its grumpy first sergeant, Eric Langdon.

They were borne in triumph about the room.

Two evenings later Cresswell, with anxious eyes, looked up at the window of the second story room over his offices on Thayer street, the main thoroughfare of Brentwood. It was after 10, but all was darkness there, and Langdon's invariable rule was to return at once from drill and go early to bed, for, winter or summer, he was an early riser. The clerk and assistant who formerly occupied those humble quarters had married, moved west to the hills and thrown out his own shingle, and Langdon thankfully had moved in. The street was still alive with people, but the lights in the rifles' armory, two blocks away, had been extinguished before the stroke of 10 at the city hall. In his hand Cresswell held a crumpled half sheet of note paper that had reached him through the mail. It contained only the words: "Your man laughs at warning and defiance. If he hasn't left this town by midnight, he'll never get a chance again."

By midnight, and it was now after 10! Only that morning in reminding Langdon that the chief of police had not only issued permission, but advised him, to go armed Cresswell had asked him if more warnings had reached him, and the new first sergeant took from his breast pocket a little note. It was a woman's hand that penned this note. "For God's sake don't disregard this. You do not know what minute may be your last if you insist on staying here. These men are desperate." Cresswell had read it with compressed lips and advised its being given at once to the police. Far and wide the edict of the employees had gone forth. If assurance that the old wages would be restored from and after Nov. 1 failed to reach them by noon Oct. 28 every man would quit work, and no man would be allowed to attempt it. More than once Cresswell had noticed strange, unprepossessing faces among the loiterers along the block. More than once men had called on one pretext or other at the office and were furtively interested in the survey of the premises, but the police well knew the barroom blackguards who had threatened vengeance on Langdon for his interference in behalf of the soldier they were beating to a jelly, and in person at least they dare not act. "It isn't among the slums alone you have enemies, Langdon," said Cresswell. "The bitterest foes a man has to guard against are those who have done him injury, and the men I'm after are those who put up that safe robbery and gained your discharge. Oh, for an hour of Channing!"

But that was vain. Channing, he who commanded the respect and confidence of the yards and shops of the Big Horn, was sauntering discontentedly in the Riviera, doing as his doctors bade, utterly homesick, utterly unable to appreciate or understand what he saw and only wishing himself back in the cab of a Baldwin, whirling "the limited" over the prairie 60 miles an hour. Channing knew every mother's son in the Brentwood yards by name. The new incumbent knew not one of them. Channing argued, Burleigh bullied, and clash was inevitable. The management of both roads had announced in unequivocal terms that they would not yield to the demands of the men. The mayor of Brentwood was sorely frightened. The governor had been requested to order troops to the scene and overawe the would be strikers and very properly refused. For it is our good American policy in dealing with enemies or insurgents, white, red or brown, mobs, Indians or Tagalogs, never to show fight until practically forced into it. The railway companies in anticipation of the strike had gathered some hundreds of workmen across the Missouri ready to be rushed by special train to Brentwood, but neither the police, posses nor militia had been mobilized.

Pondering anxiously over the situation, Cresswell was walking slowly homeward up Thayer street. He had been talking with the mayor and certain city fathers at the Brentwood and now wished to see Langdon, but Langdon evidently wasn't home, and the town clock had struck the quarter. The office door was closed and doubtless locked, and Cresswell's keys were in his workaday pockets at the house. Confident of meeting Langdon, he strolled on toward the armory and became suddenly aware of the division superintendent of the Big Horn talking with two of the boys. Cresswell didn't like that official, but for reasons of his own preferred to make much of him. He stopped and held out his hand.

"Oh, good evening, Mr.—er—ah—Colonel Cresswell," stammered the railway man in some confusion. "I didn't see you. I'm glad to see you. Can you tell me where I can find Mr. Langdon? I've knocked and hammered at the office, and these gentlemen say that he went straight home half an hour ago."

"It is true," said one of the young soldiers. "I saw him go in there just before 10 o'clock."

"Odd!" said Cresswell. "Suppose we walk over, Mr. Superintendent."

They did, and they knocked and hammered for two minutes without response, and then Cresswell bethought him of the rear door.

"You wish to see him personally?" queried he of the official, with doubt in his tone.

"Yes. The road sent me an important message. I may as well tell you—confidentially, of course. They want him to go to that meeting that's in full blast at this minute. They think the men will listen to him."

"I see," said Cresswell, with sarcastic emphasis. "Having kicked him out into the cold for another man's crime, they want him to help them out of another scrape. You must feel gratified at being the bearer of such a message. However, come on. We'll try the back."

They knocked and hammered for two minutes without response.

by way of that alley, which accounted for the worn path to the open cellarway, but not for the footprints in the snow on the steps leading up to the back door. Cresswell tried the knob, and the door was fast. But who left the cellar steps uncovered? "Have you a gun?" he asked, and the superintendent faltered, "Yes."

Gripping his own revolver, a faithful friend of Kentucky days, Cresswell cautiously descended the steps and felt his way through the dampness and dark. He had no match, and lighting would only reveal him to prowlers if there were any. He knew the premises thoroughly and quickly reached the lower hall and the stairway to the ground floor above him. It was dark as Erebus, and he, breathing heavily, felt his way up the creaking flight until within reach of the top. Then something fell with stunning force and danced before his eyes, and he went crashing back the way he came, bounding, rolling and sliding till he brought up senseless and bleeding at the foot of the stairs.

CHAPTER XIII.

Noon of Oct. 28 struck on the day

toned bell of the city hall, Brentwood's pride, and sharp at the sound every hand in the railway shops, sheds and yards followed suit and went out. So did the fires in the furnaces in the course of the night, for no man succeeded in getting in to replenish them. So did not the trains, freight or passenger, on either Big Horn or Seattle, for the rails were a tatter of soap, the boilers a reek of foam. The casualty list in the motive power showed 23 engines "killed," and the only wheels to revolve east or west were those trundling the United States mail, the operatives, with calm sagacity, offering no objection to the running of postal cars, yet firmly opposing everything else. Following the traditions of the Big Horn, the new general manager appeared promptly on the scene, while he of the Seattle sniffed the battle from afar and staid there. Mr. Burleigh came to threaten and command, was promptly hoisted aboard a baggage car and bidden to address the meeting from the rear platform, which he essayed to do, the car speedily gliding away with him to the accompaniment of much derision and many decided catcalls, not to mention a few defunct quadrupeds and doubtful eggs. Mr. Burleigh was given a sample of the running qualities of the fast mail down the winding gorge of the Red Water and spent the night in blasphemy and bitterness of spirit at Gunnison. Not even a farmer's buckboard could he find to take him back. He wired for the trainloads of substitutes across the Big Muddy, and they were ditched ten miles from any town and had to build bonfires out of the wreck until that was used up and then kept warm with a few miles of snow fence that unaccountably went up in flames. The Seattle sent 60 Pinkertons on a special and thereby precipitated a sympathetic strike across the Missouri and the special into the shallows near the eastern shore well up to the Pinkertons' middle. When finally rescued, these amateurs were roosting on car roofs, cold, wet and bedraggled, an object of charity to the countryside. Then came the order for troops, long withheld, and before it was issued the Brentwood rifles knew there would be no first sergeant to call the roll. Somewhere about midnight of the 27th, dazed and bleeding, Colonel Cresswell had staggered into the street in front of his office, feebly calling for help. The police found a pool of blood at the foot of the cellar stairs and splashes all along from near the top, but not a sign of struggle elsewhere and not a trace of Eric Langdon. Along toward morning Cresswell managed to tell his story, and then the police went and routed out the division superintendent, who told a queer tale. When the doctors heard it, they looked oddly at each other and agreed that it were best that Cresswell shouldn't hear it until he was stronger. It might unduly excite him now. Cresswell said he left the superintendent, Mr. Betts, on guard at the cellar stairway in the back yard, revolver in hand, and that he should have seen his (Cresswell's) assailants when they made their escape at the rear, the only way they could have gone. The superintendent said he had met Mr. Cresswell casually on the street, inquired for Mr. Langdon and went with Cresswell to the office to find him. They knocked until they believed that Langdon couldn't be there, and he (the superintendent) desired to search elsewhere, but Cresswell was somewhat persistent that Betts should wait while he went round and tried the back way. Betts went just to oblige the colonel; "didn't like to offend him." The fact was he noticed that the colonel had been drinking a little, and at such times, as was well known, the Kentuckian was apt to be a bit diletorial and to take offense rather easily. Betts said he knew the colonel had been at the bar of the Brentwood that evening, and after waiting a few minutes just to assure himself the colonel was safely within he hurried away about his own business. Had he heard no sound of fall or struggle? was asked. Not a sound of that kind. He had heard some one moving about in the hall and thought, of course, it was the colonel. In fact, sotto voce, he added he thought so still and that under the circumstances the colonel might later have missed his footing and fallen headlong. It could not be conceived possible that Mr. Langdon would brutally assault his friend and benefactor.

Now, Cresswell had taken three or four nips of his favorite beverage that evening, but Boniface swore he was perfectly himself when he left the Brentwood. That might be, said the shrewd and somewhat envious lawyer employed by the Big Horn as counsel, and yet might he be "under alien influences." One of two theories, said the railroad lawyer, could be derived from the facts, and only two. Mr. Cresswell had fallen down stairs under the influence of one of two forces, Bourbon or a blow. If a blow, who gave it but Eric Langdon? No one else was known to have entered those doors that night. In all the tense, pent up excitement attending the inevitable strike this incident was discussed with bated breath. Men who knew Cresswell and saw him that night knew he was not so far gone in liquor as to fall down stairs and therefore believed the story of assault. Men who knew Langdon swore he was incapable of assaulting Cresswell. What could possibly be his motive? The safe stood securely locked. Desk and drawers were intact. There were no reasons why Langdon should go except the threats, which he held in contempt, and every reason why he should stay. The railway lawyer hinted at renewal of proceedings by Perigo's bank to recover certain sums with interest. The bank, however, being questioned, reluctantly testified that that incident was closed, satisfactory settlement having been made, and so it had in Langdon's behalf by the big hearted Kentuckian and his friend the mayor. No; nothing but threats against Langdon's life could be heard of as a cause of Langdon's disappearance, nothing whatever until the second day of the strike, when two people appeared who said that if guaranteed protection they would tell something. The something proved to be that an open two horse wagon drove into the alley just before 10 o'clock and drove out again about 10:40, when it had two more men in it who were bending over something in the bottom. These two jumped out when it reached the street. They went one way, the wagon the other. Then uprose the solid men of Brentwood save the few whose souls were mortgaged to the Seattle or whose notes were falling due at Perigo's, and at a meeting held just after dark the first check was given to the widespread sympathy felt for the strikers throughout the community. Up to this moment they had practically carried all before them. Property had been carefully guarded by the details from their own number. People had been treated with civility even if denied means of transportation. They were determined, they said, to do nothing to forfeit the good will of friends and fellow citizens. Their grievance was Brentwood's and their oppressors the rival railways. Violence of any kind, said the strike leaders, would be tolerated only as a last resort. Yet here was evidence that even before beginning the strike assault, abduction, possibly murder, could be laid at the strikers' doors. Cresswell still lay in grievous plight, and Eric Langdon could not be found. Then evidence began to accumulate. A two horse farm wagon, such as described, was seen by other citizens driving westward toward the open prairie. A farmer came in and said that such a wagon stopped at the ford close to his place about midnight. His wife woke him, saying there was something wrong down at the barn—the horses were stamping and snorting. He hurried thither and found everything secure, but could have sworn he saw a light dancing away from the barn in the direction of the ford as he issued from the house. Curiosity therefore led him to investigate, and surely enough he heard voices. Two men were talking in low tones. One of their horses had picked up a stone, and, so tightly was it wedged, they couldn't get it out. He gathered that one of them had been to the barn in hopes of finding a pick. The farmer was on the point of hailing them when the whistle of the night freight sounded away down the valley toward Brentwood, and he heard one of them say, "My God, there's No. 8 now, and we can't flag her this side of the bridge!" then, apparently speaking to some one within the wagon, continued: "Now, he still if you value your life! Jump in, Jim, quick!" And with that the horses were lashed to a run, and they clattered away up the pike in the darkness. About ten minutes later he heard the freight rumbling along up the valley, and after it had almost got beyond hearing distance to the west there came the short, quick single whistle, the signal for brakes. That must have been somewhere about the long bridge at the big bend. That was something unusual, and coupled with what he heard the men say, it excited his suspicion. Then when his copy of The Banner told him about Langdon's disappearance he felt sure what it all meant and therefore came in to Brentwood to tell his tale. And it was this that brought confusion to Betts and the Brentwood strikers, for it was now evident that Langdon had been spirited away.

That foul means and force had been resorted to no one who knew Langdon could doubt. That railway men were the perpetrators the words overheard by Farmer Hawley gave presumptive evidence and that the abducted man was sorely needed developed in the course of that very night.

Observant of his counsel, the rifles at the first intimation of another strike had kept a guard at the armory, and this guard was increased to a lieutenant and 20 men at noon on the 28th. Moreover, it was made up of men who would fight, and the scouts of the strikers sent to reconnoiter and report on the feasibility of again seizing the arms and equipments returned and "reported adversely." Two days later, determined to wipe out the stain of their military misadventure the previous year, fully 60 members promptly assembled at the call and awaited orders at the armory, and still, barring the banishment of Mr. Burleigh in one direction and the presumable taking off of Langdon in the other, no deed of damage or violence had been charged to the strike. The sheriff had eagerly accepted the theory that Langdon himself was Cresswell's assailant and had fled to escape consequences. This "made him solid" with the strikers and warranted a certain inaction. But now the business men had taken matters in hand. The Banner "ripped him up the back," as his friends expressed it, and the governor himself was on his way to Brentwood, coming up from the capital by a cross country spur of the Union Pacific, and matters were nearing a climax. The Grays were at the station at Gunnison waiting for the troop train, with Major McConville and four companies, feeling its cautious way over culver and trestle from the Missouri. If the strikers refused to disperse at the beck of the governor, would they flinch from the prick of the bayonet? That was the absorbing question. The mayor said yes. The men thundered no, and Brentwood held its breath and waited. Meantime the orders for the rifles were to sleep on their arms at their quarters. It was the policy of wisdom.

And now, "If no new complications arise," said the mayor, "we can hope for a quiet night, but it's the calm before the storm. I wonder if that train's in with the re-enforcements from up the road?"

"I'll telephone and ask," said Boniface, leading the way to the rotunda.

It was niled with men, talking in low, cautious tones, glancing nervously about from group to group. Many were strike sympathizers, several were law and order men, most were desirous of being considered neutral. The strong men of the antistrike party, irrespective of politics, had attended the meeting and come out in the wake of Boniface and the mayor. A little squad of reporters bore down on them at once, but Boniface begged them to wait and escorted the mayor behind the desk and rang up the superintendent of the Big Horn. A quivering voice answered that the superintendent wasn't there. "Is that train in with those people from Rosebud and the other stations?" asked Boniface, and people began edging up to the desk to listen. "What? I don't hear you," said Boniface again. "Isn't in! Why, they said they were due before dark. Where were they when you last heard? What? You haven't heard? Lines cut? Had to wait for women! What women? I don't understand."

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

CROWN POINTS.

Queen Margherita is about to found an asylum in Rome for the children of murdered parents.

The Kaiser's favorite musician is Mendelssohn, whom he admires also as a man. Whenever he has the making of a musical programme, something of Mendelssohn's is always included.

Queen Alexandra, who is very fond of animals and takes an interest in everything that pertains to their welfare, has consented to become the patroness of the Home For Lost and Starving Cats.

The health of the Empress Frederick is becoming sensibly worse, and in a penciled letter she addressed to an English lady recently she wrote, "I have taken my last drive, except the concluding one of all."

The Duchess of Cornwall is blessed with a liberal assortment of Christian names, eight in all, and should she eventually share the British throne she can select from the succeeding half dozen names: Augustine, Louise, Olga, Pauline, Claudine, Agnes.

PERT PERSONALS.

Mr. Rockefeller now controls salt and oil. With a vinegar and a lettuce tree he could get back to his salad days.—Detroit Journal.

Mr. Schwab asserts that he objected to being paid $1,000,000 a year. Mr. Schwab is reaching his funny stage.—Baltimore American.

If the widows of the country continue to make googoo eyes in the direction of Mr. Depew, his only recourse will be to wear blinders.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Emperor William resents complimentary reference to Bismarck because it suggests that the Hohenzollerns did not create the German empire unaided.—Detroit Tribune.

Sarah Bernhardt says the idea of her playing Romeo to Maude Adams' Juliet was a joke. Only half a joke. It is admitted that Maude Adams can play Juliet.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

DECISIONS IN LAW.

The West Virginia supreme court of appeals decides that neither a professor in a state university nor a teacher in the public schools is a public officer. Each is an employee.

The supreme court of Missouri has held to be excused in law a wife who, acting in obedience to the will and direction of her husband, procured a revolver which the man was to use in effecting his escape from jail.

According to a court decision in Illinois, a physician has the right to determine in the first instance how often he ought to visit a patient and to his compensation for visits if the party accepts his services without telling him to come less frequently.

A Positive
Woman.

A woman has a right to be positive on matters which are matters of personal knowledge and experience. Every woman who has used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for diseases of the womanly organs is positive as to its wonderful curative value, and confidently recommends it to similar sufferers.

Women who suffer from inflammation, ulceration, female weakness, or nervous diseases caused by disease of the womanly organs will find a complete cure by the use of "Favorite Prescription."

"Several years ago I suffered severely from female weakness, prolapsus, and menorrhagia, and used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription with splendid effect," writes Fannie Shelton, of Washington, Iowa. "I have not needed it for a few years past, but if I should have any return of the old trouble would surely try 'Favorite Prescription.' I have recommended it to a number of my lady friends. I always tell them to try a bottle, and if they are not benefited by it I will pay for the medicine. In every case they have spoken in praise of it."

FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION
MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG AND SICK WOMEN WELL.

Sold in East Liverpool by Charles I. Larkin.

Quick Dessert

JELLYCON

No Cooking
No Baking

Only necessary to dissolve in hot water and set away to harden. Lemon, Orange, Peach, Raspberry, Strawberry, Wild Cherry.

BEST FOR THE BOWELS

If you haven't a regular, healthy movement of the bowels every day, you're ill or will be. Keep your bowels open and the well. Force, in the shape of violent purges or cathartics, is dangerous. The smooth, easy, most perfect way of keeping the bowels clear and clean is to take

EAT 'EM LIKE CANDY
Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good, Do Good, Never Sickens, Weakens, or Gripes. 10, 25, and 50 cent boxes. Write for free sample, and booklet on health. Address: STERLING REMEDY COMPANY, CHICAGO or NEW YORK.

KEEP YOUR BLOOD CLEAN

To Close an Estate

WE have on sale those large level lots of the George C. Morton Estate which front on Avondale street. Thus you may have a building lot which requires no filling or grading, and with street paving and other improvements. Everything to your hand to begin the building of your home.

The prices and terms on these lots are very reasonable indeed.

Geo. H. Owen & Co.,

Insurance and Real Estate.

Room 5, First National Bank Building. Both Phones 49.

NEW RESTAURANT!

All new Furniture. Centrally Located and everything up-to-date.

Single Meals, 25c
Board by the Week, $3.50

E. FRANK,

4th and Washington Sts.

MAKE KNOWN YOUR WANTS

INFORM the public of what you have For Sale, For Rent or For Exchange; what you have Lost or Found. The Cheapest and Best Way is to place a small ad. in the Favorite Home Newspaper.

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW

Real Estate Offices, Drug Stores and News Stands throughout the city will supply you with cards on which to write your ad. Pay 25c for a card, write it and mail it, and

YOU WILL GET WHAT YOU WANT

THOS. F. STARKEY Plumbing Co.,

131 Sheridan Ave.,

Opened for business on MONDAY, April 15. Estimate furnished on all kinds of Plumbing Work, Gas or Steam Fittings. Satisfaction and reasonable prices guaranteed. Public Patronage Solicited.

W. H. KINSEY,
Manager.

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

WITH USE OF BATH.

THE ANDERSON HOUSE

Cor. Walnut and Robinson Sts.

Ten Years' Trial

The Story of a Soldier's Struggle

By Brigadier General
Charles King

Copyright, 1901, by Charles King

CHAPTER XII.—Continued.

It was useless now for The Sun to hurl denunciations at the governor or at the rifles. The law was supreme. On ly the governor could make Langdon an officer, but even the governor could not make him a sergeant. The law gave the appointment of sergeants and corporals to the commanding officer of the company alone, and while Governor X would not oppose the wishes of so many citizens and voters by granting Langdon a commission neither would he interpose against the wishes of scores of others by demanding, as urged by The Sun and the strikers, the resignation of the insolent officer who had dared to thwart the wishes of a community. The Banner rejoiced and applauded. The Examiner was silent. The Seattle might need that company any moment, and every man with mob law in view and every citizen pledged to law and order knew instantly what it meant that the rifles had failed to fill the vacancies. The lieutenant commanding would figure as head of the company, but its instruction, its discipline, the work of preparation and finally its command in the event of a fight would all devolve upon its gruff first sergeant, Eric Langdon.

They were borne in triumph about the room.

Two evenings later Cresswell, with anxious eyes, looked up at the window of the second story room over his offices on Thayer street, the main thoroughfare of Brentwood. It was after 10, but all was darkness there, and Langdon's invariable rule was to return at once from drill and go early to bed, for, winter or summer, he was an early riser. The clerk and assistant who formerly occupied those humble quarters had married, moved west to the hills and thrown out his own shingle, and Langdon thankfully had moved in. The street was still alive with people, but the lights in the rifles' armory, two blocks away, had been extinguished before the stroke of 10 at the city hall. In his hand Cresswell held a crumpled half sheet of note paper that had reached him through the mail. It contained only the words: "Your man laughs at warning and defiance the people. If he hasn't left this town by midnight, he'll never get a chance again."

By midnight, and it was now after 10! Only that morning in reminding Langdon that the chief of police had not only issued permission, but advised him, to go armed Cresswell had asked him if more warnings had reached him, and the new first sergeant took from his breast pocket a little note. It was a woman's hand that penned this note. "For God's sake don't disregard this. You do not know what minute may be your last if you insist on staying here. These men are desperate." Cresswell had read it with compressed lips and advised its being given at once to the police. Far and wide the edict of the employees had gone forth. If insurance that the old wages would be restored from and after Nov. 1 failed to reach them by noon Oct. 28 every man would quit work, and no man would be allowed to attempt it. More than once Cresswell had noticed strange, unpossessing faces among the loiterers along the block. More than once men had called on one pretext or other at the office and were furtively interested in the survey of the premises, but the police well knew the barroom blackguards who had threatened vengeance on Langdon for his interference in behalf of the soldier they were beating to a jelly, and in person at least they dare not act. "It isn't among the slums alone you have enemies, Langdon," said Cresswell. "The bitterest foes a man has to guard against are those who have done him injury, and the men I'm after are those who put up that safe robbery and gained your discharge. Oh, for an hour of Channing!"

But that was vain. Channing, he who commanded the respect and confidence of the yards and shops of the Big Horn, was sauntering discontentedly in the Riviera, doing as his doctors bade, utterly homesick, utterly unable to appreciate or understand what he saw and only wishing himself back in the cab of a Baldwin, whirling "the limited" over the prairie 60 miles an hour. Channing knew every mother's son in the Brentwood yards by name. The new incumbent knew not one of them. Channing argued, Burleigh bullied, and clash was inevitable. The management of both roads had announced in unequivocal terms that they would not yield to the demands of the men. The mayor of Brentwood was sorely frightened. The governor had been requested to order troops to the scene and overawe the would be strikers and very properly refused. For it is our good American policy in dealing with enemies or insurgents, white, red or brown, mobs, Indians or Tagalogs, never to show fight until practically forced into it. The railway companies in anticipation of the strike had gathered some hundreds of workmen across the Missouri ready to be rushed by special train to Brentwood, but neither the police, possess nor militia had been mobilized.

Pondering anxiously over the situation, Cresswell was walking slowly homeward up Thayer street. He had been talking with the mayor and certain city fathers at the Brentwood and now wished to see Langdon, but Langdon evidently wasn't home, and the town clock had struck the quarter. The office door was closed and doubtless locked, and Cresswell's keys were in his workaday pockets at the house. Confident of meeting Langdon, he trotted on toward the armory and became suddenly aware of the division superintendent of the Big Horn talking with two of the boys. Cresswell didn't like that official, but for reasons of his own preferred to make much of him. He stopped and held out his hand.

"Oh, good evening, Mr.—er—ah—Colonel Cresswell," stammered the railway man in some confusion. "I didn't see you. I'm glad to see you. Can you tell me where I can find Mr. Langdon? I've knocked and hammered at the office, and these gentlemen say that he went straight home half an hour ago."

"It is true," said one of the young soldiers. "I saw him go in there just before 10 o'clock."

"Odd!" said Cresswell. "Suppose we walk over, Mr. Superintendent."

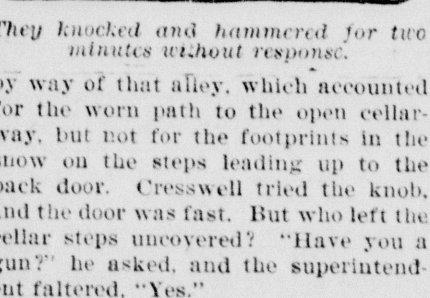

They did, and they knocked and hammered for two minutes without response, and then Cresswell bethought him of the rear door.

"You wish to see him personally?" queried he of the official, with doubt in his tone.

"Yes. The road sent me an important message. I may as well tell you—confidentially, of course. They want him to go to that meeting that's in full blast at this minute. They think the men will listen to him."

"I see," said Cresswell, with sarcastic emphasis. "Having kicked him out into the cold for another man's crime, they want him to help them out of another scrape. You must feel gratified at being the bearer of such a message. However, come on. We'll try the back."

An alley parallel with Thayer street divided the block, and Cresswell's office buildings covered about half the lot. Wood, coal and ice were delivered by way of that alley, which accounted for the worn path to the open cellarway, but not for the footprints in the snow on the steps leading up to the back door. Cresswell tried the knob, and the door was fast. But who left the cellar steps uncovered? "Have you a gun?" he asked, and the superintendent faltered. "Yes."

They knocked and hammered for two minutes without response.

Gripping his own revolver, a faithful friend of Kentucky days, Cresswell cautiously descended the steps and felt his way through the dampness and dark. He had no match, and lighting would only reveal him to prowlers if there were any. He knew the premises thoroughly and quickly reached the lower hall and the stairway to the ground floor above him. It was dark as Erebus, and he, breathing heavily, felt his way up the creaking flight until within reach of the top. Then something fell with stunning force and dazed before his eyes, and he went crashing back the way he came, bounding, rolling and sliding till he brought up senseless and bleeding at the foot of the stairs.

CHAPTER XIII.

Noon of Oct. 28 struck on the deep

toned bell of the city hall, Brentwood's pride, and sharp at the sound every hand in the railway shops, sheds and yards followed suit and went out. So did the fires in the furnaces in the course of the night, for no man succeeded in getting in to replenish them. So did not the trains, freight or passenger, on either Big Horn or Seattle, for the rails were a lather of soap, the boilers a reek of foam. The casualty list in the motive power showed 23 engines "killed," and the only wheels to revolve east or west were those trundling the United States mail, the operatives, with calm sagacity, offering no objection to the running of postal cars, yet firmly opposing everything else. Following the traditions of the Big Horn, the new general manager appeared promptly on the scene, while he of the Seattle sniffed the battle from afar and staid there. Mr. Burleigh came to threaten and command, was promptly hoisted aboard a baggage car and bidden to address the meeting from the rear platform, which he essayed to do, the car speedily gliding away with him to the accompaniment of much derision and many decided catcalls, not to mention a few defunct quadrupeds and doubtful eggs. Mr. Burleigh was given a sample of the running qualities of the fast mail down the winding gorge of the Red Water and spent the night in blasphemy and bitterness of spirit at Gunnison. Not even a farmer's backboard could he find to take him back. He wired for the trainloads of substitutes across the Big Muddy, and they were ditched ten miles from any town and had to build bonfires out of the wreck until that was used up and then kept warm with a few miles of snow fence that unaccountably went up in flames. The Seattle sent 60 Pinkertons on a special and thereby precipitated a sympathetic strike across the Missouri and the special into the shallows near the eastern shore well up to the Pinkertons' middle. When finally rescued, these amateurs were roasting on car roofs, cold, wet and bedraggled, an object of charity to the countryside. Then came the order for troops, long withheld, and before it was issued the Brentwood rifles knew there would be no first sergeant to call the roll. Somewhere about midnight of the 27th, dazed and bleeding, Colonel Cresswell had staggered into the street in front of his office, feebly calling for help. The police found a pool of blood at the foot of the cellar stairs and splashes all along from near the top, but not a sign of struggle elsewhere and not a trace of Eric Langdon. Along toward morning Cresswell managed to tell his story, and then the police went and routed out the division superintendent, who told a queer tale. When the doctors heard it, they looked oddly at each other and agreed that it was best that Cresswell shouldn't hear it until he was stronger. It might unduly excite him now. Cresswell said he left the superintendent, Mr. Betts, on guard at the cellar stairway in the back yard, revolver in hand, and that he should have seen his (Cresswell's) assailants when they made their escape at the rear, the only way they could have gone. The superintendent said he had met Mr. Cresswell casually on the street, inquired for Mr. Langdon and went with Cresswell to the office to find him. They knocked until they believed that Langdon couldn't be there, and he (the superintendent) desired to search elsewhere, but Cresswell was somewhat persistent that Betts should wait while he went round and tried the back way. Betts went just to oblige the colonel; "didn't like to offend him." The fact was he noticed that the colonel had been drinking a little, and at such times, as was well known, the Kentuckian was apt to be a bit dictatorial and to take offense rather easily. Betts said he knew the colonel had been at the bar of the Brentwood that evening, and after waiting a few minutes just to assure himself the colonel was safely within he hurried away about his own business. Had he heard no sound of fall or struggle? was asked. Not a sound of that kind. He had heard some one moving about in the hall and thought, of course, it was the colonel. In fact, sotto voce, he added he thought so still and that under the circumstances the colonel might later have missed his footing and fallen headlong. It could not be conceived possible that Mr. Langdon would brutally assault his friend and benefactor.

Now, Cresswell had taken three or four nips of his favorite beverage that evening, but Boniface swore he was perfectly himself when he left the Brentwood. That might be, said the shrewd and somewhat envious lawyer employed by the Big Horn as counsel, and yet might he be "under alien influences." One of two theories, said the railroad lawyer, could be derived from the facts, and only two. Mr. Cresswell had fallen down stairs under the influence of one of two forces, Bourbon or a blow. If a blow, who gave it but Eric Langdon? No one else was known to have entered those doors that night. In all the tense, pent up excitement attending the inevitable strike this incident was discussed with bated breath. Men who knew Cresswell and saw him that night knew he was not far gone in liquor as to fall down stairs and therefore believed the story of assault. Men who knew Langdon swore he was incapable of assaulting Cresswell. What could possibly be his motive? The safe stood securely locked. Desk and drawers were intact. There were no reasons why Langdon should go except the threats, which he held in contempt, and every reason why he should stay. The railway lawyer hinted at renewal of proceedings by Perrigo's bank to recover certain sums with interest. The bank, however, being questioned, reluctantly testified that that incident was closed, satisfactory settlement having been made, and so it had in Langdon's behalf by the big hearted Kentuckian and his friend the mayor. No; nothing but threats against Langdon's life could be heard of as a cause of Langdon's disappearance, nothing whatever until the second day of the strike, when two people appeared who said that if guaranteed protection they would tell something. The something proved to be that an open two horse wagon drove into the alley just before 10 o'clock and drove out again about 10:40, when it had two more men in it who were bending over something in the bottom. These two jumped out when it reached the street. They went one way, the wagon the other. Then arose the solid men of Brentwood save the few whose souls were mortgaged to the Seattle or whose notes were falling due at Perrigo's, and at a meeting held just after dark the first check was given to the widespread sympathy felt for the strikers throughout the community. Up to this moment they had practically carried all before them. Property had been carefully guarded by the details from their own number. People had been treated with civility even if denied means of transportation. They were determined, they said, to do nothing to forfeit the good will of friends and fellow citizens. Their grievance was Brentwood's and their oppressors the rival railways. Violence of any kind, said the strike leaders, would be tolerated only as a last resort. Yet here was evidence that even before beginning the strike assault, abduction, possibly murder, could be laid at the strikers' doors. Cresswell still lay in grievous plight, and Eric Langdon could not be found. Then evidence began to accumulate. A two horse farm wagon, such as described, was seen by other citizens driving westward toward the open prairie. A farmer came in and said that such a wagon stopped at the ford close to his place about midnight. His wife woke him, saying there was something wrong down at the barn—the horses were stamping and snorting. He hurried thither and found everything secure, but could have sworn he saw a light dancing away from the barn in the direction of the ford as he issued from the house. Curiosity therefore led him to investigate, and surely enough he heard voices. Two men were talking in low tones. One of their horses had picked up a stone, and, so tightly was it wedged, they couldn't get it out. He gathered that one of them had been to the barn in hopes of finding a pick. The farmer was on the point of hailing them when the whistle of the night freight sounded away down the valley toward Brentwood, and he heard one of them say, "My God, there's No. 8 now, and we can't flag her this side of the bridge!" then, apparently speaking to some one within the wagon, continued: "Now, he still if you value your life! Jump in, Jim, quick!" And with that the horses were lashed to a run, and they clattered away up the pike in the darkness. About ten minutes later he heard the freight rumbling along up the valley, and after it had almost got beyond hearing distance to the west there came the short, quick single whistle, the signal for brakes. That must have been somewhere about the long bridge at the big bend. That was something unusual, and coupled with what he heard the men say, it excited his suspicion. Then when his copy of The Banner told him about Langdon's disappearance he felt sure what it all meant and therefore came in to Brentwood to tell his tale. And it was this that brought confusion to Betts and the Brentwood strikers, for it was now evident that Langdon had been spirited away.

That foul means and force had been resorted to no one who knew Langdon could doubt. That railway men were the perpetrators the words overheard by Farmer Hawley gave presumptive evidence and that the abducted man was sorely needed developed in the course of that very night. Observant of his counsel, the rifles at the first intimation of another strike had kept a guard at the armory, and this guard was increased to a lieutenant and 20 men at noon on the 28th. Moreover, it was made up of men who would fight, and the scouts of the strikers sent to reconnoiter and report on the feasibility of again seizing the arms and equipments returned and "reported adversely." Two days later, determined to wipe out the stain of their military misadventure the previous year, fully 60 members promptly assembled at the call and awaited orders at the armory, and still, barring the banishment of Mr. Burleigh in one direction and the presumable taking off of Langdon in the other, no deed of damage or violence had been charged to the strike. The sheriff had eagerly accepted the theory that Langdon himself was Cresswell's assailant and had fled to escape consequences. This "made him solid" with the strikers and warranted a certain inaction. But now the business men had taken matters in hand. The Banner "ripped him up the back," as his friends expressed it, and the governor himself was on his way to Brentwood, coming up from the capital by a cross country spur of the Union Pacific, and matters were nearing a climax. The Grays were at the station at Gunnison waiting for the troop train, with Major McConville and four companies, feeling its cautious way over culver and trestle from the Missouri. If the strikers refused to disperse at the beck of the governor, would they flinch from the prick of the bayonet? That was the absorbing question. The mayor said yes. The men thundered no, and Brentwood held its breath and waited. Meantime the orders for the rifles were to sleep on their arms at their quarters. It was the policy of wisdom.

And now, "if no new complications arise," said the mayor, "we can hope for a quiet night, but it's the calm before the storm. I wonder if that train in with the re-enforcements from up the road?" "I'll telephone and ask," said Boniface, lending the way to the rotunda.

It was niled with men, talking in low, cautious tones, glancing nervously about from group to group. Many were strike sympathizers, several were law and order men, most were desirous of being considered neutral. The strong men of the antistrike party, irrespective of politics, had attended the meeting and come out in the wake of Boniface and the mayor. A little squad of reporters bore down on them at once, but Boniface begged them to wait and escorted the mayor behind the desk and rang up the superintendent of the Big Horn. A quivering voice answered that the superintendent wasn't there. "Is that train in with those people from Rosebud and the other stations?" asked Boniface, and people began edging up to the desk to listen. "What? I don't hear you," said Boniface again. "Isn't in! Why, they said they were due before dark. Where were they when you last heard? What? You haven't heard? Lines cut? Had to wait for women? What women? I don't understand."

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

CROWN POINTS.

Queen Margherita is about to found an asylum in Rome for the children of murdered parents.

The Kaiser's favorite musician is Mendelssohn, whom he admires also as a man. Whenever he has the making of a musical programme, something of Mendelssohn's is always included.

Queen Alexandra, who is very fond of animals and takes an interest in everything that pertains to their welfare, has consented to become the patroness of the Home For Lost and Starving Cats.

The health of the Empress Frederick is becoming sensibly worse, and in a penciled letter she addressed to an English lady recently she wrote, "I have taken my last drive, except the concluding one of all."

The Duchess of Cornwall is blessed with a liberal assortment of Christian names, eight in all, and should she eventually share the British throne she can select from the succeeding half dozen names: Augustine, Louise, Olga, Pauline, Claudine, Agnes.

PERT PERSONALS.

Mr. Rockefeller now controls salt and oil. With a vinegar and a lettuce trust he could get back to his salad days.—Detroit Journal.

Mr. Schwab asserts that he objected to being paid $1,000,000 a year. Mr. Schwab is reaching his funny stage.—Baltimore American.

If the widows of the country continue to make goosoo eyes in the direction of Mr. Depew, his only recourse will be to wear blinders.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Emperor William resents complimentary reference to Bismarck because it suggests that the Hohenzollerns did not create the German empire unaided.—Detroit Tribune.

Sarah Bernhardt says the idea of her playing Romeo to Maude Adams' Juliet was a joke. Only half a joke. It is admitted that Maude Adams can play Juliet.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

DECISIONS IN LAW.

The West Virginia supreme court of appeals decides that neither a professor in a state university nor a teacher in the public schools is a public officer. Each is an employee.

The supreme court of Missouri has held to be excused in law a wife who, acting in obedience to the will and direction of her husband, procured a revolver which the man was to use in effecting his escape from jail.

According to a court decision in Illinois, a physician has the right to determine in the first instance how often he ought to visit a patient and to his compensation for visits if the party accepts his services without telling him to come less frequently.

A Positive
Woman.

A woman has a right to be positive on matters which are matters of personal knowledge and experience. Every woman who has used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for diseases of the womanly organs is positive as to its wonderful curative value, and confidently recommends it to similar sufferers.

Women who suffer from inflammation, ulceration, female weakness, or nervous diseases caused by disease of the womanly organs will find a complete cure by the use of "Favorite Prescription."

"Several years ago I suffered severely from female weakness, prostration, and menorrhagia, and used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription with splendid effect," writes Fannie Shelton, of Washington, Iowa. "Glad I have not needed it for a few years past, but if I should have any return of the old trouble would surely try 'Favorite Prescription.' I have recommended it to a number of my lady friends. I always tell them to try a bottle, and if they are not benefited by it I will pay for the medicine. In every case they have spoken in praise of it."

FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION.

MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG AND SICK WOMEN WELL.

Sold in East Liverpool by Charles T. Larkin.

Quick Dessert

JELLYCON

No Cooking
No Baking

Only necessary to dissolve in hot water and set away to harden. Lemon, Orange, Peach, Raspberry, Strawberry, Wild Cherry.

BEST FOR THE BOWELS

If you haven't a regular, healthy movement of the bowels every day, you're ill or will be. Keep your bowels open and well. Force, in the shape of violent physic or purgation, is dangerous. The smooth, clear, most perfect way of keeping the bowels clear and clean is to take

CANDY CATHARTIC
Cascarets
EAT 'EM LIKE CANDY
Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good, Do Good, Never Sickens, Weakens, or Gripes. 10, 25, and 50 cents per box. Write for free sample, and booklet on health. Address: STERLING REMEDY COMPANY, CHICAGO or NEW YORK.

KEEP YOUR BLOOD CLEAN

To Close an Estate

WE have on sale those large level lots of the George C. Morton Estate which front on Avondale street. Thus you may have a building lot which requires no filling or grading, and with street paving and other improvements. Everything to your hand to begin the building of your home.

The prices and terms on these lots are very reasonable indeed.

Geo. H. Owen & Co.,

Insurance and Real Estate.

Room 5, First National Bank Building. Both 'Phones 49.

NEW RESTAURANT!

All new Furniture. Centrally Located and everything up-to-date.

Single Meals, 25c
Board by the Week, $3.50

E. FRANK,

4th and Washington Sts.

MAKE KNOWN YOUR WANTS

INFORM the public of what you have For Sale, For Rent or For Exchange; what you have Lost or Found. The Cheapest and Best Way is to place a small ad. in the Favorite Home Newspaper.

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW

Real Estate Offices, Drug Stores and News Stands throughout the city will supply you with cards on which to write your ad. Pay 25c for a card, write it and mail it, and

YOU WILL GET WHAT YOU WANT

THOS. F. STARKEY Plumbing Co.,

131 Sheridan Ave.,

Opened for business on MONDAY, April 15.

Estimate furnished on all kinds of Plumbing Work, Gas or Steam Fittings. Satisfaction and reasonable prices guaranteed. Public Patronage Solicited.

W. H. KINSEY,

Manager.

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

WITH USE OF BATH.

THE ANDERSON HOUSE

Cor. Walnut and Robinson Sts.

MORE BLESSED RAINS

News Came of Copious Showers and Unfordable Streams in Kansas.

RESTORATION OF CONFIDENCE.

Hardly a Point in the State Not Revived—Outlook For Stockmen Is Greatly Improved—Drought Also Broken in Missouri.

Topeka, Kan., July 30.—In the place of dry weather reports, ruined crops and hot winds in Kansas, news comes of copious rains, unfordable streams and a restoration of confidence.

Most of the rains have come to the eastern and central parts of the state, but last night reports from the west showed the rain had extended through to the Colorado state line.

In Salina Monday afternoon the first rain in weeks fell.

Concordia reported yesterday that rain had been falling there for about 48 hours at intervals and that the situation is much improved. During a thunder storm in Concordia Carl Hammersbeck, the son of a farmer, was killed by lightning.

At Ellsworth a fine rain fell.

A dispatch from Dodge City stated that Ford county had been drenched Monday and farmers were preparing to sow feed crops.

Emporia and Ottawa, in Eastern Kansas, reported heavy rains Monday.

There was hardly a point in the state that was not revived during the past week. Corn will not be greatly helped, but enormous quantities of rough feed will be raised and the outlook for stockmen is greatly improved. Abundance of water has been provided for stock where there was a great scarcity a week ago.

Kansas City, Mo., July 30.—The drought has been broken in Kansas and Missouri by good rains which had fallen yesterday in heavy and frequent showers since Sunday morning. The outlook was good for a continued rainfall last night and today.

Colonel George W. Veale, who has watched conditions closely in Kansas for a score of years, said yesterday that Kansas will raise nearly a half crop of corn. He said the people would raise sufficient forage feed for all the cattle now on the ranges in Kansas. The rains will greatly benefit fall pastures. Already the brown prairies are changing to green, and farmers and stockmen say the landscape will show a pleasing contrast within the next two weeks. It is the steady and persistent showers that had prevailed yesterday since Sunday morning that had brought the needed relief and improved the agricultural conditions. They have extended all over Kansas and the western half of Missouri, several points in those states reporting two inches and more of rainfall.

Des Moines, Ia., July 30.—Rain fell all over Iowa Sunday, varying from one to four inches. The average fall was 1.63 inches. Crop service reports and private advices to grain dealers, agree that with normal conditions the state will produce 50 per cent of the average corn crop.

BULLS' HOPES WERE DASHED.

Matters Didn't Develop in the Stock Market Monday as They Had Expected.

New York, July 30.—The way in which the stock market acted Monday morning served to dash the hopes of the bulls among the traders, who had indulged a hope that some accession of speculative interest would result from the favoring factors over Sunday. For two Mondays past the market has had to face an accumulation of discouraging factors, which resulted in selling down prices within the first hour of trading to what proved to be the low point of the week. Monday morning, in contrast, there was the news of rains in the corn belt, about which there was no dispute, for the first time, as to their extent and beneficial character. There was, besides, the news of negotiations and consultations between the representatives of the United States Steel corporation and of the Amalgamated association, looking to the settlement of the strike. The opening of negotiations gave strong hope of an early settlement. The simultaneous sales of United States Steel at the opening were of 35,000 shares at an extreme advance of two points and a large number of the stocks thus benefited were Norfolk and Western, Chesapeake and Ohio, Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central, several of the coals, the Chicago and Alton stocks, Hocking Valley, a number of the southern and southwestern railroad stocks, Colorado Fuel, American Tobacco and North American. As a device for awakening interest in the market, this was a failure. The opening rush to buy was all that brought the day's dealings above the level of activity prevailing during the latter part of last week. When the room traders attempted to take their profits at the end of the day prices crumbled away and only a few stocks had anything left to show but fractional net gains at the closing, which was dull and heavy.

The bond market was dull and irregular, but rather more diversified than last week. Total sales, par value, $1,415,000.

United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

VALUABLE CLAIMS SECURED.

Drawing of Claims For Kiowa Comanche Lands Began.

El Reno, O. T., July 30.—Oklahoma's great land lottery was begun here in earnest Monday, and when the commissioners, appointed by the federal government, adjourned the

WHERE IS THE TURTLE?

Drawing for the "day 7,500 of the choice of the 13,000 160-acre claims in the Kiowa-Comanche country had been awarded. The first name drawn from the wheels was that of Stephen A. Holcomb, of Pauls Valley, I. T., for a homestead in the El Reno district, and the second, Leonard Lamb, of Augusta, O. T. These two men select the two choice claims in this district.

The capital prize winners, however, proved to be James R. Wood, of Weatherford, O. T., whose name was the first to come from the Lawton district wheel, and Miss Mattie H. Beals, of Wichita, Kan., who drew the second number in that district. They will have the privilege of making the first filings in the Lawton district, and will undoubtedly choose the two quarter sections adjoining that town. These are considered the most valuable in the territory, and are, it is estimated, worth from $20,000 to $40,000 each.

FRENCH MINISTERS' TRIP.

Went Below Surface in Submarine Boat.

Toulon, July 30.—The submarine boat Gustave Zede, with Premier Waldeck-Rousseau and Minister of Marines de Lanessan on board, executed a variety of maneuvers, taking the ministers below the surface several times.

PRESIDENT DOESN'T WISH TO LEAVE MRS. MCKINLEY.

Canton, O., July 30.—Postmaster Brown and Mayor Weaver, of Louisville, Ky., are at the head of a committee here to urge the president to attend the Knights Templar convention there. He has already sent regrets to the invitation, but they hope to induce him to change his mind. Their prospect of success is not good because the president does not wish to leave Mrs. McKinley nor to take her away from Canton at present.

THE MARKETS.

Pittsburg, July 29.
WHEAT—No. 2 red, 68¢; No. 2 yellow, 67¢; No. 2 white, 66¢; No. 2 white, 65¢; No. 2 white, 64¢; No. 2 white, 63¢; No. 2 white, 62¢; No. 2 white, 61¢; No. 2 white, 60¢; No. 2 white, 59¢; No. 2 white, 58¢; No. 2 white, 57¢; No. 2 white, 56¢; No. 2 white, 55¢; No. 2 white, 54¢; No. 2 white, 53¢; No. 2 white, 52¢; No. 2 white, 51¢; No. 2 white, 50¢; No. 2 white, 49¢; No. 2 white, 48¢; No. 2 white, 47¢; No. 2 white, 46¢; No. 2 white, 45¢; No. 2 white, 44¢; No. 2 white, 43¢; No. 2 white, 42¢; No. 2 white, 41¢; No. 2 white, 40¢; No. 2 white, 39¢; No. 2 white, 38¢; No. 2 white, 37¢; No. 2 white, 36¢; No. 2 white, 35¢; No. 2 white, 34¢; No. 2 white, 33¢; No. 2 white, 32¢; No. 2 white, 31¢; No. 2 white, 30¢; No. 2 white, 29¢; No. 2 white, 28¢; No. 2 white, 27¢; No. 2 white, 26¢; No. 2 white, 25¢; No. 2 white, 24¢; No. 2 white, 23¢; No. 2 white, 22¢; No. 2 white, 21¢; No. 2 white, 20¢; No. 2 white, 19¢; No. 2 white, 18¢; No. 2 white, 17¢; No. 2 white, 16¢; No. 2 white, 15¢; No. 2 white, 14¢; No. 2 white, 13¢; No. 2 white, 12¢; No. 2 white, 11¢; No. 2 white, 10¢; No. 2 white, 9¢; No. 2 white, 8¢; No. 2 white, 7¢; No. 2 white, 6¢; No. 2 white, 5¢; No. 2 white, 4¢; No. 2 white, 3¢; No. 2 white, 2¢; No. 2 white, 1¢; No. 2 white, 0¢; No. 2 white, -1¢; No. 2 white, -2¢; No. 2 white, -3¢; No. 2 white, -4¢; No. 2 white, -5¢; No. 2 white, -6¢; No. 2 white, -7¢; No. 2 white, -8¢; No. 2 white, -9¢; No. 2 white, -10¢; No. 2 white, -11¢; No. 2 white, -12¢; No. 2 white, -13¢; No. 2 white, -14¢; No. 2 white, -15¢; No. 2 white, -16¢; No. 2 white, -17¢; No. 2 white, -18¢; No. 2 white, -19¢; No. 2 white, -20¢; No. 2 white, -21¢; No. 2 white, -22¢; No. 2 white, -23¢; No. 2 white, -24¢; No. 2 white, -25¢; No. 2 white, -26¢; No. 2 white, -27¢; No. 2 white, -28¢; No. 2 white, -29¢; No. 2 white, -30¢; No. 2 white, -31¢; No. 2 white, -32¢; No. 2 white, -33¢; No. 2 white, -34¢; No. 2 white, -35¢; No. 2 white, -36¢; No. 2 white, -37¢; No. 2 white, -38¢; No. 2 white, -39¢; No. 2 white, -40¢; No. 2 white, -41¢; No. 2 white, -42¢; No. 2 white, -43¢; No. 2 white, -44¢; No. 2 white, -45¢; No. 2 white, -46¢; No. 2 white, -47¢; No. 2 white, -48¢; No. 2 white, -49¢; No. 2 white, -50¢; No. 2 white, -51¢; No. 2 white, -52¢; No. 2 white, -53¢; No. 2 white, -54¢; No. 2 white, -55¢; No. 2 white, -56¢; No. 2 white, -57¢; No. 2 white, -58¢; No. 2 white, -59¢; No. 2 white, -60¢; No. 2 white, -61¢; No. 2 white, -62¢; No. 2 white, -63¢; No. 2 white, -64¢; No. 2 white, -65¢; No. 2 white, -66¢; No. 2 white, -67¢; No. 2 white, -68¢; No. 2 white, -69¢; No. 2 white, -70¢; No. 2 white, -71¢; No. 2 white, -72¢; No. 2 white, -73¢; No. 2 white, -74¢; No. 2 white, -75¢; No. 2 white, -76¢; No. 2 white, -77¢; No. 2 white, -78¢; No. 2 white, -79¢; No. 2 white, -80¢; No. 2 white, -81¢; No. 2 white, -82¢; No. 2 white, -83¢; No. 2 white, -84¢; No. 2 white, -85¢; No. 2 white, -86¢; No. 2 white, -87¢; No. 2 white, -88¢; No. 2 white, -89¢; No. 2 white, -90¢; No. 2 white, -91¢; No. 2 white, -92¢; No. 2 white, -93¢; No. 2 white, -94¢; No. 2 white, -95¢; No. 2 white, -96¢; No. 2 white, -97¢; No. 2 white, -98¢; No. 2 white, -99¢; No. 2 white, -100¢; No. 2 white, -101¢; No. 2 white, -102¢; No. 2 white, -103¢; No. 2 white, -104¢; No. 2 white, -105¢; No. 2 white, -106¢; No. 2 white, -107¢; No. 2 white, -108¢; No. 2 white, -109¢; No. 2 white, -110¢; No. 2 white, -111¢; No. 2 white, -112¢; No. 2 white, -113¢; No. 2 white, -114¢; No. 2 white, -115¢; No. 2 white, -116¢; No. 2 white, -117¢; No. 2 white, -118¢; No. 2 white, -119¢; No. 2 white, -120¢; No. 2 white, -121¢; No. 2 white, -122¢; No. 2 white, -123¢; No. 2 white, -124¢; No. 2 white, -125¢; No. 2 white, -126¢; No. 2 white, -127¢; No. 2 white, -128¢; No. 2 white, -129¢; No. 2 white, -130¢; No. 2 white, -131¢; No. 2 white, -132¢; No. 2 white, -133¢; No. 2 white, -134¢; No. 2 white, -135¢; No. 2 white, -136¢; No. 2 white, -137¢; No. 2 white, -138¢; No. 2 white, -139¢; No. 2 white, -140¢; No. 2 white, -141¢; No. 2 white, -142¢; No. 2 white, -143¢; No. 2 white, -144¢; No. 2 white, -145¢; No. 2 white, -146¢; No. 2 white, -147¢; No. 2 white, -148¢; No. 2 white, -149¢; No. 2 white, -150¢; No. 2 white, -151¢; No. 2 white, -152¢; No. 2 white, -153¢; No. 2 white, -154¢; No. 2 white, -155¢; No. 2 white, -156¢; No. 2 white, -157¢; No. 2 white, -158¢; No. 2 white, -159¢; No. 2 white, -160¢; No. 2 white, -161¢; No. 2 white, -162¢; No. 2 white, -163¢; No. 2 white, -164¢; No. 2 white, -165¢; No. 2 white, -166¢; No. 2 white, -167¢; No. 2 white, -168¢; No. 2 white, -169¢; No. 2 white, -170¢; No. 2 white, -171¢; No. 2 white, -172¢; No. 2 white, -173¢; No. 2 white, -174¢; No. 2 white, -175¢; No. 2 white, -176¢; No. 2 white, -177¢; No. 2 white, -178¢; No. 2 white, -179¢; No. 2 white, -180¢; No. 2 white, -181¢; No. 2 white, -182¢; No. 2 white, -183¢; No. 2 white, -184¢; No. 2 white, -185¢; No. 2 white, -186¢; No. 2 white, -187¢; No. 2 white, -188¢; No. 2 white, -189¢; No. 2 white, -190¢; No. 2 white, -191¢; No. 2 white, -192¢; No. 2 white, -193¢; No. 2 white, -194¢; No. 2 white, -195¢; No. 2 white, -196¢; No. 2 white, -197¢; No. 2 white, -198¢; No. 2 white, -199¢; No. 2 white, -200¢; No. 2 white, -201¢; No. 2 white, -202¢; No. 2 white, -203¢; No. 2 white, -204¢; No. 2 white, -205¢; No. 2 white, -206¢; No. 2 white, -207¢; No. 2 white, -208¢; No. 2 white, -209¢; No. 2 white, -210¢; No. 2 white, -211¢; No. 2 white, -212¢; No. 2 white, -213¢; No. 2 white, -214¢; No. 2 white, -215¢; No. 2 white, -216¢; No. 2 white, -217¢; No. 2 white, -218¢; No. 2 white, -219¢; No. 2 white, -220¢; No. 2 white, -221¢; No. 2 white, -222¢; No. 2 white, -223¢; No. 2 white, -224¢; No. 2 white, -225¢; No. 2 white, -226¢; No. 2 white, -227¢; No. 2 white, -228¢; No. 2 white, -229¢; No. 2 white, -230¢; No. 2 white, -231¢; No. 2 white, -232¢; No. 2 white, -233¢; No. 2 white, -234¢; No. 2 white, -235¢; No. 2 white, -236¢; No. 2 white, -237¢; No. 2 white, -238¢; No. 2 white, -239¢; No. 2 white, -240¢; No. 2 white, -241¢; No. 2 white, -242¢; No. 2 white, -243¢; No. 2 white, -244¢; No. 2 white, -245¢; No. 2 white, -246¢; No. 2 white, -247¢; No. 2 white, -248¢; No. 2 white, -249¢; No. 2 white, -250¢; No. 2 white, -251¢; No. 2 white, -252¢; No. 2 white, -253¢; No. 2 white, -254¢; No. 2 white, -255¢; No. 2 white, -256¢; No. 2 white, -257¢; No. 2 white, -258¢; No. 2 white, -259¢; No. 2 white, -260¢; No. 2 white, -261¢; No. 2 white, -262¢; No. 2 white, -263¢; No. 2 white, -264¢; No. 2 white, -265¢; No. 2 white, -266¢; No. 2 white, -267¢; No. 2 white, -268¢; No. 2 white, -269¢; No. 2 white, -270¢; No. 2 white, -271¢; No. 2 white, -272¢; No. 2 white, -273¢; No. 2 white, -274¢; No. 2 white, -275¢; No. 2 white, -276¢; No. 2 white, -277¢; No. 2 white, -278¢; No. 2 white, -279¢; No. 2 white, -280¢; No. 2 white, -281¢; No. 2 white, -282¢; No. 2 white, -283¢; No. 2 white, -284¢; No. 2 white, -285¢; No. 2 white, -286¢; No. 2 white, -287¢; No. 2 white, -288¢; No. 2 white, -289¢; No. 2 white, -290¢; No. 2 white, -291¢; No. 2 white, -292¢; No. 2 white, -293¢; No. 2 white, -294¢; No. 2 white, -295¢; No. 2 white, -296¢; No. 2 white, -297¢; No. 2 white, -298¢; No. 2 white, -299¢; No. 2 white, -300¢; No. 2 white, -301¢; No. 2 white, -302¢; No. 2 white, -303¢; No. 2 white, -304¢; No. 2 white, -305¢; No. 2 white, -306¢; No. 2 white, -307¢; No. 2 white, -308¢; No. 2 white, -309¢; No. 2 white, -310¢; No. 2 white, -311¢; No. 2 white, -312¢; No. 2 white, -313¢; No. 2 white, -314¢; No. 2 white, -315¢; No. 2 white, -316¢; No. 2 white, -317¢; No. 2 white, -318¢; No. 2 white, -319¢; No. 2 white, -320¢; No. 2 white, -321¢; No. 2 white, -322¢; No. 2 white, -323¢; No. 2 white, -324¢; No. 2 white, -325¢; No. 2 white, -326¢; No. 2 white, -327¢; No. 2 white, -328¢; No. 2 white, -329¢; No. 2 white, -330¢; No. 2 white, -331¢; No. 2 white, -332¢; No. 2 white, -333¢; No. 2 white, -334¢; No. 2 white, -335¢; No. 2 white, -336¢; No. 2 white, -337¢; No. 2 white, -338¢; No. 2 white, -339¢; No. 2 white, -340¢; No. 2 white, -341¢; No. 2 white, -342¢; No. 2 white, -343¢; No. 2 white, -344¢; No. 2 white, -345¢; No. 2 white, -346¢; No. 2 white, -347¢; No. 2 white, -348¢; No. 2 white, -349¢; No. 2 white, -350¢; No. 2 white, -351¢; No. 2 white, -352¢; No. 2 white, -353¢; No. 2 white, -354¢; No. 2 white, -355¢; No. 2 white, -356¢; No. 2 white, -357¢; No. 2 white, -358¢; No. 2 white, -359¢; No. 2 white, -360¢; No. 2 white, -361¢; No. 2 white, -362¢; No. 2 white, -363¢; No. 2 white, -364¢; No. 2 white, -365¢; No. 2 white, -366¢; No. 2 white, -367¢; No. 2 white, -368¢; No. 2 white, -369¢; No. 2 white, -370¢; No. 2 white, -371¢; No. 2 white, -372¢; No. 2 white, -373¢; No. 2 white, -374¢; No. 2 white, -375¢; No. 2 white, -376¢; No. 2 white, -377¢; No. 2 white, -378¢; No. 2 white, -379¢; No. 2 white, -380¢; No. 2 white, -381¢; No. 2 white, -382¢; No. 2 white, -383¢; No. 2 white, -384¢; No. 2 white, -385¢; No. 2 white, -386¢; No. 2 white, -387¢; No. 2 white, -388¢; No. 2 white, -389¢; No. 2 white, -390¢; No. 2 white, -391¢; No. 2 white, -392¢; No. 2 white, -393¢; No. 2 white, -394¢; No. 2 white, -395¢; No. 2 white, -396¢; No. 2 white, -397¢; No. 2 white, -398¢; No. 2 white, -399¢; No. 2 white, -400¢; No. 2 white, -401¢; No. 2 white, -402¢; No. 2 white, -403¢; No. 2 white, -404¢; No. 2 white, -405¢; No. 2 white, -406¢; No. 2 white, -407¢; No. 2 white, -408¢; No. 2 white, -409¢; No. 2 white, -410¢; No. 2 white, -411¢; No. 2 white, -412¢; No. 2 white, -413¢; No. 2 white, -414¢; No. 2 white, -415¢; No. 2 white, -416¢; No. 2 white, -417¢; No. 2 white, -418¢; No. 2 white, -419¢; No. 2 white, -420¢; No. 2 white, -421¢; No. 2 white, -422¢; No. 2 white, -423¢; No. 2 white, -424¢; No. 2 white, -425¢; No. 2 white, -426¢; No. 2 white, -427¢; No. 2 white, -428¢; No. 2 white, -429¢; No. 2 white, -430¢; No. 2 white, -431¢; No. 2 white, -432¢; No. 2 white, -433¢; No. 2 white, -434¢; No. 2 white, -435¢; No. 2 white, -436¢; No. 2 white, -437¢; No. 2 white, -438¢; No. 2 white, -439¢; No. 2 white, -440¢; No. 2 white, -441¢; No. 2 white, -442¢; No. 2 white, -443¢; No. 2 white, -444¢; No. 2 white, -445¢; No. 2 white, -446¢; No. 2 white, -447¢; No. 2 white, -448¢; No. 2 white, -449¢; No. 2 white, -450¢; No. 2 white, -451¢; No. 2 white, -452¢; No. 2 white, -453¢; No. 2 white, -454¢; No. 2 white, -455¢; No. 2 white, -456¢; No. 2 white, -457¢; No. 2 white, -458¢; No. 2 white, -459¢; No. 2 white, -460¢; No. 2 white, -461¢; No. 2 white, -462¢; No. 2 white, -463¢; No. 2 white, -464¢; No. 2 white, -465¢; No. 2 white, -466¢; No. 2 white, -467¢; No. 2 white, -468¢; No. 2 white, -469¢; No. 2 white, -470¢; No. 2 white, -471¢; No. 2 white, -472¢; No. 2 white, -473¢; No. 2 white, -474¢; No. 2 white, -475¢; No. 2 white, -476¢; No. 2 white, -477¢; No. 2 white, -478¢; No. 2 white, -479¢; No. 2 white, -480¢; No. 2 white, -481¢; No. 2 white, -482¢; No. 2 white, -483¢; No. 2 white, -484¢; No. 2 white, -485¢; No. 2 white, -486¢; No. 2 white, -487¢; No. 2 white, -488¢; No. 2 white, -489¢; No. 2 white, -490¢; No. 2 white, -491¢; No. 2 white, -492¢; No. 2 white, -493¢; No. 2 white, -494¢; No. 2 white, -495¢; No. 2 white, -496¢; No. 2 white, -497¢; No. 2 white, -498¢; No. 2 white, -499¢; No. 2 white, -500¢; No. 2 white, -501¢; No. 2 white, -502¢; No. 2 white, -503¢; No. 2 white, -504¢; No. 2 white, -505¢; No. 2 white, -506¢; No. 2 white, -507¢; No. 2 white, -508¢; No. 2 white, -509¢; No. 2 white, -510¢; No. 2 white, -511¢; No. 2 white, -512¢; No. 2 white, -513¢; No. 2 white, -514¢; No. 2 white, -515¢; No. 2 white, -516¢; No. 2 white, -517¢; No. 2 white, -518¢; No. 2 white, -519¢; No. 2 white, -520¢; No. 2 white, -521¢; No. 2 white, -522¢; No. 2 white, -523¢; No. 2 white, -524¢; No. 2 white, -525¢; No. 2 white, -526¢; No. 2 white, -527¢; No. 2 white, -528¢; No. 2 white, -529¢; No. 2 white, -530¢; No. 2 white, -531¢; No. 2 white, -532¢; No. 2 white, -533¢; No. 2 white, -534¢; No. 2 white, -535¢; No. 2 white, -536¢; No. 2 white, -537¢; No. 2 white, -538¢; No. 2 white, -539¢; No. 2 white, -540¢; No. 2 white, -541¢; No. 2 white, -542¢; No. 2 white, -543¢; No. 2 white, -544¢; No. 2 white, -545¢; No. 2 white, -546¢; No. 2 white, -547¢; No. 2 white, -548¢; No. 2 white, -549¢; No. 2 white, -550¢; No. 2 white, -551¢; No. 2 white, -552¢; No. 2 white, -553¢; No. 2 white, -554¢; No. 2 white, -555¢; No. 2 white, -556¢; No. 2 white, -557¢; No. 2 white, -558¢; No. 2 white, -559¢; No. 2 white, -560¢; No. 2 white, -561¢; No. 2 white, -562¢; No. 2 white, -563¢; No. 2 white, -564¢; No. 2 white, -565¢; No. 2 white, -566¢; No. 2 white, -567¢; No. 2 white, -568¢; No. 2 white, -569¢; No. 2 white, -570¢; No. 2 white, -571¢; No. 2 white, -572¢; No. 2 white, -573¢; No. 2 white, -574¢; No. 2 white, -575¢; No. 2 white, -576¢; No. 2 white, -577¢; No. 2 white, -578¢; No. 2 white, -579¢; No. 2 white, -580¢; No. 2 white, -581¢; No. 2 white, -582¢; No. 2 white, -583¢; No. 2 white, -584¢; No. 2 white, -585¢; No. 2 white, -586¢; No. 2 white, -587¢; No. 2 white, -588¢; No. 2 white, -589¢; No. 2 white, -590¢; No. 2 white, -591¢; No. 2 white, -592¢; No. 2 white, -593¢; No. 2 white, -594¢; No. 2 white, -595¢; No. 2 white, -596¢; No. 2 white, -597¢; No. 2 white, -598¢; No. 2 white, -599¢; No. 2 white, -600¢; No. 2 white, -601¢; No. 2 white, -602¢; No. 2 white, -603¢; No. 2 white, -604¢; No. 2 white, -605¢; No. 2 white, -606¢; No. 2 white, -607¢; No. 2 white, -608¢; No. 2 white, -609¢; No. 2 white, -610¢; No. 2 white, -611¢; No. 2 white, -612¢; No. 2 white, -613¢; No. 2 white, -614¢; No. 2 white, -615¢; No. 2 white, -616¢; No. 2 white, -617¢; No. 2 white, -618¢; No. 2 white, -619¢; No. 2 white, -620¢; No. 2 white, -621¢; No. 2 white, -622¢; No. 2 white, -623¢; No. 2 white, -624¢; No. 2 white, -625¢; No. 2 white, -626¢; No. 2 white, -627¢; No. 2 white, -628¢; No. 2 white, -629¢; No. 2 white, -630¢; No. 2 white, -631¢; No. 2 white, -632¢; No. 2 white, -633¢; No. 2 white, -634¢; No. 2 white, -635¢; No. 2 white, -636¢; No. 2 white, -637¢; No. 2 white, -638¢; No. 2 white, -639¢; No. 2 white, -640¢; No. 2 white, -641¢; No. 2 white, -642¢; No. 2 white, -643¢; No. 2 white, -644¢; No. 2 white, -645¢; No. 2 white, -646¢; No. 2 white, -647¢; No. 2 white, -648¢; No. 2 white, -649¢; No. 2 white, -650¢; No. 2 white, -651¢; No. 2 white, -652¢; No. 2 white, -653¢; No. 2 white, -654¢; No. 2 white, -655¢; No. 2 white, -656¢; No. 2 white, -657¢; No. 2 white, -658¢; No. 2 white, -659¢; No. 2 white, -660¢; No. 2 white, -661¢; No. 2 white, -662¢; No. 2 white, -663¢; No. 2 white, -664¢; No. 2 white, -665¢; No. 2 white, -666¢; No. 2 white, -667¢; No. 2 white, -668¢; No. 2 white, -669¢; No. 2 white, -670¢; No. 2 white, -671¢; No. 2 white, -672¢; No. 2 white, -673¢; No. 2 white, -674¢; No. 2 white, -675¢; No. 2 white, -676¢; No. 2 white, -677¢; No. 2 white, -678¢; No. 2 white, -679¢; No. 2 white, -680¢; No. 2 white, -681¢; No. 2 white, -682¢; No. 2 white, -683¢; No. 2 white, -684¢; No. 2 white, -685¢; No. 2 white, -686¢; No. 2 white, -687¢; No. 2 white, -688¢; No. 2 white, -689¢; No. 2 white, -690¢; No. 2 white, -691¢; No. 2 white, -692¢; No. 2 white, -693¢; No. 2 white, -694¢; No. 2 white, -695¢; No. 2 white, -696¢; No. 2 white, -697¢; No. 2 white, -698¢; No. 2 white, -699¢; No. 2 white, -700¢; No. 2 white, -701¢; No. 2 white, -702¢; No. 2 white, -703¢; No. 2 white, -704¢; No. 2 white, -705¢; No. 2 white, -706¢; No. 2 white, -707¢; No. 2 white, -708¢; No. 2 white, -709¢; No. 2 white, -710¢; No. 2 white, -711¢; No. 2 white, -712¢; No. 2 white, -713¢; No. 2 white, -714¢; No. 2 white, -715¢; No. 2 white, -716¢; No. 2 white, -717¢; No. 2 white, -718¢; No. 2 white, -719¢; No. 2 white, -720¢; No. 2 white, -721¢; No. 2 white, -722¢; No. 2 white, -723¢; No. 2 white, -724¢; No. 2 white, -725¢; No. 2 white, -726¢; No. 2 white, -727¢; No. 2 white, -728¢; No. 2 white, -729¢; No. 2 white, -730¢; No. 2 white, -731¢; No. 2 white, -732¢; No. 2 white, -733¢; No. 2 white, -734¢; No. 2 white, -735¢; No. 2 white, -736¢; No. 2 white, -737¢; No. 2 white, -738¢; No. 2 white, -739¢; No. 2 white, -740¢; No. 2 white, -741¢; No. 2 white, -74

ROSS MEADOWS

Situate on the Lisbon and Liverpool Road, one and a half miles beyond

PLEASANT HEIGHTS

and on the proposed Lisbon, Salem and Liverpool Electric Line.

Last summer we laid out and sold the north half of this farm. We now offer

The South Half, in parcels of 2, 2½, 5, 10 and 20 Acres.

ANY SIZE YOU WANT.

Prices $75, $90 and $100 per acre.

The land lies level and gently sloping. Suitable for a

Truck Farm, Vegetable Farm, A Country Home, A Fruit Farm, A Poultry Farm.

Within easy distance of town.

Want a Small Country Place?

It will suit you.

Why live on 30x100 when the Same money Will buy from Two to ten acres And give you Elbow room.

Our horse and buggy at your service, see us.

ELIJAH W. HILL,

Real Estate Dealer, Cor. Sixth and

Washington Sts.,

East Liverpool,

Ohio.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

A Son Born—Born, to Mr. and Mrs. William Fickis, Pleasant Heights, a son.

Will Play This Week—The New Kensington, Pa., baseball team will be here Friday and Saturday of this week and meet the local nine on the West End ground.

On the Move—The following movements have been handled at the freight depot: A. Tams, from Trenton; William Kinkade, from Zanesville, and Jonathan Hughes and E. Stevens, to Sebring.

Want to Play Ball—The Third Street Reds would like to arrange games with any 15 or 16-year-old teams in the city, the Crocker City Juniors preferred. Cleveland Good is manager.

Gardendale Potters' Team—The potters of Gardendale would like to have a game with any ball team in the city at any time or place. The following is the line-up: Catcher, Blazer; pitcher, Rutledge; short, Dawson; first, J. Leigh; second, Dailey; third, Cunningham; right, Shingleton; center, Smith; left, H. Leigh.

Rain Stopped the Game—The game of base ball between the Crocker City Juniors and the West End team was not completed last evening, owing to therain. But two innings were played, the score standing 6 to 2 in favor of the Crockeries. The latter team is out with a challenge to any juvenile club in the city, the East End Junior Grays preferred.

Funeral of Miss Little—Funeral services over the remains of Miss Bessie E. Little, who died yesterday morning, will be conducted at the late home tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Dr. Clark Crawford and Dr. Taggart will officiate and interment will be made at Riverview. The remains may be viewed from 7 until 10 o'clock tonight and between the hours of 9 and 11 tomorrow morning.

The T. & H. Block—The detail plan of the terra cotta work for the new business block to be erected on Fifth street between Washington and Broadway by Dr. W. A. Hobbs and W. L. Thompson are being prepared by Architect A. W. Scott. Some time ago it was suggested that the new block be named the "Emporium," but this has been changed to the "T. & H." block.

TIME FOR FANS. CURRENT FOR DESK FANS COSTS 1 CENT PER HOUR; FOR CEILING FANS 1 7/8 CENTS PER HOUR, FROM WHICH A DISCOUNT OF 25 PER CENT IS ALLOWED IF PAID ON OR BEFORE THE 10TH OF EACH MONTH. 35-1f THE CERAMIC CITY LIGHT CO.

A PERFECT LIGHT. THE CURRENT FOR A SIXTEEN CANDLE POWER INCANDESCENT LAMP COSTS APPROXIMATELY 3/4 OF A CENT PER HOUR; FOR A TWO THOUSAND CANDLE POWER ARC LIGHT 1 3/4 CENTS PER HOUR; FOR A TWELVE HUNDRED CANDLE POWER 4 3/4 CENTS PER HOUR. ALL BILLS SUBJECT TO 25 PER CENT DISCOUNT IF PAID BEFORE THE 10TH OF THE MONTH. THE CERAMIC CITY LIGHT CO. 34-1f

Amusements.

ROCK SPRINGS PARK Week of July 29, 1901.

MONDAY Prof. Dellfruge, of Wheeling will have charge of park.

TUESDAY Salem Merchants—Elks Annual Outing.

WEDNESDAY Morning—McDougall's Dancing School.

Wellsburg Union Sabbath Schools, Evening—Dancing.

THURSDAY Excursion for benefit of Old Folks' Home, Pittsburg (colored). Evening—Dancing.

FRIDAY Union Sunday School, New Cumberland Evening—Dancing.

SATURDAY Wellsville Amalgamated Association of Tin, Iron and Steel Workers.

Every Evening Beginning at 9:30, Allen's Famous Moving Pictures.

Nowling's Orchestra. J. H. MAXWELL, Manager.

COLUMBIAN PARK! 11 nights commencing Thursday, August 1st.

Thos. Edison's marvelous reproduction of the world famous

"Passion Play"

In conjunction with a splendid miscellaneous program. To St. Ry. Patrons..... Free To Others 10c. Seats 5c

THE BOSTON STORE

Clearance Sale of Summer Dry Goods Commenced This Morning.

THE wind up of the sale of Summer merchandise is here. Lots of seasonable goods which were here at the beginning of the season are odds and ends, other departments are yet complete. The next few days will be memorable ones in this store. Prices are relentlessly cut to close out all summer merchandise. Space forbids us to tell you the merits of the bargains offered below. Come and see for yourself and you will not be disappointed. Dollars can be saved at this clearance sale of summer merchandise.

Summer Wrappers for $1.00

All our summer wrappers of the famous "Saratoga make," that sold at $2, $2.50 and $3, now your choice $1.

Shirt Waist Suits—All shirt waist suits made of chambray, duck, madras and percale to be closed out as follows: $3 suits for $2.25, $2.50 suits $1.88, $2 suits $1.50.

Shirt Waists for 69c—All our dollar shirt waists made of plain and striped ginghams, linens, madras and lawns to be closed out at 69c.

One table of black lawn shirt waists that sold at $1, $1.35 and $1.50, take your choice for 25c.

Our entire stock of white and colored shirt waists that sold from $1 up to $3.50 to be closed out at greatly reduced prices.

Wash Skirts for $1—Any wash skirt in this house that sold at $1.50 and up to $5, now your choice for $1.

Dressing Sacques at 25 and 33 1/3 per cent. off. Our entire stock of dressing sacques, all new this season, made of lawns, dimities, percales and challies, to be closed out at 1/3 and 1/4 former prices.

Foulard Silks at 75c a Yard—All Foulard silks, exclusive patterns, all new this season, $1 and $1.25 silks, now your choice for 75c a yard.

Tailor Made Suits and taffeta Eton jackets, greatly reduced in prices. One lot of women's and misses' suits, all new and strictly tailor made, that sold at $15, now half price, $7.50. All other tailor made suits at greatly reduced prices.

All taffeta silk Eton jackets at half price.

The above and many other Bargains of like manner you will find at different departments throughout the entire store. But no matter what we tell you here, when you come you'll find them much bigger than our talk. We close at 5 O'Clock Saturdays & Mondays excepted.

5th and Market. THE BOSTON STORE A. S. Young.

WELLSVILLE FUNDS FOR A MONUMENT

Wellsville Sons of Veterans Propose to Erect a Memorial to Dead Heroes.

Early next fall the Wellsville camp, Sons of Veterans, will give an entertainment in the opera house, the purpose of which will be to raise funds for the erection of the soldiers' and sailors' monument which it is proposed to erect in the square.

There is some money raised for this purpose now, but the amount is not sufficient.

Boys Fined for Bathing.

A number of small boys were taken before Mayor Dennis Monday afternoon, a charge of swimming in the river within the city limits was preferred against them. Each arranged to pay a small fine, after which they were released.

Wellsville Newspaper Project.

A stock company with a capital stock of $15,000 is about to be formed at Wellsville to purchase the plant of the Wellsville Record. The deal is being conducted by a Mr. Ellis, of Mt. Vernon, O., said to be an old newspaper man.

CUPID'S WORK GOES ON

Justice Rose Officiated at the Wedding of Miss Ella Johnson and William Guth.

Justice Rose has a fondness for marrying young couples, and especially when the prospective bride is good looking the veteran magistrate officiates in the most exacting manner and summons all dignity at his command. When he reached his office this morning, and before he had time to shine his shoes and dust his office furniture, he was approached by a fine appearing young couple who desired to be made man and wife.

Though taken at a disadvantage the 'squire slicked up his hair and in short order had made all preparations for the ceremony. The candidates were Miss Ella M. Johnson, of East Liverpool, and William T. Guth, of Wheeling. It required but a few minutes to tie the nuptial knot and Mr. and Mrs. Guth left the office with smiles on their faces, while the magistrate stood fondly gazing the roll of "long green" which had been dropped into his hand. The couple will make their home at Wheeling.

Not Counted In the Contract.

Within the next week the cleaning of the walls of the new Carnegie library will be finished. This work is something that was not figured in the original specifications and will add $200 to the cost of the building. The contract has been let to R. McCreath, of Cleveland, who has been working on the contract for several days. The outside of all the brick walls is to be cleaned.

CHANGED HER MIND

Mrs. Mary Jane Miller Will Not Bring a Damage Suit Against Her Aged Rival.

Mrs. Mary Jane Miller, the aged Calcutta woman, who recently told a story of domestic infelicity to Justice McLane, was again in the city this morning. She has given up the idea of instituting a damage suit against the woman, who, she claimed, had alienated the affections of her husband, but on advice from friends proposes to take the matter up before the officials of the church of which Mr. Miller is a member.

She informed Justice McLane that her husband had not yet quit paying attentions to the woman who has been causing the trouble, but she expects he will soon see the error of his ways and come over to her side of the house.

SUB-COMMITTEES TO MEET

On Thursday Evening to Arrange For the Junior O. U. A. M. State Convention.

A meeting of all the sub-committees of the Jr. O. U. A. M. and of the Daughters of America will be held Thursday evening for the purpose of completing the program for the state convention of the two orders which will be held in this city Sept. 9, 10 and 11.

The meetings of the Junior Mechanics will be held in Mechanics' hall over the postoffice, but the meeting place of the Daughters of America has not yet been selected. It has been suggested that these meetings be held in either the Brotherhood hall or the Knights of Pythias hall, but so far no selection has been made. The attendance at this convention promises to be large.

BOY GAMBLERS

Paid Fines of $2 And Costs Each And Received a Scare in Addition.

Two of the three boys who were arrested Sunday afternoon for gambling were given a hearing before Acting Mayor McLane last night and entered a plea of guilty. They were fined $2 and costs each, which they paid and were released. The other lad is out of the city, but will have his hearing when he returns Saturday evening.

This is the first time either of the boys had been in trouble. They are the sons of well-to-do parents. They were badly frightened when taken before his honor, and it is likely the lesson they received will be long remembered.

News Review "Wants" bring quick results.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY.

FOR SALE—A six-year-old cow, Jersey; gives four gallons of milk per day. Inquire at Virden's, First street, Chester, W. Va. 37-r

WANTED—A girl for general housework. Apply at 151 Fourth street. 38-r

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Of Columbiana County Republicans Announced By Chairman I. B. Cameron.

Lisbon, July 30. — (Special)—The complete Republican county executive committee has been announced by Hon. I. B. Cameron as follows:

I. B. Cameron, chairman, Lisbon; John S. McNutt, secretary, Lisbon; James N. Hanley, treasurer, East Liverpool; George Davidson, East Liverpool; Sherman T. Atchison, Albert Hayes, Salem; John B. Morgan, Leetonia; A. L. McDonald, Wellsville; George B. Harvey, Ed A. King, Lisbon; Harry N. Chamberlin, R. T. Davis, East Palestine; R. N. Hull, Salineville; Aaron Esterly, Columbiana.

NEW STREET CARS

Equipped With Double Trucks Will Soon Be In Use on the Street Railway.

The five new cars ordered some time ago by the East Liverpool Street Railway company are expected to arrive here from Elizabeth, N. J. within the next two weeks. These cars will be double trucked, and will be modern in every detail.

The double trucks for the winter cars which arrived here early this year, were found to be in good order, and the first set is being placed under car No. 14. This car, it is expected, will be in readiness to be given a trial run early next week.

May Move to Salem.

Salem, July 30.—The Leetonia boiler works, tool works and machine shop, which was burned out at Leetonia last Saturday morning, may be located in this city. The company intends to rebuild and would like to come to Salem if the board of trade will extend sufficient encouragement.

The Napkin Problem.

Do not crumple up your table napkin. If you are only a guest for the day, do not fold it up, but if you are staying on and in a quiet household fold it up, remarks an exchange. If you are staying in a big house where everything is done en grand prince, do not fold it up. Just place it on the table when you leave, as in rich establishments there are clean table napkins every day.

Fashion's Echoes.

Foulards will be greatly worn this season, but always of the satin faced kind, except for seaside or country wear. They are profusely trimmed with lace and velvet ribbons.

Pure white costumes in every imaginable material—white pique, white duck, white linen, sheer white wash fabrics, white cloth, white serge, white camel's hair and white taffeta—are the fashion of the summer.

Artificial flowers are flourishing on gowns this season.

Sashes of every description promise to be a prominent feature of afternoon and evening costumes. With lawn and organdie toilets the sashes are of the material, insertion striped and lace trimmed.

News Review "Wants" bring quick results.

PROF. HUNT, M. A.

The World's Greatest Living

CLAIRVOYANT PALMIST

Ordered to do what he does. His marvelous achievements demonstrated in your presence, while you look, listen and wonder.

OFFICE 162 Sixth St. OFFICE Judge Men By Their Works.

The moment you call he tells your name, age and what you want to know without asking a single question. There is no guess work, no experimenting, every proceeding is definite and exact. He does not ask you to have faith, he proves you facts.

Are you unsuccessful, unhappy or unlucky? Have you tried to succeed and failed? There must be a reason. Come and he will tell you what it is and how to remove it that you may be successful in all affairs of life, love, marriage, divorce, health, business, property, stocks, law suits, positions. Locates absent friends, settles lovers' quarrels, reunites separated, gives power of control; in a word whatever may be your troubles, suspicions or desires, visit Prof. Hunt and he will advise you with a certainty as to the proper course to pursue.

Unlike the fortune teller and pretender he asks no fee in advance and absolutely refuses to accept any remuneration for his readings if perfect satisfaction is not given.

Prof. Hunt advertises nothing but what he can and will do and his fees are within the reach of all.

All business sacred and strictly confidential. His own attendants.

LOW PRICES LOW

Hours 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Office 162 Sixth Street.

Drugs! Drugs! Drugs!

Everything Pure, Fresh and Best Quality.

HODSON'S Drug Store. 5th and Broadway.

New Era Restaurant, Billiard Hall and Cafe, J. C. WALSH, Prop.

110 and 112 Sixth Street, East Liverpool, O.

Tobacco and Cigar department stocked with the finest cigars and Tobacco in the market. Dining room up to date. Table d'hote meals 25c. Banquets a specialty. Best furnished billiard and pool room in the state. Lighted with electric lights. Bar open from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m.

ROSS MEADOWS

Situate on the Lisbon and Liverpool Road, one and a half miles beyond

PLEASANT HEIGHTS

and on the proposed Lisbon, Salem and Liverpool Electric Line.

Last summer we laid out and sold the north half of this farm. We now offer

The South Half, in parcels of 2, 2½, 5, 10 and 20 Acres.

ANY SIZE YOU WANT.

Prices $75, $90 and $100 per acre.

The land lies level and gently sloping. Suitable for a

Truck Farm,
Vegetable Farm,
A Country Home,
A Fruit Farm,
A Poultry Farm.

Within easy distance of town.

Want a Small Country Place?

It will suit you.

Why live on 30x100 when the Same money Will buy from Two to ten acres And give you Elbow room.

Our horse and buggy at your service, see us.

ELIJAH W. HILL,

Real Estate Dealer,
Cor. Sixth and

Washington Sts.,

East Liverpool,

Ohio.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

A Son Born—Born, to Mr. and Mrs. William Fickis, Pleasant Heights, a son.

Will Play This Week—The New Kensington, Pa., baseball team will be here Friday and Saturday of this week and meet the local nine on the West End ground.

On the Move—The following movements have been handled at the freight depot: A. Tams, from Trenton; William Kinkade, from Zanesville, and Jonathan Hughes and E. Stevens, to Sebring.

Want to Play Ball—The Third Street Reds would like to arrange games with any 15 or 16-year-old teams in the city, the Crocker City Juniors preferred. Cleveland Good is manager.

Gardendale Potters' Team—The potters of Gardendale would like to have a game with any ball team in the city at any time or place. The following is the line-up: Catcher, Blazer; pitcher, Rutledge; short, Dawson; first, J. Leigh; second, Dalley; third, Cunningham; right, Shingleton; center, Smith; left, H. Leigh.

Rain Stopped the Game—The game of base ball between the Crocker City Juniors and the West End team was not completed last evening, owing to the rain. But two innings were played, the score standing 6 to 2 in favor of the Crocker City. The latter team is out with a challenge to any juvenile club in the city, the East End Junior Grays preferred.

Funeral of Miss Little—Funeral services over the remains of Miss Bessie E. Little, who died yesterday morning, will be conducted at the late home tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Dr. Clark Crawford and Dr. Taggart will officiate and interment will be made at Riverview. The remains may be viewed from 7 until 10 o'clock to night and between the hours of 9 and 11 tomorrow morning.

The T. & H. Block—The detail plan of the terra cotta work for the new business block to be erected on Fifth street between Washington and Broadway by Dr. W. A. Hobbs and W. L. Thompson are being prepared by Architect A. W. Scott. Some time ago it was suggested that the new block be named the "Emporium," but this has been changed to the "T. & H." block.

TIME FOR FANS. CURRENT FOR DESK FANS COSTS 1 CENT PER HOUR; FOR CEILING FANS 1.75 CENTS PER HOUR, FROM WHICH A DISCOUNT OF 25 PER CENT IS ALLOWED IF PAID ON OR BEFORE THE 10TH OF EACH MONTH. 35-44 THE CERAMIC CITY LIGHT CO.

A PERFECT LIGHT. THE CURRENT FOR A SIXTEEN CANDLE POWER INCANDESCENT LAMP COSTS APPROXIMATELY 3.4 OF A CENT PER HOUR; FOR A TWO THOUSAND CANDLE POWER ARC LIGHT 1.34 CENTS PER HOUR; FOR A TWELVE HUNDRED CANDLE POWER 4.34 CENTS PER HOUR.

ALL BILLS SUBJECT TO 25 PER CENT DISCOUNT IF PAID BEFORE THE 10TH OF THE MONTH. THE CERAMIC CITY LIGHT CO. 34-44

Amusements.

ROCK SPRINGS PARK

Week of July 29, 1901.

MONDAY Prof. Dellfruge, of Wheeling will have charge of park.

TUESDAY Salem Merchants—Elks Annual Outing.

WEDNESDAY Morning—McDougall's Dancing School.

Wellsburg Union Sabbath Schools.

Evening—Dancing.

THURSDAY Excursion for benefit of Old Folks' Home, Pittsburg (colored).

Evening—Dancing.

FRIDAY Union Sunday School, New Cumberland.

Evening—Dancing.

SATURDAY Wellsville Amalgamated Association of Tin, Iron and Steel Workers.

Every Evening Beginning at 9:30, Allen's Famous Moving Pictures.

Nowling's Orchestra.

J. H. MAXWELL, Manager.

COLUMBIAN PARK!

11 nights commencing Thursday, August 1st.

Thos. Edison's marvelous reproduction of the world famous

"Passion Play"

In conjunction with a splendid miscellaneous program.

To St. Ry. Patrons, 5c. To Others 10c. Seats 5c.

Free

Free

THE BOSTON STORE

Clearance Sale of Summer Dry Goods Commenced This Morning.

THE wind up of the sale of Summer merchandise is here. Lots of seasonable goods which were here at the beginning of the season are odds and ends, other departments are yet complete. The next few days will be memorable ones in this store. Prices are relentlessly cut to close out all summer merchandise. Space forbids us to tell you the merits of the bargains offered below. Come and see for yourself and you will not be disappointed. Dollars can be saved at this clearance sale of summer merchandise.

Summer Wrappers for $1.00

All our summer wrappers of the famous "Saratoga make," that sold at $2, $2.50 and $3, now your choice $1.

Shirt Waist Suits—All shirt waist suits made of chambray, duck, madras and percale to be closed out as follows: $3 suits for $2.25, $2.50 suits $1.88, $2 suits $1.50.

Shirt Waists for 69c—All our dollar shirt waists made of plain and striped ginghams, linens, madras and lawns to be closed out at 69c.

One table of black lawn shirt waists that sold at $1, $1.35 and $1.50, take your choice for 25c.

Our entire stock of white and colored shirt waists that sold from $1 up to $3.50 to be closed out at greatly reduced prices.

Wash Skirts for $1—Any wash skirt in this house that sold at $1.50 and up to $5, now your choice for $1.

Dressing Sacques at 25 and 33½ per cent. off. Our entire stock of dressing sacques, all new this season, made of lawns, dimities, percales and challies, to be closed out at ½ and ¼ former prices.

Foulard Silks at 75c a Yard—All Foulard silks, exclusive patterns, all new this season, $1 and $1.25 silks, now your choice for 75c a yard.

Tailor Made Suits and taffeta Eton jackets, greatly reduced in prices. One lot of women's and misses' suits, all new and strictly tailor made, that sold at $15, now half price, $7.50.

All other tailor made suits at greatly reduced prices. All taffeta silk Eton jackets at half price.

The above and many other Bargains of like manner you will find at different departments throughout the entire store. But no matter what we tell you here, when you come you'll find them much bigger than our talk. We close at 5 O'Clock Saturdays & Mondays excepted.

5th and Market. THE BOSTON STORE A. S. Young.

WELLSVILLE

FUNDS FOR A MONUMENT

Wellsville Sons of Veterans Propose to Erect a Memorial to Dead Heroes.

Early next fall the Wellsville camp, Sons of Veterans, will give an entertainment in the opera house, the purpose of which will be to raise funds for the erection of the soldiers' and sailors' monument which it is proposed to erect in the square.

There is some money raised for this purpose now, but the amount is not sufficient.

Boys Fined for Bathing.

A number of small boys were taken before Mayor Dennis Monday afternoon, a charge of swimming in the river within the city limits was preferred against them. Each arranged to pay a small fine, after which they were released.

Wellsville Newspaper Project.

A stock company with a capital stock of $15,000 is about to be formed at Wellsville to purchase the plant of the Wellsville Record. The deal is being conducted by a Mr. Ellis, of Mt. Vernon, O., said to be an old newspaper man.

CUPID'S WORK GOES ON

Justice Rose Officiated at the Wedding of Miss Ella Johnson and William Guth.

Justice Rose has a fondness for marrying young couples, and especially when the prospective bride is good looking the veteran magistrate officiates in the most exacting manner and summons all dignity at his command. When he reached his office this morning, and before he had time to shine his shoes and dust his office furniture, he was approached by a fine appearing young couple who desired to be made man and wife.

Though taken at a disadvantage the "squire" slicked up his hair and in short order had made all preparations for the ceremony. The candidates were Miss Ella M. Johnson, of East Liverpool, and William T. Guth, of Wheeling. It required but a few minutes to tie the nuptial knot and Mr. and Mrs. Guth left the office with smiles on their faces, while the magistrate stood fondly gazing the roll of "long green" which had been dropped into his hand. The couple will make their home at Wheeling.

Not Counted In the Contract.

Within the next week the cleaning of the walls of the new Carnegie library will be finished. This work is something that was not figured in the original specifications and will add $200 to the cost of the building. The contract has been let to R. McCreath, of Cleveland, who has been working on the contract for several days. The outside of all the brick walls is to be cleaned.

CHANGED HER MIND

Mrs. Mary Jane Miller Will Not Bring a Damage Suit Against Her Aged Rival.

Mrs. Mary Jane Miller, the aged Calcutta woman, who recently told a story of domestic infelicity to Justice McLane, was again in the city this morning. She has given up the idea of instituting a damage suit against the woman, who, she claimed, had alienated the affections of her husband, but on advice from friends proposes to take the matter up before the officials of the church of which Mr. Miller is a member.

She informed Justice McLane that her husband had not yet quit paying attentions to the woman who has been causing the trouble, but she expects he will soon see the error of his ways and come over to her side of the house.

SUB-COMMITTEES TO MEET

On Thursday Evening to Arrange For the Junior O. U. A. M. State Convention.

A meeting of all the sub-committees of the Jr. O. U. A. M. and of the Daughters of America will be held Thursday evening for the purpose of completing the program for the state convention of the two orders which will be held in this city Sept. 9, 10 and 11.

The meetings of the Junior Mechanics will be held in Mechanics' hall over the postoffice, but the meeting place of the Daughters of America has not yet been selected. It has been suggested that these meetings be held in either the Brotherhood hall or the Knights of Pythias hall, but so far no selection has been made. The attendance at this convention promises to be large.

BOY GAMBLERS

Paid Fines of $2 And Costs Each And Received a Scare in Addition.

Two of the three boys who were arrested Sunday afternoon for gambling were given a hearing before Acting Mayor McLane last night and entered a plea of guilty. They were fined $2 and costs each, which they paid and were released. The other lad is out of the city, but will have his hearing when he returns Saturday evening.

This is the first time either of the boys had been in trouble. They are the sons of well-to-do parents. They were badly frightened when taken before his honor, and it is likely the lesson they received will be long remembered.

News Review "Wants" bring quick results.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY.

FOR SALE—A six-year-old cow, Jersey; gives four gallons of milk per day. Inquire at Virden's, First street, Chester, W. Va. 37-8*

WANTED—A girl for general household work. Apply at 151 Fourth street. 33-r

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Of Columbiana County Republicans Announced By Chairman I. B. Cameron.

Lisbon, July 30. — (Special)—The complete Republican county executive committee has been announced by Hon. I. B. Cameron as follows:

I. B. Cameron, chairman, Lisbon; John S. McNutt, secretary, Lisbon; James N. Hanley, treasurer, East Liverpool; George Davidson, East Liverpool; Sherman T. Atchison, Albert Hayes, Salem; John B. Morgan, Leetonia; A. L. McDonald, Wellsville; George B. Harvey, Ed A. King, Lisbon; Harry N. Chamberlin, R. T. Davis, East Palestine; R. N. Hull, Salineville; Aaron Esterly, Columbiana.

NEW STREET CARS

Equipped With Double Trucks Will Soon Be In Use on the Street Railway.

The five new cars ordered some time ago by the East Liverpool Street Railway company are expected to arrive here from Elizabeth, N. J. within the next two weeks. These cars will be double trucked, and will be modern in every detail.

The double trucks for the winter cars which arrived here early this year, were found to be in good order, and the first set is being placed under car No. 14. This car, it is expected, will be in readiness to be given a trial run early next week.

May Move to Salem.

Salem, July 30.—The Leetonia boiler works, tool works and machine shop, which was burned out at Leetonia last Saturday morning, may be located in this city. The company intends to rebuild and would like to come to Salem if the board of trade will extend sufficient encouragement.

The Napkin Problem.

Do not crumple up your table napkin. If you are only a guest for the day, do not fold it up, but if you are staying on and in a quiet household fold it up, remarks an exchange. If you are staying in a big house where everything is done on grand prince, do not fold it up. Just place it on the table when you leave, as in rich establishments there are clean table napkins every day.

Fashion's Echoes.

Foulards will be greatly worn this season, but always of the satin faced kind, except for seaside or country wear. They are profusely trimmed with lace and velvet ribbons.

Pure white costumes in every imaginable material—white pique, white duck, white linen, sheer white wash fabrics, white cloth, white serge, white camel's hair and white taffeta—are the fashion of the summer.

Artificial flowers are flourishing on gowns this season. Sashes of every description promise to be a prominent feature of afternoon and evening costumes. With lawn and organdie toilets the sashes are of the material, insertion striped and lace trimmed.

News Review "Wants" bring quick results.

PROF. HUNT, M. A.

The World's Greatest Living

CLAIRVOYANT PALMIST

Ordained to do what he does. His marvelous achievements demonstrated in your presence, while you look, listen and wonder.

OFFICE 162 Sixth St. OFFICE Judge Men By Their Works.

The moment you call he tells your name, age and what you want to know without asking a single question. There is no guess work, no experimenting, every proceeding is definite and exact. He does not ask you to have faith, he proves you facts.

Are you unsuccessful, unhappy or unlucky? Have you tried to succeed and failed? There must be a reason. Come and he will tell you what it is and how to remove it that you may be successful in all affairs of life, love, marriage, divorce, health, business, property, stocks, law suits, positions. Locates absent friends, settles lovers' quarrels, reunites separated, gives power of control; in a word whatever may be your troubles, suspicions or desires, visit Prof. Hunt and he will advise you with a certainty as to the proper course to pursue.

Unlike the fortune teller and pretender he asks no fee in advance and absolutely refuses to accept any remuneration for his readings if perfect satisfaction is not given.

Prof. Hunt advertises nothing but what he can and will do and his fees are within the reach of all.

All business sacred and strictly confidential. His own attendants.

LOW PRICES LOW

Hours 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Office 162 Sixth Street.

Drugs!
Drugs!
Drugs!

Everything Pure, Fresh and Best Quality.

HODSON'S Drug Store.

5th and Broadway.

New Era Restaurant, Billiard Hall and Cafe, J. C. WALSH, Prop.

110 and 112 Sixth Street, East Liverpool, O.

Tobacco and Cigar department stocked with the finest cigars and Tobacco in the market. Dining room up to date. Table d'hote meals 25c. Banquets a specialty. Best furnished billiard and pool room in the state. Lighted with electric lights. Bar open from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m.

A TERRIFIED MILL WORKER CAPTURED AND SENT AWAY

East Liverpool Contributes an Exciting Chapter to the Wellsville Strike.

JOHN MATTHEWS SPOTTED

Driven to Close Quarters, Seized By Union Potters and Put On a Car.

OTHER MEN'S EXPERIENCES

Were Almost Equally Thrilling. More Men Are at Work in the Wellsville Mill Today — End Thought to Be Near.

It was a busy season for the supporters of the Wellsville Amalgamated men last night. At least four of the parties who have been working at the mill will have reason to remember their experience for some time to come.

About 6:30 John Matthews, who went out with the strikers at the beginning, but who afterward went to work, arrived in the city on a street car and alighted in the Diamond. In a very few minutes he was recognized by a number of potters and several small boys were put on the track of the man to see that he did not get lost. There was no need of this precaution, however, as Matthews was very well known in the city—also his record—and before he had been here half an hour at least 100 potters knew of his presence.

Matthews arrived at the corner of Sixth and Washington at about 7 o'clock, and quite a crowd had assembled to keep him in tow. He noticed the attention he was attracting and started down Sixth to Good & Johnston's barber shop. The man entered and seated himself behind a stairway where he could not be seen from the street. Immediately a crowd collected upon the outside and several of the foremost informed the proprietor he had a "scab" in his shop. Mr. Good, who runs the first chair, paid little attention to the talk at the time, but when the crowd increased until about 200 men and boys had collected outside the door, he went over to the man and inquired what the trouble was. Matthews was so confused and frightened that he caught up a fan, and without answering began fanning himself furiously.

At this juncture W. B. Moore, an old mill worker, who for many years worked in the Pittsburgh district, happened along and after inquiry as to what the trouble was, went into the shop and had no difficulty in identifying the man.

Moore had good reason for remembering, as Matthews was well known in Pittsburgh 12 years ago when he was one of a number of men who replaced the strikers at the Jones & Laughlin plant, in whose employ Moore was at that time. Matthews explained that he had quit the mill and would not go back, but the crowd was determined to get him out of town and he finally emerged from the shop after attempting to induce the barbers to dye his moustache and permit him to leave by the back door. He was seized by a number of men and marched down Washington street to the corner of Fourth, where he was put on board a westbound car and taken to Wellsville. Fully 200 men and boys followed the non-union man and his escort down the street, and it was with difficulty that the men in charge of Matthews put him on the car.

About 40 of the local men accompanied the strike breaker to Amalgamated headquarters at Wellsville. The man was badly frightened and promised to give in his notice today. He stated he would not work longer than tonight, and upon that promise was permitted to go home.

Matthews was to quitwork at the mill as soon as his turn was through this afternoon, but at headquarters this morning it was rumored that he would not join the association, as it was supposed he would last evening.

Matthews is an old man, having been employed in the various mills of the country for many years. He has been a non-unionist for a long time, and his wife stated when seen this morning that she did not believe he would ever join the Amalgamated. She gave as her reason for this belief that her husband had gone out with the men at St. Louis many years ago and that it had been a losing fight. They had lost the strike and the Matthews had been deprived of their property. The husband laid their loss at the door of the union and would have nothing to do with it.

A son of John Matthews, who is also working, came to town last night to call on a lady friend, but owing to the fact that the feeling was still strong and the boys had spotted him the young man left town shortly after his arrival.

It seems the feeling against the Wellsville non-unionists did not subside until near morning, as up to the time of the departure of the midnight train a large crowd of Liverpool people were still looking for strike breakers.

A young man named Sweeney, who refused to strike, came here last evening with an employee of the Wellsville railroad shops. They were not known until near train time, but there was a crowd of about 50 people assembled to see them off. The Liverpool crowd was demonstrative, and Sweeney, evidently fearing trouble, went into the train as soon as it arrived, leaving his companion on the platform. Several of the ring leaders of the mob mistook the railroader for Sweeney and was about to do him up when he explained who he was. It was too late to get hold of the right man then, and he returned to Wellsville. It is safe to say he will not return—at least while the strike lasts.

Sweeney, it is reported, spent the night in the Wellsville railroad shops.

John A. Mackaye, a correspondent covering the Wellsville strike for a Pittsburgh paper, had an amusing experience, and had it not been for a local newspaper man, might have fared badly at the hands of the East Liverpool crowd. Mackaye had been in this city all the evening and concluded to return to Wellsville on train No. 41. He made some inquiries as to the location of the Pennsylvania passenger station. The correspondent does not look like a mill worker, but the crowd did not consider this fact, and at once took it for granted that he was going to work at the mill. They followed him to the depot and the crowd was bent upon doing him up when a local reporter approached and engaged in conversation with him. This resulted in explanations being made which exonerated the newspaper man and spoiled a good story for the big dailies.

A large crowd of strikers was about the headquarters of the Amalgamated lodge rooms at Wellsville this morning, and it was evident the strikers were expecting to hear some important news from the officials of the association who are now at Pittsburgh attending the joint conference of the officials of the association and those of the Sheet Steel company.

Although there was a picket guard on duty all night there was not one new capture made. Indeed matters are becoming monotonous, to use the expression of one of the strikers seen at headquarters today.

Several members were taken into the association Monday afternoon, but beside this three members were lost, they having returned to work at the mill. The names of these men, as given out by President Harry Culp, of the Wellsville lodge, are William Donnett, Arthur Murdock and William Dunlap. Besides these men, it has been said by the management of the mill, that four other men started to work Monday. Their names were given as John Smith, Samuel Herbaugh and Fred Ash. The name of one could not be learned. This makes a total of seven men reported as having gone to work at the mill Monday, or enough to put on another mill. However true this may be, there are just the same number of mills working today as yesterday.

Edward Bunting, who lost his position at the mill before the great strike was declared, became a member of the Amalgamated Association Monday, as did Lemuel Shaffer, another mill worker. He has been out of the city for several weeks and just returned to Wellsville yesterday.

A secret meeting of the association is to be held at the headquarters of the lodge tomorrow afternoon when the details for the field day to be observed at Rock Springs park next Saturday will be completed. There is some other business to transact, but the nature of it is not made public.

Everything is quiet at the strikers' camp on the West Virginia side of the

(Continued on Fifth Page.)

OBSTACLES MET CAUSING DELAY

Street Cars Not Likely to Run to Smith's Ferry This Season.

THERE IS DISAGREEMENT

Between a Land Owner And the Railway Company Which Has Not Yet Been Adjusted—Calcutta Line Extension Is Also Deferred.

Many obstacles have been in the way of the East Liverpool Street railway company during the past few weeks, and the company has not been able to rush through its improvements as fast as desired. Such was the purport of the statement made by Road Superintendent Thomas Reed this morning.

When work on the extension of the road to Smith's Ferry was begun it was supposed that it would be completed within a few months, and that cars would be running to the Pennsylvania town by fall. From present indications this will not be the case, and it is likely that no cars will be operated on that extension until next summer. It appears that Frank Allabaugh, who owns a tract of land along the route selected by the company, cannot come to terms with the officers of the road for the sale of the right of way, and according to Mr. Reed's statement the company is not likely to build the extension further than Mr. Allabaugh's land this summer unless some agreement is reached soon.

On Calcutta road, or Grandview extension of this road, there is more trouble. The rails have been laid to a point near the watering trough a short distance from the new park, but the company is unable to erect its trolley poles on account of the wires of the Columbiana County Telephone company being in the way. Erection of the trolley poles at this time would cause serious trouble to the telephone company. Conferences have been held between the officials of the two companies recently, and the changing of the telephone poles may be commenced soon. Had the telephone poles been removed this week the street railway company would have run cars to the park next Sunday.

Contractor McLaughlin is to commence work this week making the fill about the abutments of the new bridge which is to span Dry Run in the East End near the old loop. It will require several weeks to complete this work.

Visiting a Former Chum.

Daniel Ingram, ex-lieutenant of police at Wheeling, is in the city. He is the guest of James Larkins, who was formerly a member of the Wheeling police force. Mr. Ingram is a man of gigantic stature and during the time he served as an officer of the law made an enviable record for himself. He is one of the most popular men in Wheeling and has many friends and acquaintances in this city.

Marriage Licenses.

Lisbon, July 30.—(Special)—Marriage licenses have been issued to David Jenkins and Lena Daum, Lisbon; William T. Guth and Ella M. Johnson, East Liverpool; Edward Weingart, Salem, and Emma Haddi, Homeworth.

STRIKE CONFERENCE IS YET VOID OF RESULTS

Pittsburg, July 30.—(Special)—The strike conference is in progress, but it is evident that the hopefulness of an outcome satisfactory to the Amalgamated men is waning.

At 2 o'clock the general executive board of the Amalgamated had held two sessions to discuss the propositions looking toward a settlement.

Members would not talk, but from the gloomy looks on the faces of all parties present at recess, it seems apparent that the offers of the trust are considered unsatisfactory.

Two former presidents of the Amalgamated, M. M. Garland and Joseph Bishop, were called into the meeting.

The impression is that the proposition is that scales be signed for all mills that were union before the strike and for some that were organized after it began. All plants are to be technically open hereafter.

The company is to have the right to place non-union men in any plant and keep them there.

In addition to the plants covered by the expired scale it is to be signed for the following: W. DeWees Wood, of McKeesport; Painter, Lindsay & McCutcheon and Clark mills, of Pittsburg, and Monessen plant of the American Steel Hoop company.

The question of the Wellsville sheet plant and the Monessen tin plate plant, being directly covered by the scale, is to be settled by the conference.

The Amalgamated Association is to have the privilege of organizing the men in any of the plants.

MUST ANSWER TO GRAND JURY

Mrs. Robert Waters Bound Over to Court on a Peace Charge.

MADE NUMEROUS THREATS

Which Caused Mrs. Emma Smith to Swear Her Life Against the Woman—Tried Before Justice McLane And Pleaded Guilty.

Mrs. Robert Waters was arrested last evening by Constable Miller and taken before Justice McLane to answer to charges filed against her by Mrs. Emma Smith. The plaintiff alleged that Mrs. Waters had threatened to strike her with a shovel handle and that she was afraid her life was in danger. The affidavit was filed for a peace warrant, but when the defendant was placed on trial she denied the charges made by Mrs. Smith.

The women are neighbors, and according to the story told to the magistrate by both Mr. and Mrs. Smith the Waters woman has been making life a burden to them. It is alleged she has threatened on several occasions to do violence to Mrs. Smith, which led up to the filing of the action against her.

Owing to the absence of witnesses the trial was postponed until 8 o'clock this morning. The justice allowed the defendant to return to her home on her promise to be on hand at the time set for the trial. She wanted to file charges last night against Mrs. Smith for conducting a disorderly house, but Squire McLane informed her she would have to wait until the case against her was disposed of.

After a protracted delay in serving subpoenas on witnesses, and after the most of them had been brought into court, Mrs. Waters changed her plea from not guilty to that of guilty. She was placed under bond of $50 for her appearance before the grand jury and given until 5 o'clock this evening to obtain the necessary security. The justice warned the woman that if she was found guilty of committing another breach of the peace she would be immediately taken to the Lisbon jail.

Some time later Mrs. Waters went to Justice McCarron's office and attempted to file a charge against Mrs. Smith of keeping a disorderly house, but as she was unable to put up security for the costs in the case, her complaint was not listened to.

ON ANOTHER RAMPAGE

Mrs. Robert Waters Again Threatens the Life of Mrs. Emma Smith.

Frank Smith, husband of the woman who was the plaintiff in the action against Mrs. Robert Waters, who was bound over to court in Justice McLane's court this morning and placed under bond to keep the peace, called at the justice's office this afternoon and stated that Mrs. Waters had again threatened to kill Mrs. Smith this afternoon.

He stated that his wife had not ventured out of the house since her return from the trial, because of the threat made by the Waters woman that she would kill her on sight. Mr.

MUTILATED AND BURNED BY FILIPINO INSURGENTS

Waters asked permission of Justice McLane to take his wife away from the city. He was given liberty to do so, but if she is not gone by 5 o'clock Constable Miller will take her to the Lisbon jail.

Sued for a Lumber Bill.

Lisbon, July 30.—(Special)—T. J. Kerr and J. M. Kerr, of East Liverpool, have brought suit against John H. Mattox for $412.44, claimed to be due for lumber.

CROWDS FROM SALEM

IN POSSESSION OF ROCK SPRINGS PARK TODAY.

The Merchants' And Elks' Picnic a Successful And Enjoyable Affair.

Two special trains which came by way of Alliance arrived this forenoon, bringing about 2,100 people who came to attend the outing at Rock Springs park given by the merchants and Elks of Salem. Although the crowd is not as large as was expected, it is enough to be a merry one, and all the visitors appear to be enjoying themselves.

On the excursion trains were over 1,500 people from Salem, and delegations from East Palestine, Columbiana, Leetonia, Lisbon, Sebring, Kensington and Alliance, brought the crowd up to the number stated. Most of the visitors repaired to the park at once on their arrival, though several hundred visited in East Liverpool during a portion of the day.

The ball game between the Salem and East Liverpool barbers this afternoon is the only athletic event scheduled for the day. Committees of Elks have charge of the pavilion and the various amusement features. Dancing will afford enjoyment to a large number, both day and evening. The last train will leave town at 11 p. m., city time.

The outing is open to the public and East Liverpool people are invited to attend both afternoon and evening.

DRUNKEN MAN'S ACT

DEFENSELESS WOMAN'S HOUSEHOLD EFFECTS SMASHED.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sheets Accuses "Crip" Cain of Committing the Cowardly Deed.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sheets, who lives in Dewdrop alley, was a visitor at police court this morning. Her mission was for the purpose of filing charges against "Crip" Cain, who, she alleges, while on a spree last night, called at her home and created a disturbance.

The woman stated that, aside from abusing her, the man broke up her furniture, and before he ceased his work of destruction had ruined everything of value she possessed. At different times, it is alleged by the officers, Cain has been accused of imposing on the Sheets woman, but no complaint has ever been made by her against him.

As the woman did not have sufficient money to secure the costs of the case she was unable to get law. She left the mayor's office expecting to return this afternoon, and it is likely Cain's arrest will follow this evening.

BOYS FINED

Acting Mayor McLane Disposes of the Cases of the Juvenile Pilferers.

John Wines, William Lease, Emmitt Newman and Harry Gamble, the boys who were arrested yesterday morning by Chief Thompson, charged with stealing brass from the old electric light plant, were arraigned before Acting Mayor McLane last evening.

The charge against the boys was changed to malicious destruction of property, as it was not the desire of the owner of the property to have the youngsters prosecuted to an unreasonable extent. All pleaded guilty to the charge, but claimed they did not know that any value was attached to the metal they were looking for.

A fine of $2 and costs was imposed on each of the lads. Gamble, who is known by the sobriquet of "Charger," is said to be an unruly boy, and he was committed to the workhouse. His father paid his fine and he was released with his companions.

Acting Mayor McLane gave the boys some fatherly advice, which they promised to profit by.

Arthur Burrows' Body Said to Have Been Thus Disposed of.

AFTER HE WAS KILLED

His Companions Hid His Body and the Rebels Found and Destroyed It.

SAVAGE BARBARITY DISPLAYED

John Hughes, a Returned Soldier, Discredits the Report That the Body of the East Liverpool Soldier Will or Can Be Sent Home.

A story told of John Hughes, who has just returned from the Philippines, where he served with Company L, Forty-seventh U. S. volunteer infantry, discredits the statement made in a letter received in this city recently from the captain of Company M, of the same regiment, in which Corporal Arthur Burrows served previous to his death.

It will be recalled that the communication from Burrows' commanding officer stated that the young man's body had been recovered and would be sent home immediately. Since that time nothing has been heard as to the disposition of the corpse.

According to Mr. Hughes, young Burrows was killed in an engagement during a 15 days' march, in which a detachment of his regiment participated. After the battle his body was picked up along with that of a colored sergeant of the Ninth United States cavalry, and both were carried back in the direction of the camp until nightfall, when they were placed in a crevice between two large rocks until the following morning, when it was the intention to recover and bury them.

With a pack pony several of Burrows' comrades returned to the spot where his body had been left, but found that both his body and that of the negro were missing. An immediate search was begun with the result that two insurgents were captured. Both were covered with blood and it was at once suspected they had mutilated the bodies of the two dead soldiers.

Both denied knowing what their captors desired to learn, but later when they were strung up to a tree with ropes about their necks until the life had been almost choked out of them they agreed to furnish the information asked.

To an interpreter the rebels related a most horrifying account of what had been done with the missing bodies. Soon after the had been laid away between the rocks by the men who first recovered them a party of insurgents, including the two captives, discovered the corpses and took them to the headquarters of the rebel general. There the heads of each were severed and placed on poles, after which a heathenish demonstration was held while the bodies were being burned.

Mr. Hughes states that the stories told by the rebels were after corroborated and he is certain there is no possibility of Burrows' body ever being recovered. He places no credence in the assurance of the young man's captain that it has been found, but says it is possible another body may be sent here as that of Hughes. He claims this has been often done, at times when relatives of a dead soldier became urgent in their demands that the body be sent to them.

Though not with the detachment which accompanied Burrows at the time of his death, Mr. Hughes claims to have secured his information from those who were with the young man, and that it is reliable.

TOOK POISON

Salem Wife Attempted Suicide After a Dispute With Her Mother.

Salem, July 30.—(Special)—Mrs. Harry Zimmerman, wife of a young employee of the Silver Manufacturing company, is alleged to have swallowed ammonia with suicidal intent on Sunday. She is now out of danger.

A difference of opinion with her mother over the sort of liquid refreshments to be served at a Sunday dinner is said to have caused her to take the poison.

EAST END

HOME FROM THE WAR

Charles Goodballet Expects to Be Back From the Philippines in October.

Conrad Goodballet, a stonemason, residing in the Klondike district, has received a letter from his brother, Charles Goodballet, who is serving in the army in the Philippine islands, in which he states that his time of enlistment will expire next month and that he expects to return to his home in the East End not later than October 1.

Mr. Goodballet states in his letter that he will bring a number of game chickens from the Orient upon his return.

Quarrying Building Stone.

The stone being used for the foundations for the various buildings being erected by the Laughlin China company is being secured from the quarry on the property above Pennsylvania avenue, formerly owned by C. A. Smith. This stone was purchased by Alex. Chaffin and John Schmelzenbach soon after the land was placed on the market.

Child Lost a Finger.

Dr. W. E. Mowen on Monday afternoon amputated one of the fingers of the hand of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. James Robinet. The child had its hand injured several days ago by having it caught by a falling door at the new school house in the East End.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Mrs. Walter E. Mowen and Ted Mowen will leave Tuesday evening for Steubenville, where they will remain several days visiting relatives.

This morning guard rails were placed between the tracks of the street railway line crossing the trestle at a point east of Ralston crossing.

Workmen have commenced excavating for a new residence to be erected on Mulberry street by Henry Nelninger. The foundation will be started next week.

The social given in Mechanics' hall in the East End last evening by the Junior Endeavor Society of the Second Presbyterian church was a success in every detail. It was originally proposed to give a lawn fete, but the rain interfered with this plan.

CAUGHT BIG FISH

Col. Chew Returns From the Ohio Wilds With a Great Story.

Wheeling, July 30.—Col. Matthew Chew has arrived home from a sojourn at the camp of the Central Fishing club on the Muskingum river above Marietta. Among the members of the club are Ben Wilkie, James Steadman and a number of other well known East Wheeling men. Col. Chew has been somewhat depressed by the cares of high official life recently, but a short stay with the Muskingum fishermen seems to have given him new strength and courage to take up the burdens of life again.

He made the statement that one day last week the members of the club caught 167 fish, the largest of which weighed 27 pounds. As Col. Chew is a gentleman of high reputation for veracity, as for many other graces of character, there are few who will doubt the fish story.

PUBLICLY MARRIED

Grant Taylor, a Murdered Man, Figured in a Fourth of July Celebration.

Steubenville, July 30.—The shooting tragedy at King's Mines, near Cambridge, recalls to people here the public marriage on July 4, 1896, of Grant Taylor, the murdered man, and Mary Witherall, of Brilliant. It was at the opening of Pleasant Heights Driving Park by the Knights of Pythias, and 5,000 people saw the marriage and wished the couple happiness. Because they were publicly married they were presented with a handsome bedroom suite.

Appointed a Receiver.

Wooster, July 30.—G. A. McDonald has been appointed receiver for the West Lebanon Coal company on petition of Daniel Hanna, president of the company, and George Young, of Cleveland. They do not want to buy the company, but to prevent J. A. Beidler, one of the officials, from injuring the prospects of the company by his actions.

Girl's Fight With a Burglar.

Warren, July 30.—A lone burglar entered the residence of the Misses Hall yesterday morning, and secured a large amount of jewelry. Miss Mary Hall fought the intruder with a feather bolster, but he escaped with the jewel drawer under his arm.

GIRL'S STRANGE STORY

SPEECHLESS AND DEAF FROM BURGLARS' TREATMENT.

Says They Held Her Mouth Open And Ran a Needle Down Her Throat.

Steubenville, July 30.—One of the most peculiar cases of robbery ever before the police department came to light Saturday evening, and it has puzzled the police, physicians and entire community, and the mystery remains unsolved.

It occurred at the home of Dr. A. M. Blackburn, 417 North Fifth street, about 1 o'clock Saturday morning and since then Miss Sarah Blackburn has been confined to her bed, her speech entirely gone, and partly paralyzed and partly deaf. For what motive robbers could have carried on such nefarious action utterly devoid of human treatment is not made clear.

Friday night Miss Blackburn had been to Altamont at a private gathering and returned home at 11:45 o'clock. On entering the house her father, who sleeps downstairs, asked if she got home all right, and she answered yes, bidding him good night and going on into the house. What followed then is told in a written statement of the young woman who is speechless and deaf from her treatment by the burglars. She says she retired and went to sleep. Then she heard voices in her room, and opened her eyes to see two masked men, one of either side of her bed.

"When I raised up," she says, "one man hit me a blow on the head, knocking me back in bed. Then one held my mouth open and head thrown back while the other one jabbed a large pointed needle down my throat almost six inches in length, and that hurt me so badly I couldn't make any kind of a noise. They pulled the needle out of my throat and I kind of turned on my side when one (the largest man) hit me in the back up between the shoulders, which hurt very badly. Then they started to the bureau and started rummaging. I heard the rattling of my friendship bracelet and tried to raise in bed, when they threw my hair brush at me, I suppose to make me lie down. I took the brush and pounded on the side of the bed with it. Then they swore at me and said with oaths that I supposed I had ruined their plans, but that I would not be able to speak for a week anyway. I hit harder against the bed and they by that time were on the roof, and I raised up and tried to see where they would go and they both leaped over the side and were gone when father got upstairs to me."

OWNED BY THE B. & O.

President Loree Inspecting Lorain & Wheeling And Other Recently Acquired Properties.

Wheeling, July 30.—President Loree and a dozen other high officials of the Baltimore & Ohio, arrived last night on a special train making an inspection of all recently acquired properties. President Loree announced that on August 1 the Cleveland Lorain & Wheeling, Ohio River Short Line and eight small roads in West Virginia will be taken over and cease to exist except as divisions of the Baltimore & Ohio.

All rolling stock will bear Baltimore & Ohio lettering. Bids have been asked for double tracking the Cleveland Lorain & Wheeling from Wheeling to Cleveland. It will be a short line for all traffic, including West Virginia coal, between Ohio valley and Lake points.

A Medical Student's Property.

Beaver Falls, July 30.—Coroner White investigated the mystery of the skeleton found in a culvert by some boys and discovered that it belonged to John Gilliland, a young doctor, who had got the body at the medical college and had placed it in the culvert until what flesh was still left on it had rotted away, when he intended to wire and place it in his office.

War on Beer Picnics.

Akron, July 30.—Sheriff F. S. Kelley has declared war on the German societies and others who have been selling beer at Sunday picnics throughout Summit county. Trouble is anticipated for the sheriff and his deputies next Sunday if they try to enforce the order.

A Postmaster Writes:

"I wish to add my testimonial to the genuine merit of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I have tried many remedies, but have found your Syrup Pepsin superior to all other laxatives and stomach medicines. My wife and I both use it and know it does all that you claim for it.

"Yours sincerely, C. O. KINNE.
"Alma, Kas., Dec. 22, 1900."
Sold by W. & W. Pharmacy.

News Review "Wants" bring quick results.

It Takes a Remedy of Uncommon Merit to Draw the Unqualified Praise of a Successful Practicing Physician.

Dr. J. W. Bates of Corfu, N. Y., states: "A most remarkable case has come under my hands of late and has fully convinced me of the wonderful power of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills over diseases of the nerves."

"A young lady who was treated for over two years for epilepsy by two doctors was given up to die. I found that her sickness was not epilepsy, but nervous troubles, due to menstrual derangements, and prescribed four of Dr. Chase's Nerve Pills a day, after meals and at bed-time. Since that time she has not had a single bad spell. Her health has rapidly improved, she has gained about fifteen pounds in weight, and I do not hesitate to state that Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills have saved her life and restored her to health."

See that the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase are on every box. Price 50 cents a box.—Six boxes for $2.50. Manufactured by the Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.
Sold in East Liverpool by Charles T. Larkins.

CRETNA GREEN

Couples By the Score Flock to Youngstown to Be Married.

Youngstown, July 30.—It was announced today that when the Junior Order of American Mechanics hold its annual picnic here next Saturday, 20 couples will come from Verona, Pa., to be married.

This city has long been the Cretna Green of western Pennsylvania, but never before has there been such a wholesale marrying scheduled. At Verona the mothers are afraid to mention the matter to their daughters or to inquire whether they will be among the couples. They are afraid they might put such an idea into their heads.

In Youngstown, the hackmen are preparing for the greatest day they have ever known. It is a habit with some Youngstown ministers and justices to divide their fees with hackmen who bring them business. The ministers will hurry back from their vacations to get a slice of the business.

BOARD OF HEALTH QUILTS

Sebring Officials Say They Have Received No Support From Council.

Sebring, July 30.—The entire board of health at Sebring, composed of Messrs. Robert Finley, Lon Fash, S. A. Crouse, W. K. Buxton, H. J. McMaster and C. J. Blummenstein, resigned in a body.

The reason assigned by the board for this act, is that they have received no support from council, although they have incurred necessary expense in the exercise of their duties to the amount of over $150.

FRENCH REUNION.

A Notable Gathering Was Held on Saturday.

Salem, July 30.—The annual reunion of the French family was held Saturday at Tolerton's grove, with the usual large attendance. Members of the family from Salem, Alliance, Lisbon, Atwater and other neighboring towns were present. A program of addresses, recitations, etc., was carried out.

The officers selected for next year were: Ellwood French, of Atwater, president; Louis G. French, vice president; Clarkson French, treasurer; Mrs. Emma French, secretary. The next reunion will probably be held here.

Colored Miner Killed.

Wellsburg, July 30.—William Anderson, a colored coal miner, was struck by the Panhandle railroad train about one mile below here and instantly killed. The scene of the accident is near the Carmichael coal works. Anderson, who is about 40 years of age, had been drinking during the day.

PULPIT AND PEW.

Smithfield, Va., claims the oldest church in the country. It is St. Luke's, erected in 1632 and restored in 1894.

Cincinnati is a stronghold of Presbyterianism. Sixty-four churches are included in its presbytery, 28 of these being within the limits of the city.

Dr. Josiah Oldfield, author of a new book on "The Death Penalty," says that he wrote to all the bishops of the Church of England for their opinions on the subject and not one of them favored the abolition of capital punishment.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

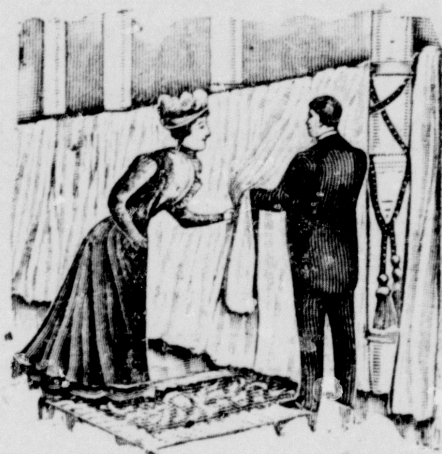

Sold by all Druggists, 75c. per bottle. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Try a News Review want ad.

Not Only Odds

and ends of the Stock but our entire Stock of Lace Curtains are included in this sale at 25 per cent Discount.

Dont make a mistake by missing it.

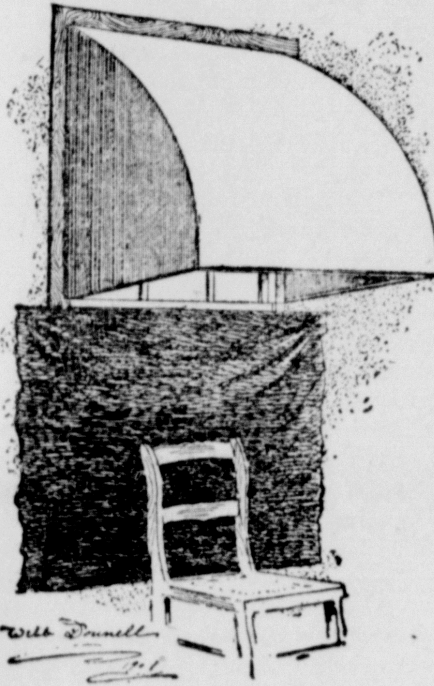

HARD'S
"THE BIG STORE"

THE FIRST CAMERA

SOME TROUBLES OF THE AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHER.

Taking Portraits at Home—Arrangement For Lighting a Sitter in an Ordinary Room—An Easy Method of Making a Dark Room.

One of the most interesting features of amateur photography is the taking of portraits. This work is of two kinds—the out of door snap shot portraiture that is often very successful, so far as the "likeness" goes, but always lacks the fine balancing of light and shade,

ARRANGEMENT FOR LIGHTING A SITTER, and the artistic finish of a portrait that is taken where the amount and the direction of the light can be controlled.

For the majority of amateurs the light that comes from the ordinary house window must be utilized.

The trouble encountered here is that a north window in a dwelling house admits too small an amount of light, while the direct sunlight of a south window is as bad as are out of door conditions. The strong light of a sunny window may be made to serve the purpose of the portrait taker.

A dark cloth is pinned across the lower sash, before which the sitter is placed, either back to the curtain or with the side of the body toward it, according to location of the camera. In front of the upper sash of the window is constructed a hood. The framework of this is of strips of wood put together in the form shown in the illustration. The curved pieces can be made of barrel hoops.

This framework is made to hang up on books against the window casing. It is covered with white cloth to reflect the light down upon the sitter. Over this is put a cover of black cloth, that the light may not come through and strike the lens of the camera.

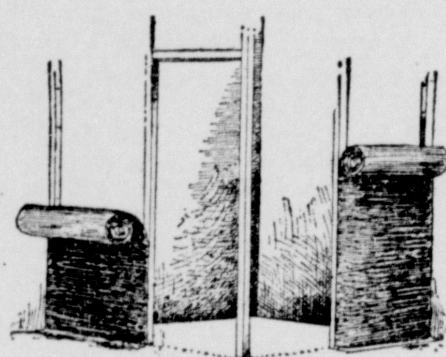

White and black paper will answer as well as cloth. The camera must be placed high enough on the tripod or the hood be brought down low enough so that no light from the upper sash may fall upon the camera lens. If the camera is placed directly in front of the window, the cloth covering the lower sash will form the background of the portrait. If the sitter sits with his side toward the window, a background should be hung from the side of the hood, coming down behind the sitter.

If at any time the light is too strong, a square of white muslin can be pinned across the base of the hood above the head of the sitter. This will diffuse the light somewhat and temper it. With these suggestions the amateur ought to be able by experimenting to reach a successful method of portrait taking in his own home. Some experimenting is necessary, since in no two houses are the conditions of light and windows exactly the same.

The want of a suitable dark room robs amateur photography of a great deal of its pleasure. A dark room big enough for all necessary purposes can easily be constructed in the corner of a stable, shed or unfinished chamber after the plan shown in the accompanying cut.

Mark off a square in the corner of the space to be utilized and set up five strips of 2 by 3 inch lumber in the manner shown. Put a "header" across between two strips for a doorway and cover all the rest of the wall space with black tarred paper, tacking it on as shown in the illustration, lapping the second piece over the edge of the first. For a door make a frame out of strips of board, putting a brace from the inner corner at the bottom to the outer corner at the top, to keep it from sagging, and cover the frame with the tarred paper. Hinge one side to an upright strip and tack on small strips inside so there will be no cracks left about the edges of the door when it is closed. Put up a broad shelf about two sides of the dark room, with a few smaller shelves above to hold chemicals, plates, paper and trays, and the dark room is complete.—Webb Donnell in Household.

AN EASILY MADE DARK ROOM.

Gospel Truth.

It may be hard to save your tin,
But there is this about it:
It's easier to live within
Your income than without it.
—Philadelphia Press.

Good Reason.

"I wonder why the Puffups have stopped inviting us to their dinner."
"I suppose it was because we always went."—Chicago Post.

Broiled.

In quest of sleep my eyes I shut,
But fierce discomforts thrill.
I bought it for a mattress, but
It seems more like a grill.
—Washington Star.

Quite Different.

She (indignantly)—But you had no business to kiss me.
"Oh, but it wasn't business; it was pleasure."—Life.

Botanical.

Let other folks go far to find
Broad fields of blossoms, red and sweet,
But I'm in clover—to my mind—
Here on this perch—at Daphne's feet.
—Detroit Free Press.

Concerning Liars.

"This is the age of invention."
"Yes, and the age of inventions about inventions."—Chicago Post.

BURNS & McQUILKIN,
LIVERY AND UNDERTAKING.

262 West Market Street.

Both Phones 10

Penmanship
Actual Business
Bookkeeping
Shorthand and Typewriting

are successfully taught at the

Ohio Valley Business
College,

East Liverpool, Ohio.

$10 Round Trip—Via Pennsylvania Lines—16 Days Limit.

On June 30th, July 5th, 15th, August 1st, 5th, 25th and September 12th, $10 Round trip tickets will be sold from East Liverpool to Atlantic City, Cape May and other prominent seaside resorts, good returning sixteen days including date of purchase. Trains leave 8:50 a. m., 11:21 a. m., 3:00 p. m., and 5:40 p. m., central time at Pittsburgh Union Station with trains hauling Pullman Sleeping Cars through to Atlantic City without change. For particulars address Adam Hill, Ticket Agent, East Liverpool.

W-th-8-317
AN ADVERTISEMENT placed in the NEWS REVIEW brings the best results.

THE FIRST NATIONAL...

BANK

OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO.

President—David Boyce.
Vice President—J. M. Kelly.
Cashier—N. G. Macrum.
Asst. Cashier—Thos. H. Fisher.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

David Boyce, W. L. Thompson;
J. M. Kelly, O. C. Vodrey;
B. C. Simms, Jas. N. Vodrey;
Jno. C. Thompson

CAPITAL - - $100,000
SURPLUS - - $100,000

General Banking Business.

Invites Business and

Personal Accounts

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT.
193 Washington Street.

Can and Can't

Where there is a job to be done secure the services of a

Plumber

who will do that job successfully. One that will overcome any and all difficulties and use the best material. Don't employ a firm that can't do skillfully everything pertaining to its line. If you desire satisfactory work employ

ARBUTHNOT BROS.,

Practical Plumbers,
Corner Broadway and Fifth St.

THE CRITERION DINING ROOM

having been removed to No. 176 Washington street, postoffice building, we are prepared to serve our patrons better and quicker than ever. The Best Meal in the city for the money.

W. E. LYTLE

Banquets and Suppers a Specialty.

Our Record.

Twenty years of Unbroken
Success.

Stronger and Better than Ever.

The Potters
National Bank.

Mason Jars

Extra Gums and Lids.
Stone Jars and Crocks
of all kinds at

Edwin Oppelts,

Both Phones 134.
No. 160 Fifth Street.

CONFERENCE TODAY.

Representatives of Amalgamated and Manufacturers to Confer.

3 SCALES MUST BE SETTLED.

Executive Committee's Decisions Said to Be Final With the Workers. Much Speculation as to Who Would Represent the Steel People.

J. H. Diehl, pastor of the Hyde Park Lutheran church. Mr. Diehl was present at a meeting of the Lutheran Ministerial association, in Allegheny, and in discussing the threatened attempt on the part of the American Sheet Steel company to start the Hyde Park mill with non-union men, said that it would put back the work of his church there for at least three years. Mr. Diehl said that his church had felt the effects of the strike keenly, and if non-union men were brought to the town it would take three years or more to get the congregation back to its present standing. Rev. E. S. Dickey, pastor of the Lutheran church at New Kensington, spoke in a similar strain. Both pastors earnestly hoped that the strike would be settled without delay.

WOULD GRATIFY LONG,

If Allen Would Be Returned to Navy Department.

Washington, July 30.—Secretary Long will leave here Thursday for his annual vacation, the major portion of which will be spent at his home at Hingham, Mass. He probably will return to Washington during the early part of September, prior to the date when the Schley court of inquiry meets. Assistant Secretary Hackett, who has been spending several weeks at his country home in New Castle, N. H., will return to the city Wednesday and will act as secretary. Mr. Hackett is expected to retire from the department early in September. His successor has not yet been selected.

OUTBREAKS OF BOXERS.

Notorious Chinaman Appointed to a Lucrative Position.

Shanghai, July 30.—The North China Daily News announces that there has been a recrudescence of outbreaks by the Boxers in the province of Shan Tung in consequence of the success of the allied villagers in Chi Li province against the troops of Li Hung Chang.

ELLIS GLENN JURY

WAS STILL OUT YESTERDAY.

Parkersburg, July 30.—The jury in the Ellis Glenn case was still out yesterday. The 12 men were brought into court Monday morning, after spending Sunday in custody of the jailer, and resumed their deliberation. About noon Monday they asked for instructions and about 3 o'clock notified the court of their failure to reach an agreement. The court gave them additional instructions and sent them back to the jury room, and about 4:30 o'clock they again notified the court that they could not agree. They were then excused till today. It is understood that they stand 10 for acquittal and 2 for conviction.

FORTY ARRESTS MADE

IN A SUNDAY RAID.

Pittsburg, July 30.—Police Magistrate S. F. Kerr disposed of the 40 cases resulting from Sunday's raid on the old Columbus Turner hall at No. 4615 Penn avenue. Thirty-five of the men arrested testified that they had paid for beer, although they did not belong to the club. Thirty-two of them paid fines of $3 and three were sent to jail for five days. The other five men were held for court under $2,000 bail each on charges of selling liquor without a license and on Sunday. They could not furnish bail.

DIVIDEND OF 1,000 PER CENT ASSERTED DECLARED.

New York, July 30.—It became known in the financial district that an enormous extra dividend, said to have been equal to 1,000 per cent, or $5,000,000, had been declared upon the $500,000 of old capital stock of the First National bank, which last week increased its capital to $10,000,000.

Successful Experiment of Balloon.

Paris, July 30.—M. Santos Dumont made another successful experiment with a dirigible balloon, sailing it from St. Cloud to the long champagne race course, and around it he steered the balloon, and ascended and descended, occupying about 20 minutes of time. Though asked to make an attempt to go around the Eiffel tower, the aeronaut declined, saying his motor was not yet working as well as he wanted.

Negroes Killed by Boiler Explosion.

Georgetown, S. C., July 30.—A boiler in the sawmill of the Winyaw Lumber company exploded, almost totally wrecking the plant, killing three negroes and seriously injuring several others. A schooner lying at the wharf was damaged.

Judge John T. Sneed Dead.

Memphis, July 30.—Judge John T. Sneed died, aged 82. He was an officer in the Mexican war, brigadier general in the provisional army of Tennessee, after the secession of the state, and after the war served on the Tennessee supreme bench.

Ohio Man Appointed.

Washington, July 29.—Wendell W. Mischler, of Ohio, has been appointed stenographer to Secretary Root, to succeed Frederick D. Squires, resigned. Mr. Mischler has been discharging the duties of the place under detail for some months.

Sharkey and Jeffries May Fight.

Boston, July 30.—Tom Sharkey accepted an offer to meet James J. Jeffries before the San Francisco Athletic club in September. The details of the match will now be speedily ratified.

Ohio Postoffices Consolidating.

Washington, July 30.—The postoffice at Blaine Mills, O., will be consolidated with the New Philadelphia, O., postoffice, Sept. 1.

MAY ACT FOR BOERS.

Stated That Holland's Premier Will Try to Secure Intervention.

HORRIBLE TALE OF ABUSE.

Former Pastor of a Church in Pretoria Makes Serious Charges—Boer Reconcentrados Said to Be Dying in Great Numbers.

Washington, July 30.—Boer sympathizers in Washington are said to now regard it as certain that European intervention will take place at an early date to end the Boer-English conflict. C. W. Van Der Hooft, of this city, who is the personal friend of President Kruger, and who also is the confidential agent of the Boer leaders here, is a warm personal friend of Dr. Kuiper, the newly elected premier of Holland, who has been selected by the queen to form the new ministry.

Mr. Van Der Hooft states that Dr. Kuiper, who is known to be one of the foremost Boer sympathizers in Holland, will positively bring the influence of that country to bear in the interest of European intervention. The reason that the Dutch government did not long ago act in the matter is because Dr. Kuiper's predecessor, the former premier, was opposed to intervention.

In the recent elections in Holland the main issue which Dr. Kuiper's party made in the campaign against the government party was that Holland could have stopped the war if the premier had taken steps for intervention. Holland, it is said, will now take the initiative, and Germany and France will follow suit. The idea of the intervention of the United States in the Boer-British trouble is no longer relied upon by those posted on Boer affairs in this country.

Holland, France, Germany and Russia probably will form the intervening powers at the start, asking that the matter be referred to The Hague tribunal.

Chicago, July 30.—The horror of the situation in the Boer reconcentration camps of South Africa is appalling. Men, women and children are dying at a rate that would mean the extermination of the Boer race in nine years. The people are cooped up in unsanitary quarters, where they are unable to secure sufficient food or clothing, with disease making terrible ravages among them.

Thus was the situation depicted last night at the Christian Reformed church by Rev. Herman D. Van Brockhuizen, late pastor of the leading Dutch Reformed church at Pretoria. He has come to the United States to raise money to alleviate the sufferings of his countrymen who are huddled together in refugee camps.

Must Not Talk on Naval Controversy.

Washington, July 30.—Secretary Long issued the following general order: "All persons in the naval service are strictly enjoined to refrain from any public statement concerning the subject matter of the court of inquiry requested by Rear Admiral W. S. Schley. John D. Long, Secretary."

SOME NEWS IN BRIEF.

O. C. Stewart fell 45 feet from a cupola at Zanesville, O., and was killed.

In a fight among negroes near Clearfield, Pa., one man was killed and three were wounded.

The people of Latrobe, Pa., are much excited over the disappearance of John D. Clark, and the general belief is that he has been murdered.

James Prather, a wealthy farmer living near Titusville, Pa., was perhaps fatally burned in a fire which destroyed his barn.

A carriage containing W. G. Matson and family was struck by an Erie train at Old Forge, O. A 2-year-old boy was killed and other members of the family were fatally hurt.

A dispatch from Cape Town says: Boers are scattered throughout the upper districts of Cape Colony. Some are within a few miles of Indwe. Others are around Jamestown and between Molteno and Burgersdorp.

A cable from Manila states that the case of Lieutenant Preston Brown, of the Second Infantry, charged with murdering a native near Binangonan, is finished. In the course of the proceedings it was proved that the native was killed while trying to escape, and the acquittal of Lieutenant Brown is expected.

Andrew C. Robertson, chairman of the Allegheny county Republican committee, has formally announced himself as a candidate for congress in the new Third-second, or South Side, district. Circular letters were recently by party workers throughout the district. It is understood the letters were sent to members of the county committee, ward, borough, district and vigilance committees.

The visit of Ambassador Choate to Holland, it is stated by authority, was not under instructions from the state department and has no connection with public or political business. A London paper printed a story to the effect that Mr. Choate had gone to Holland on the invitation of Mr. Kruger, who had asked him to act as mediator between the British and the Boers.

Gustave Behring, who claims to be a son of the late George M. Pullman, and who was arrested Friday for writing defamatory postal cards to Mrs. Frank O. Lowden, was compelled to go to jail in lieu of $500 bail. He was held to the federal grand jury by United States Commissioner Foote at Chicago. The prosecuting witness, Mrs. Lowden, who is a daughter of the former palace car magnate, was not present at the hearing. The defendant said he did not remember having written the postal cards.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

Homer Deible, aged 12, was drowned at Wheelingtown.

The Wheeling carnival did not pay and its promoters are $750 out.

O. Stewart fell 45 feet from a cupola at Zanesville and was killed.

Thomas King, a young man of Glen-coe, W. Va., cut his throat with a razor and died.

The potato crop in certain sections of the Ohio valley is pronounced almost a total failure.

The Culler family reunion will be held at the home of A. C. Roller, near Columbiana, Aug. 10.

Mrs. Reeder, mother of Eden Reeder, of Hanoverton, fell from a porch and seriously injured herself.

The plant of the American Glass Specialty company, at Monaca, was destroyed by fire. The loss will be $20,000.

Rivermen predict a long dry spell and say it is not likely there will be a coal shipment out of Pittsburgh for some time.

A. C. Gorsuch, editor of the Navarre News, is dead, after a lingering illness. He was 45 years old and leaves a wife and two children.

Mrs. Joseph Dennis, of New Cumberland, fell and sprained an ankle and wrist very seriously. Owing to her advanced age she will be under a doctor's care for some time.

W. C. Morgan, of East Rochester, has been elected principal of the Hanoverton schools and Miss Catherine Ruble, of Damascus, will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Ray.

At Mansfield Mrs. Eliza A. Norris has applied for a divorce from Amos D. Norris, a very wealthy farmer. She says he claims to be a wizard with peculiar and awful power.

J. P. White has completed the work of moving the residence of Crawford Young, at Costonia, 100 yards further up the hill, out of reach of high water. The house was moved without breaking a single pane of glass.

J. C. Provice, a C. and M. railroad brakeman, had his legs cut off by a passenger train. While waiting on the train he fell asleep on the track. He may recover. His home is at Ava, O.

Henry Gasmore, of Wellsburg, is making preparations to have Buffalo and Cross creeks in Washington county, Pa., stocked with wide-mouthed black bass from the government fisheries.

Railway Deeds and Mortgages.

Springfield, O., July 30.—Two deeds and two mortgages were filed here by the Detroit Southern Railway company, one deed for $2,000,000 and mortgage for $4,500,000, being the purchase price of the first mortgage holders for the Ohio Southern and the second deed being for $6,000,000 and mortgage for $10,000,000, being the purchase price of the Detroit Southern railway.

NATIONAL GAMES SATURDAY.

Boston, 5; New York, 4.
Chicago, 3; Cincinnati, 2.
Pittsburg, 8; St. Louis, 0.
Brooklyn, 7; Philadelphia, 6.

National Standing.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Pittsburg	49	32	.603
Philadelphia	45	34	.567
St. Louis	48	37	.565
Brooklyn	43	38	.531
Boston	37	40	.481
New York	34	39	.466
Cincinnati	32	47	.405
Chicago	33	54	.379

American Games Yesterday.

Cleveland-Philadelphia, rain.
Boston, 4; Chicago, 1.
Milwaukee, 9; Washington, 1.
Baltimore, 10; Detroit, 5.

American Standing.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Chicago	54	28	.659
Boston	47	30	.619
Baltimore	42	32	.568
Detroit	45	36	.556
Washington	33	39	.458
Philadelphia	32	42	.432
Cleveland	30	48	.385
Milwaukee	29	55	.345

Western Games Yesterday.

Columbus, 8; Marion, 1.
Dayton, 6; Toledo, 3.
Grand Rapids, 9; Wheeling, 9.
Fort Wayne, 7; Muncie, 2.

Western Standing.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Grand Rapids	49	29	.577
Muncie	48	39	.552
Dayton	44	37	.543
Toledo	42	39	.519
Wheeling	42	40	.512
Fort Wayne	46	46	.500
Marion	38	46	.452
Columbus	23	56	.291

A Severe Attack of Diarrhoea Cured.

People are fast learning that there is but one remedy that can always be depended upon to cure diarrhoea. In speaking of this remedy, E. F. Glover, a merchant of Evergreen, Va., says: "Last summer one of my customers who was a fireman on the Norfolk & Western railway, had so severe an attack of diarrhoea that he had to leave his work. He had employed several physicians and got no relief. I sold him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and a day or two after he reported to me that he was entirely cured. I have no hesitation in guaranteeing this remedy and I have never yet had a bottle returned." For sale by Alvin H. Wulger, druggist.

A QUAIN CEMETERY

WHERE OVER 100 OF THE COUNTRY'S EARLY LEGISLATORS SLEEP.

Burial Sites in Suburbs of Washington That Were Set Apart for the Free Interment of Congressmen Dying Away From Home.

On the eastern outskirts of Washington, where the city, straggling over the commons and vacant squares, halts at the edge of the marshes of the Anacostia river, stands the old Congressional cemetery, with its eight-score cenotaphs, memorials of departed statesmen. Years ago the tide of population surged westward and northward, overrunning the salubrious highlands of those sections and establishing its burial grounds in the new regions. But this little city of the dead was left alone in the deserted quarter, with the jail, the almshouse and the workhouse for neighbors.

In it are 160 cenotaphs to dead congressmen, stretching in monotonous rows through the cemetery, all of them, with two exceptions, of a uniform shape and size, and erected at government expense to the memory of the government's dead representatives. Some of the stones mark the actual burying place of the deceased statesmen, but others, like those commemorative of Henry Clay, John Quincy Adams, Thaddeus Stevens and others, merely stand in honor of those distinguished names. Since 1876 the practice of erecting cenotaphs, begun in 1793, has been abandoned.

When the cemetery was established in 1808, its projectors thought it would be a successful idea to secure the interment in the new cemetery of congressmen who passed away while serving their country in the then malarial climate of Washington and that it would give this mortuary site distinction above ordinary burying grounds.

So 400 burial sites were set apart for the free interment of congressmen dying away from home, and the place was named the Congressional cemetery. In those days it was impossible to transport a body long distances without great expense and trouble, and the purchasing of burial lots was expensive, so the privilege thus extended was readily accepted. The funerals were conducted with imposing ceremonies, and the departed solons were laid away with pomp and circumstance in the spaces specially allotted and set apart for them.

As methods of transportation improved, however, with the years, and the families of the deceased found opportunity to take the bodies home for interment, the practice fell into disuse, and ultimately a law was enacted providing that a cenotaph should be erected in the cemetery to every congressman who died in the harness, and for a number of years this custom was followed, so that many of the monuments merely stand in memory of the congressmen without actually marking the burial sites.

In 1876 a law was enacted providing that no cenotaph should be erected unless interment was made in the cemetery, and there has not been a burial of a congressman in the plot since that year.

The cenotaphs are plain blocks of masonry, covered with cement to withstand the ravages of the elements. Each is inscribed with the name of the dead man, the state he represented in the house or senate and the date of his death. Some of the inscriptions are now illegible, but the oldest one decipherable is on a cenotaph in memory of Andrew P. Butler, a senator from the state of South Carolina, who died in 1796. As stated, all the cenotaphs are of uniform size and shape, except in two instances. One is a marble monument to Elbridge Gerry of Massachusetts, at one time vice president of the United States and famous in Revolutionary history. It is a pyramid shaped pile of marble about twice the height of the other cenotaphs, surmounted by an urn containing a representation of an undying flame. The other is a monument to George Clinton of New York, also vice president of the United States and active in the war of 1812.

Among the cenotaphs is one to Pushmataha, a Choctaw chief, who, the inscription states, died of croup in the sixtieth year of his age while visiting Washington in 1824. Beneath this inscription is the statement that the red chieftain in his last breath desired the big guns to be fired over him. He had the salute he desired.

It might be economy if the government were content nowadays merely to honor the departed congressmen with a cenotaph, for the 160 memorials probably did not cost as much as half a dozen modern funerals of defunct statesmen. Congressional funerals now are elaborate affairs. There must be a junket with every ceremony. The body is transported to the home of the deceased in a special car, accompanied by one or two Pullmans, containing a more or less sorrowing congressional escort, with a well stocked commissary, of course. There are carriages and flowers and mourning and a display of white sashes quite imposing.

Then some day special services are held in the house and senate, and the family of the deceased is present to hear him eulogized and endowed with more virtues than ever they dreamed in his lifetime that he possessed. The eulogies are afterward printed in morocco covered volumes and distributed among the friends and constituents, after which congress, deeming that it has performed its duty, dries its eyes and proceeds again to business.—Washington Letter in Los Angeles Times.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin cures Stomach Troubles. Sold by W. & W. Pharmacy. 28-1mo

PLENTY OF PROOF

From People You Know—From East Liverpool Citizens.

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced in the face of evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of East Liverpool—of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it: Mr. P. J. Green, veterinary surgeon, says: "When attending a sick horse belonging to Mr. G. H. Gardiner, of 168 Jackson street, he remarked to me that the horse seemed to be in pain. I replied that I was the sicker of the two, as I could at that time scarcely straighten up with my back from lameness, weakness and severe pains. He asked me what my symptoms were and I explained to him that I had suffered for a number of years from my kidneys, that I had attacks at times when nothing helped me, and it was agony to get around, but that I could not endure idleness. The secretions from the kidneys were very high colored and acidulous; that I had spells of dizziness when I could see black specks floating before my eyes and felt generally broken up. He looked up and said he had the very thing I needed to cure me in his house—Doan's Kidney Pills. He went into the house and brought me eight pills. I took them with me and I used them two at a dose. The effect was astonishing. I felt it almost at once, and went to the W. & W. pharmacy and bought a box and took them. The encouragement held out to me by the first eight pills was not mythical, as by their continued use the improvement continued, and I consider no expression of praise too strong for Doan's Kidney Pills. In short, they are ne plus ultra."

Sold for 50 cents a box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn Company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

INTEREST ON YOUR MONEY.

The Columbian County Building and Loan Co. will, for a short time issue paid up stock paying the highest rate of interest to be had anywhere.

The Columbian County Building & Loan Co. Cor. 5th and Market St.

"BEST LIKED WHEN BEST KNOWN" WHAT?

The D. & C., The Coast Line to Mackinac

Spend your outing on the Great Lakes visiting Picturesque Mackinac, the hub of the inland seas, where cool breezes blow and black bass bite. Send 2c for illustrated pamphlet. Address A. A. SCHWARTZ, G. P. A., DETROIT, MICH.

AN EASTERN TRIP

On Excursion Tickets over Pennsylvania Lines.

Excursion tickets to New York may be obtained at principal ticket offices of the Pennsylvania Lines, going and returning over the Pennsylvania Lines—or going via Pennsylvania Lines and returning via the other direct lines from New York, including the routes via Buffalo Lake's famous stopping over at that point to take in the Pan-American Exposition and Niagara Falls, or returning via Washington, D. C., with stop-over at that point. Full information will be furnished in reply to inquiries addressed to Ticket Agents of the Pennsylvania Lines. B-3-m-w-f-td.

VISIT WINONA LAKE.

An Attractive Summer Haven for Recreation, Entertainment.

Winona Lake, Ind., on the Pennsylvania Lines, is an attractive summer haven for persons who desire to combine devotion, entertainment and instruction with rest and recreation. This resort is the site of Winona Assembly and Summer School, and is annually visited by many persons who are strengthened in mind by the excellent facilities for educational work, and in vigorized in body by the health-giving influences for which Winona Lake is famous. The season of 1901 will open May 15th. Commencing on that date excursion tickets with fifteen-day limit will be on sale via Pennsylvania Lines. They may be obtained during May, June, July and August. The sale of season excursion tickets will also begin May 15th and continue daily until September 14th. Excursion tickets will be good returning until September 17th. Full information about the attractions at "Beautiful Winona" are now on sale at Ticket Agent, Pennsylvania Lines, East Liverpool, O. Inquiries should be addressed to Passenger and Ticket Agents of the Pennsylvania Lines, or to F. VAN DUSEN, Chief Assistant General Passenger Agent, Pittsburg, Pa. B-3-m-w-f-td.

FARES TO BUFFALO

Over Pennsylvania Lines for Pan-American Exposition

Excursion tickets to Buffalo for the Pan-American Exposition are now on sale at ticket offices of the Pennsylvania Lines. Fares from East Liverpool are as follows: Tickets good returning ten days, $7.50. Tickets good returning fifteen days, $9.50. Season tickets with return limit until Oct. 31st, $19.75. Special coach excursion tickets good leaving Buffalo up to midnight of Thursday following date of sale will be sold Tuesdays at $1.65. Tourist tickets at special fares may also be obtained for trips via Buffalo to resorts in Canada. Such tickets will be good for stop-over at Buffalo to see the Pan-American Exposition, by payment of $1 extra at Buffalo. For time tables and further information apply to ADAM HILL, Ticket Agent, Pennsylvania Lines, East Liverpool, O. e-o-d-25

SEASHORE EXCURSIONS.

Summer Outings by the Sea via Pennsylvania Lines.

Thursday, August 1st and 15th. $10 round trip will be sold from East Liverpool, O., to Atlantic City, Cape May and eight other popular resorts. Excursion tickets will be good returning sixteen days including date of purchase. Connecting train will be made in Pittsburgh Union Station with trains having sleeping cars running to Atlantic City without change. Trains leave 3:56 a. m.; 1:25 p. m.; 3:01 p. m. and 4:20 p. m. Central time. For further particulars, sleeping car reservations, etc., please address ADAM HILL, Ticket Agent, East Liverpool, O. e-o-d-25

The News Review

Published Daily Except Sunday by
THE EAST LIVERPOOL PUBLISHING COMPANY

LOUIS H. BRUSH, Manager.

The News Review, Daily, established 1884
By mail, one year, $5.00; six months, $3.00;
three months, $1.75; by carrier, $5.00; ten
cents per week.

The Saturday Review, Weekly, established
1879. By mail, one year, $1.00 in advance six months, 50 cents; three months, 25
cents.

Official Papers of the city of East Liverpool
and Columbiana County.

OFFICE 196 WASHINGTON STREET.

Bell Telephone.

Business Office.....No. 122
Editorial Room.....No. 122

Columbiana County Telephone.

Business Office.....No. 12
Editorial Room.....No. 34

ALLIED PRINTING
TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL
E. L. LIVERPOOL, O.

TUESDAY, JULY 30, 1901.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR STATE OFFICERS:

Governor—GEORGE K. NASH.
Lieutenant Governor—CARL NIPPET.
Judge of Supreme Court—JAMES L. PRICE.
Attorney General—JOHN M. SHEETS.
Clerk of Supreme Court—LAWSON E. EM-
ERSON.

State Treasurer—ISAAC B. CAMERON.
Member Board of Public Works—W. G.
JOHNSON.

COUNTY AND DISTRICT.

Common Pleas Judge—H. W. HARTER.
State Senator—FRANK B. ARCHER.
State Senator—CHARLES C. CONNELL.
Representative—SAMUEL BUELL.
Representative—D. W. CRIST.
Sheriff—SAMUEL D. NORAGON.
Auditor—J. F. ADAMS.
Treasurer—W. A. THOMPSON.
Commissioner—EDEN REEDER.
Infirmary Director—G. W. ARMSTRONG.

SUBSCRIBERS WHO ARE GOING AWAY FOR THE SUMMER MONTHS CAN HAVE THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW SENT TO THEM BY NOTIFYING THIS OFFICE OF THEIR OUT-OF-TOWN ADDRESS, EITHER BY TELEPHONE OR POSTAL CARD, FOR 10 CENTS A WEEK CHANGE OF ADDRESS MAY BE MADE AS OFTEN AS DESIRED. WHEN A CHANGE IS ORDERED BOTH THE OLD AS WELL AS THE NEW ADDRESS SHOULD BE GIVEN.

DISEASE-BREEDING SPOTS.

The air will carry disease germs for long distances. Unless science is mistaken and the germ theory a lie, there are disease-breeding spots without number right in the heart of East Liverpool. One needs only to pass along the streets and get a whiff of the open garbage barrels that stand exposed in the hot sun, their contents festering and sending forth the foulest odors, to be convinced that there is wholesale disregard in this city of the commonest and most easily observed sanitary precautions. And the garbage barrels by no means breed all the disagreeable effluvia. There are heaps of refuse and there are stagnant pools within short distances of dwellings—nuisances which ought to be abated and which are almost sure to cause disease and death if they are not abated. And yet we have a board of health and health officers. What are they doing? Now is the proper time to exert themselves, if they ever intend to fulfill the duties of the offices which they hold.

FOREST RESERVES.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson is an enthusiast on the subject of forestry. It would be well for the country if we had more like him. Mr. Wilson has been making a study of climatic conditions and has become convinced, along with other observers, that, unless immediate steps are taken for the reforesting of regions which have been denuded of trees, grave danger is threatened. The secretary has conducted a series of investigations reaching over a period of years. He has made personal visits to many districts and has had valuable assistance from other departments of the government. He is deeply interested in the subject of forest reserves, and is moving with insistent vigor to secure important financial assistance from congress.

In the opinion of the secretary, the question involved is not so much a necessity of securing suitable timber supply for future generations, as the preservation of the natural climate. He points out in his reports that the headwaters of numerous streams, such as the Ohio, Tennessee, Savannah, Yadkin and Roanoke, are to be found in the Appalachian region. By the denuding of the slopes of the mountains the entire character of these streams is being changed, and this change affects the districts through which they flow. There will be a steady deterioration of the lands along these streams if the watersheds of headwaters are not protected.

Mr. Wilson says there are no large settlements in these areas to interfere with the proper handling of the forests, yet the scattered population is sufficiently large to care for them.

Large lumber companies are now invading the region, and the imminent destruction of the most valuable forests is to be feared. The secretary recommends that the areas be purchased in 50,000 and 100,000 acre tracts. He says that some of the lands can be purchased for $1 an acre, and in other instances $5 must be paid; but he thinks the lands may be acquired at an average price of $3 an acre. He contemplates making all government reserves self-supporting. He thinks that enough timber should be taken each year to pay for the cost of preservation. Scattered over all the northern states are tracts which can never be as valuable for any other purpose as for timber-growing. Their reforestation and preservation is a matter of vital interest to present and coming generations. Congress could not serve the public interests better than to heed the secretary's advice and give immediate attention to the matter. The forest reserves which he so strongly urges would be a grandly paying investment.

Welcome, Salem! The metropolis of Columbiana county extends a cordial greeting and trusts that you will come often. We think you will find our summer resort comes up to all expectations; also that East Liverpool improves on better acquaintance.

Secretary Long has issued an order forbidding naval officers to talk about the Sampson-Schley controversy. We are not much in favor of sweeping injunctions, but we can but wish that this one had been issued earlier.

From all indications Wellsville will soon cease to be a center of national interest and public discussion. Singularly enough, Wellsville appears to like the prospect.

OBITUARY.

Asa A. Geer.

Asa A. Geer, one of the oldest residents of Hancock county, W. Va., died at his home back of Congo, this morning aged 93 years. He was one of the first settlers of the county. Old age was the cause of death. The funeral services will be held at his late home Thursday at 12 o'clock. Interment will be made at the Stone church cemetery.

He is survived by three sons and two daughters, E. W., B. A., Marion, Mrs. A. O. Lowary and Mrs. George Moore. He was well known throughout the county, having been poor director for a number of years.

OHIO POLITICS

From the day of the Democratic state convention the belief in an old-time Republican victory has grown stronger, until today the wise prophets declare that it will be the same old story of Democratic defeat, with an emphasized majority for Governor Nash and the entire state ticket. The chief Democratic organ is daily filled with bitter attacks upon the candidate, and in every direction the organization is lining up for one of its old Kilkenney cat contests, that can have but one result—the triumph of the Republicans. The outlook at this early stage of midsummer politics was never better for Ohio Republicans.—Ohio State Journal

It is understood that Hon. E. N. Gonsaulus, who has resigned the position of United States consul at Pernambuco, Brazil, will be given another appointment in the diplomatic service, probably at some post in Canada. Mr. Gonsaulus paid a visit to President McKinley at Canton on the matter, Saturday.

There is considerable friction among the Cleveland Democrats just now as to how the county and legislative ticket shall be nominated, and the Johnson administration appears to be divided against itself, Johnson favoring a county convention, while Charley Salen is pulling for the Crawford county plan.

Mayor Tom Johnson has again announced that he is not a candidate for the United States Senate. The Hon. John R. McLean has, however, so far refrained from making such a declaration. Mr. McLean seems to be handling himself with reasonable self-control.—Marion Star.

Mr. Bryan now realizes that Johnny McLean goldbricked him in Ohio and suspects that Artie Gorman has the plans laid to follow suit in Maryland.—Mansfield News.

Announcement.

TO THE VOTERS OF COLUMBIANA COUNTY:

I take this opportunity of informing you that I am a candidate for the Legislature, to be voted for at the November election. If you are in favor of liberal laws and honest legislation, with charity towards all and animosity to none, I sincerely solicit your vote.

J. C. WALSH,
26 tf East Liverpool, O.

GLEANINGS
of the Day
—In and about the—
Local POTTERIES.

Preparations have been in progress for the past week looking to the formation of a local of the Brotherhood that will include the trade known as finishers.

This trade has never before been recognized, in fact no provision had been made for it by the Brotherhood. When the recent convention was in session this subject occupied considerable attention, and was one of the most important actions taken by the body.

The great majority of those engaged at this work are women and girls, and the action taken by the national body to admit their trade to membership was most gratifying.

A large list of charter members has been secured and it is intention of President Hughes to form the local some time next week. It is not known at present what number the new organization will be known by, but this will be looked after when the proper time comes.

The arbitration board did not meet last evening, as had been arranged. When all had assembled it was found one of the manufacturers' representatives was absent, and it was impossible to transact any business.

Another effort will be made to hold a meeting tonight, at which time it is hoped a full representation from both sides will be present. But two meetings have been held so far at which any of the numerous questions have been considered.

There are fewer disputes than was anticipated in the beginning, but of these only one has been disposed of, and it is the desire of those having the disputes pending that they be taken up at as early a date as possible.

The stonemasons have completed the foundations of six new kilns for the Laughlin company at plant No. 2, in the East End, and within a short time the stonemasons will commence work. The first part of the foundation of the kilnshed was commenced Monday afternoon, but it will be several weeks before this part of the contract is completed. The cooper shop that stood on the northwest corner of the vacant lot owned by the Laughlin company has been removed to another part of the property to make room for the improvements that have been commenced.

Sylvester Kinsey, for several years employed at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery, has taken a position at the Laughlin No. 2. He is sticking up.

STUDY OF AGRICULTURE.

General Hughes Suggests Experiments by Company Commanders.

General Hughes, commanding the department of the Visayas, Philippine Islands, has issued a general order for the encouragement of agricultural pursuits in his command, says the Washington Star. "Inasmuch as conditions," says he, "warrant the assumption that the troops will enjoy greater permanency in location than formerly the department commander invites attention of company commanders to the fact that excellent vegetables ought to be grown in these islands for at least eight months of the year.

"As those which do well during one portion of the year may be burned by the sun or rotted through excessive wet in another it is advised that experiments from month to month, inquiry of the best local authorities in the vicinity and a persistent effort be made to prepare the data for the comfort of those who may come hereafter should our stay not be sufficiently long for us to reap the benefit of our labors. The subsistence department has a moderate supply of seeds of various kinds, which will be distributed to those making application to the chief commissary of the department."

Preservation of Fresh Fruits.

According to the state department advices, the German consul general at Sydney reports that the agricultural department of Victoria has recently made experiments with reference to the preservation of fresh fruits. Pears and peaches packed in the ordinary boxes for shipment were subjected to the vapors of hydrocyanic gas. The fruits were then taken out of the boxes and separately wrapped in tissue paper. Some of them were again treated with the gas, and the whole lot was placed in a dryroom at a temperature of 40 degrees and kept there for seven weeks. When the fruits were taken out, they were in an excellent state of preservation, especially those that had been treated with the gas a second time. Not only the pears, but the peaches, felt hard to the touch, retained their fresh appearance and showed no decayed spots, as the germs had all been killed by the gas.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

Ed Wyman has returned to Sebring after a visit with his parents.

James Colley spent the day the guest of his family at Salineville.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Boyse are the guests of relatives at Salineville.

Blaine Cochran has accepted a position in the office of the Adams Express company.

Miss Pearl Albright is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Thomas Huston, of Alliance.

Mrs. Charles Fraser, of Pittsburg, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Moon, Fourth street.

Victor Smith, of Florence street, who has been ill for some time with typhoid fever, is improving.

W. West and Joseph Frabell, of Wheeling, were in the city yesterday, the guests of Thomas Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Frost have returned from Pittsburg, where they attended the funeral of Henry E. Porter.

Miss Dora Wilson, of Ravenswood, W. Va., is in the city, the guest of her brother, C. Wilson, Sheridan avenue.

Misses Maude Miller, Rose Glass, Mary and H. E. Weaver left this morning for a visit at Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

Miss Louisa McMillan left this morning for Byesville, O., where she has accepted a position in the glass factory.

Wood Pusey and Arthur Himes left yesterday for Buffalo, where they will spend two weeks at the Pan American Exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Laufenburger returned last evening, after a delightful trip, to Canada, Niagara Falls and the Pan-American exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Meredith left yesterday afternoon for New York from which place they will sail tomorrow for an extended trip through Europe.

Elliott Frost left this morning for Bridgeport, Conn., after a week's visit with relatives. He will stop off at Buffalo to visit the Pan-American exposition.

BILL OF THE PLAY.

It is Robert B. Mantell's intention to appear next season as Hamlet.

Richard Mansfield's leading woman next season will be Lettice Fairfax.

Theaters are to be established by the king and queen of Roumania in all the rural communes of their kingdom.

It is probable that "The Belle of New York" will be heard in Mexico soon under the auspices of President Diaz.

In a recent interview Ignace Paderewski said that his new opera "Manru" will be produced in New York next season.

Sarah Bernhardt visited the British house of commons recently and was treated with almost royal honors in the way of deference.

An "Independent" theater, with a stock company, for the purpose of producing American plays is under consideration in Chicago.

It is not true, as some American papers have said, that Miss Alice Nielsen is going to marry Laurence Irving, the actor-author, son of Sir Henry Irving.

Albert Chevalier is now engaged on his autobiography, a book which should contain some attractive reading, in view of his interesting career as an entertainer.

TOWN TOPICS.

If you don't see what you want in St. Paul, ask for it. We have it somewhere.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Mobile is the only city in the south that has a permanent Independence day association.—Mobile Register.

New Orleans displaces Boston as the second export market. Thus does the south get revenge for 1861-6.—Memphis Scimitar.

Speaking now with reference to the New York sneers at the banking methods in vogue in Pennsylvania, what reason is there for the topoficial elevation of the New York nose?—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Not only do they still run horse cars in New York city, but kerosene lamps continue in use there for street lighting. For a great town New York has too many village improvements.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Vacation Needs

Hair Brushes. Soft bristles for thin-haired people; long bristles for thick tresses; tiny white brushes for little curly locks. The price range is wide. We call special attention to our 50c and $1.00 styles

Combs—We mention two special kinds—a narrow short tooth comb for men 15c, a heavy, strong back comb for ladies 25c

Soaps—Scented or unscented 5c to 50c. Fragrant Odonto—for the teeth 25c. Don't forget a bottle of it before you go; you can't find anything any better.

Soda—And to start right you should take a drink of our "Soda"—"Ice Cream Soda"—before you go, so you will know where to get the best "Soda" when you return.

BERT ANSLEY'S
Pharmacy

A Truss.

Do you want one or a surgical instrument of any kind? you can't do better than to come to us about it.

Our stock of these goods is complete and of the best. It doesn't pay to experiment with such articles, and we can put you right.

Then our prices are such that you cannot afford to go elsewhere.

Don't forget about Vinol when you feel out of health, we guarantee it will make sick ones well.

LARKINS, THE DRUG MAN.

The Leading Store

Is where you can buy Goods at the right price.

We have a large Stock of new Goods in: Household Utensils, Lamps, Nickel Goods, Granite Ware, Tinware, &c. &c

New Matting and Window Shades.

Hammocks, Croquet Sets, Books, Notions.

Our Goods are A-1 in quality and low in price.

Try our new Candies at 10c and 20c a lb.

228 Diamond.

W. A. HILL.

ICE CREAM Wholesale and retail. Get the Best. Watch for the wagon every evening... J. B. ROWE, Washington St.

M Dougall's Dancing Classes. Every Wednesday. Rock Springs. Nowling's Full Orchestra.

ICE ICE ICE

Have the best, let us serve you with Union Manufactured Ice.

Prompt attention to all orders.

The Crockery City Brewing Co.

Hardware

EVEN Hardware will wear out, and when you want to replenish your stock of culinary articles—in Granite Line—Cast Steel or Aluminum Ware—remember to see ADAMS about it.

W. H. Adams

WASHINGTON STREET.

Local, Long Distance.

The Columbiana County Telephone Co.

Is Placing 'Phones at the Following Rates:

Business $24.00

Residence 18.00

Extension Desk Sets 9.00

This includes County Service Connection with all points with the U. S. Toll Lines.

Call on or Address

W. F. CROSSLEY,

Salem, Ohio, or East Liverpool, Ohio.

General Manager.

For a SUMMER CRUISE take the

COAST LINE TO MACKINAC

To Cleveland Detroit Toledo Buffalo

To Mackinac Georgian Bay Potosky Chicago Duluth

The Greatest Perfection yet attained in Boat Construction.

Four Trips per Week Between Toledo, Detroit, Mackinac, Potosky, "THE NOB," MARQUETTE AND DULUTH.

Special service on account of Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, will be operated during July and August. Direct connections will be made with C. & N. Y. Line on night and day trips. Apply for Special Rates.

Every Day and Night Between Toledo, Put-in-Bay, Cleveland, and Buffalo

Luxurious Equipment, Artistic Furnishings, Decoration and Efficient Service.

Day and Night Service Between DETROIT and CLEVELAND Fare $1.50 Each Direction. Steamer $1.00. Stateroom $2.25. Connections are made at Cleveland with Earliest Trains for all points East, South and Northwest, and at Detroit for all points North and Northwest. SUNDAY NIGHT TRIPS DURING SEASON OF NAVIGATION.

Send for Illustrated Pamphlet. Address, A. A. SCHANTE, G. F. A., DETROIT, MICH. Detroit & Cleveland Nav. Co.

SOUTH SIDE

RETURN ENGAGEMENT

The Harris Quartette Coming Back to Rock Springs Park—Fine Concert Sunday.

The famous Harris quartette, of Pittsburg, pleased a large audience at Rock Springs park Sunday afternoon and evening. The Harris quartette is certainly the finest musical attraction that has appeared in the park this season. They have a great variety of songs, and they were compelled to respond to encores time after time, so well did they please the large audience.

Each member of the quartette is a soloist, and as a quartette they have few equals in the country. Nine selections was the original program, but they were compelled to sing four times that number before the large audience would let them go.

"The Holy City," sung by H. F. Blaney, and the "Sentinel Asleep," by C. F. Harris, took the audience by storm, and each was compelled to answer to several encores. How well they pleased the people are attested by the almost unanimous request for a return engagement which Manager Maxwell has secured for Sunday, August 25.

An Enjoyable Picnic.

The excursion held at Rock Springs park yesterday by Prof. Delbrugge, of Wheeling, was attended by about 50 people from that city, and another train, which was run in the evening from Wellsburg, Toronto and New Cumberland, swelled the crowd to 200. They all enjoyed themselves until 10 o'clock when they left for home.

Pastor Hull's Resignation.

Rev. J. D. Hull, who recently resigned as pastor of the Fairview Christian church, writes to deny a published report that he resigned as the result of ill feeling. He says the only vote taken was on the question of rejecting or accepting his resignation. He has been pastor there for five years and is highly esteemed.

Junior Entertainment.

The Junior League of the Chester M. E. church will hold a lawn fete and phonograph entertainment this evening at Mrs. Neville's, opposite the U. P. church, Chester. Admission free.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

An Example.

Hello, Mistuh Busy Bee,
Wuckin' all day long,
Why foh can't you stop like me,
Jus' to sing a song?
Gatherin' up de honey sweet,
Stackin' it in tiers,
Savin' me 'dan you could eat
In a dozen years!

Lello, Mistuh Busy Man,
You is wuss dan him,
'Case he'll sleep de winter's span
In some corner dim.
Eef er you should take a rest;
Pattern after me—
Mistuh Man, foh time so pressed,
An Mistuh Busy Bee.

—Washington Star.

Culture.

"The Rocksleighs seem to be a very proud family."
"Yes; the girls and their mother nearly die of mortification whenever the old man calls their veranda 'the stoop.'"
—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Good Word For Him.

Banks—Dumleugh is not such a dunce as they make him out. He gets off a good thing once in awhile.
Hill—But it isn't original.
Banks—Still it's bright in him to remember it.—Boston Transcript.

Restaurant Tragedy.

Van Bibber ordered a bowl of soup,
And the waiter brought it with a whoop,
But the bowl had an unsuspected crack,
And the soup went down Van Bibber's back.
—Chicago Tribune.

A Willow Reed.

Lydia—Oh, Clarence, dear! If I should fall into the briny ocean, would you save me?
Clarence—I don't know, darling. I never saved anything in my life.—Brooklyn Life.

Prosale Lovemaking.

She—You are so awkward in your lovemaking that sometimes I am suspicious.
He—Of what?
She—That you may be sincere.—Life.

July, the Ruby.

The glowing ruby shall adorn
Those who in July are born;
Then they'll be exempt and free
From love's doubts and anxiety.
—Philadelphia Times.

One Thing Lacking.

"He boasts that he is a self made man."
"It's too bad he didn't take a course in the polishing trade before he stopped work."—Philadelphia Press.

His Usual Fate.

Getthere—Did you ever attend any of Miss Budd's "at homes?"
De Bore (sadly)—No, but I've attended a good many of her not at homes.—New York Weekly.

A Summer Idyl.

Don't you roam,
'Less you got ter.
Stay at home,
'Taint no hotter.
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Our Greatest Sale a Big Success. STAR BARGAIN STORE Our Greatest Sale a Big Success.

Our sale which started Saturday is a greater success than we expected. We are sorry that lots of people could not get accommodated on Saturday afternoon and evening and that we could not give the attention to the trade as we should. Whether you have been in our store on Saturday and yesterday or not come through the week and see how much money you can save by buying your Dry Goods and Furnishings at our store during this great sale. HERE ARE ONLY A FEW EXAMPLES OF WHAT WE ARE DOING DURING THIS SALE.

At $6.50
$12.50 and $15 suits for $6.50.

At $4.50
A lot of $6.98, $7.98 and $8.98 walking skirts, your choice $4.50.

At $12
$16.50 and $18 silk taffeta silk skirts, reduced to $12.

At $3
Your choice of $4.98 and $5.98 colored silk waists for $3.

At 39c
Plain and striped gingham waists, 75c grade for 39c.

At 75c
$1.25 and $1.50 fine waists, the newest styles for 75c. All our white waists at great reduced prices.

At 18c
The finest 25c wash goods for 18c.

At 75c
All our $1.25 dressing saques and kimono for 75c.

At 7c
A big lot of light percale and gingham, 10c and 12c grades 7c.

At 5c
A big lot of the best 7c and 8c prints for 5c.

At 4c
Linen finish crash, cheap at 7c, for 4c.

At 4c each.
50 dozen large size towels for 4c, worth double.

At 20c
The best 25c huck towels for this sale only 20c.

At 20c
All our bleached damask at great reduced prices.

At 39c
72 in. unbleached damask, cheap at 50c, for 39c.

Dress Goods
And Silks at Slaughtering Prices.

At 33c
A table full of 50c and 65c dress goods for 33c.

At 50c
46 and 50 inch homespuns and other dress goods sold at $1.00 and $1.25 for 50c.

At 23c
50c black crepon, yours for 23c.

At 43c
60c black taffeta silk for 43c.

Extra Special.

Our entire stock of black and colored dress goods at away down prices.

At $2.50
Your choice of our $4 and $4.50 silk waist patterns for $2.50.

At 1-3 Off.
Our entire stock of foulard silk dress patterns at 1-3 off.

At 25c
15 dozen of the best 39c corset covers for 25c. All our fine gowns and chemise including skirt chemise at great reduced prices.

At 98c
Black mercerized undershirts, worth $1.50, for 98c.

At 5c
50 dozen ladies' 10c vests for 5c.

At 19c
35c ladies' vests for 19c.

At 19c
Men's Balbriggan underwear for 19c.

At 12 1/2 c
Men's fancy socks, worth 19c, for 12 1/2 c.

At 39c
All the best 50c working shirts for 39c.

25 per cent. off.
All our children's colored and white dresses at 25 per cent. off.

At 15c
Your choice of our 50c and 65c flowers for 15c.

New Hot Weather Goods

While we are having our great sale we keep on getting in all the time new desirable goods which you want for this hot weather. We got in a new lot of striped Dress Gingham in blue, ox blood and pink, just what you want for your shirt waist suit. New chambray gingham in all colors, new wash goods, new striped white goods, new walking skirts, new wash skirts, 50 pieces of new serpentine laces in white, black and Arabian, new muslin underwear, new white waists, new velvet and taffeta ribbons and many other new things on which we will save you considerable.

138 and 140 Fifth Street.

STAR BARGAIN STORE.

138 and 140 Fifth Street.

FAMOUS PALMIST AND CLAIRVOYANT

Whose Sensational Work Has Given Him a National Reputation.

WILL REMAIN A FEW DAYS

To Accommodate the Hundreds of People Who Desire to Interview This Famous Young Man—Prof. Hunt Has Traveled in Every Country on the Face of the Globe.

Prof. Francis Hunt, the famous palmist and clairvoyant, whose sensational work has given him a national reputation, has been induced to remain in the city a short time longer. Prof. Hunt is without doubt the greatest clairvoyant in the world. The miracles he has performed in nearly every country on the face of the globe have never been equalled.

Prof. Hunt's ancestors were all powerful and reliable mediums, and the old family name of Hunt is as well known and held as sacred to the believer in the spirit power as the name of Shakespeare is in the realms of literature. Therefore, this wonderful young man has received the rich and golden inheritance and combined knowledge that has been handed down from father to son for generations. He asks no questions, but answers sealed messages in a trance, and before you can utter a solitary word HE TELLS YOUR NAME IN FULL, names of enemies, friends or rivals; tells whether husband, wife or sweetheart is true or false; tells you how to gain success in love, courtship, marriage, divorce, health, business, law suits, speculation and transactions of all kinds. In fact, no matter what may be your hope, fear or ambition, come to this gifted man and find help.

His parlors at 162 Sixth street are crowded from early morning until late at night by persons anxious to interview this truly famous young man.

38-h.

TO GET ALL THE NEWS

Buy the Evening News Review—List of Those Who Sell it.

Job R. Manley's,
Cor. Sixth and Franklin Streets

Pierce & Cartwright's,
276 Eighth Street.

John H. Peake's,
304 Eighth Street.

Bagley's,
153 Second Street.

Bagley's,
285 East Market Street.

Hotel Lakel,
Second Street.

John Peake's,
Market and Second Streets.

Ryan Bros.,
289 East Market Street.

Wilson's,
Fifth Street.

Rose's Cigar Store,
Washington Street.

Gill's Grocery,
Calcutta Road.

Harrison News Stand,
143 Mulberry St., East End.

C. T. McCutcheon,
Drug Store, Southside.

E. J. Driscoll's Confectionary Store,
West Market Street.

Marshall News Stand,
First St., Chester, W. Va.

If you want facts and not fakes, and a complete record of all the news that happens, read the News Review.

A TERRIFIED MILL WORKER

(Continued from First Page.)

Ohio river, opposite the mill. The place is deserted, as far as strike breakers are concerned, the last men to be entertained there having left camp last evening for Steubenville. These men were captured Sunday evening at the street railway loop at Wellsville.

There is to be a meeting of Local Union No. 24, N. B. of O. P., of Wellsville this evening. Reports will be presented by committees who have had some work to do in connection with the steel strike. One of these committees was to look after firms who are alleged to be hostile to the strikers.

Sheriff Samuel Noragon, of Lisbon, was in Wellsville today and a reporter stated the talk of an injunction being obtained against the strikers was but newspaper talk and there was absolutely nothing in the rumor. He said: "There have been no Pinkerton detectives at the mill, and there will be none, so far as I am able to learn. These men would first have to be sworn in by me, otherwise their acts would be illegal. No persons of this sort has asked to be sworn in."

There was some objection on the part of the Wellsville police last evening on account of the strikers' headquarters, but as the men later confined themselves to the spacious room there was no further kick from the authorities.

Pete Ebaugh, one of the association leaders, has been selected as manager of the picnic which will be given at Rock Springs Saturday.

PEN, CHISEL AND BRUSH.

Everett Shinn, the New York artist, has just completed a large full length portrait of Mark Twain, which is said to be the best ever made of the humorist.

Thomas Ball, the sculptor, painter and author, celebrated the eighty-second anniversary of his birth at his home in South Mountain avenue, Montclair, N. J.

Richard Le Gallienne, the poet and novelist, will probably make this country his permanent home. He said recently that he had grown very fond of it and had seen few lands so full of literary material.

Steinlen, whose cartoons in Gil Blas have made him well known, has joined the staff of L'Assiette au Beurre because it allows him more freedom in the propaganda in favor of poverty, which has become a passion with him. Eugene Field's first poem, or the original draft of it, was recently discovered in the possession of Edgar White, a court stenographer of Macon, Mo., who was a student with Field at the Mobile State university. The title is "Bucephalus; A Tail," and the date 1871.

Redmond and O'Brien Suspended.

London, July 30.—There was another Irish row in the house of commons, which ended in the suspension of William Redmond, member for East Clare, and Patrick O'Brien, member for Kilkenny city.

A Strike Settled.

Joliet, Ill., July 30.—The strike at the Pressed Steel Car works, inaugurated two weeks ago, has been amicably settled. The 200 men return to work on piece scale. They formerly received day wages and the new arrangement will give a slight increase. During the strike the entire plant has been closed.

Public Take Notice.

BARR & SON, contractors and builders, of East End, have been declared unfair firms by local union No. 328, Carpenters and Joiners of America. By order of LOCAL UNION 328.

14-1f

News Review "Wants" bring quick results.

COLUMBIA WON THE RACE.

Beat the Constitution—Latter's Rig to Be Altered Before She Races Again.

Newport R. I., July 30.—The Columbia defeated the Constitution, boat for boat, in a splendid race by two minutes and 54 seconds and won the $1,000 cup presented by Colonel John Jacob Astor. Her victory was decisive and convincing. The behavior of the Constitution, on the other hand, was disappointing in the extreme, and last evening Mr. Duncan announced that his boat would not take part in further races until her rig had been altered. He declared that the Constitution is not doing herself justice; that she is not going well, and that there is no use in racing her further until she is put in proper shape.

The Constitution will not participate in the Newport yacht racing events of Thursday and Saturday of this week as a competitor of the Independence. The Columbia, however, has been entered for these races and will sail against the Boston boat. The Constitution will go to Bristol at once and have the alterations made. If this change in the plans of the Constitution does not prevent, the next races in which she will start will take place over the Newport course, on Aug. 12 and 14. The regatta will be under the auspices of the New York Yacht club.

In one of these races the cup offered by Sir Thomas Lipton will be sailed for. The regular trial races for the purpose of selecting the defender of the America's cup will be held here on Aug. 31 and Sept. 1 and 3.

It is not easy for the best friend of the Constitution to make plausible excuses for her most palpable defeat. She was beaten fairly and squarely on her merits.

ASK FOR RECEIVER'S REMOVAL.

Reports Made in Cases of Some Debenture Companies in Ohio.

Columbus, O., July 30.—Partial reports were made by the receivers in the Equitable, Ohio and Equitable and the Ohio Debenture companies in the common pleas court here. E. B. Kinkead moved that Receiver Guy B. Jones be removed in the Ohio debenture cases, claiming that he stood in the way of the litigation on due bills. A motion for the removal of D. A. Walker, the other receiver, was not pressed. Mr. Walker then filed a report showing that the officers of the company, E. J. Miller, J. M. Mulford, O. T. D. Barron, W. D. Gilbert and E. C. Morton, had paid their dues on debentures with due bills, but accepted redemption checks and received cash for them. The total available cash reported was $230,119. Invested amounts of $19,642 were reported.

Referee John Morrissey filed a partial report in the Equitable debenture case, showing liabilities of $48,312, with assets of $33,000.

Referee George B. Okey filed a report showing assets of $63,305 for the Ohio and Equitable company.

ANOTHER VICTIM DEAD;

MINERS WERE EXCITED.

Zanesville, O., July 30.—Melvin Shelton, one of the victims of the Kings mines affray Sunday, died yesterday, and last night several hundred miners were gathered at Kings excitedly discussing the situation. Many were for taking the law in their own hands and executing the colored man, Busby, who caused the riot.

LONG MIGHT MODIFY IT,

IF SCHLEY COMPLAINS.

Washington, July 30.—Secretary Long stated that if complaint against the language used in the fifth specification of the precept to the Schley court of inquiry was officially made to him by Admiral Schley he would give the matter consideration and that the language might be modified.

Ohio Democrats Name Officers.

Columbus, O., July 30.—The Democratic state executive committee was completed by the selection of C. F. Gilliam as secretary and W. C. Orr for treasurer. Both are of this city.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Ohio and Western Pennsylvania—Local thunder storms today, with cooler in southern portions. Tomorrow partly cloudy; fresh westerly winds.

West Virginia—Local thunder storms and cooler today. Tomorrow partly cloudy; west to northwest winds.

GOOD GROOMING.

Well Kept Hair in Soft, Loose and Silky Tresses.

Beautiful hair goes far toward making a beautiful face. The disfigurement of scanty, wiry hair is something only the best coiffure can hide. As to this important element in physical beauty The New Idea Magazine says:

Hair varies under different conditions, both physical and mental. Certain physical conditions change the color and the quality of the hair; others cause it to fall. The hair itself may also be diseased. All of these conditions require special treatment. In general, cleanliness and a reasonable amount of care will keep the hair healthy.

Oily hair can be remedied by being washed once in two weeks, while hair with a normal amount of oil should not be washed more than once a month unless one is engaged in dusty work or is traveling constantly. Cinders and dust irritate the scalp, and any slight inflammation is likely to cause the hair to fall.

Some hair is so very dry that washing makes it brittle. Such hair should be given an application of vaseline or an oil dressing of some kind the day before it is washed. It will then be soft and silky. The vaseline should be rubbed on the scalp, getting as little on the hair as possible.

In washing the hair use water quite warm, with a good, pure soap to make a lather. Tar or castile soap is the best. If the hair is oily, a very little ammonia or soda can be used. Wash carefully, rubbing the scalp well, then rinse in two waters. Roll the hair up in a towel for a few minutes to absorb the water, then let down and rub gently—in the sunshine always, if possible, otherwise near a stove or radiator—till dry. When dry, comb out the snarls, a strand at a time, and brush until glossy.

Soda and borax used in the water keep the hair light and fluffy, but also make it brittle; hence they should only be used where there is a preponderance of oil. While vaseline often prevents hair from falling out, it also makes it darker; so the caution to rub it on the scalp and avoid getting it on the hair is especially important to fair haired women.

RUB GENTLY IN THE SUNSHINE.

There are many methods of perfuming the hair, which is much a fad nowadays. The scent can be put in the rinse water or on the hair just before it is dry or a perfumed cap can be worn at night. It is best, however, not to confine the hair at night. Braid it loosely or have it flowing if it does not snarl easily.

Do not use hot irons on the hair if you wish to keep it silky and long. Tight crimping pins are also injurious. If it must be curled, do it up loosely in kids or soft paper. A soft curl is much prettier than crimps.

Do not tie the hair up tight on the head. It not only loosens the roots and is a prolific source of baldness, but it makes impossible that soft, loose, pretty effect which is essential in modern, fashionable hairdressing.

Well kept hair in a healthy condition should be soft and pliable, with a rich silky luster that is the most exquisite frame for any face, old or young.

The handsomest and best local newspaper in Columbiana county is the East Liverpool News Review.

SANITARY REDUCTION CO.

Disposes of all Refuse

Bell Phone 373.

Wall Paper.

July and August are the dull months in Wall Papers, but we have determined this year to make them lively at our "Wall Paper Store," by offering special inducements to the buyer.

We now offer
25,000 Belts at from 3c to 10c
25,000 " " 10c to 15c
10,000 " " 15c to 50c

All reduced from 10 per cent. to 30 per cent, according to style and quality. Come and see for yourself.

Window Blinds.

All grades, all shades at 10c, 25c, 35c, 50c and 60c. Come and see these blinds.

KINSEY'S Wall Paper Store.

A man with a good solid bank account is always regarded with respect and confidence. No successful business can afford to be without one. We have taken every precaution for the safety of the funds entrusted to us; we are also insured against robbery, and our employees are heavily bonded, thus insuring our depositors absolute security. All transactions with this bank will be held strictly confidential.

Citizens' National Bank
East Liverpool, Ohio.

Do You Eat This Warm Weather?

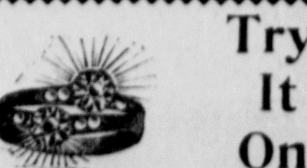

If so, get your

Fresh Meats

at

W. H. NAGEL'S,

255 W. Market Street. Everything fresh and the best. Telephone 592.

Try It On

AND if it don't fit we have other Rings that will—Our prices on first class goods makes the sale for us—Diamonds, Watches, Silverware, Clocks, anything in the jewelry line—All goods guaranteed as represented. Watch Repairing and Engraving a Specialty.

A. G. HOFMAN,
208 Market St.

Ten Years' Trial

The Story of a Soldier's Struggle

By Brigadier General
Charles King

Copyright, 1901, by Charles King

CHAPTER XII.—Continued.

It was useless now for The Sun to hurl denunciation at the governor or at the rifles. The law was supreme. On ly the governor could make Langdon an officer, but even the governor could not make him a sergeant. The law gave the appointment of sergeants and corporals to the commanding officer of the company alone, and while Governor X. would not oppose the wishes of so many citizens and voters by granting Langdon a commission neither would he interpose against the wishes of scores of others by demanding, as urged by The Sun and the strikers, "the resignation of the insolent officer who had dared to thwart the wishes of a community." The Banner rejoiced and applauded. The Examiner was silent. The Seattle might need that company any moment, and every man with mob law in view and every citizen pledged to law and order knew instantly what it meant that the rifles had failed to fill the vacancies. The lieutenant commanding would figure as head of the company, but its instruction, its discipline, the work of preparation and finally its command in the event of a fight would all devolve upon its gruff first sergeant, Eric Langdon.

They were borne in triumph about the room.

Two evenings later Cresswell, with anxious eyes, looked up at the window of the second story room over his offices on Thayer street, the main thoroughfare of Brentwood. It was after 10, but all was darkness there, and Langdon's invariable rule was to return at once from drill and go early to bed, for, winter or summer, he was an early riser. The clerk and assistant who formerly occupied those humble quarters had married, moved west to the hills and thrown out his own single, and Langdon thankfully had moved in. The street was still alive with people, but the lights in the rifles' armory, two blocks away, had been extinguished before the stroke of 10 at the city hall. In his hand Cresswell held a crumpled half sheet of note paper that had reached him through the mail. It contained only the words: "Your man laughs at warring and deceives the people. If he hasn't left this town by midnight, he'll never get a chance again."

By midnight, and it was now after 10! Only that morning in reminding Langdon that the chief of police had not only issued permission, but advised him, to go armed Cresswell had asked him if more warnings had reached him, and the new first sergeant took from his breast pocket a little note. It was a woman's hand that penned this note. "For God's sake don't disregard this. You do not know what minute may be your last if you insist on staying here. These men are desperate." Cresswell had read it with compressed lips and advised its being given at once to the police. Far and wide the edict of the employees had gone forth. If assurance that the old wages would be restored from and after Nov. 1 failed to reach them by noon Oct. 28 every man would quit work, and no man would be allowed to attempt it. More than once Cresswell had noticed strange, unpossessing faces among the loiterers along the block. More than once men had called on one pretext or other at the office and were furtively interested in the survey of the premises, but the police well knew the barroom blackguards who had threatened vengeance on Langdon for his interference in behalf of the soldier they were beating to a jelly, and in person at least they dare not act. "It isn't among the slums alone you have enemies, Langdon," said Cresswell. "The bitterest foes a man has to guard against are those who have done him injury, and the men I'm after are those who put up that safe robbery and gained your discharge. Oh, for an hour of Channing!"

But that was vain. Channing, he who commanded the respect and confidence of the yards and shops of the Big Horn, was sauntering discontentedly in the Rivera, doing as his doctors bade, utterly homesick, utterly unable to appreciate or understand what he saw and only wishing himself back in the cab of a Baldwin, whirling "the limited" over the prairie 60 miles an hour. Channing knew every mother's son in the Brentwood yards by name. The new incumbent knew not one of them. Channing argued, Burleigh bullied, and clash was inevitable. The management of both roads had announced in unequivocal terms that they would not yield to the demands of the men. The mayor of Brentwood was sorely frightened. The governor had been requested to order troops to the scene and over-awe the would be strikers and very properly refused. For it is our good American policy in dealing with enemies or insurgents, white, red or brown, mobs, Indians or Tagalogs, never to show fight until practically forced into it. The railway companies in anticipation of the strike had gathered some hundreds of workmen across the Missouri ready to be rushed by special train to Brentwood, but neither the police, posses nor militia had been mobilized.

Pondering anxiously over the situation, Cresswell was walking slowly homeward up Thayer street. He had been talking with the mayor and certain city fathers at the Brentwood and now wished to see Langdon, but Langdon evidently wasn't home, and the town clock had struck the quarter. The office door was closed and doubtless locked, and Cresswell's keys were in his workaday pockets at the house. Confident of meeting Langdon, he strolled on toward the armory and became suddenly aware of the division superintendent of the Big Horn talking with two of the boys. Cresswell didn't like that official, but for reasons of his own preferred to make much of him. He stopped and held out his hand.

"Oh, good evening, Mr.—er—ah—Colonel Cresswell," stammered the railway man in some confusion. "I didn't see you. I'm glad to see you. Can you tell me where I can find Mr. Langdon? I've knocked and hammered at the office, and these gentlemen say that he went straight home half an hour ago."

"It is true," said one of the young soldiers. "I saw him go in there just before 10 o'clock."

"Odd!" said Cresswell. "Suppose we walk over, Mr. Superintendent."

They did, and they knocked and hammered for two minutes without response, and then Cresswell bethought him of the rear door.

"You wish to see him personally?" queried he of the official, with doubt in his tone.

"Yes. The road sent me an important message. I may as well tell you—confidentially, of course. They want him to go to that meeting that's in full blast at this minute. They think the men will listen to him."

"I see," said Cresswell, with sarcastic emphasis. "Having kicked him out into the cold for another man's crime, they want him to help them out of another scrape. You must feel gratified at being the bearer of such a message. However, come on. We'll try the back."

An alley parallel with Thayer street divided the block, and Cresswell's office buildings covered about half the lot. Wood, coal and ice were delivered by way of that alley, which accounted for the worn path to the open cellarway, but not for the footprints in the snow on the steps leading up to the back door. Cresswell tried the knob, and the door was fast. But who left the cellar steps uncovered? "Have you a gun?" he asked, and the superintendent faltered, "Yes."

Gripping his own revolver, a faithful friend of Kentucky days, Cresswell cautiously descended the steps and felt his way through the dampness and dark. He had no match, and lighting would only reveal him to prowlers if there were any. He knew the premises thoroughly and quickly reached the lower hall and the stairway to the ground floor above him. It was dark as Erebus, and he, breathing heavily, felt his way up the creaking flight until within reach of the top. Then something fell with stunning force and crashed back the way he came, bounding, rolling and sliding till he brought up senseless and bleeding at the foot of the stairs.

CHAPTER XIII.

Noon of Oct. 28 struck on the Corp

toned bell of the city hall, Brentwood's pride, and sharp at the sound every hand in the railway shops, sheds and yards followed suit and went out. So did the fires in the furnaces in the course of the night, for no man succeeded in getting in to replenish them. So did not the trains, freight or passenger, on either Big Horn or Seattle, for the rails were a lattice of soap, the boilers a reek of foam. The casualty list in the motive power showed 23 engines "killed," and the only wheels to revolve east or west were those trundling the United States mail, the operatives, with calm sagacity, offering no objection to the running of postal cars, yet firmly opposing everything else. Following the traditions of the Big Horn, the new general manager appeared promptly on the scene, while he of the Seattle sniffed the battle from afar and staid there. Mr. Burleigh came to threaten and command, was promptly hoisted aboard a baggage car and bidden to address the meeting from the rear platform, which he essayed to do, the car speedily gliding away with him to the accompaniment of much derision and many decided cat-calls, not to mention a few defunct quadrupeds and doubtful eggs. Mr. Burleigh was given a sample of the running qualities of the fast mail down the winding gorge of the Red Water and spent the night in blasphemy and bitterness of spirit at Gunnison. Not even a farmer's buckboard could he find to take him back. He wired for the trainloads of substitutes across the Big Muddy, and they were ditched ten miles from any town and had to build bonfires out of the wreck until that was used up and then kept warm with a few miles of snow fence that unaccountably went up in flames. The Seattle sent 60 Pinkertons on a special and thereby precipitated a sympathetic strike across the Missouri and the special into the shallows near the eastern shore well up to the Pinkertons' middle. When finally rescued, these amateurs were roosting on car roofs, cold, wet and bedraggled, an object of charity to the countryside. Then came the order for troops, long withheld, and before it was issued the Brentwood rifles knew there would be no first sergeant to call the roll. Somewhere about midnight of the 27th, dazed and bleeding, Colonel Cresswell had staggered into the street in front of his office, feebly calling for help. The police found a pool of blood at the foot of the cellar stairs and splashes all along from near the top, but not a sign of struggle elsewhere and not a trace of Eric Langdon. Along toward morning Cresswell managed to tell his story, and then the police went and routed out the division superintendent, who told a queer tale. When the doctors heard it, they looked oddly at each other and agreed that it were best that Cresswell shouldn't hear it until he was stronger. It might unduly excite him now. Cresswell said he left the superintendent, Mr. Betts, on guard at the cellar stairway in the back yard, revolver in hand, and that he should have seen his (Cresswell's) assailants when they made their escape at the rear, the only way they could have gone. The superintendent said he had met Mr. Cresswell casually on the street, inquired for Mr. Langdon and went with Cresswell to the office to find him. They knocked until they believed that Langdon couldn't be there, and he (the superintendent) desired to search elsewhere, but Cresswell was somewhat persistent that Betts should wait while he went round and tried the back way. Betts went just to oblige the colonel; "didn't like to offend him." The fact was he noticed that the colonel had been drinking a little, and at such times, as was well known, the Kentuckian was apt to be a bit dictatorial and to take offense rather easily. Betts said he knew the colonel had been at the bar of the Brentwood that evening, and after waiting a few minutes just to assure himself the colonel was safely within he hurried away about his own business. Had he heard no sound of fall or struggle? was asked. Not a sound of that kind. He had heard some one moving about in the hall and thought, of course, it was the colonel. In fact, sotto voce, he added he thought so still and that under the circumstances the colonel might later have missed his footing and fallen headlong. It could not be conceived possible that Mr. Langdon would brutally assault his friend and benefactor.

Now, Cresswell had taken three or four nips of his favorite beverage that evening, but Boniface swore he was perfectly himself when he left the Brentwood. That might be, said the shrewd and somewhat envious lawyer employed by the Big Horn as counsel, and yet might he be "under alien influences." One of two theories, said the railroad lawyer, could be derived from the facts, and only two. Mr. Cresswell had fallen down stairs under the influence of one of two forces, Bourbon or a blow. If a blow, who gave it but Eric Langdon? No one else was known to have entered those doors that night. In all the tense, pent up excitement attending the inevitable strike this incident was discussed with bated breath. Men who knew Cresswell and saw him that night knew he was not so far gone in liquor as to fall down stairs and therefore believed the story of assault. Men who knew Langdon swore he was incapable of assaulting Cresswell. What could possibly be his motive? The safe stood securely locked. Desk and drawers were intact. There were no reasons why Langdon should go except the threats, which he held in contempt, and every reason why he should stay. The railway lawyer hinted at renewal of proceedings by Perrigo's bank to recover certain sums with interest. The bank, however, being questioned, reluctantly testified that that incident was closed, satisfactory settlement having been made, and so it had in Langdon's behalf by the big hearted Kentuckian and his friend the mayor. No; nothing but threats against Langdon's life could be heard of as a cause of Langdon's disappearance, nothing whatever until the second day of the strike, when two people appeared who said that if guaranteed protection they would tell something. The something proved to be that an open two horse wagon drove into the alley just before 10 o'clock and drove out again about 10:40, when it had two more men in it who were bending over something in the bottom. These two jumped out when it reached the street. They went one way, the wagon the other. Then arose the solid men of Brentwood save the few whose souls were mortgaged to the Seattle or whose notes were falling due at Perrigo's, and at a meeting held just after dark the first check was given to the widespread sympathy felt for the strikers throughout the community. Up to this moment they had practically carried all before them. Property had been carefully guarded by the details from their own number. People had been treated with civility even if denied means of transportation. They were determined, they said, to do nothing to forfeit the good will of friends and fellow citizens. Their grievance was Brentwood's and their oppressors the rival railways. Violence of any kind, said the strike leaders, would be tolerated only as a last resort. Yet here was evidence that even before beginning the strike assault, abduction, possibly murder, could be laid at the strikers' doors. Cresswell still lay in grievous plight, and Eric Langdon could not be found. Then evidence began to accumulate. A two horse farm wagon, such as described, was seen by other citizens driving westward toward the open prairie. A farmer came in and said that such a wagon stopped at the ford close to his place about midnight. His wife woke him, saying there was something wrong down at the barn—the horses were stamping and snorting. He hurried thither and found everything secure, but could have sworn he saw a light dancing away from the barn in the direction of the ford as he issued from the house. Curiosity therefore led him to investigate, and surely enough he heard voices. Two men were talking in low tones. One of their horses had picked up a stone, and, so tightly was it wedged, they couldn't get it out. He gathered that one of them had been to the barn in hopes of finding a pick. The farmer was on the point of hailing them when the whistle of the night freight sounded away down the valley toward Brentwood, and he heard one of them say, "My God, there's No. 8 now, and we can't flag her this side of the bridge!" then, apparently speaking to some one within the wagon, continued: "Now, lie still if you value your life! Jump in, Jim, quick!" And with that the horses were lashed to a run, and they clattered away up the pike in the darkness. About ten minutes later he heard the freight rumbling along up the valley, and after it had almost got beyond hearing distance to the west there came the short, quick single whistle, the signal for brakes. That must have been somewhere about the long bridge at the big bend. That was something unusual, and coupled with what he heard the men say, it excited his suspicion. Then when his copy of The Banner told him about Langdon's disappearance he felt sure what it all meant and therefore came in to Brentwood to tell his tale. And it was this that brought confusion to Betts and the Brentwood strikers, for it was now evident that Langdon had been spirited away.

That foul means and force had been resorted to no one who knew Langdon could doubt. That railway men were the perpetrators the words overheard by Farmer Hawley gave presumptive evidence and that the abducted man was sorely needed developed in the course of that very night.

Observant of his counsel, the rifles at the first intimation of another strike had kept a guard at the armory, and this guard was increased to a lieutenant and 20 men at noon on the 28th. Moreover, it was made up of men who would fight, and the scouts of the strikers sent to reconnoiter and report on the feasibility of again seizing the arms and equipments returned and "reported adversely." Two days later, determined to wipe out the stain of their military misadventure the previous year, fully 60 members promptly assembled at the call and awaited orders at the armory, and still, barring the banishment of Mr. Burleigh in one direction and the presumable taking off of Langdon in the other, no deed of damage or violence had been charged to the strike. The sheriff had eagerly accepted the theory that Langdon himself was Cresswell's assailant and had fled to escape consequences. This "made him solid" with the strikers and warranted a certain inaction. But now the business men had taken matters in hand. The Banner "ripped him up the back," as his friends expressed it, and the governor himself was on his way to Brentwood, coming up from the capital by a cross country spur of the Union Pacific, and matters were nearing a climax. The Grays were at the station at Gunnison waiting for the troop train, with Major McCenville and four companies, feeling its cautious way over culver and trestle from the Missouri. If the strikers refused to disperse at the beck of the governor, would they flinch from the prick of the bayonet? That was the absorbing question. The mayor said yes. The men thundered no, and Brentwood held its breath and waited. Meantime the orders for the rifles were to sleep on their arms at their quarters. It was the policy of wisdom.

And now, "if no new complications arise," said the mayor, "we can hope for a quiet night, but it's the calm before the storm. I wonder if that train's in with the re-enforcements from up the road?"

"I'll telephone and ask," said Boniface, leading the way to the rotunda.

It was filed with men, talking in low, cautious tones, glancing nervously about from group to group. Many were strike sympathizers, several were law and order men, most were desirous of being considered neutral. The strong men of the antistrike party, irrespective of politics, had attended the meeting and come out in the wake of Boniface and the mayor. A little squad of reporters bore down on them at once, but Boniface begged them to wait and escorted the mayor behind the desk and rang up the superintendent of the Big Horn. A quavering voice answered that the superintendent wasn't there. "Is that train in with those people from Rosebud and the other stations?" asked Boniface, and people began edging up to the desk to listen. "What? I don't hear you," said Boniface again. "Isn't in! Why, they said they were due before dark. Where were they when you last heard? What? You haven't heard? Lines cut? Had to wait for women? What women? I don't understand."

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

CROWN POINTS.

Queen Margherita is about to found an asylum in Rome for the children of murdered parents.

The Kaiser's favorite musician is Mendelssohn, whom he admires also as a man. Whenever he has the making of a musical programme, something of Mendelssohn's is always included.

Queen Alexandra, who is very fond of animals and takes an interest in everything that pertains to their welfare, has consented to become the patroness of the Home For Lost and Starving Cats.

The health of the Empress Frederick is becoming sensibly worse, and in a pencilled letter she addressed to an English lady recently she wrote, "I have taken my last drive, except the concluding one of all."

The Duchess of Cornwall is blessed with a liberal assortment of Christian names, eight in all, and should she eventually share the British throne she can select from the succeeding half dozen names: Augustine, Louise, Olga, Pauline, Claudine, Agnes.

PERT PERSONALS.

Mr. Rockefeller now controls salt and oil. With a vinegar and a lettuce trust he could get back to his salad days.—Detroit Journal.

Mr. Schwab asserts that he objected to being paid $1,000,000 a year. Mr. Schwab is reaching his funny stage.—Baltimore American.

If the widows of the country continue to make goosoo eyes in the direction of Mr. Depew, his only recourse will be to wear blinders.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Emperor William resents complimentary reference to Bismarck because it suggests that the Hohenzollerns did not create the German empire unaided.—Detroit Tribune.

Sarah Bernhardt says the idea of her playing Romeo to Maude Adams' Juliet was a joke. Only half a joke. It is admitted that Maude Adams can play Juliet.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

DECISIONS IN LAW.

The West Virginia supreme court of appeals decides that neither a professor in a state university nor a teacher in the public schools is a public officer. Each is an employee.

The supreme court of Missouri has held to be excused in law a wife who, acting in obedience to the will and direction of her husband, procured a revolver which the man was to use in effecting his escape from jail.

According to a court decision in Illinois, a physician has the right to determine in the first instance how often he ought to visit a patient and to his compensation for visits if the party accepts his services without telling him to come less frequently.

A Positive Woman.

A woman has a right to be positive on matters which are matters of personal knowledge and experience. Every woman who has used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for diseases of the womanly organs is positive as to its wonderful curative value, and confidently recommends it to similar sufferers.

Women who suffer from inflammation, ulceration, female weakness, or nervous diseases caused by disease of the womanly organs will find a complete cure by the use of "Favorite Prescription."

"Several years ago I suffered severely from female weakness, proflaps, and menorrhagia, and used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription with splendid effect," writes Fannie Shelton, of Washington, Iowa. "Glad I have not needed it for a few years past, but if I should have any return of the old trouble would surely try 'Favorite Prescription.' I have recommended it to a number of my lady friends. I always tell them to try a bottle, and if they are not benefited by it I will pay for the medicine. In every case they have spoken in praise of it."

MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG AND SICK WOMEN WELL.

Sold in East Liverpool by Charles T. Larkin.

Quick Dessert
JELLYCON
No Cooking
No Baking
Only necessary to dissolve in hot water and set away to harden. Lemon, Orange, Peach, Raspberry, Strawberry, Wild Cherry.

BEST FOR THE BOWELS

If you haven't a regular, healthy movement of the bowels every day, you're ill or will be. Keep your bowels open, and the well. Force, in the shape of violent physic or purgation, is dangerous. The smooth, easiest, most perfect way of keeping the bowels clear and clean is to take

EAT 'EM LIKE CANDY

Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good. Do Good. Suffer Sick, Weak, or Grumpy. 10, 25, and 50 cents per box. Write for free sample, and booklet on health. Address: STERLING REMEDY COMPANY, CHICAGO OR NEW YORK.

KEEP YOUR BLOOD CLEAN

To Close an Estate

WE have on sale those large level lots of the George C. Morton Estate which front on Avondale street. Thus you may have a building lot which requires no filling or grading, and with street paving and other improvements. Everything to your hand to begin the building of your home. The prices and terms on these lots are very reasonable indeed.

Geo. H. Owen & Co.,

Insurance and Real Estate.

Room 5, First National Bank Building. Both 'Phones 49.

NEW RESTAURANT!

All new Furniture. Centrally Located and everything up-to-date.

Single Meals, 25c
Board by the Week, $3.50

E. FRANK,

4th and Washington Sts.

MAKE KNOWN YOUR WANTS

INFORM the public of what you have For Sale, For Rent or For Exchange; what you have Lost or Found. The Cheapest and Best Way is to place a small ad. in the Favorite Home Newspaper.

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW

Real Estate Offices, Drug Stores and News Stands throughout the city will supply you with cards on which to write your ad. Pay 25c for a card, write it and mail it, and

YOU WILL GET WHAT YOU WANT

THOS. F. STARKEY Plumbing Co.,

131 Sheridan Ave.,

Opened for business on MONDAY, April 15.

Estimate furnished on all kinds of Plumbing Work, Gas or Steam Fittings. Satisfaction and reasonable prices guaranteed. Public Patronage Solicited.

W. H. KINSEY,

Manager.

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT.

WITH USE OF BATH.

THE ANDERSON HOUSE

Cor. Walnut and Robinson Sts.

Hardly a Point In the State Not Revived—Outlook For Stockmen Is Greatly Improved—Drcuth Also Broken In Missouri.

DR. MOTT'S
NERVERINE PILLS
CURED

Make This Change.

DO YOU suffer from Nerve Prostration, Falling or set Manhood, impotency, Gaily Enfeebled, Shrunken, Underdeveloped Organs, Youthful Errors, excessive Use of Tobacco or Opium? Send mail on receipt of price. DR. MOTT'S NERVENAL CO., Cleveland, Ohio.

For sale by WILL REED, C. F. Craig and C.,

ROSS MEADOWS

Situate on the Lisbon and Liverpool Road, one and a half miles beyond

PLEASANT HEIGHTS

and on the proposed Lisbon, Salem and Liverpool Electric Line.

Last summer we laid out and sold the north half of this farm. We now offer

The South Half, in parcels of 2, 2¹/₂, 5, 10 and 20 Acres.

ANY SIZE YOU WANT.

Prices $75, $90 and $100 per acre.

The land lies level and gently sloping. Suitable for a

Truck Farm, Vegetable Farm, A Country Home, A Fruit Farm, A Poultry Farm.

Within easy distance of town.

Want a Small Country Place?

It will suit you.

Why live on 30x100 when the Same money Will buy from Two to ten acres And give you Elbow room.

Our horse and buggy at your service, see us.

ELIJAH W. HILL,

Real Estate Dealer, Cor. Sixth and

Washington Sts.,

East Liverpool,

Ohio.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

A Son Born—Born, to Mr. and Mrs. William Pickis, Pleasant Heights, a son.

Will Play This Week—The New Kensington, Pa., baseball team will be here Friday and Saturday of this week and meet the local nine on the West End ground.

On the Move—The following movements have been handled at the freight depot: A. Tams, from Trenton; William Kinkade, from Zanesville, and Jonathan Hughes and E. Stevens, to Sebring.

Want to Play Ball—The Third Street Reds would like to arrange games with any 15 or 16-year-old teams in the city, the Crocker City Juniors preferred. Cleveland Good is manager.

Gardendale Pottery Team—The potters of Gardendale would like to have a game with any ball team in the city at any time or place. The following is the line-up: Catcher, Blazer; pitcher, Rutledge; short, Dawson; first, J. Leigh; second, Dalley; third, Cunningham; right, Shingleton; center, Smith; left, H. Leigh.

Rain Stopped the Game—The game of base ball between the Crocker City Juniors and the West End team was not completed last evening, owing to therain. But two innings were played, the score standing 6 to 2 in favor of the Crockeries. The latter team is out with a challenge to any juvenile club in the city, the East End Junior Grays preferred.

Funeral of Miss Little—Funeral services over the remains of Miss Bessie E. Little, who died yesterday morning, will be conducted at the late home tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Dr. Clark Crawford and Dr. Taggart will officiate and interment will be made at Riverview. The remains may be viewed from 7 until 10 o'clock tonight and between the hours of 9 and 11 tomorrow morning.

The T. & H. Block—The detail plan of the terra cotta work for the new business block to be erected on Fifth street between Washington and Broadway by Dr. W. A. Hobbs and W. L. Thompson are being prepared by Architect A. W. Scott. Some time ago it was suggested that the new block be named the "Emporium," but this has been changed to the "T. & H." block.

TIME FOR FANS. CURRENT FOR DESK FANS COSTS 1 CENT PER HOUR; FOR CEILING FANS 1.75 CENTS PER HOUR, FROM WHICH A DISCOUNT OF 25 PER CENT IS ALLOWED IF PAID ON OR BEFORE THE 10TH OF EACH MONTH. 35-11 THE CERAMIC CITY LIGHT CO.

A PERFECT LIGHT. THE CURRENT FOR A SIXTEEN CANDLE POWER INCANDESCENT LAMP COSTS APPROXIMATELY 34 OF A CENT PER HOUR; FOR A TWO THOUSAND CANDLE POWER ARC LIGHT 1.34 CENTS PER HOUR; FOR A TWELVE HUNDRED CANDLE POWER 4 3/4 CENTS PER HOUR. ALL BILLS SUBJECT TO 25 PER CENT DISCOUNT IF PAID BEFORE THE 10TH OF THE MONTH. THE CERAMIC CITY LIGHT CO. 34-11

Amusements.

ROCK SPRINGS PARK Week of July 29, 1901.

MONDAY Prof. Dellfrugge, of Wheeling will have charge of park.

TUESDAY Salem Merchants—Elks Annual Outing.

WEDNESDAY Morning—McDougall's Dancing School.

Wellsburg Union Sabbath Schools, Evening—Dancing.

THURSDAY Excursion for benefit of Old Folks' Home, Pittsburg (colored).

Evening—Dancing.

FRIDAY Union Sunday School, New Cumberland

Evening—Dancing.

SATURDAY Wellsville Amalgamated Association of Tin, Iron and Steel Workers.

Every Evening Beginning at 9:30, Allen's Famous Moving Pictures.

Nowling's Orchestra.

J. H. MAXWELL, Manager.

COLUMBIAN PARK!

11 nights commencing Thursday, August 1st.

Thos. Edison's marvelous reproduction of the world famous

"Passion Play"

In conjunction with a splendid miscellaneous program.

Free To St. Ry. Patrons. Free To Others. Seats 5c.

THE BOSTON STORE

Clearance Sale of Summer Dry Goods Commenced This Morning.

THE wind up of the sale of Summer merchandise is here. Lots of seasonable goods which were here at the beginning of the season are odds and ends, other departments are yet complete. The next few days will be memorable ones in this store. Prices are relentlessly cut to close out all summer merchandise. Space forbids us to tell you the merits of the bargains offered below. Come and see for yourself and you will not be disappointed. Dollars can be saved at this clearance sale of summer merchandise.

Summer Wrappers for $1.00

All our summer wrappers of the famous "Saratoga make," that sold at $2, $2.50 and $3, now your choice $1.

Shirt Waist Suits—All shirt waist suits made of chambray, duck, madras and percale to be closed out as follows: $3 suits for $2.25, $2.50 suits $1.88, $2 suits $1.50.

Shirt Waists for 69c—All our dollar shirt waists made of plain and striped ginghams, linens, madras and lawns to be closed out at 69c.

One table of black lawn shirt waists that sold at $1, $1.35 and $1.50, take your choice for 25c.

Our entire stock of white and colored shirt waists that sold from $1 up to $3.50 to be closed out at greatly reduced prices.

Wash Skirts for $1—Any wash skirt in this house that sold at $1.50 and up to $5, now your choice for $1.

Dressing Sacques at 25 and 33 1/2 per cent. off. Our entire stock of dressing sacques, all new this season, made of lawns, dimities, percales and challies, to be closed out at 1/3 and 1/4 former prices.

Foulard Silks at 75c a Yard—All Foulard silks, exclusive patterns, all new this season, $1 and $1.25 silks, now your choice for 75c a yard.

Tailor Made Suits and taffeta Eton jackets, greatly reduced in prices. One lot of women's and misses' suits, all new and strictly tailor made, that sold at $15, now half price, $7.50.

All other tailor made suits at greatly reduced prices. All taffeta silk Eton jackets at half price.

The above and many other Bargains of like manner you will find at different departments throughout the entire store. But no matter what we tell you here, when you come you'll find them much bigger than our talk. We close at 5 O'Clock Saturdays & Mondays excepted.

5th and Market. THE BOSTON STORE A. S. Young.

WELLSVILLE

FUNDS FOR A MONUMENT

Wellsville Sons of Veterans Propose to Erect a Memorial to Dead Heroes.

Early next fall the Wellsville camp, Sons of Veterans, will give an entertainment in the opera house, the purpose of which will be to raise funds for the erection of the soldiers' and sailors' monument which it is proposed to erect in the square.

There is some money raised for this purpose now, but the amount is not sufficient.

Boys Fined for Bathing.

A number of small boys were taken before Mayor Dennis Monday afternoon, a charge of swimming in the river within the city limits was preferred against them. Each arranged to pay a small fine, after which they were released.

Wellsville Newspaper Project.

A stock company with a capital stock of $15,000 is about to be formed at Wellsville to purchase the plant of the Wellsville Record. The deal is being conducted by a Mr. Ellis, of Mt. Vernon, O., said to be an old newspaper man.

CUPID'S WORK GOES ON

Justice Rose Officiated at the Wedding of Miss Ella Johnson And William Guth.

Justice Rose has a fondness for marrying young couples, and especially when the prospective bride is good looking the veteran magistrate officiates in the most exacting manner and summons all dignity at his command. When he reached his office this morning, and before he had time to shine his shoes and dust his office furniture, he was approached by a fine appearing young couple who desired to be made man and wife.

Though taken at a disadvantage the 'squire slicked up his hair and in short order had made all preparations for the ceremony. The candidates were Miss Ella M. Johnson, of East Liverpool, and William T. Guth, of Wheeling. It required but a few minutes to tie the nuptial knot and Mr. and Mrs. Guth left the office with smiles on their faces, while the magistrate stood fondly gazing the roll of "long green" which had been dropped into his hand. The couple will make their home at Wheeling.

Not Counted In the Contract.

Within the next week the cleaning of the walls of the new Carnegie library will be finished. This work is something that was not figured in the original specifications and will add $200 to the cost of the building. The contract has been let to R. McCreath, of Cleveland, who has been working on the contract for several days. The outside of all the brick walls is to be cleaned.

CHANGED HER MIND

Mrs. Mary Jane Miller Will Not Bring a Damage Suit Against Her Aged Rival.

Mrs. Mary Jane Miller, the aged Calcutta woman, who recently told a story of domestic infidelity to Justice McLane, was again in the city this morning. She has given up the idea of instituting a damage suit against the woman, who, she claimed, had alienated the affections of her husband. But on advice from friends proposes to take the matter up before the officials of the church of which Mr. Miller is a member.

She informed Justice McLane that her husband had not yet quit paying attentions to the woman who has been causing her trouble, but she expects he will soon see the error of his ways and come over to her side of the house.

SUB-COMMITTEES TO MEET

On Thursday Evening to Arrange For the Junior O. U. A. M. State Convention.

A meeting of all the sub-committees of the Jr. O. U. A. M. and of the Daughters of America will be held Thursday evening for the purpose of completing the program for the state convention of the two orders which will be held in this city Sept. 9, 10 and 11.

The meetings of the Junior Mechanics will be held in Mechanics' hall over the postoffice, but the meeting place of the Daughters of America has not yet been selected. It has been suggested that these meetings be held in either the Brotherhood hall or the Knights of Pythias hall, but so far no selection has been made. The attendance at this convention promises to be large.

BOY CAMBLERS

Paid Fines of $2 And Costs Each And Received a Scare in Addition.

Two of the three boys who were arrested Sunday afternoon for gambling were given a hearing before Acting Mayor McLane last night and entered a plea of guilty. They were fined $2 and costs each, which they paid and were released. The other lad is out of the city, but will have his hearing when he returns Saturday evening.

This is the first time either of the boys had been in trouble. They are the sons of well-to-do parents. They were badly frightened when taken before his honor, and it is likely the lesson they received will be long remembered.

News Review "Wants" bring quick results.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY.

FOR SALE—A six-year-old cow, Jersey; gives four gallons of milk per day. Inquire at Virden's, First street, Chester, W. Va. 37-r*

WANTED—A girl for general housework. Apply at 151 Fourth street. 38-r

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Of Columbiana County Republicans Announced By Chairman I. B. Cameron.

Lisbon, July 30. — (Special)—The complete Republican county executive committee has been announced by Hon. I. B. Cameron as follows:

I. B. Cameron, chairman, Lisbon; John S. McNutt, secretary, Lisbon; James N. Hanley, treasurer, East Liverpool; George Davidson, East Liverpool; Sherman T. Atchison, Albert Hayes, Salem; John B. Morgan, Leetonia; A. L. McDonald, Wellsville; George B. Harvey, Ed A. King, Lisbon; Harry N. Chamberlin, R. T. Davis, East Palestine; R. N. Hull, Salineville; Aaron Esterly, Columbiana.

NEW STREET CARS

Equipped With Double Trucks Will Soon Be In Use on the Street Railway.

The five new cars ordered some time ago by the East Liverpool Street Railway company are expected to arrive here from Elizabeth, N. J. within the next two weeks. These cars will be double trucked, and will be modern in every detail.

The double trucks for the winter cars which arrived here early this year, were found to be in good order, and the first set is being placed under car No. 14. This car, it is expected, will be in readiness to be given a trial run early next week.

May Move to Salem.

Salem, July 30.—The Leetonia boiler works, tool works and machine shop, which was burned out at Leetonia last Saturday morning, may be located in this city. The company intends to rebuild and would like to come to Salem if the board of trade will extend sufficient encouragement.

The Napkin Problem.

Do not crumple up your table napkin. If you are only a guest for the day, do not fold it up, but if you are staying on and in a quiet household fold it up, remarks an exchange. If you are staying in a big house where everything is done en grand prince, do not fold it up. Just place it on the table when you leave as in rich establishments there are clean table napkins every day.

Fashion's Echoes.

Foulards will be greatly worn this season, but always of the satin faced kind, except for seaside or country wear. They are profusely trimmed with lace and velvet ribbons.

Pure white costumes in every imaginable material—white pique, white duck, white linen, sheer white wash fabrics, white cloth, white serge, white camel's hair and white taffeta—are the fashion of the summer.

Artificial flowers are flourishing on gowns this season.

Sashes of every description promise to be a prominent feature of afternoon and evening costumes. With lawn and organdie toilets the sashes are of the material, insertion striped and lace trimmed.

News Review "Wants" bring quick results.

PROF. HUNT, M. A.

The World's Greatest Living

CLAIRVOYANT PALMIST

Ordained to do what he does. His marvelous achievements demonstrated in your presence, while you look, listen and wonder.

OFFICE 162 Sixth St. OFFICE Judge Men By Their Works.

The moment you call he tells your name, age and what you want to know without asking a single question. There is no guess work, no experimenting, every proceeding is definite and exact. He does not ask you to have faith, he proves you facts.

Are you unsuccessful, unhappy or unlucky? Have you tried to succeed and failed? There must be a reason. Come and he will tell you what it is and how to remove it that you may be successful in all affairs of life, love, marriage, divorce, health, business, property, stocks, law suits, positions. Locates absent friends, settles lovers' quarrels, reunites separated, gives power of control; in a word whatever may be your troubles, suspicions or desires, visit Prof. Hunt and he will advise you with a certainty as to the proper course to pursue.

Unlike the fortune teller and pretender he asks no fee in advance and absolutely refuses to accept any remuneration for his readings if perfect satisfaction is not given.

Prof. Hunt advertises nothing but what he can and will do and his fees are within the reach of all.

All business sacred and strictly confidential. His own attendants.

LOW PRICES LOW

Hours 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Office 162 Sixth Street.

Drugs!
Drugs!
Drugs!

Everything Pure, Fresh and Best Quality.

HODSON'S Drug Store.

5th and Broadway.

New Era Restaurant,

Billiard Hall and Cafe,

J. C. WALSH, Prop.

110 and 112 Sixth Street, East Liverpool, O.

Tobacco and Cigar department stocked with the finest cigars and Tobacco in the market. Dining room up to date. Table de hote meals 25c. Banquets a specialty. Best furnished billiard and pool room in the state. Lighted with electric lights. Bar open from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m.